AN ALUMNUS ATTENDS THE CONVENTION

IT WAS perfect June weather in Maine. How otherwise, with a title of country's great summer resort to vindicate before its guests from all across the continent! From California, Washington, British Columbia, they came. From Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania, from Ontario and Quebec, to foregather with New Englanders. The Kappa had been host in 1894 and again in 1911. But certainly not in the last thirty-five years, if ever before, had the Bowdoin campus been the convention center for any fraternity. At last, with Brother H. L. Berry, '01, of Portland, actively concerned in house up-keep of the Kappa and himself a trustee of the college, new things were possible. The Moulton Union provided perfect quarters for business meetings, restaurant service, and lounging. Next door was the swimming pool, and across the campus roadway lay the dormitory assigned to the visitors. College had closed the week before, and from the chapter house beyond the bordering mall, on one side, to the Union on the other, the entire campus was the private range of Psi U's.

The quiet readiness prevailing on the campus and in the chapter house in the early evening of June 20 was the result of careful committee work. An executive group of Portland alumni, cooperating with a committee of Kappa seniors, and with other committees of alumni, and profiting by the welcoming good will of the college administration, had laid the careful plans underlying that readiness and the smooth-running sequences of the days to come. Kappa brothers were abundantly used and abundantly helpful.

An Executive Committee, with R. E. Clarke, '01, as chairman and E. F. Dana, '29, and W. B. Knowlton, '39, as indefatigable secretaries, organized procedures, with widespread and constant care. On the campus, ready with varied, intelligent and unstinted aid to the older committee members were their undergraduate lieutenants, from the Kappa, W. M. Benham, '39, H. P. Hood, Jr., '39, and B. O. Woodward, '40. At the chapter house to welcome the visitors was Dr. C. S. F. Lincoln, Kappa '91, known to Psi U's far and wide, now host in his own right. None better could have been chosen. In came the delegates by twos and threes, to register, get tickets, take possession of a convention souvenir, a gaily marked beer-mug; to get their greeting from the Kappa's perennial delegate, and in time be taken to their assigned dormitory rooms.

Next day, in the large lounge of the Union, the visitors were cordially welcomed to the Bowdoin campus by President Sills. Then the formal business of the Convention got under way, with Scott Turner, Phi '02, head of the Executive Council, presiding. On hand then, or scatteringly as the days went on, were other members of the Council, F. S. Fales, Gamma '96, L. J. Weed.

● 106th Annual Convention Held with the Kappa Chapter, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine, June 21, 22, 23.

Theta '01, S. G. Kent, Delta Delta '11, R. G. Ham, Epsilon '14, and B. T. Burton, Chi '21. Not to be forgotten is S. E. Junkins, Zeta '87, who continues to keep his attendance record unbroken. There never was a great amount of business, but it managed to stretch its slender length through the allotted days, while in and around it flowed the pleasant stream of intercourse among the wide-gathered brothers. Sometimes it interrupted good table-talk; but, under the careful guidance of the presiding officer, there was compensation in the samples of local chapter life sketched on the convention floor.

The garden party of President and Mrs. Sills on Wednesday took place in the brilliant sunlight of late afternoon. Psi U maids and matrons joined with the gracious host and hostess to give us cordial welcome. Not all Psi U's, of course, as became a host who acknowledged Deke affiliations. They offered us delicious cakes, hot and cold drinks, and led us from enclosures bright with pool reflections and flowered borders, to hedge-hidden walks, shaded lawn and over the rustic stage of the open-air theater. New acquaintances were made with the girls, dates arranged at their houses in the town; and so the hospitality broadened out.

That evening after dinner we went our several ways but there was pleasant lingering on the Union porch facing the western sky, as sunset dimmed into twilight and talk came forth on this and that. When night had quite fallen there was a movement toward the beer-kegs.

Business, ever willing, was broken off again on Thursday, for South Harpswell, fifteen miles away, and a steamer ride among the islands of Casco Bay. Smooth running were all the arrangements under the care of Henry Lewis, '05, and K. A. Cushman, '27, and their respective committees. New acquaintances, more Kappa alumni, more talk, plenty of beer, more cavorting about the boat, and new impulses for daring deeds skillfully diverted under watchful eyes. Friendly spirit everywhere, as the panorama changed on every side. Meanwhile cool breezes and the flying hours brought urgent need for savory food. At the pier once more, we got into our cars, and in a jiffy, we were at the Auburn Colony where cooks were busy providing the kind of meal on which the elect look with joy. This was a Maine shore dinner, the delight of the initiated and a puzzle to the stranger as he sees the successive items cross the board. For him there are aspects of struggle in this event. He accepts with undisguised relief suggestions for managing the too-yielding clams and the as much too invulnerable lobster. The knowing aid, with slightly swelling pride and vocal anticipation peculiar to the initiated. Such a meal we had that Thursday. It showed the aforesaid varied aspects as lobster stew led on through clams and crustaceans of brightest red to some inconsequent sweet and a bath of coffee that was authoritative. If ultimate horror were felt anywhere among the brothers, the writer knows it not. Only sweet phrases reached his ears.

The weather which had held firmly bright day after day began to look askew, as Thursday afternoon drew toward night. Poland Springs' Mansion House, famous resort hotel about thirty miles away, was our goal that night. F. J. Redman, Kappa '07, and his committee on banquet and speakers, chose well this place for our final banquet. J. W. Ricker, Beta '18, is manager of the several hotels at the Springs. As the dinner progressed, well served and appointed, it was evident that not only his professional pride but his loyalty to Psi U shone through its quality. The Mansion House has the intimate informality of a country inn along with the refinements of pleasant living. More cheery talk developed all about. Whistles were "wetted" but not drowned. The highlights assigned to the speakers' table for a final brilliance over the closing hours of the Convention had none of them, save Brother Ham, shone upon the assemblage in Brunswick. But here they were cheerily flashing this way and that through the rooms while the late cars were coming in from Portland, Brunswick, and elsewhere. And when under the skillful guidance of the toastmaster, F. P. Freeman, Kappa '22, the three of them, Alfred E. Stearns, Gamma '94, principal emeritus of Phillips Andover Academy, Robert Hale, Kappa '10, Portland lawyer, and Roswell G. Ham, president of Mount Holyoke College, had blazed up with their full voltage after dinner, what wonder that a young Brother from the Pacific coast exclaimed: "Any one of them was worth the trip!"

So the curtain of the Convention fell in the rain; but as we drove away, how brightly the windows gleamed through the splashes! How warm had been the words of farewell! How hearty the handclaps! How genuine the regrets at parting! How happy and full of worth the new memories enriching the appreciation of the old Fraternity! The Kappa's guests were gone; but the Kappa had renewed its strength through their vanished presence.

Herbert S. Houston, Omega '88, long on the Executive Council, is recovering from a broken hip caused by an automobile accident last May. He said to THE DIAMOND that he was now a triped, going along with one cane, and he hoped soon to be a biped again, adding that, in any event, he continued to have a strong right arm with a good Psi U grip attached. He reported that the visits of fraternity brothers, both to the hospital and to his home, had given him no end of cheer and encouragement. "One day," he said, "Brother Donald Aldrich, Zeta '17, rector of the Church of the Ascension, called and his first greeting was: 'I didn't come to pray for you but I came to help you cuss.' Of course I told him to come right in and stay as long as he could; and as he left, I couldn't help thinking—no wonder that Donald Aldrich fills the Ascension to the doors, even in summer. Then I foresaw, as clearly as in a ray of light, that he was modestly but surely on his way to join the great and noble group of Psi U Bishops."

NOTES ON THE BUSINESS SESSIONS OF THE 1939 CONVENTION

BEFORE the formal opening of the Convention, Pierson C. Irwin, Jr., Kappa '39, introduced Dr. Kenneth C. M. Sills, President of Bowdoin College, who welcomed the Convention to the college.

After Dr. Sills withdrew, the Convention was called to order by Scott Turner, Phi '02, President of the Executive Council. Brother Turner appointed the following temporary officers: President—Pierson C. Irwin, Jr., Kappa '39; Recorder—Willard B. Knowlton, Kappa '39.

Credentials of the following members of the Executive Council were presented: Scott Turner, Phi '02; Stephen G. Kent, Delta Delta '11, Lambda '14; Frederick S. Fales, Gamma '96.

The Committee on Permanent Organization presented its report, making the following nominations:

President—

Scott Turner, Phi '02

1st Vice-President

Dr. Charles S. F. Lincoln, Kappa '91

2nd Vice-President—

Roland E. Clark, Kappa '01

3rd Vice-President—

Harold L. Berry, Kappa '01

4th Vice-President—

Benjamin T. Burton, Chi '21

5th Vice-President—

Stephen G. Kent, Delta Delta '11,
Lambda '14

Recorder—

Willard B. Knowlton, Kappa '39

Assistant Recorder—

Walter M. Behnam, Kappa '39

Assistant Recorder—

Frank E. Woodruff, Kappa '39

On motion duly made, seconded and passed, this report was unanimously accepted and the Temporary Recorder was instructed to cast one ballot for the election of the permanent officers nominated.

President Turner then called upon the following alumni brothers to address the Convention: Roland E. Clark, Kappa '01; Fred R. Lord, Kappa '11; Dr. Charles S. F. Lincoln, Kappa '91; Harold L. Berry, Kappa '01; Charles T. Burnett, Gamma '95; John E. Cummings, Kappa '84; William M. Ingraham, Kappa '95; Frederick S. Fales, Gamma '96.

The report of the Committee on Annual Communications was then read, making recommendations to the Convention which follow in part:

That the following questions be referred to the Committee on New Business:

a. The making of suggestions for the visitation and inspection of chapters located at a distance from New York City.

b. The making of suggestions as to the policy of the fraternity in regard to the ordering and wearing of badges.

c. The making of recommendations as to the future price of a life subscription to THE DIAMOND.

The report of the Committee on New Business was read by Frederic A. Stott, Gamma '40, recommending the adoption of the following resolutions, among others:

Resolved: That the wearing of any badges of Psi Upsilon by others than members be prohibited, and that the official full-sized badge received at initiation and the official watch-chain charm be the only badges of Psi Upsilon recognized and permitted.

Resolved: That the delegates to this convention hereby recommend to the Executive Council that whenever it proves impossible for one of their own number to visit any chapter at least once in every two years, arrangements be made for such chapter to be visited on behalf of the Executive Council by an outstanding alumnus of some other chapter living in the vicinity.

"Resolved: That the price of a life subscription to THE DIAMOND be increased from ten to fifteen dollars."

Upon motion duly made, seconded and passed, this report was accepted.

Brother Burton then presented alumni watch-chain charms to Fred-eric A. Stott, Gamma '40, Charles W. Miller, Zeta '40, Walter F. Rogers, Jr., Psi '40, and John T. Hancock, Xi '40.

James S. Neill, Jr., Beta Beta '40, then read the report of the Committee to Nominate Members of the Executive Council, nominating each of the following brothers for membership on the Executive Council for the usual term of five years:

Harold L. Berry, Kappa '01

Stephen G. Kent, Delta Delta '11, Lambda '14

R. K. Northey, Nu '12

Motion was duly made, seconded and passed that the report be unanimously adopted and that each of the brothers nominated be declared elected to the Executive Council for the usual term of five years.

On motion duly made, seconded and passed it was voted that the convention be adjourned sine die.

Willard B. Knowlton,
Kappa '39, Recorder.

EXCERPTS FROM THE CONVENTION BANQUET SPEECHES

FRANCIS P. FREEMAN, ESQUIRE, TOASTMASTER:

“Our first speaker this evening is a gentleman who has distinguished himself in a quiet way. He was a Bowdoin man. When I spoke to him a day or two ago, and asked if he had any particularly flattering remarks that he would like to have me memorize . . . he said he did not have. He said, ‘Of course, you might tell the boys that when the war was on I enlisted as a private, and after a very distinguished military career emerged as a second lieutenant.’ In 1929–30, he was Speaker of the Maine House of Representatives. He has also done some writing under the name of Rexford G. Jordan. It is a pleasure to introduce the Hon. Robert Hale, Kappa ’10.”

HON. ROBERT HALE:

“ . . . I regret to say that it is a long time since I have attended a Psi U convention. The last one I went to was at the Iota in 1910. I have a vivid recollection of it . . . it was the period of that song ‘Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly?’ I also attended the convention at the Delta in 1907. I remember the speaking on that occasion, and much of it related to a man who was not a Psi U at all, although he was said to belong to a number of other fraternities. He was at that time very prominent in national politics. I do not recall the man’s name now, although it was a curious Dutch name, beginning, I think, with ‘R’ and a two syllable name. If I recall correctly, that man was not popular at the time with some of the brothers. I only mention this, however, to show you how times change.

“I remember that in the old days we used to be told about the great men who belonged to our fraternity. I sometimes take a certain pleasure and pride, when I think of some of the men who do not belong to Psi U. . . . I do not know personally Messrs. Hitler, Stalin and Mussolini. They may be Dekes or Alpha Delts “Psi U is something that is left to us after we have forgotten everything we learned in college, and, if it makes us, as it should, warmer-hearted, gayer and more generous people, it is a blessed residue to rise above the forgotten optatives and formulae of our undergraduate days. Psi U is a national institution, and it is an important national institution.

“I think it is fair to say something about our national Executive Council. I can speak of it freely, because I never belonged to it, and I do not know very much about the details of its work, but I do know that it has never been an autocratic or a bureaucratic institution. It has ruled the fraternity with a loose hand. It leaves our chapters pretty much to their own devices, giving us no more than a healthy oversight. I have met some of the professional drummers-up of fraternity spirit in other national organizations. I do not think that we need anybody to come to sell Psi U to us

"The chapters work out their own salvation, but in their very individuality they do achieve a certain uniformity, so that a Psi U from the Epsilon is likely to be something the same kind of a man as a Psi U from the Kappa, and I take it that that sort of identity is not achieved—as in our great rival fraternity, the Phi Beta Kappa—in more vulgar forms of intellectual attainment but by congeniality, capacity for friendship, and an unselfish desire to work for one another"

MR. TOASTMASTER:

"The next speaker is a brother who is engaged in educational work. . . . From 1917 to 1919 he served in the United States Marine Corps as a Captain. He taught at the University of Washington and at the University of California, and he finally settled down at Yale. But Mount Holyoke realized that although women have their place in the world, a college cannot be properly run without a man. They consequently called Dr. Roswell Gray Ham, Epsilon '14. It is my pleasure to introduce Dr. Ham."

DR. ROSWELL GRAY HAM:

". . . Great numbers of you, the majority of you, are in a college generation; you represent four years out of one hundred—and then you pass on into the alumni body. You are living decidedly in the present of the college fraternity; you are not now too much concerned by the past; and not too greatly concerned about the future. There is a libel abroad about the youth of this generation. Personally, I think the youth of any generation is pretty much the same, but the youth of this generation are said to live entirely in the present, without any sense whatsoever that there is a past or that there is a future. Well, the present, these four years—an infinite vanishing point—the present you can hardly ever catch; it is past before you know it, or if you jump at it as it flies by—it is the future.

"I take as the completest symbol of modernity, complicating your lives more than ours were complicated, the symbol of Benny Goodman. Now, don't misunderstand me. I like Benny Goodman for the first four hours, around the twenty-fourth hour the tom-tom gets me and I go what is called 'ga-ga.' But that tom-tom beat, with its incessant Central African rhythm, or lack of rhythm, is the completest symbol of the age in which you live; we live. You are in a kind of obsession with that particular rhythm, and you can like it for a while, but it is a world full of a number of things; it is the 'hot prison of the present' that gets to you in the twenty-fourth hour. . . ."

MR. TOASTMASTER:

"It has been a matter of deep satisfaction that although the chairman of this Banquet Committee is known throughout Maine as a strong adherent to the Democratic party, the three speakers here this evening are all Republicans.

"Our next speaker is a man who, although retired, is the type of person who will never retire so long as he is still on this planet. 'Until a year ago this applicant delivered ice—and was a man of affairs.' He is Headmaster Emeritus of Phillips Academy at Andover; he is Chairman of the Board of Trustees of his Alma Mater (Amherst). It is indeed a pleasure to introduce Dr. Alfred Ernest Stearns, Gamma '94."

DR. ALFRED E. STEARNS:

"... After that introduction I am a bit chilled. I don't know that, even in disguise, I can prove a blessing as a climax. . . .

"I notice a great many of the younger generation looking at us askance, and wondering what we can possibly say that will touch them, and it suggests a story that I told at Amherst . . . which gave Dr. Neilson a beautiful opening to come back at me. . . . A Harvard father visited his son at the latter's Commencement activities, and, as they strolled out into the Harvard yard, the young modernist said to his Father, 'Dad, I don't suppose you fellows in your time ever had any fun, really, the way we do today.' His father said, 'What do you mean by that?' 'Well, Dad, take our class supper, for instance. After it was over we all went out into the yard, and we sang and danced around the buildings, and we had a wonderful time.' His father's eyes twinkled, and he said, 'Well, son, we had some fun, too. We had our class supper, we all went out into the yard; we lay down in the grass, and we sang, and the buildings danced around us.' Dr. Neilson said to me: 'I know all about those youths who dance around buildings; they dance around mine over at Smith College all the time, and I wish you would keep them at home. . . .'

"... I am not quite so sure that we are doing that with a full realization of the responsibility that rests upon us. In scholarship, for example—for intellectual life is the basis of college existence, the reason for it—people are asking if the fraternity is helping the college, and maintaining those ideals, and achieving that end. Has it a right to exist in the midst of college, and, since scholarship without proper moral standards and ideals becomes an actually dangerous thing, as has been constantly proved through history, it stands to reason that the responsibility rests upon the fraternity to uphold proper standards and ideals along moral lines, in order that the combination which makes for character and effective and strong citizenship may be maintained. I am not quite so sure that we are putting the emphasis in our fraternity life as strongly as we ought to on that important phase of education. Yet it seems that there is the most important thing of all which is overlooked by our critics—that thing which is the crying need in the world today; that thing which, if established throughout the world, would restore peace and quiet and decency once more—and that is the ability to live together—the art of living together. That is something the university gives. What the university does in this important respect the smaller college does even better; and what the college does here, the fraternity, with its smaller groupings and closer intimacies, does much better still. It seems to me that that is the real contribution which the fraternity makes to college life, and so to the life of the world."

HAROLD LEE BERRY, KAPPA '01, ELECTED TO THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

By GEORGE E. FOGG, Kappa '02

(THE DIAMOND greets Brother Berry as a member of the Executive Council. He was elected to his new position by the delegates to the convention with the Kappa last June. His term of office will be five years.)

BORN in Portland, Maine, August 1877, Brother Berry attended the public schools in that city. Spending three years in the Port-graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1901. Brother Berry was a classmate and close personal friend of Bowdoin's present president, Dr. Kenneth C. M. Sills, also a native of Portland, Maine. During his college career, Brother Berry gave indication of his predilection towards finance and management by managing the varsity football team in a most successful season.

Member of the Executive Council land high school, he went to Colorado in 1895, but the next year he attended Columbian Academy, Washington, D. C., from which he was graduated in June, 1897.

In the fall of the same year he entered Bowdoin College and was Upon graduation, this loyal Psi U entered the shoe manufacturing business with the A. H. Berry Shoe Company of Portland, Maine. He remained until the company closed out its business in 1926.

On August 28, 1905, Brother

Berry married Violetta Brown, of Portland. They have two children, Martha Carroll (now Mrs. James F. Nields, Jr.) and Violetta Lansdale.

Since his graduation, new Executive Council member Berry has maintained his interest in both the college and the fraternity, and has given freely of his time and talents in promoting their interests. He was an Overseer of the college from 1921 to 1937. In the latter year he was promoted to Trustee which position he continues to hold. In 1931, genial Brother Berry was awarded an honorary A.M. degree by Bowdoin.

Brother Berry's verve and heartfelt interest in Psi Upsilon led to his election as treasurer of the Kappa in 1933. He still holds this office. At the Kappa this position entails the care and oversight of the chapter house. A difficult and thankless task, he has nevertheless put into effect arrangements that have placed the chapter house upon a sound financial footing. At the same time, the structure has been maintained in excellent repair. This has been a source of pride and satisfaction to alumni and undergraduates alike, particularly on the occasion of the annual convention held with the Kappa last June. At that time tribute was paid to Brother Berry's eminent ability and thoroughness.

Brother Berry is vice president of the Canal National Bank, trustee of the Portland Savings Bank, president of the Falmouth Loan and Building Association, president of J. B. Brown and Sons, a real estate concern, and treasurer of the West End Realty Company, all of Portland, Maine. He is also a member of the University Club of Boston and of the Cumberland Club and the Country Club of Portland.

Brother Scott Turner, Phi '02, President of the Council, recently wrote to the president of each Chapter-Alumni Association, giving the schedule of regular Council meetings planned for the year, and inviting him, or some prominent alumnus of the chapter designated by him, to attend one of the meetings and the informal dinner following.

It is the hope of the Council by means of these visits to keep in closer touch than heretofore with the chapters and the men who lead the alumni groups. On the other hand, it is felt that these men may be glad to see the Council in action, and to learn about current fraternity problems.

Last year, a number of undergraduate chapter heads attended Council meetings as the guests of present and former members of the Council. It is hoped that the presidents of Chapter-Alumni Associations or their representatives may, in some cases at least, wish to bring the heads of their chapter houses with them as their guests when they attend the meetings.

SKETCHES OF THE UNDERGRADUATE CHAPTER HEADS

WALLACE F. BAKER

Theta '40

Brother Wallace F. Baker, who is head of the Theta this year, has been a campus leader throughout his college career. Coming from an old Theta family, he entered college with the Class of 1939 in a Civil Engineering course. At the end of his sophomore year he was sent by the college as exchange student to St. Andrews University in Scotland. He spent that year in an A.B. course, and hence became a member of the Class of 1940 when he returned last year.

Wally has consistently led his class in scholarship, and has played football and lacrosse during his career at Union. He is a member of the Terrace Council, the senior honorary society.

The most important thing about Wally, as head of the House, is not his outstanding list of activities, however, but the fact that he is an administrator par excellence. Under his tutelage the Theta is looking forward to the best year in its history.

WILLIAM WEST MAPES

Delta '40

William W. Mapes came to the Delta chapter at New York University from Westfield high school in New Jersey. Since his initiation to Psi Upsilon in his freshman year, he has been extremely active in maintaining the high standing of the fraternity on the campus.

He is a First Lieutenant in the advanced R. O. T. C., a member of the Undergraduate Engineering Council, the Mall Committee, the Flying Club, and the president of the student chapter of the Society of Automotive Engineers. This year he was one of two students (both Psi U's) appointed by the Dean to manage Engineering Demonstration Day.

Bill is enrolled in the technical division of the Guggenheim School of Aeronautics, and expects to continue his training at the Pensacola Naval Station after graduation.

ROBERT CURRIE GRAHAM

Sigma '40

As president of the Sigma chapter, Robert Currie Graham of Kent, Ohio, deserves special commendation on his extra-curricular achievements at Brown University.

Brother Graham qualified as a driving tackle on the freshman football team and a superlative wrestler in the heavyweight division of the freshman team, but due to a recurrence of an old injury received during his vigorous athletic career at The Hill School, at Pottstown Pa., and Western Reserve Academy, at Hudson, Ohio, he was unable to continue in either of these fields.

In his sophomore year, he became active in various college societies, and now, in his senior year, has been made a member of the Owl and Ring, Brown's senior honorary society. Brother Graham played on the golf team in his sophomore and junior years, and is captain this year. In his junior year, Bob was appointed advertising manager of Brown's yearbook, the Liber Bru- nensis, and now holds the position of business manager.

A short time ago, Brother Graham was elected Sigma representative to the Interfraternity Governing Board. He was also recently appointed dormitory counsellor of Hegeman Hall.

All in all, Brother Graham has done more than his share in representing Psi Upsilon in and about the college. The Sigma is fortunate in having for its leader such a truly outstanding member of the undergraduate body.

JAMES NEILL RUTHENBERG

Gamma '40

Brother James Neill Ruthenberg, of Evansville, Ind., ably shouldering the responsibility of Gamma leadership, contributed greatly to the success of this year's recent rushing season. Accompanying Brother Coleman in an eastward march, beginning at the Mississippi, Brother Ruthenberg nobly sacrificed his famous Ford to that worthy cause.

A delegate to the Kappa convention this past spring, Brother Ruthenberg has held the post of song leader for the past two years. Last year he received a letter in football and was a member of the Glee Club. As a freshman and sophomore he was on the wrestling team. He was vice president of his class freshman year.

JOHN FONDA WILLSON

Zeta '40

John Fonda Willson has become one of the outstanding men on the campus and in the Zeta chapter. This is due not only to his athletic prowess but also to his well-rounded character, his vibrant personality, and his superior intelligence. During his college career, Jack has maintained a Phi Beta Kappa average.

JOHN F. WILLSON, Zeta '40

He is vice president of Casque and Gauntlet, senior honorary society, and is treasurer of the Interfraternity Council. In addition, he has been a member of the baseball squad for two years and one of the luminaries on the Zeta basketball team.

ALBERT CLARKE

Kappa '40

Brother Albert ("Shorty") Clarke would be a big man in any college. Standing six feet six, his physical qualities are no more outstanding than his executive, scholastic, and extra-curricular capabilities.

Entering with the class of 1940,

“Shorty” soon made himself known as a quiet, capable, well-liked, typical Psi U. He early displayed an extraordinary ability to sock a golf ball far down the fairways. Showing steady improvement as he went along, “Shorty” now ranks as the best golfer in these parts.

Brother Clarke, who majors in history, has been consistently on, or close to, the Dean’s list during his three years at Bowdoin.

BORIS KLOSSON
Psi '40

Boris (“Count”) Klosson, present head of the Psi, took a running

BORIS KLOSSON, Psi '40

jump of four thousand miles to begin his leadership tasks this Fall. The “Count,” who was secretary of the Psi his sophomore year, spent his junior year at the University of Geneva, where he hobnobbed with world diplomats while poking around the League of Nations.

Majoring in political science and pointing toward a career in international relations, the “Count” is exceptionally well-qualified to lead the chapter. His committee system has put a new administrative spark into the chapter and his personality tends to unite the brothers within the Garnet and Gold. Head of the College Press Board, in addition to his debating activities, he is a familiar personage on the Hamilton campus.

EMENS GUERNSEY
Xi '40

Quiet-spoken, modest “Em” Guernsey, Arlington, Massachusetts’ fine contribution to Wesleyan and the Xi, is bringing to a close one of the most enviable records of any of the present members of the chapter. Boasting the presidency of his graduating class, the captaincies of both the track and cross-country squads, as well as membership in Mystical Seven, the senior honorary society, Brother Guernsey is one of the big reasons for the Xi’s exalted position on campus. “Em” looks upon Psi U as an old family tradition, since both his father and uncle are alumni of the Xi.

GANSON TAGGART
Phi '40

Brother Ganson Taggart, senior in the Engineering School, is the president of the Phi chapter for the current term. Brother Taggart, of Albany, N.Y., is a member of Triangles, junior honorary engineering society, and Vulcans, senior honorary engineering society.

He has also been active in intramural athletics. As such, he contributed much toward winning first place trophy for the Phi last year. Moreover, he holds the second highest position, that of assistant business manager, on the business staff of the Michigan Daily. In his freshman year, Brother Taggart was a member of Phi Eta Sigma, honor society for first-year men.

RUSSELL J. PARSONS
Omega '40

Russell Parsons has been selected as head of the House for this session. Brother Parsons, who hails from Davenport, Iowa, has been active on the campus for four years. He belonged to both the sophomore and junior honor societies, and is now head of the senior society. Russ's record also includes being elected president of the Student Publicity Board.

In athletics he has been invaluable as regular end on the football team and a stellar member of the track team. One of the most popular men in the school, as well as in the fraternity, Brother Parsons, we feel sure, will do honor to the tradition of Psi Upsilon.

TEMPLE JAMES LYNDS, JR.
Pi '40

Temple James Lynds, Jr., from Kittery, Maine, has been elected president of the Pi chapter. In true Psi U fashion, Temp has been very active in university life.

As a member of the varsity ski team, Temp has placed in several events for Syracuse. As outfielder and number one man on the Orange batting list, "Red Whiskers" Lynds has pulled many a game out of the fire. Last year, however, a broken hand kept Temp out of the lineup.

TEMPLE LYNDS, Pi '40

Filling a number of executive posts, Temp has earned the honor of being a member of the junior Prom Committee and the sophomore Executive Committee.

We of the Pi are looking forward to an outstanding year with Temp at the helm.

ELWYN SEELYE
Chi '40

The president of the Chi for the fall term is Elwyn Seelye who is majoring in economics in the College of Arts and Sciences. During his three years at Cornell, Brother "Bud" Seelye has taken an active interest in affairs on the campus, as well as in the chapter. He is now circulation manager of the Cornell Daily Sun, a member of Red Key, Mummy, Sphinx Head, and a Willard Straight committeeman. Railroading is his hobby; his collection of time tables is the envy of many other enthusiasts, and it is certainly a great convenience to the chapter members.

JAMES STEWART NEILL
Beta Beta '40

Since entering Trinity Brother Neill has taken considerable interest in outside activities, yet has done more for the House than any other member of his class. Editor of the Ivy, the college yearbook, Jim also has had time to be editor of the college paper, a member of the Soph Hop Committee, a representative for two years on the Interfraternity Council, and a Senator of the college. He was elected the outstanding junior in the House last year, and also received the Anita McAlpine Cup, an award for service to the chapter. Jim is cross-country manager and is out for the squash racquets team. To Brother Neill we owe much of our success in this year's rushing, for as rushing chairman, he handled the job with smoothness and precision. It was especially hard when one considers that he had only six veterans with which to rush. The other nineteen brothers were sophomores. With a level head and an unusual ability to assume responsibility Jim makes a fine president for the Beta Beta.

PAUL PETER PRUDDEN, JR.
Eta '40

Pete Prudden, our undergraduate president, is a jovial and popular man. Pete participates in social activities and holds various managerial posts in extra-curricular affairs on and off the campus. His natural qualities of leadership, coupled with a military exactness gleaned from prep-schooling at Culver Military Academy, are enough to make the brothers step lively around the chapter house.

In addition to being head of the senior Dance Committee, and head of the Maennerchor, business manager of the Lehigh Review, manager of dramatics, and a silver-tongued debater, Pete has found time to participate in golf, wrestling and varsity swimming, which have combined to keep his rather plump figure nicely in trim. Pete is a credit to Psi Upsilon, and one of the finest men to pass through the halls of the Eta in many a decade.

ROBERT CHESTER ROESLER

Mu '40

Bob, entering university in the fall of 1936, was valedictorian of the Class of '36 of the Rochester, Minnesota, High School. Highly recommended by our strong Rochester contingent, Brother Roesler was pledged in January, 1937. Bob has never failed to live up to expectations both scholastically and in extracurricular activities. For three years Bob has maintained a better than "B" average.

ROBERT C. ROESLER, Mu '40

He is a member of Silver Spur, junior honorary fraternity, and Beta Alpha Psi and Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary business school fraternities. He has also headed several University committees. The Mu feels very secure with Brother Roesler at the helm for the coming term.

FREDERICK STEINMANN

Rho '40

Brother Frederick Steinmann, of Monticello, Wis., a senior in the School of Commerce, is head of the Rho chapter for the first semester. His record in Psi Upsilon has shown his interest in its welfare, since his activity has been directed more toward matters within the House rather than campus activities.

At the Rho, Brother Steinmann has been Associate Editor of the Rho Owl for two years and Associate Editor of THE DIAMOND for one year. He received the outstanding junior award and was president of his pledge class in 1936.

On the campus, he was a member of the freshman basketball team. Sophomore year, he was a member of the business organization of Haresfoot and a student assistant for Orientation Week.

In addition to his other activities in the House, Brother Steinmann served as corresponding secretary and as treasurer.

WILLIAM HUTERS

Epsilon '40

Bill Huters, the president of the Epsilon Chapter of Psi Upsilon, is a man of whom we are all proud. He is not only admired and respected within the House, but is an outstanding man on the California campus.

Bill Huters is a good student, a fine football player, and an excellent president. His scholarship is above average. His football prowess is proven by the fact that he is at present first string fullback on the California varsity. As president of the House he is ably fulfilling all the required duties. The House is in good condition; to no small extent this can be attributed to his leadership.

Brother Hutters is a member of Skull and Keys, an interfraternity honor society. He is also a member of Golden Bear, a senior organization. He is a two year football letterman, as well as a first string letterman on the California rugby team.

JOHN V. SCOTT
Omicron '40

Brother John V. Scott, of Oak Park, Illinois, is a senior in excellent standing in the school of Physical Education. Brother Scott received his numerals in baseball but because of an unfortunate injury he has been unable to participate further in this sport. He served the House in the capacity of Intramural Manager for two years. The House intramural rating was raised fifteen points during his régime. Brother Scott has always been one of our ablest rushers and he did some fine work this year in that line. Brother Scott has served the chapter well in past years, and we are looking to him for capable guidance this year.

ANDREW ANDERSON
Delta Delta '40

Brother Andy Anderson, the present head of the Delta Delta chapter, last spring climaxed a brilliant career at Williams College when he was tapped for Gargoyles, senior honorary society. Membership in this organization is based on character, accomplishment, and loyalty to Williams. The achievements which brought him this honor were many and varied.

Brother Anderson excels scholastically. He has been a constant member of Dean's List and was awarded Sophomore Honors. His literary ability brought him a position on the editorial board of Sketch, the college literary publication. Brother Anderson is co-captain of the college golf team. He held the college golf title for three years.

Early recognition of Brother Anderson's ability was made with his selection as a junior adviser. Following this, Andy was elected to the Thompson Concert Committee and to the Honor System Committee. Last February he was awarded the highest executive undergraduate office in the college—the Presidency of the Undergraduate Council.

Brother Anderson's home is in Kenosha, Wisconsin; he prepared for Williams at Los Alamos Ranch School, Otowi, New Mexico.

WM. B. MACLEAN
Nu '40

Bill MacLean matriculated, winning a proficiency prize, from Weston Collegiate Institute in 1936. He is twenty-one years old, and a senior in Chemical Engineering. During his three years at the university he has been active in connection with intercollegiate and interfaculty track and football teams. Last year he was manager of the varsity senior track team, which won the intercollegiate championship. This fall he is playing for the School of Practical Science senior football team. He is treasurer of the Blue Key. After leaving Toronto, Bill hopes to take a post-graduate course at the University of Michigan, but his plans have been rendered indefinite by the outbreak of war in Europe.

WILLIAM RITCHIE DOWREY
Zeta Zeta '40

Brother Dick Dowrey, president of Zeta Zeta chapter for the coming year, entered the university in the fall of 1936, and was initiated into Psi Upsilon the following spring. Brother Dowrey is studying for the degree of Bachelor of Commerce, and next fall plans to attend the Graduate School of Business Administration at Harvard. Following his entry into Psi U, Dick immediately became active in fraternity and campus life. As left end, he made the senior football squad in his sophomore year. Since then he has developed into one of the hardest tacklers in the league.

Brother Dowrey filled very successfully the difficult position of rushing chairman last year. In addition to this he was secretary of the Men's Athletic Association, governing body of the U.B.C. athletics. Dick is secretary of the Interfraternity Council for the coming year.

Last spring his untiring energy and brilliant play in the Grid game was rewarded when he was made a member of the Big Block Club, highest athletic award on the campus.

Brother Dick Dowrey, well known on the campus for his cheery smile and ready wit, is only nineteen years old.

F. Peavey Heffelfinger, Beta '20, of the F. Peavey & Co. of Minneapolis, Minn., was elected chairman of the National Grain Trade Council at its annual meeting in Chicago in September.

Totten Peavey Heffelfinger, Beta '21, one of the "guiding lights" of the American Legion in Minnesota recently presented Bob Hope, stage and screen comedian, with an overseas cap and an honorary membership to the Minneapolis Legion.

NOTES ON THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL MEETINGS

A REGULAR meeting of the Executive Council was held on Tuesday, May 9, 1939, at the University Club in New York City. Brother Scott Turner, Phi '02, presided. The following members of the Council were present: Brothers Turner, Bangs, Burton, Collins, Ham, Jones, Kent, Richards, Werrenrath and Woolman. Excuses were accepted from Brothers Corcoran, Evans, Fales, Northey and Weed.

The Secretary-Recorder reported that credential blanks for the delegates to the annual Convention of the Fraternity had been forwarded to the Canadian and west coast chapters, and would be sent to the remaining chapters about May 15; that a letter had been received from Frederick S. Brandenburg, Rho '09, President of the Rho Alumni Association, reporting the excellent condition of the Rho chapter; that at the request of the Omega chapter, provisions of the Constitution and resolutions adopted in Convention prohibiting the giving away of Fraternity jewelry had been summarized in correspondence; that a letter had been received requesting cooperation in obtaining speakers for the Convention banquet. Brother Kent reported for the Committee that an order had been placed with R. R. Donnelley and Sons Company to reprint the Constitution.

The President reported a gift from Brother Karl P. Harrington, Xi '82, editor of Songs of Psi Upsilon, of original song manuscripts, and letters relating to them. Reports of chapter-visits were read, as follows: Brother Woolman, the Iota; Brother Werrenrath, the Mu; Brother Bangs, the Lambda, Delta, and Tau; Brother Kent, the Eta.

The President submitted a comprehensive study made by Brother John C. Esty, Gamma '22, of the Advisory Committee on THE DIAMOND, demonstrating that the financial setup of THE DIAMOND was unsound and that corrective measures must be taken. It was voted that the Council memorialize the next Convention of the Fraternity, urging that the price of the life subscription to THE DIAMOND be fixed at $15.00. Brother Esty was appointed vice Chairman of THE DIAMOND Committee, and the Secretary was instructed to thank him for his report. The Secretary was further instructed to attach a copy of the report to the minutes of the meeting.

It was voted that five members of the Executive Council, one of whom must be an officer, should in future constitute a quorum of the Council.

The resignation of Brother Jacobs as Archivist and also as Editor of the second Epitome was presented and accepted. Brother Peter A. Gabauer, Pi '25, was appointed Archivist. The President appointed a committee, consisting of Brother Collins, chairman, and Brothers Kent and Burton, to suggest to the Council at the October meeting a suitable editor of the second Epitome.

The following officers of the Executive Council were elected for the ensuing year, each being nominated individually: President, Scott Turner, Phi '02; first vice President, R. Bourke Corcoran, Omega '15; second vice President, Benjamin T. Burton, Chi '21; Treasurer, A. Northey Jones, Beta Beta '17; Secretary-Recorder, Stephen G. Kent, Delta Delta '11.

The members of the Council stood while the President read the necrology.

The first autumn regular meeting of the Executive Council was held on Tuesday, October 3, 1939, at the Union League Club, New York City. Brother Scott Turner, Phi '02, presided. The following members of the Council were present: Brothers Turner, Bangs, Berry, Burton, Collins, Fales, Jones, Kent, Northey, Richards and Weed. Excuses were accepted from Brothers Corcoran, Evans, Ham and Woolman.

The Secretary-Recorder reported that, in accordance with the instructions of the last two conventions, a copy of General Resolution No. 6 of the Convention of 1937, suggesting ways and means to improve scholastic standing in our chapters, had been forwarded to each chapter with an appropriate letter urging attention to the problem; that the scholarship accomplishments of the chapters during the college year 1938-39 were, judging from the ten reports received to date, in most instances not satisfactory; that in accordance with General Resolution No. 11 of the Convention of 1938, each chapter had been requested to forward the names and addresses of the officers of its Alumni Association; and that the records of the Convention of 1939 had been prepared and would shortly go to press.

The President reported on the removal of the archives from the warehouse in Brooklyn, where they were formerly stored, to the new archive room adjoining the headquarters office; on the excellent work of Brother GaBauer in classifying and assembling these archives and storing them on the new metal shelving which has been provided. The Council ratified and approved the expenditure of $202.22 made for the installation of furniture and equipment in the archive room, and recorded its gratitude to Brother GaBauer, and to Brothers Earl D. Babst, Iota-Phi '93, and Walter T. Collins, Iota '03, for contributions of $100 and $56 respectively towards the furnishing and equipping of the archive room. The Secretary was requested to write appropriate letters of thanks to Brothers Babst, Collins and GaBauer. It was decided to have the members of the Council assemble at the archive room with Brother GaBauer prior to the next Council meeting so that they might have explained to them what records are on hand and the method of storing and cataloguing them.

Brother Collins, reporting on behalf of the committee appointed on May 9, 1939, nominated Brother Peter Alden GaBauer, Pi '25, as Editor of the second Epitome. Brother GaBauer was duly elected to this office. The President then appointed a committee, consisting of Brother Babst, chairman, and Brothers Collins, Jacobs, Woolman, and Stevens, to collaborate with Brother GaBauer in this work.

A draft of proposed by-laws for the proceedings of the Executive Council was submitted by Brother Bangs on behalf of the committee appointed on May 9, 1939.

Brother Turner reported that the work of the Interfraternity Dartmouth Committee had been successfully completed, the committee had been dissolved, and that the balance of funds on hand had been distributed pro rata to the fraternities originally contributing. Psi Upsilon was one of the contributors. It was voted that Mr. Davis Jackson, representative of the Dartmouth fraternities and a Dartmouth faculty member, be invited to the dinner of the Executive Council following its next meeting. Brother Turner further reported that an arrangement similar to that now prevailing at Dartmouth for supervision of fraternities on the campus was being installed at the University of Illinois.

The President was authorized to send, as the gift of the Executive Council, to every chapter one copy each of the Catalogues of 1888, 1902, 1908, 1917 and 1931; to each college library in the colleges where there are Psi Upsilon chapters, one copy each of the Catalogues of 1902, 1908 and 1917; and to the public libraries of the cities in which there are Psi Upsilon chapters, copies of the 1902 Catalogue.

It was moved, seconded and voted that the Council memorialize the next Convention of the Fraternity to amend Article II, Section 6, of the Constitution, so that, in addition to the fifteen elected members of the Council, all living ex-Presidents of the Council should be life members of the Council.

The continuance of the plan which was followed last year, to have Council members sponsor the visits to Council meetings of one or two heads of chapter houses, was formally approved.

The President was authorized to supply presidents of chapter-Alumni Associations with the schedule of regular Council meetings, and to extend to them invitations to attend a meeting during the course of the year. A proposal to notify former Council members of the dates of Council meetings and to invite them to attend was discussed.

The following assignments for chapter visits were made: Brother Weed, Gamma; Brother Fales, Kappa; Brother Kent, Psi; Brother Richards, Xi; Brother Northey, Upsilon; Brother Burton, Phi, Rho (tentative); Brother Collins, Chi; Brother Corcoran, Mu, Omicron; Brother Berry, Delta Delta; Brother Woolman, Nu; Brother Ham, Epsilon Phi.

The Treasurer reporting that the dues and THE DIAMOND subscriptions of one chapter for the last college year still remain unpaid. It was moved, seconded and voted that in the future the full amount of all life subscriptions to THE DIAMOND should be segregated and held in special reserve.

The members of the Council then stood while the President read the necrology, after which adjournment to November 6, 1939, was voted.

AMONG OUR ALUMNI

Archibald MacLeish, Beta '15, newly appointed Librarian of Congress, was named last June by President Roosevelt as the successor to Dr. Herbert R. Putnam.

The appointment of Brother MacLeish, chiefly known to the public as one of America's foremost living poets, aroused a great deal of curiosity among those who were not aware of the diversity of his experience.

A graduate of Harvard Law School, Arch MacLeish is a former editor of Fortune magazine and wrote many of the most important articles ever to appear in that great ten-dollar-a-year magazine. At Fortune MacLeish had a unique working arrangement which called for working continuously for eighteen months and then knocking off for a six months' vacation with full pay. Even under this program, his presence was so vital that he did not always get away for the allotted six months.

He gave up his law practice in 1923 to write poetry. By 1932 he had won the Pulitzer Prize for Poetry with his sixth volume of verse, Conquistador. Librarian MacLeish got his material for Conquistador by going to Mexico in 1929. There he followed the very picturesque route of Cortez on foot and by horseback. He presented the manuscript of Conquistador to the Yale University Library in 1937.

Brother MacLeish—lawyer, soldier, orator, poet, athlete—is also a figure in the world of radio. He has written two verse dramas, "The Fall of the City" and "Air Raid" for the radio, and he helped to form a Radio Workshop at Harvard while practicing law in Boston.

Brother MacLeish was born in Glen-coe, Ill., May 7, 1892. He graduated from Yale in 1915. As an undergraduate, he was a swimmer of note, and an active participant in water polo and football. In June, 1916, he married Ada Hitchcock in Farmington, Conn. During the World War, Brother MacLeish served as a Field Artillery Captain.

His recent works include Panic, a verse drama of the 1933 banking panic, which was presented on the stage in 1935, and a ballet, Union Pacific. Among other poetic works are The Happy Marriage, The Hamlet of A. MacLeish, Frescoes for Mr. Rockefeller's City and Streets in the Moon.

New Librarian of Congress

His predecessor, Dr. Herbert R. Putnam, says of Brother MacLeish, "There is first the Scot in him—shrewd, austere, exacting but humorous. There is the poet in him—whose stuff is not made of mere dreams but of realities—the contrasts of beauty and ugliness, joy and despair, success and failure.

"Then the humanist, keenly sympathetic to all the calls for social sympathy. The lawyer—trained to analysis through determination of exact issues. The soldier—pledged to duty under discipline. The athlete—pledged to fair play. And finally there is the orator, capable of vivid and forceful speech.”

In 1936, Brother MacLeish was a special lecturer in literature at Princeton University, where he delivered a series of six lectures on literature and writing during the course of the year.

Robert A. Taft, Beta '10, son of the late President and Supreme Court Chief Justice, William Howard Taft, Beta '78, last summer expressed a candid willingness to become a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1940.

This announcement followed an endorsement by the Hamilton (Ohio) County Republican Executive Committee at Cincinnati, which said: “His political records and the frank way in which he makes known his opinions on the great public questions of the day all combine to make him a national figure of the first rank.”

Should Senator Taft, Ohio's “favorite son” candidate for the presidential nomination in 1936 (until he released his delegates to Alfred M. Landon) be nominated and elected, he would be the third Cincinnati to become President. William Henry Harrison was the first and the Senator's father, the second.

Brother Taft's popularity among Republican leaders appears to be growing rapidly, as was demonstrated at the Union League Club of New York on November 9. The Senator spoke before a gathering that packed the Great Hall of the Club and overflowed into adjoining rooms. His address met with unusual approval and enthusiasm.

Theodore W. Noyes, in an editorial in the Washington Evening Star said: “The Senator from Ohio in effect has tied his candidacy to the doctrine that the grave problems of unemployment and destitution can be solved only by a return to sound fiscal policies and the freeing of private business from oppressive and restrictive governmental regulation. For having the courage to take that stand at a critical moment in the history of his party and his country, he merits admiration and respect.”

Brother Taft, in expressing his views on the duties of the next President, said: “Unless the whole present tendency of the government is redirected, we cannot long maintain financial solvency or free enterprise or even individual liberty in the United States, but the leaders of the movement against New Deal fallacies must have the courage to incur the unlimited displeasure of every vested interest whose selfish purposes conflict with a radical policy of reform.”

Those who know Brother Taft are aware of the deep and carefully considered convictions which underlie this courageous statement. And there is a growing belief in political circles that Brother Taft's evident sincerity and simplicity, as well as his fine name, would make him a formidable candidate against any possible opponent.

Amos Alonzo Stagg, Beta '88, appeared on the Yale campus fifty-five years ago intent on becoming a crew immortal. He became quickly convinced, however, that he should go out for football. At the time of this all-important decision Stagg was 22 and weighed exactly 149 pounds. Brother Stagg laughingly refers to this decision as his first “reverse play.” Because “Lonnie” Stagg decided to play football instead of pulling an oar in a racing shell he is now in his fifty-fifth year as an active follower of the game. This fall he became the first man to coach football for half a century.

Now seventy-seven years old, Brother Stagg is as active as a man of fifty. He is nearing the close of his seventh season as football coach at the College of the Pacific. His enthusiasm is as undimmed today as it was when he started playing for old Eli.

Coach Stagg was forced to retire from the University of Chicago seven years ago because he had reached the age limit. He had coached there forty-one years; before that two years at the International Y. M. C. A. Training School, now Springfield (Mass.) College. Last year the dean of coaches produced the Far Western Conference championship team. The highlight of the season was his little squad's 32-0 victory over the University of Chicago at the latter's stadium which was named in honor of Stagg.

Brother Stagg completed his full course in three years at Orange (N. J.) High School. Failing to have enough credits to get into Yale, he had to spend six months at Phillips Exeter Academy before being accepted by Yale.

Interestingly enough, Brother Stagg achieved more fame in baseball than in football at college. He pitched on five Yale championship teams from 1886 through 1890. Since rules were more flexible in those days he was able to play his last two years as a graduate student. The "mighty atom" batted in number 2 position in the line-up. He hit for an average of .417 in eleven games during the 1887 season. Against Harvard he struck out twenty batters. Major league teams thought enough of his ability to offer him a professional career. He got offers from the Giants, from Boston, and from Pittsburgh, the latter proposing a contract of five thousand dollars, which was important money in those days.

But Brother Stagg gave up all thoughts of baseball to coach football after graduating from Yale. He also turned his back on the newspaper profession in spite of the talent for journalism he showed while an associate editor of the Yale News in 1888. This venture was partly inspired by the success of his friend, W. H. Cowles, editor of The News the year before.

Stagg recalls that during his undergraduate days at Yale he discovered that by dropping a yard or so back of the line of scrimmage he could get a driving start which was useful both offensively and defensively. This type of formation came to be called the wingback. Brother Stagg modestly asserts that necessity was the mother of invention in his case for compared with his teammates he was a lightweight of 149 pounds. From the successful use of this wingback Stagg was named on Walter Camp's first all-American eleven in 1889. Later on as a coach he evolved the flanker plays from this wingback formation and, from them still dizzier gridiron gyrations.

AMOS ALONZO STAGG, Beta '88

In Stagg's early days as coach, football was a combination wrestling match, tug of war and pile-up. So much so, that the late John L. Sullivan, probably the roughest, rowdiest prizefight champion in American history, said after sitting through an early Yale-Harvard game as an awed spectator, "There's murder in that game."

Although Brother Stagg claims no credit for originating the forward pass, he believes he made more use of it than any other coach in its first year (1906). Beaten by Minnesota 4 to 2 on one Saturday because Quarterback Walter Eckersall was unable to throw any passes due to wet weather, Chicago sprang a passing attack on Illinois the following Saturday, and amazed everyone by running up a score of 63 to 0.

Best wishes for many more victories to the Grand Old Man of football!

Francis T. Ward, Omega '15, was recently chosen President of the Bond Club of New York. He succeeds John K. Starkweather, Sigma '13.

Onetime University of Chicago track captain and 100-yard dash record holder, Brother Ward served on the bond staff of J. P. Morgan and Company from 1920 to 1935. Now a partner of Clark, Dodge and Company, he has been Bond Club Governor and Chairman of its Field Day Executive Committee; also a Governor of the Investment Bankers' Association.

At his Long Island home, Brother Ward plays a good game of golf, and during the summertime, at Woods Hole, he is an active sailor.

Prescott S. Bush, Beta '17, captain of the New York Bond Club golf team, received the Morgan Trophy from John K. Starkweather, Sigma '13, ex-president of the New York Bond Club, after the defeat of the Boston Bond Club team on the June 2nd Field Day outing at the Sleepy Hollow Country Club. On the same day C. Everett Bacon, Xi '13, won the ex-Presidents' Cup.

Dr. Fred Tees, Epsilon Phi '05, was presented with a silver cigarette case by members of the Victoria Hockey Club as a token of appreciation for his services as physician to the world's oldest hockey club, broken up after 65 years' operation.

ALUMNI NOTES

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Annual Meeting of the Alumni Association was held at Memorial Hall, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine, on Friday, June 23, 1939, at 11:30 A.M.

Brother B. T. Burton presided and Brother C. S. F. Lincoln, Secretary pro tem, kept a record of the proceedings. Approximately sixty brothers were present. Notice of the meeting was read by the Secretary, who stated that copies thereof had been sent to 750 dues-paying members.

The minutes of the last Annual Meeting of the Alumni Association were read and approved. In the absence of the Treasurer, Brother F. G. Kileski, Kappa '20, read the Treasurer's report for the fiscal year ended April 30, 1939, which was approved and ordered filed.

The President read in part the Annual Report of the Alumni Association for the year ended April 30, 1939, which is to be sent to all members of the Fraternity.

Psi U watch chain keys for the year 1938-39 were awarded to the outstanding juniors.

Brother F. G. Kileski spoke of the recent death of Charles Donald Rarey, Iota '11, and suggested that the Alumni Association make some recognition of the fact.

Brother George D. Heisey, Gamma '08, proposed that a cup be presented at each convention to the chapter which has the largest number of alumni present, excluding the chapter entertaining the convention.

Brothers R. G. Ham, Epsilon '15, H. W. Bosworth, Psi '05, and T. B. Plimpton, Gamma '02, were introduced to the meeting.

The meeting adjourned at 12:10 P.M.

NOTES ON THE MEETING OF THE BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

A regular monthly meeting of the Board of Governors of The Alumni Association of Psi Upsilon was held at the Union League Club, New York, at 5:30 P.M., October 10, 1939.

Present were Brothers Burton (president), Rosenberry, Ohashi and Merrill.

The President stated that the purchases and sales of securities by the Association to date have resulted in a profit to the Association of over $300 and that all of the transactions had been made after consultation with other officers of the Association and the Finance Committee.

The President reported that 8,000 copies of the annual report of the Association had already been mailed to members of the Fraternity but that, due to the pressure of work at the office of the Executive Council, some 4,000 copies had not as yet been mailed. It was voted that the President hire assistants for Miss Ford in order to effect the prompt mailing of the remainder of the reports, the President being authorized to incur such expenditure as might be required for such purpose. It was the sense of the meeting that it was most desirable that the annual reports of the Association be mailed to members of the Fraternity as soon as possible after the close of each fiscal year, and that in future years special help be procured, if necessary, to permit of a prompt mailing of the reports.

The President submitted to the meeting the resignation of Brother E. T. Richards as a member of the Board of Governors by reason of his recent appointment to the Executive Council of the Fraternity. On motion duly adopted the resignation of Brother Richards was accepted with regret and it was voted that the Board express its appreciation of Brother Richards' services while a member of the Board.

The President proposed the election to the Board of Brother Thomas J. Watson, Jr., Sigma '37. The nomination was made and seconded; Brother Watson was then duly elected a member of the Board of Governors.

The Secretary read to the meeting correspondence had by him with members of one of the chapters with respect to the award by the Association of keys of Eta Kappa Nu, an honorary engineering society, and Beta Lambda Sigma, an honorary biological society. It was the view of the meeting that, in view of the large number of honorary societies existing in the colleges, the Association should not award scholarship keys other than those of Phi Beta Kappa, Tau Beta Pi and Sigma Xi, except in cases where a member of the chapter was not eligible for election to any one of such three honorary societies but was elected to some other honorary society of similar character and of sufficient importance and standing to justify such award.

MANZO KUSHIDA, TAU '90, EMINENT JAPANESE BANKER, DIES

(The Editor wishes to express his deep appreciation to Brothers Archibald Douglas, Lambda '94, Herbert S. Houston, Omega '88, and Richard S. Stoyle, Tau '90, for having written this obituary on Manzo Kushida.)

I FIRST MET Manzo Kushida, the eminent Japanese banker and economist, over fifty years ago at Rutgers College Grammar School in New Brunswick, New Jersey. There my brother Percy (Douglas) and I formed with Manzo a close and affectionate friendship that lasted intimately through the years until his recent death in Tokio. There he died at a ripe age with honors from life—summa cum laude. He was a delightful boy, full of joy, twinkling with fun and laughter. With a mind that was always stimulating he was a genius for adapting himself easily to our American life. He shone at mathematics, was our best English scholar, and in our old Boarding School, made himself the most popular boy. Later, he went to the University of Pennsylvania and was initiated into our Tau Chapter. There he was coxswain of the Varsity Crew. During school and college years, and during his first banking apprenticeship in New York City, our home was his. Many of the Lambda men of my time remember him and recall that at a convention in the nineties in New York City, we drank too deeply of the cup that sometimes inebriates. His progress in his chosen field was certain. He was a natural. He carried through the world the best traditions of Psi Upsilon. It is fine to have a memory of so delightful and invigorating a friendship and to have known intimately, and long, a man of such outstanding usefulness. These few words are written at the request of your editor, and inadequately pay tribute to an outstanding member of our fraternity.

MANZO KUSHIDA,
Tau '90

Brother Richard S. Stoyle, in speaking of Manzo Kushida, adds, " 'Kushie' much preferred spending his leisure time with the American boys in the chapter, rather than with his fellow-countrymen at the university. As a result he became thoroughly American in his way of life. Despite his outstanding career, it is as a member of Psi Upsilon that older Tau's like to remember 'Kushie.' A very loyal Psi U he was keenly interested in anything pertaining to the fraternity. 'Kushie' came back to this country twice after returning to Japan. He visited the chapter each time, and it gave him a rousing welcome."

The bright promise of his boyhood in America, as Brother Archie Douglas has outlined it, with just the right Psi U touch, was abundantly fulfilled by Brother Manzo Kushida in his constructive career in Japan. As has been often stated, since his passing on September 5 in Tokyo, full of honors, he was one of the great builders of modern Japan. He was as quiet and pervasive as the sun on the slopes of Fujiyama, but, like the sun, he beamed with dynamic power. His whole career showed it. In 1894 he entered the service of the Mitsubishi bank, a small enterprise at the time, but under his sound management it became one of the four greatest financial institutions in Japan—in fact, one of the great banks of the world. In all its expanding activities, Brother Kushida continued to be the sun shining on Fujiyama, steady, serene, and extraordinarily powerful.

My first meeting with him was at the time of my first visit to Japan ten years ago and I can truly say I have never met a higher or finer type of man, in any country, nor have I felt the handgrasp, at any time or any place, of a more loyal and staunch Psi U. When I returned to Japan two years ago as Commissioner to the Far East for the New York World's Fair, the first man I went to see in Tokyo was Brother Kushida. He gave me a greeting that said—even without any words—that I was most welcome and that he would stand by me in the difficult mission on which I had come until I could see it crowned with success; and that is precisely what happened. Although our able and most cooperative Ambassador, Mr. Grew, told me in confidence that it would be almost impossible to secure Japan's acceptance to participate, in a time of war as then existed between Japan and China, Brother Kushida never wavered for a moment in his belief that Japan would be fittingly represented both in New York and in San Francisco. He immediately organized a luncheon for me, where he brought together some twenty of the leading men of Japan, and from that day until a final farewell dinner was given, on the evening before my departure from Yokohama, he was at my side, quietly giving me courage to look for success and at the same time cooperating in a score of different ways to make success certain. Surely I can lay on his tomb—in which a little box contains his ashes—a laurel wreath of affection and memory for one of the rarest men it has ever been my privilege to know.

But the finest laurel wreath for this son of Nippon, who was at the same time one of the greatest sons of Psi U of his generation, is his own record which he surely and steadily built from the far off days when he and Archie and Percy Douglas were members of the same school; and what a delightful little touch that is in Archie Douglas' brief appreciation in which he refers to his own home as Brother Kushida's "home" as well. This record that was built in honor and in strength included his service as a member of the Council of the Bank of Japan, his chairmanship of the Tokyo Clearing House and the Bankers' Association of Tokyo, his directorship of the International Chamber of Commerce and the Japanese-American Association. He was also long the chairman of the Japanese National Committee of the International Chamber and in that capacity it was my privilege to have a close association with him by correspondence.

When he passed away I wrote a letter to Mr. Kato, present chairman of the Mitsubishi Bank, in which I referred to this particular part of Brother Kushida's record. In this letter I said: "Where Mr. Kushida will long be missed by American friends, is in his fine service as chairman of the Japanese National Committee of the International Chamber. As one of the organizers of the International Chamber twenty years ago in Paris and always a member of the American Committee, I had many contacts with Mr. Kushida in this service for a common organization. He was so tireless in all of his constructive work in behalf of the International Chamber and we shall not forget how deeply in his debt we are because of what he accomplished in behalf of the International Chamber's controlling purpose, 'World Peace Through World Trade'."

It can be truly said of Brother Kushida that peace in the Far East and peace throughout the world was always a dominating interest with him. To promote that peace and give it an enduring foundation in an understanding based on knowledge and culture, he organized with another great Psi U, Count Ayske Kabayama, Xi '89 (also a Brother of the Gamma), the Society for International Cultural Relations, which has begun a broad educational endeavor to have Japan better understood in the western world and to promote, thereby, an enduring peace that shall be just to both the West and the East.

Psi U has indeed lost a great and loyal son and the world one of its most useful citizens in the passing of Manzo Kushida. When I think of him in the years to come I shall think of the sun shining on his beloved Fujiyama.

Dr. Laurence Tombs, Epsilon Phi '24, who has been for the past nine years a member of the Communications and Transit Section of the League of Nations Secretariat, Geneva, has been appointed to the International Commission for the Assistance of Child Refugees in Spain. Brother Tombs will assume his new duties April 1, with headquarters in Paris.

"No better man could be found than Dr. Tombs to assist us in the great effort we are making to enlist the support necessary if the Commission is to carry out the program of relief we have planned for the next few months," stated Judge Hanson, Commission President.

Dr. Gilbert H. Grosvenor, Gamma '97, trustee of George Washington University, received an honorary degree from that university last June.

Dr. Wendell McKenzie, Epsilon Phi '14, of Charlottetown, P. E. I., has been elected Fellow, American College of Surgeons.

IN MEMORIAM

SAMUEL STINSON GANNETT,

Kappa '83

(Expert on Boundaries)

Samuel Stinson Gannett, a native of Augusta, Me., died of pneumonia after a major operation in Dilbry Hospital, Washington, D. C., on August 5. At 21 he went to Washington to take a position with the U. S. Geological Survey. During his 55 years in government service Brother Gannett became the Government's foremost expert on boundary surveys. Accordingly, he was honored by extension of his term far beyond retirement age in order to finish determination of the Vermont-New Hampshire line.

Following graduation from Bowdoin, Brother Gannett studied for one year at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He entered the Geological Survey at Washington, in July, 1882, and remained there until July, 1934. Starting work in triangulation, astronomy, and computing, he soon became chief of the Computing Section, Topographical Branch, Geological Society. 1897 marked the beginning of his career as a boundary expert, "when he determined by astronomical observations the intersection of the 107th meridian with the Colorado-New Mexico boundary line."

His appointment by the U.S. Supreme Court, in 1910, as one of three commissioners to run and mark the disputed boundary line between Maryland and Virginia, from Fairfax Stone to the Pennsylvania line, was followed by a vast series of similar appointments. His most exciting appointment came with the establishment of the 100th meridian line (between Texas and Oklahoma) about which he said, "The Texas-Oklahoma line is the most accurate boundary in the United States or in the world. It's the true meridian, running exactly north and south between Texas and Oklahoma."

Brother Gannett's work as Special Commissioner to settle the boundary line dispute between Vermont and New Hampshire was probably his outstanding feat. His report, covering information on over 200 miles of boundary line, contained 72 diagrams and maps, with descriptions and geographic positions of nearly 200 monuments, bench marks and triangulation stations. Determining a boundary is more than just fixing a line and saying, "this is it." Many times he had to defend his decisions in court. Being right every time, however, continually increased his fame as a boundary expert.

Brother Gannett, survived by his wife, two sons, a daughter, and a brother, was a member of the Cosmos Club since 1890 and honorary life member of the National Geographic Society.

PAUL BOVARD HAMMOND, Epsilon '11
(Prominent Investment Banker)

Paul Bovard Hammond, prominent Los Angeles investment banker, died suddenly from a heart ailment, on August 31, while motoring with his family in New Mexico. Upon graduating from the University of California he entered the investment banking business. With the United States' entry into the World War went Brother Hammond, who served as a captain in the 91st Division overseas. He was wounded at Genes, France during the Argonne offensive. Returning to Los Angeles after the war to found, in association with his brother, Theodore E., Epsilon '13, the investment house of Hammond Bros. Co., Brother Hammond, in 1929, became executive vice president of William R. Staats Co., investment bankers, when the latter merged with Hammond Bros. Co. He also served as a member of the board of governors of the California chapter of the Investment Bankers Association of America and for several years was a member of the board of governors of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

Brother Hammond, a member of the California and Sunset clubs of Los Angeles, and the Bohemian Club of San Francisco, is survived by his wife; two sons; his parents and his brother.

JOHN GILBERT McILVAINE,
Beta Beta '00
(Prominent Architect)

John Gilbert McIlvaine, member of the Philadelphia architectural firm of Wilson, Eyre & McIlvaine, died at Downingtown, Pa., on August 6. He was 59 years old.

Brother McIlvaine, suffering from ill health for a year, had undergone a brain operation at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, six months before his death, but failed to recover.

Educated in Philadelphia private schools, Trinity College, and the University of Pennsylvania, he was active in business from 1903 until overcome by illness in 1938. In 1918, he enlisted in the U. S. Army, and served as a liaison officer in France.

Brother McIlvaine was the originator of the American Legion medals for high school essay contests on "Americanism." This idea spread throughout the nation. He is survived by his wife; two children; two brothers and a sister.

ROBERT LEWIS PADDOCK,
Beta Beta '94
(Famed Oregon Prelate)

The Right Rev. Robert Lewis Paddock, retired Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Eastern Oregon, died of a heart ailment, on May 17, in St. John's Hospital, Brooklyn. He was 69 years old. Bishop Paddock, suffering from poor health for many years, had been in the hospital since January.

The New York Herald Tribune said of Bishop Paddock, who was chairman

THE RIGHT REV. ROBERT LEWIS PADDOCK,
Beta Beta '94

of the American Friends of Spanish Democracy:

He was an ardent anti-Fascist, and was tireless in soliciting the names of fellow Protestant clergymen and others to statements appealing for the lifting of the embargo on arms shipments to the loyalists during the Spanish civil war. He was a member of the national board of the American Civil Liberties Union and similar organizations.

The Herald Tribune continues with an interesting story of Bishop Paddock's great humanity:

Bishop Paddock, was near death last summer in St. Luke's Hospital where he had refused a private room, insisting that he should receive no better care than any other suffering human being.

A Negro boy, dying of malnutrition, was in the next bed. Striking up a close friendship, the two made an agreement . . . the first to die would "find out the lay-out of the streets, the pretty parks, the castles and the palaces" in Heaven, so that he could be the other's guide on arrival. The Negro boy died a few days later. During the last few weeks nurses at St. John's Hospital said that they had heard the Bishop muttering in delirium about the agreement.

Brother Paddock is famous for having started a New York City reform campaign. In 1898 he became vicar of the Pro-Cathedral, New York. In the fall of 1900 he caused a sensation by bringing charges against John D. Herlihy, police captain of the Eldridge Street Station, and his exposure of police protection of vice started the campaign of reform that elected Seth Low as Mayor. His associates in this campaign were Jacob Schiff and Felix Adler.

Bishop Paddock followed the radical practice of appearing without his Episcopal robes when preaching in churches of other denominations. In such instances, moreover, he did not insist upon use of the Book of Common Prayer. He was so successful in this procedure that an admiring bishop once said: "He has made a distinct contribution to the principles of missionary policy. Our work should begin with men, not buildings. It should aim to make Christians and not to safeguard a few Episcopalians."

Brother Paddock, who resigned as Bishop of Eastern Oregon in 1922, continued to hold the rank of Bishop with one vote in the House of Bishops. It was after his resignation that he became active with liberal anti-war and anti-Fascist organizations.

RAY EATON PALMER, Kappa '13
(International Banker)

Ray Eaton Palmer, Kappa '13, native of Bath, Me., died in New York City, July 24. In 1913 he started work with the New York office of the International Banking Corp. He soon left for Europe where he served in English and French banks, before going to Spain in 1924. At the outbreak of the Spanish Civil War in 1937, Brother Palmer, 47, affiliated with the City (NY) National Bank Branch in Barcelona, returned to New York City where he had since been. He left his wife; a son; three sisters and a brother.

EDWIN ADDAMS QUIER, Eta '91
(Reading, Pa., Banker and Publisher)

Edwin Addams Quier, president of the City Bank & Trust Co. and vice president of the Reading Eagle (newspaper) Co., died at the age of 70, on August 30, in Reading.

Brother Quier was highly interested in local civic affairs, serving on the board of managers and treasurers of the Reading Hospital, and, until a few years ago, serving also on the board of trustees of the Home for Friendless Children. An active Mason, he attained the 33rd and highest degree of the order. Brother Quier, a prominent member of the Berkshire Country Club, was also a director of the Reading Steam Heat & Power Co. In addition to his many business and civic enterprises, able Brother Quier found time to serve as vice president and member of the board of governors of the Lehigh University Alumni Association.

Surviving Brother Quier are his wife; one son; two daughters and three grandchildren.

CHARLES DONALD RAREY, Iota '11
(Comptroller of the Travelers Insurance Co.)

Charles Donald Rarey died on June 16, in Hartford, Conn., from a heart attack following an operation performed a month previously. A native of Columbus, he first became connected with The Travelers there in 1910. He advanced in a series of promotions until he became comptroller in 1927. Brother Rarey, member of The Hartford Club, The Hartford Golf Club, The Twentieth Century Club of Hartford, Society of Colonial Wars, Society of Founders and Patriots, Sons of the American Revolution, and a director of The Travelers Bank & Trust Co., is survived by his wife, a son, and two daughters, of his immediate family.

JOHN SANFORD, Beta '72
(Congressman, Carpet Scion)

John Sanford, 88, native of Amsterdam, N. Y., and one of its foremost citizens, died September 26, at Saratoga Springs. He was taken ill last May and confined to bed most of the time since. Death resulted from a heart attack.

Since 1932 Brother Sanford spent a great portion of his time in New York City and Palm Beach, Fla. He made frequent business visits to Amsterdam, however, since he was an official in the Bigelow-Sanford Carpet Co., successor to Stephen Sanford & Sons, a carpet industry founded by his grandfather.

Brother Sanford first entered politics in the fall of 1888 when he became the Republican nominee for Congressional Representative from the "Saratoga District." "As the chosen leader and advocate of many great industrial interests and the thousands of operatives dependent upon his carpet firm for employment (Brother) Sanford prosecuted an aggressive campaign. His speeches on the stump demonstrated his earnestness and ability as a champion of the protective policy, and he was elected over his Democratic opponent."

The Amsterdam Evening Recorder said:

As a speaker on the floor of the House, the Amsterdam industrialist was earnest, able, impressive. His address in support of the mail subsidy bill advocating a national policy of assistance for American shipping, was an eloquent and forceful plea, winning many friends for this important measure, which subsequently became law.

Representative Sanford's increasing popularity enabled him to take office for a second term in the House. Due to the pressure of private business he was not able to run for a third time.

JOHN SANFORD, Beta '72

Brother Sanford, member of many clubs in various sections of the U. S., became the master of Hurricana Farm after the death of his father. It is the outstanding breeding establishment for thoroughbred horses in New York state. A few weeks before his death he decided to sell most of the horses on Hurricana Farm.

"The greatest public gift made in Amsterdam by Brother Sanford, whose father was generous in his benefactions to worthy institutions, some of which he was instrumental in founding, and to which his son also contributed unstintingly, was the presentation of the beautiful Sanford mansion to Amsterdam for a city hall."

Brother Sanford is survived by two daughters and a son.

THE FOUNDERS' CONSTITUTION

The Executive Council recently sent to each Chapter of the Fraternity a framed photostatic copy of the Founders' Constitution, the first and original Constitution of Psi Upsilon, which, after being lost for more than a century, was miraculously recovered in 1935 by Brothers Scott Turner and Bourke Corcoran, as was briefly described in THE DIAMOND of June, 1936. A letter of presentation, signed by Brother Scott Turner, Phi '02, President of the Executive Council, accompanied the gift to each chapter.

Painstaking research in old minute-books and other sources of information led to the discovery of the history of the Fraternity. A committee headed by Brother LeRoy J. Weed, Theta '01, was able to identify the venerable paper, which had apparently lain for decades folded between the pages of some old book or in some ancient file, and to prepare a report which was published in full in the June, 1939, issue of THE DIAMOND, proving its authenticity. A mimeographed copy of this report was placed inside the frame holding each photostatic copy, between the print and the backing, as a permanent record. A loose extra copy of the report was enclosed so that it might be read by the brothers or perhaps framed separately.

The precious original of this document, now safely lodged in the archives of the Fraternity in New York, is in the handwriting of Brother Sterling G. Hadley and bears the signatures of the seven original Founders. It is undated, but an old minute-book records its adoption on January 16, 1834. It was revised in October, 1834, at which time a second Constitution was produced which had hitherto been thought to be the oldest.

Willis Sharpe Kilmer, Chi '90, along with Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Earl Sande and Johnny Longden, was honored at the ninth annual dinner of the New York Turf Writers Association, at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., on August 24. Brother Kilmer received a handsome plaque for being voted tops among the nation's breeders.

AN OLD GRAD READS THE CHAPTER LETTERS

By WILLIAM D. KENNEDY, Delta Delta '16

THE CHAPTER communications are now in—all of them—and they appear, with minimum editing, on the following pages. Some are carefully written and re-written by conscientious scribes, some hastily dashed off to meet the closing date—three or four days late. Taken together they paint a colorful and fascinating picture of undergraduate life in America—at least so it seems to this Old Grad.

He is reminded of an occasion that goes back perhaps 15 years when he was being driven through an English countryside in one of those strange little cars that make you feel as if you are holding the engine in your lap. His companion, the driver of the bouncing midget was one remembered now only as an Oxford Man. The Oxford Man was speaking. Something like this, his talk went:

“You know those Rhodes Scholars you Americans send over are an interesting lot. Some of them seem much more adaptable to our college system than others. Strange, but it isn’t the Harvard and Yale and Princeton men who seem to fit in best here, although we have been led to believe that they are your leading sophisticates.

“It is the men from the smaller colleges—and especially the fraternity men from all your colleges, big and small, who seem to fall in with our ways. Perhaps you have found out over there what we learned centuries ago—that the social pattern of a college is just as important as the educational patterns and that you jolly well must break down your social and fellowship groups into manageable sizes.”

It is a big and rather confusing world, this world of college activities that is pictured—perhaps here and there with just a bit of boasting—in these chapter communications. First, there is the arena of athletics . . . six brothers from the Epsilon on the Golden Bears from the Coast and seven from the Zeta on the Big Green team in the Ivy League . . . and all that lies between: little football teams and big football teams and golf and soccer and intramural leagues . . . the ones that play and the ones that manage.

Then there is the busy, complex world of non-athletic activities. Editors and business managers of college newspapers and humor pubs and Lits . . . chairmen of Prom Committees and somebody tapped for the senior honor society . . . Interfraternity councils and Student Government bodies.

There is one thread of order in all this confusion of activity. It is a Psi U who is playing tackle, and another who is editing the paper, and another on the prom committee. And we know that these men and many others will meet tonight at dinner in simple good fellowship and perhaps study a little before they turn in.

It seems to this Old Grad, who is getting more philosophical by the moment—in fact, he is already ripe for an evening of good beer and bad singing—that all this busy world of activity, with its common denominator of good fellowship, may play a rather important part in the American scene.

It is a world invented not by faculties, or by Old Grads, but by Youth itself. It started as a rebellion against the classical tradition in education that wanted to brand anybody who didn't happen to have a Symbolic Type of Mind as a dolt or a dumbbell. But it went beyond that. It recognized that the world outside was going to demand team play and executive ability, but that these were not enough. Somewhere there must be built up an immunity against bigness. An immunity against big educational and commercial and military systems which seem necessary for group survival but which threaten to stretch and distort the individual near the breaking point.

Is there another immunity that will not be so easy to win, one that must be fought for again and again? Is there an ominous shadow even now moving across this busy, colorful undergraduate world? Or does this Old Grad remember too clearly the days when he was a sophomore back in 1914?

There are three new Canadian chapters since that day. The Epsilon Phi reports that the kilted Black Watch is drilling on the Lower Campus. From the Nu we hear that the President is wisely discouraging students from leaving their studies—they are getting their training from the Canadian Officers Reserve Corps. The Zeta Zeta is convened in a War Session, with activities about normal so far. Across the line to the south we hear that a brother in the Mu is Cadet Colonel of the University R.O.T.C. And that one in the Omicron is a Major. And in Beta Beta, another gets his Reserve Commission. And the head of the Delta Chapter is headed for Pensacola.

The shadow seems as unreal and as impossible as it did back in 1914. Perhaps tomorrow morning it will have vanished. Perhaps not.

THE RESIGNATION of Brother LeRoy J. Weed, Theta '01, as Chairman of the Advisory Committee on THE DIAMOND was submitted at the last Executive Council meeting, and was accepted with deep regret. Brother Frederick S. Fales, Gamma '96, a member of the Executive Council, was elected to succeed Brother Weed. At the same time, Brother Robert Leon Bliss, Chi '30, was elected a member of this committee. Brother John C. Esty, Gamma '22, already a member of this committee, has volunteered to act as business manager of THE DIAMOND.

Erratum: Willard F. Place, Chi '18, and not Charles J. Neeland, Chi '20 (as was reported in THE DIAMOND last June) is Financial vice President of the New York Central System.

CHAPTER COMMUNICATIONS

THETA

Union College

THE THETA, now settled down for the year after pledging a good class, is happy to report that things are running very smoothly. Brother Allnutt, as house steward, has reorganized the entire business setup of the House so that our help and financial problems seem to be solved. The pledges are breaking into the campus life very well. Pledges LeRoy and Howe are on the first line of the freshman football team. Pledge Houghton has a good part in the first play of the college dramatic club, and Pledge LaRouche is in the Glee Club.

Brothers Baker and Bothwell are playing their usual steady game for the varsity football team. Brother Field, who led the freshman cross-country team last year and was looked upon as good varsity material, unfortunately cannot run as he has a job which interferes with practice. Brother Field, however, still finds time to continue on the executive committee of the College Outing Club. Brothers Harwood, Davis, and Wilder are already working out with the varsity swimming team. Pledge Brennan looks like a good possibility for the freshman team.

The house has maintained its usual position of ascendancy over campus publications. Brother Crosby is Editor-in-Chief, and Brother Davis, Photographic Editor, of the yearbook. Crosby, along with Brother Sweet, is also a member of the College Publications Board, which controls all publications. Brother Davis is an associate editor of the Freshman Record and Brother Sweet is business manager of the Idol. Brother Phillips is on the editorial board of the Idol.

Brother Crosby is probably the most active man in the House. In addition to his publications work he was a student leader, along with Brothers Baas, Walden, and Clowe, at Freshman Camp. He is secretary of the junior class, assistant manager of varsity cross-country, and he and Brother Bothwell are members of the junior honorary society, the Garnet Key.

DAVID T. WILDER
Associate Editor

DELTA

New York University

THE MEMBERS of the Delta for the second consecutive year have retained first place in university scholarship. The Delta stands ahead of the twelve other campus fraternities, with an average of 78.9. That the brothers do not over-emphasize the importance of studying, however, is shown by the large number of extracurricular activities in which they participate.

Brother Hausdorf, president of the Euclean Literary Society and the manager of the swimming team, is ably assisted by Brother Galbraith, who holds the post of assistant manager. Brother Pech is president of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, and Brother Fluharty manages the rifle team. Brother Kroto is chairman of the Undergraduate Engineering Council, which is the governing body of the 900 engineers on the campus. The student employment bureau is headed by Brother Rothwell, and the president of the Stevenson Geological Society is Brother Schroeder.

Rushing added fourteen men to the pledge roll. With this cheering increase, the Delta looks forward to a successful year. Among these men are senior cadet first lieutenant LeFebre, and Klauer, '42, shining freshman football candidate.

In connection with rushing, last year the Delta set aside funds for the production of a film to portray chapter activities. The pictures made under the supervision of Brother Beck have proved very useful in this year's rushing. Skillfully edited, they form a surprisingly comprehensive picture of the Delta's activities, and have proven to be an excellent feature in connection with smokers.

The first social function of the chapter was a party given in honor of the pledges. Each class was responsible for a half hour of entertainment. After a series of skits, musical presentations and moving pictures, the party reached a pleasant climax with the brothers and pledges united in singing fraternity songs.

Close on the heels of the Pledge Party came our first dance of the season, a Hal-low'en Dance, which will take place amid decorations of corn stalks and pumpkins.

Brother William W. Mapes is head of the House this year. He is also the president of the Society of Automotive Engineers, an engineering society whose officers, incidentally, are all members of the Delta.

STANLEY G. KROTO, Associate Editor

SIGMA

Brown University

THE SIGMA is looking forward to one of the most brilliant years in the chapter's history. Already, plans have been made for the Centennial Anniversary which will be celebrated sometime during the month of June, 1940.

Under the able leadership of Brother Robert C. Graham the Sigma is maintaining its usual representation in college affairs. Brother Kenneth Clapp, one of the world's leading sprinters, and captain of the Brown track team, is president of the Cammarian Club, Brown's student governing body. Brother Graham has been recently elected captain of the golf team, and is a member of the Interfraternity Governing Board, the Oil and Ring, senior honorary society, and is also manager of the Liber Brunensis. Brother George Fisher, one of the stars of the basketball team, is treasurer of the Brown Key, junior honorary society. Brother Fred Flanagan is working feverishly as president of the Brown Liberal Club.

Brother Francis Wood is president of the Erasmians, the university's model parliamentary organization, which numbers among its members Brothers Clapp and Flanagan. Brothers Fuller, Morton, Williams, and Andrews are members of the Yacht Club, and on the Vigilance Committee we find Brothers Saunders and Furer.

Brother Joseph Lee Baker is chairman of the Rushing Committee, and reports that the House has been lending full cooperation in obtaining a sterling delegation. Serving on Brother Baker's committee are Brothers Fisher, Marrin, and Saunders.

Brother Samuel Sherer was chairman of the Dance Committee, sponsors of a marvelous house party on the October 20th weekend.

GAMMA

Amherst College

WITH THE tempest of rushing now over, the Gamma has emerged with fifteen promising pledges, the pick of the Class of 1943. This year's success can be attributed to the efforts of Brother Coleman, Gamma rushing chairman, Brother Ruthenberg, chapter president, and a fine spirit of cooperation evident throughout the entire house.

As Amherst's gridiron prowess develops, we find the Gamma well represented. Headed by Brother "Wimpy" Smythe, heavyweight tackle on last year's Psi U all-American team, we find Brothers Craft, Kuehne, McCreary, Quinn, Miller, Ruthenberg, Bill Smythe and Brown. Brother "Fireball" Stott captains Amherst's soccer team this fall, and holding positions on his team are Brothers Coleman, Woods, Chapman, Gray, Heisler, Crary, Collins and Moore. Brother Eastman, winner of the intramural cross-country classic last spring, is the Gamma's new addition to the varsity team this fall.

Continuing last year's drive to improve our scholarship standing, Brother Becker heads a house scholarship committee that is already helping the freshman pledges to orient themselves in their studies. Brothers Coleman, Brodhead, Hottensen, Haas and McCreary are very active in this work. College averages show the Gamma eighth among the fourteen campus social units, 2.85 percentage points behind the leader.

The Gamma is now completing a delightful new drinking-room in the basement where the brothers can enjoy a "brew" amid pleasant surroundings. Largely the work of Brother Kuehne, who can be found there with a formidable array of tools at almost any hour, the room will be of the old English tavern type.

With the school year now well under way, activities are running smoothly and Psi U is well represented in them. 1939 promises to find the Gamma again holding her traditional coveted position on the Amherst campus.

ZETA

Dartmouth College

ANY COMMUNICATION at this time of the year must start off with those brothers who are members of the football team. In this group we have Captain Whit Miller, Bill Hutchinson, Bob O'Brien, Ray Hall, Lou Young, John Kelley, Jim McElroy, Sandy Courter, and Pledge Kirk. These brothers hope to aid in maintaining Dartmouth's high rank on the gridiron.

President John Willson and Brother Jim Sullivan were looking ahead to next spring when they reported for fall baseball. Captain Roy Merchant and Lee Trudeau are the mainstays of the cross-country team.

Zeta is proud to announce that three members of the senior delegation have been elected to Paleopitus, the student governing body. Brothers Merchant, Whit Miller and Crandell are the ones so honored.

The rushing season is over, and, as a result of the fine cooperation of all the brothers, an excellent delegation of sixteen sophomores and two juniors has been pledged. Rushing chairman Ed Miller and the members of his committee are to be congratulated. Brother John Wiener, as Initiation head, will now see that the pledges are properly acquainted with the formality of becoming a brother.

THOMAS ARTHUR BALLANTYNE, JR.

LAMBDA

Columbia University

THE LAMBDA Chapter started very enthusiastically this fall, and indications point toward a most successful year.

Many of the brothers are in campus activities. Brother Collins Coffee, '40, is a member of the Kings Crown Advisory Board, which supervises all non-athletic activities; Brother Ed Rice, '40, is the editor of Jester, the college comic magazine, and Brother Fay, '42, is assistant manager of the Glee Club. Brothers Jack Harrison, '41, and Joe Coffee, '41, have the singular honor of being the first students to have complete charge of the intramural sports of the college. Our football team, with Al Stout, '42, as captain, has had a very successful season so far, having won all its games. This places us on top in the fraternity league.

Doing a fine job as co-chairmen for the rushing committee, Brothers Henry Manley and George Jessop ran rush week very smoothly, with an exceedingly good delegation as the result. The decoration of the house, under the capable direction of Brother George Black, and the installation of the new sprinkler system this summer, were important factors preparatory to successful rushing.

KAPPA

Bowdoin College

THE KAPPA has counteracted the loss of the fine senior delegation of last year with the addition, this fall, of an outstanding group of twenty freshmen.

The present membership of the house, 58, is the largest the Kappa has ever known. We are well represented in all fields—athletic, social, and extra-curricular—on campus. Brothers Webster, Griffith Rocque, Bonzagni, Coombs, Sides, and Newhouse form a major part of Bowdoin's powerhouse grid squad, which shows promise of an undefeated season.

The Kappa boasts among its senior members, Ben Shattuck, next year's tennis captain and present college singles champion, and Cal Hill, who last spring teamed with Shattuck to win the State doubles championship. Brother Al Clarke is captain of the golf team, of which Brothers Richdale and Ross are members.

Brothers Lin Rowe, Mitchell, and Huling are preparing to add their customary great strength to Bowdoin's power in winter and spring track. Brother Gates is head cheerleader, and a member of the White Key. Brother Thwing, Bowdoin's best diver, is preparing daily for the approaching swimming season. Brother Craig is assistant business manager of the Bowdoin Orient, and Brother Frese is secretary of the college Camera Club. Brothers "Red" Hill and Tony Eaton have been elected assistant managers of swimming and football respectively.

We consider our pledge delegation to be the best on campus. Pledges Brown, Croughwell, Dolan, Hunter, Kidd, Sleeper, Shaw, Skinner, and Minich are upholding Psi U's reputation on the frosh football team. Pledges Hooke and Mitchell are on the freshman cross country squad, and Pledges Hamlin and Lacey are members of the freshman track team.

PSI

Hamilton College

BEGINNING the year with 31 active brothers and 15 pledges, the Psi is strong in men to carry out its policy of internal and external strength and unity. House efficiency has been raised by the adoption of a committee system by which every brother has a post.

Many of the brothers hold key positions on campus. Brothers Eddy, Seaver, and Henry are varsity football men. Eddy plays end, while Henry and Seaver are in the backfield. Brother Van Deussen, slowed up by an early season knee injury, is back at guard on the first team. Brothers MacLeanthan and McLean are playing soccer.

Administrative posts are well covered by the House, with Brother Klosson, the House head, active as chairman of the new committee on student-faculty relations. Brother Langdon is president of the History Club, while Brother Maloy heads the college Newman Club.

Five Brothers, Godard, Eddy, S. Collins, R. Collins, and Knight, are members of the college choir, while Brothers Taggart, Seaver, McLean, Barry, and Wightman are in the band. Brother Ames is manager of the Hamilton Glen Lane orchestra, the college dance band which played in Europe last summer.

The Psi, usually low in membership on campus publications, is now well represented in the journalistic field. Brother Klosson is head of the college Press Board; Brother Maloy has been elected to the college Publications Board; Brother Tomlinson, in addition to his duties as managing editor of the yearbook, edits the football programs. Brother Moore is trying out for The Hamiltonian. Brother Stoutenburg is a member of the business staff of Hamilton Life, while Brother Tillman is on the Hamilton Life editorial staff and is active on the Press Board.

XI

Wesleyan University

FOR THE second consecutive year, the Xi opened the new term in characteristic style as, under the capable leadership of rushing chairman Bill Evans, it pledged one of its finest delegations in the recent history of the chapter. With sixteen freshmen and a sophomore admitted to the Psi U pledge roll, the Xi has every reason to look forward to one of its greatest years.

With the unfortunate exception of scholarship, Psi U leads the field in nearly every phase of campus life. In athletics, Em Guernsey is captain of the cross-country squad. Brother Leckie, aided by Brothers Ross and FitzGerald, is going great guns in football. The two Waters brothers, "Tink" and "Doc," are teaming with "Ducky" Pond to give Wesleyan one of its best soccer scoring combinations in many a day. Brother Hoover is also doing his bit in this sport.

In publications, Brother C. Gillispie is editing the college paper and Brother Ed Johnson is editor of the yearbook. Brother Hancock is an associate editor of the Argus, as well as of the Cardinal, and Brothers Lamb, Watton, and Johnson, as junior Argus board members, fill out this sphere of Xi activity.

On the managerial side, we find Brother Woodman doing the chores as head football manager, with Chick Williams "scutting" for the same position on next season's eleven.

Brother "Hoops" Curts and Pledge Laggren are swinging out for the Glee Club. Brothers R. Gillispie, Loving, J. Gregory and Pledges Sibal and Whittlesey are "scutting" for various posts on the college periodicals.

Other pledges are keeping up the chapter's fine record, with Pledges Laggren, D. Smith, R. Evans, S. Johnson, and Kidder out for yearling football, Ackart, Brandage, and Crawford on the frosh soccer team, and Benson running the cross-country course.

UPSILON

The University of Rochester

THE UPSILON has just completed a most successful rushing season. Rushing chairman

Urquhart announced the pledging of thirteen men from the Class of 1943 to the chapter.

Pledges Lawrence, Wade, Secrest and Ewell are members of the freshman football squad. Wade is also a high ranking national junior tennis player. The freshman delegation is unique in that no two pledges come from the same city, except for the four from Rochester.

Outstanding for their work during rushing season this year were Brothers Weller, Staub, Wobbecke, Roberts, and Hoot. The chapter was also pleased with the active cooperation and interest in rushing extended by members of the Alumni this year. Among those brothers seen most frequently at the rushing smokers were Al Maurer, '36, Frank Dustan, '39, Bob Hudak '39, Bill Madden, '39, Dave Allyn, '32, and Nick Brown. Mrs. Maurer and Mrs. Dustan were hostesses at several of these functions.

The House is well represented on the field of sport this year. Twelve men are on the varsity football squad led by Captain Freddy Martin. Brother Martin, however, was rendered inactive by an injury sustained in the Rochester-R.P.I. game early in the season. Other members of the starting eleven are Brothers Stranges, Gay, Humphrey, Frawley, Staub and Bruckel.

Brothers Coit and Mason are playing varsity soccer, and Pledges Kennedy, Barrett, Schongalla, and McMahon are working out with the frosh booters.

The aim of the House this year is to regain its former campus scholastic status, which it lost during the last school year.

IOTA

Kenyon College

AT THE beginning of the new scholastic year, the Iota sends its greetings to the other chapters and hopes that their prospects for the coming year are as bright as its own.

With the aid of Alumni and the support of the entire chapter, we were able to pledge a fine delegation of nine men.

Psi U's are very much in control of the Kenyon Singers, the college glee club. Brother Porter is president of the organization and Brother Graham is manager. The baritone section is composed of eight Psi U's, the bass section three, and we managed to land one man in the second tenor division. Brother Settle is chairman of the Dance Committee, and has contracted Dick Stabile for the all-important fall dance, Kenyon's most anticipated social function. Brother Graham has taken over the editorship of the Reveille, the college yearbook, and Brother Bothwell is assistant business manager. Last semester, Brother Bothwell was one of four men in school to participate in nine or more intramural sports.

October 15 was the date of Kenyon's homecoming to which we welcomed eighteen returning alumni. Brother Davis did his part in the Kenyon-Denison football game. After he made four out of the first five tackles, he suffered a leg injury that may keep him from further action this year. Pledge Hardman is an outstanding prospect, of the type Kenyon seldom sees, for next year's football team. Tom also plays the piano—an accomplishment at which none of the other brothers have excelled for the past six years.

Our intramural season has started out well with a win over last year's champions. The Iota finished third in intramurals last year.

Brothers Albach and Tehan are on the debating team. Bull Albach is also the advertising manager of Hika, a student literary publication. Philomethesian Literary Society has four Psi U's on its enrollment list: Brothers Reviere, Graham, Hunter, and Pledge Manchester. Brother Hunter was elected treasurer of the group. Nu Pi Kappa, Philo's rival society has elected Brother Phil Porter secretary. Brother Ellis and Pledges Pierce and Fitzsimmons are newly elected members.

HOWARD GRAHAM

PHI

University of Michigan

HERE AT Michigan, all eyes are on the current football season, and the Phi is ably represented by Brother Olds, who plays guard on the varsity squad. Brother Olds served on the Senior Ball committee last spring.

The rushing season is over, and with Brother Chapman doing a very successful job as rushing chairman, the Phi pledged 19 men at a banquet attended by many alumni.

For the first time in four years, the Phi came through to take first place in intramural athletics. The last three years we had to let second place suffice. Prospects this year look very good, and with one event, track, already on the books the Phi leads the campus with 33 points. Brothers Fowler and McDonnell are working out on the varsity track team, and Brother Fishburn is well on the way to becoming a member of the varsity golf team. Brother Johnston is on the championship Michigan swimming squad.

In other campus activities, Brother Taggart is holding the position of assistant business manager of the Michigan Daily, Brother Elmer is one of the night editors of the Daily, and Pledge Huyett is a try-out for the business staff. Pledge Harvey is Phi's representative in a pageant to be held in honor of the University of Michigan's president.

Brother Newton returned this fall with a very interesting recount of a seven months' trip around the world. Also with us this year are Brothers McMillan, formerly of the Zeta; Brother MacMahon, formerly of Kappa and Tau; and Brother Barrett, who was with the Xi last year.

OMEGA

University of Chicago

THE FOLLOWING brothers have been chosen for the class honor societies this year: Brothers Russel Parsons (President), Charles Pfeiffer, Charles Mac Lellan, and John Anderson, all of the class of '40, were admitted to the senior honorary society, Owl and Serpent. Brothers John Stevens (President) and Baird Wallis, of the class of '41, have been selected for membership in the junior honorary society, Iron Mask. We are represented in the sophomore honorary society, Skull and Crescent, by Brothers Kenneth Mac Lellan (President) and Robert Reynolds. It can easily be seen that Psi U again dominates the campus by having brothers as presidents of all three of these highly desirable societies.

Brothers Pfeiffer, Parsons and Charles Shostrom have been appointed by President

Hutchins as Marshals for the University. Brother Pfeiffer has the honor of holding the highest position in the school, namely, head of the Marshals.

The athletic banner in football for this season is being carried by Brothers Parsons and Palmer, '40, ends; Jampolis, Keller, Rendleman, Kimball, Wallis, '41, quarterback, tackles, fullback, and guard, respectively, and Gibler, '42, a back.

Last June the chapter won the quantity cup in the Interfraternity Sing as a result of the marvelous response on the part of the Alumni.

We will be well represented in intramural sports this year, particularly by the very fine touchball team captained by Brother James Bell, '40. We expect to have fine results in other sports too.

We are second to none in campus activities this year. In addition to having the head marshal and the presidents of the three honorary societies, we have the president of the Reynolds: Brother Pfeiffer, '40; editor of the annual, Cap and Gown: Brother John Anderson, '40; head of the intramural department: Brother Charles Mac Lellan, '40; and Brother Parsons, '40, chairman of the Student Publicity Board. The classes of '41 and '42 are well situated in activities and are setting a pace that will be hard to beat.

The pledging of freshmen has not yet occurred. Through the excellent work of Brother Palmer, '40, however, we have pledged two men of the class of '42. They are: Richard Boakes, Sioux City, Iowa, and Leonard Senn, Green Bay, Wisconsin.

PI

Syracuse University

ONCE MORE, the pile of coats and hats, the yells for "Roscoe," and the creaking of the stairs, proclaim the fact that the brothers of the Pi have again assembled for a winter of serious study, fun and frolic.

After a brief, intensive period of rushing, under the direction of Rolly Anderson, the garnet and gold pledge pin is being worn by the biggest and best delegation on campus.

This year finds one of the strongest senior classes ever to be at the helm of the Pi. This class has a representative in nearly every phase of university life. Brother Ruth is playing first string football. Brother Cubby is president of the Forestry Honorary, president of the Spiked Shoe Society, and on the Chapel Board. Brothers Hadley and Wardwell are rowing on the varsity crew. Brother McDowell is the manager of the crew, and a member of the Orange Key Society.

The Pi welcomes Brother Tiffany, of the Tau, who has recently transferred to this University.

CHI

Cornell University

THE RECENT election of Brothers Cobb, Stark, and Griffis to Sphinx Head, senior

honorary society, when added to last spring's delegation of Brothers Seelye, Magoun, Wardwell, Vaughan, Baird, and Bowen, president of the society, indicates a banner year for the class of '40. Election to this society is based on achievements in extra-curricular activities. Brother Seelye, chapter president, is circulation manager of the Cornell Daily Sun, and Brother Griffis is on its editorial staff. Brother Baird is editor-in-chief of the Cornellian. Brother Stark is on the news board of the Cornell Countryman, president of Ho-nun-de-kah, and a member of Ag-Domecon. Brother Cobb is president of the Willard Straight Board of Managers. Brother Magoun was appointed manager of the basketball team, while Brother Wardwell, president of Red Key, is manager of freshman football. He is assisted in the latter by Brother Kuehn. Brother Vaughan is captain of the basketball team, on which Brother Bowen, who is now playing 150 pound football, also plays.

Football claims the talents of the majority of the junior class. Brothers Finneran, Murphy, and Hershey play consistently with the varsity. Brother Palmer plays with the 150's. Brother Barber is a cheer leader. Publications claim Brother Spaulding, who is assistant business manager of the Cornellian, and Brother Andre, assistant business manager of the Cornell Daily Sun.

In the class of '42, Brother Tredennick is playing junior varsity football. Brother Neal is competing for the football managership, and Brother Holley is competing for the crew managership. Brother Paty is rowing with the crew. Brother Hughes is competing for the baseball managership, and is out for the Cornellian competition. Brothers Bogert and Sanders are competing for the business boards of the Widow and Cornell Daily Sun, respectively.

The pledges are already busy and we wish them success in their endeavors.

BETA BETA

Trinity College

RETURNING to find the ranks of the active chapter less by one brother, who transferred to another college, the brothers plunged into ten days of concentrated rushing. When the smoke cleared, we found that we had the fourteen best freshmen on the campus. The only thing that worries us is where we can put the new men, for our active list already totals twenty-five, and only three of these men are seniors!

With Brother Kinney out of football due to a severe back injury, which ended his playing career, we have no men on the varsity ball club, but with Pledges Cobb, a big end, and Bacon, a will-o'-the-wisp half back, on the frosh club, things look brighter for next year.

Jim Neill, rushing chairman, and first head of the House this year, is on the Senate and Interfraternity Council, as well as being Editor-in-Chief of the Yearbook.

We are reviving the old chapter newspaper, the Betsy Baker, this year, and hope to make it one of the lasting things by the House.

At our last elections, Brother Spitzer was elected head, with Brothers Tibbals and McCook, first and second vice presidents.

ETA

Lehigh University

THE ETA takes pleasure in announcing the pledging of eleven fine men—eight freshmen, two sophomores, and one junior—due to the splendid efforts of the rushing committee. The chapter house, completely refinished on the outside this summer, and greatly improved on the inside by painting and new furniture was in great shape for rushing.

A number of the brothers are very active in extracurricular activities. Brother Woelfel is one of the best swimmers of the past decade at Lehigh. Brother Hitchcock, a protégé of National and Eastern intercollegiate champion Monk Matthes, Eta '39, will undoubtedly hold down the heavyweight position on Lehigh's wrestling team this year. Pledge Detwiler, our newly acquired sophomore, is active on the varsity soccer team, and Pledges Clarke and Bussman are outstanding players on the freshman football team. Also of note is that Brother Prudden was recently elected to the Senior Dance Committee of the Maennerchor. It is hoped that we are again on our way to a successful season in intramural football. The Eta was league champion last year, and already has won two games this season.

At present the brothers are particularly concerned with raising our scholastic average, and, all in all, we are looking forward to a fine year.

TAU

University of Pennsylvania

THE TAU Chapter of Psi Upsilon having suffered only a few casualties in the final June exams reopened its halls with the prospects of a successful academic year ahead.

The Tau is again well represented in the senior and junior societies. Elected to the Sphinx senior society were: Charles J. De Ritis, this semester's head of the House; A. L. Moore, Jr.; Samuel Rea. The following were elected to the Friars senior society: Arthur Heitz; Herbert Ogden; and Palmer Hughes,

CHARLES DE RITIS, '40, Head of the Tau

Jr. Bill McLane was elected to the junior society.

Brothers Walt Moeling '41, LeRoy Mercer, Jr., '41, and John Dutcher '41, are the Tau's contribution to the football squad. Brother Dutcher, one of the Quakers' best ball carriers, broke his collar bone in practice after the first game. He will be lost for the remainder of the season to the team, and the Pennsylvania coaches are finding it difficult to fill the shoes of this versatile back. The Tau is represented by Brothers Collings, '40, McClosky, '42, and Hughes, '40, on the 150 pound football team. Brother Collings, an outstanding tackle in the lightweight league, captains his team.

The famous Mask and Wig Club has started rehearsals for this year's production, "Great Guns." Brothers De Ritis, associate manager of the show; Moore, this year's president of the Club; and Ike Smith, actor and singer, are all doing their best to produce another hit.

The rushing season does not get under way until this winter, but the Tau is already looking forward to pledging a fine group of freshmen.

MU

University of Minnesota

THE MU is off to a flying start under the guidance of Brother Robert Roesler and Brother James Webster, who has been chosen as head of the university Interfraternity Council. Brother Robert Roesler was elected head of the House, and Brother Ronald Comb was elected rushing chairman for the fall quarter. Brothers Dick Klein and William Volk will hold the offices of recording secretary and treasurer, respectively.

On homecoming night, the house is planning its first party of the current year in celebration of the occasion. With the University preparing for homecoming, Brothers Horace Hitch and Herb Parker are heading committees. The house decorations are in charge of Brothers Gordon Jones and Tom Welch.

Brother Bob White was appointed Cadet Colonel of the University R.O.T.C., and Brother Wells Hodgson, with the rank of Cadet Major, is his adjutant.

Pledges Herb Parker and Hugh Thompson were formally initiated at the last formal chapter meeting.

The chapter is holding open house for the alumni after every football game. Brothers Hodgson and Klein are preparing the plans for the annual Alumni Banquet which is to be held on Friday, November 3, at the Minneapolis Club.

The chapter has opened a very successful athletic season this year. Last summer, Brother George Wright brought glory to the Mu when, as a dark horse, he copped the coveted State Amateur Golf Championship. Brother Charles Betcher was eliminated in the semi-finals by the brother of the former champion, Brother Pat Sawyer. Brother Wells Hodgson, the Mu's contribution to the Minnesota track team, gallantly fought his way to the finals of the N.C.A.A. Track Meet and competed in the meet between the Big Ten All-Stars and Pacific Coast Champions at San Francisco. Brother Charles Ringer is seeing considerable action as a reserve end on the Minnesota eleven.

We are looking forward to a very successful year athletically, scholastically, and in extra-curricular activities.

RHO

University of Wisconsin

THE RHO starts the 1939-40 school year with very bright prospects. In spite of a generally poor year for fraternity pledging at Wisconsin, the Rho pledged nine new men. One of the reasons for this success was the chapter's large sophomore class, although the big measure of credit should go to the co-chairmen of rushing—Brothers Dick Gagnon and John Wakefield.

The coming semester finds the chapter with able leaders in Brother Steinmann, president, and Brother D. P. Nehs, vice-president. Brother Steinmann last year was the winner of the outstanding junior award. Brother O'Neill, '39, is the new proctor at the House this year. He succeeds Brother Dithmar.

The Rho is again well represented on the campus. Brother Samp is a member of the Student Board and is Dance chairman. Brother D. P. Nehs is Assistant Dance chairman. Brother Connell is active on the student paper, The Daily Cardinal. Pledge Merritt is sure to be an addition to Wisconsin's track team. Pledge Sherman is a member of the University Singers. Brother Coerper participates quite successfully in fencing. Brother Gagnon is a member of Cardinal

Key, sophomore political organization, and Brother Wakefield is a member of Tumas, junior political organization. Pledge Melby, as a member of the Apprentice Players, represents the Rho in the dramatic field.

FREDERICK STEINMANN, '40
Head of the Rho

To top it all, the house did well financially during this year's summer school. This prosperity has allowed many improvements in the house. All in all, the Rho looks forward to a most successful year, and wishes most heartily that all the other chapters may have the same success.

EPSILON

University of California

ALTHOUGH the House is very proud of its active participation on the athletic field, we still find time to balance the budget with equally active, and equally efficient participation, in other college events. This is ably shown by the fact that five of the brothers were recently initiated into Skull and Keys, an interfraternity social organization, which ranks as one of the highest groups on the campus. The brothers to be welcomed into this "esteemed few" were: Bob Stone, Ted Staffler, Tom Wood, Earle Snell, and Bill Elmore. Pledge Walt Bickerton was also among the list of initiates. Brothers Bill Hutters and Doug Kelly, who is active president, were already members of this organization.

Along with being initiated into Skull and Keys, Brother Bob Stone was also accepted into the National Accounting Honor Fraternity, Beta Alpha Psi.

The Epsilon chapter was very happy to accept Brother Struan Robertson, from the Zeta Zeta chapter, into its midst. Brother Robertson is at present a teaching assistant in statistics at the University of California. He is actively entering into House functions as Graduate Adviser.

The opening event on our calendar this year was an early initiation. Three brothers were accepted into the Bonds: Bill Simpson, Walter Johnson, and Bill Rawn, Jr. With the initiation of three fine brothers, and the pledging of eleven men of the same caliber, the Epsilon chapter is in excellent shape as regards members.

We can also be very proud of our outstanding achievements in the field of sports. Of the seven brothers out for the University of California football team, six of them made places for themselves on the varsity. As if this were not a record in itself, further investigation reveals that of the six on the varsity four brothers managed to make first string honors: Elmore, quarterback; Staffler, end; Hutters, fullback; and Amling, end. Brothers Art Anderson and Paul Holmes are close on their footsteps.

Brother Ben Benson and Pledge Sid Shelton are outstanding on the California Ramblers, a reserve squad. Both these men are playing first string on this team. This, and the added fact that Pledge Bob Ramsaur is playing first string end on the freshman squad, adds up to a very imposing record. Of course, it should be added that Brothers Larry Lutz, 1936 all-American, and Dave Anderson, all-Coast last year, are both assistant coaches at the university.

Along with our mass turn-out for football, the Epsilon is also represented on the crew. With the graduation of Brother Benson Roe, who rowed on the champion Poughkeepsie crew last year, we were left without a varsity crewman. But this place is being ably filled by Brother Harcourt Hervey, who was at Poughkeepsie in the freshman boat, and by Brother Bill Fulton. Both these men are sophomores. Pledge Henry Searles is also pulling an oar for the freshman boat.

To top off our excellent record in the various sports, Pledge Hayward Thomas is playing first string on the freshman water polo team.

Brother Tom Wood has been recently nominated junior manager of the California football team; Brothers Mead Kibbey and Fred Garner have been working as sophomore managers of basketball and football respectively.

Last, and by all means not least, we are proud to speak of the initiation of Brother Charles Dibble into Tau Beta Pi, an engineering honor fraternity. Brother Dibble led the entire Mechanical Engineering College in scholarship last year. This record is truly as great as any we can boast.

OMICRON

University of Illinois

AFTER AN extremely successful rush week, during which the Omicron pledged one of the largest classes on the campus, we find the brothers and the pledges quite actively engaged in studies and extra-curricular activities.

Brother Park Brown will resume his position as Number One distance man on the Illinois track team. Pledge Art Wood is doing nicely in freshman track. Chuck Schroeder, who won his numerals last year, is on the varsity polo squad this year. Pledges Blackford, Hoblit and Cunningham are out for freshman polo. "Corky" Steward is playing varsity football, and Bob Gray is sophomore football manager. Brother Harry Martin will answer Doug Mills' call for varsity basketball, and Pledge Jim Cooke will be out for the freshman team. Brother John Holzer was awarded the rank of Major in the University ROTC.

Chuck Schroeder, Bob Gray and Blair Lloyd, '42, were initiated at the beginning of the year. Our annual pledge dance held in conjunction with the Alpha Deltas and the Dekes was a big success. Dean Fred H. Turner and Mrs. Turner were the chaperons.

Brother Jack Scott, '40, is the new head of the active chapter, and with his leadership, the Omicron is looking forward to an unusually successful year.

DELTA DELTA

Williams College

AS A result of a successful rushing week under the direction of Brother Carl Kaelber, rushing chairman, the Delta Delta pledged eleven members from the class of 1943. A delegation of well-rounded interests, the freshmen board representatives on every fall athletic squad: Pledge McFarlan, football; Pledges Allan, Getsinger, Thompson, Watson, soccer; Pledge du Pont, cross-country; Pledges Andrews, Comfort and Morrisey, golf. Pledge du Pont sings first tenor in the glee club, while Pledge Morrisey is an aspirant to the business board of the Purple Cow, the college humor magazine; Pledge Washburne is a candidate for manager of freshman football.

In varsity athletics, Brother Gibson is a star on the soccer team. It was his goal that averted a shut-out by the Elis in the Yale game this fall. Brother Wellington, '40, runs with the cross-country team, and Brother Woodin, '42, is a promising member of the fall tennis team. Along the sidelines. Brother Ken Cook, '40, head cheer leader, has greatly increased the college spirit at athletic events this fall. In managerial positions, Delta Delta has Brother Foley, '41, recently elected manager of lacrosse, Brother Wilds, '40, who will again act as coach and manager of the freshman hockey sextet, and Brother Spencer, secretary of the Williams Outing Club.

Our future looks bright scholastically. Brothers Ackerly and Harrison were awarded Sophomore Honors last June. The former also received honorable mention in mathematics. Members on the Dean's list are: Brothers Anderson, Cook, Wellington, '40, and Brothers Ackerly and Harrison, '41.

Assisted by Brother Fuchs, '42, Brother Carl Kaelber, '40, will produce "Our Town" for Cap & Bells, Inc., the college dramatic organization. Others prominent in extra-curricular fields are Brothers Armsby and Ackerly, both members of the business staff of The Williams Record, the college newspaper. Brothers Bolger and Armsby are on the Purple Cow, and Brothers Wellington, Richards, Morton, and Foley are correspondents for the News Bureau.

A big event for the chapter this year will be meeting of a seven power New England Psi Upsilon Convention, to be held at the Delta Delta some time before Christmas. The exact date has not yet been determined.

THETA THETA

University of Washington

SELDOM has the first day of classes seen a more optimistic group of brothers emerge from the Hall of Theta Theta. During the previous rushing period, the able guidance of Brother Chapin had enabled the chapter to pledge a splendid freshman delegation. And last summer, our Mother's Club made great improvements in the comfort and appearance of the chapter house. The only damper on our high spirits was the injury sustained by Brother Bechtol, varsity quarterback, during the Pittsburgh football game. Breaking his right arm in the first play of the game, Chuck displayed a brand of silent courage typical of him: he directed the strategy of his team-mates through the entire first half without complaint. If the good wishes of his friends are any restorative, Brother Bechtol is certain to see action before the season ends.

In the fall elections, Brother Royer's capabilities as head of the chapter were acknowledged in his re-election as president. Brothers Humes and Leienweber, responding to the early summons of the crew coach, battle the icy winds of Lake Washington daily. Accompanying them for the first time in the varsity shells are Pledges Douglas and Fowler, both members of last year's National Championship freshman crew. Brother Don Thompson is giving a fine account of himself on the basketball floor. In his few spare moments he also coaches the house football team. Pledges Croyle and Bockmier have reported for freshman football duty. They hope to follow in the footsteps of Brother Bob Vaughan, who is varsity end in spite of his small size.

Brother Bob Coe, already started on his flight training, has been accepted as a potential pilot in the Civilian Aeronautics Corps. Deserting his former activities as ski instructor at Mount Rainier, Brother Cushman is now competing for a post on the hockey team. Brother Le Cocq's viewpoint regarding crew is entirely opposite that of a regular oarsman: he occupies the coxswain's seat in the varsity shell. Brother Geoff Keating, senior basketball manager, has been elected president of the Managerial Council, but his duties have not prevented his acceptance of a Reserve Officer's commission.

The chapter is pleased to announce the initiation of the following men: Leo De Donato, Tom Cushman, Howard Anderson, James Wiggins, and Walter Moore.

NU

University of Toronto

ALTHOUGH World War II now looms as a large factor in the life of every Britisher, it seems to have had little effect on the chapter, or on the student life as a whole. The President of the University has discouraged undergraduates from leaving their studies in order to enlist in the active forces, and most of us are getting our military training through the Canadian Officers' Training Corps. Rushing has proceeded well up to the present, and we hope to have a very satisfactory pledge class by the end of the season.

Fall sports have got under way at the University, and our undergraduate brothers are taking an active part. Pledge Doug Baird again has a place on the varsity intercollegiate soccer team, and intends also to play football for the Faculty of Medicine. Pledges Bruce McPherson and Byron Reed, and Brothers MacLean, Robertson and Alley are all playing interfaculty football. Pete Gibbs held down an outside wing position on the varsity intermediate football team in their opening game, October 7. Don Armstrong is manager of the senior track team, and Pledge Bob Fleming runs for the intermediates. Psi U's are also well represented in other sports: Bryce will be turning out shortly for interfaculty water-polo, Murray Wilson, for the varsity squash team, Fraser Allen for senior varsity basketball, Colin MacCulloch, for interfaculty lacrosse. Owen Millar is rowing bow on the Faculty of Medicine team. Tom Jamieson has just passed the written examinations for his F.R.C.S., and now embarks on oral tests.

Soon after school opened, Jim Easson captained the varsity sailing team to an overwhelming victory in the intercollegiate meet at Kingston. The Toronto boys piled up twice as many points as the next highest contender. Brothers Easson and Tedman will soon appear in the M.I.T. regatta, at Boston, to try to repeat their success.

EPSILON PHI

McGill University

ANOTHER college year opens in an entirely new atmosphere for those now in the chapter: an atmosphere of war. Every morning the lower campus is occupied by several companies of the Black Watch regiment, clad in kilts and practising rifle drill and military manoeuvres.

Practically the entire active chapter is enrolled in the Canadian Officers' Training Corps, which as part of the university, trains students for army service.

Our splendid alumni supported us again, as in other years, in rebuilding and redecorating the first floor of the House and giving us a beautiful and larger living room. For this we are especially grateful to Brothers Dean Cornell, Colin Copeman and O'Reilly Hewitt.

The official rushing season has just ended, and with the fine cooperation of the active chapter under Jim Armstrong, rushing manager, Epsilon Phi rolled up a new high of fifteen fine pledges. Among these were several legacies whom we are very pleased to have in the House, since the second generation of Psi U's is just beginning to come up to McGill. In this way we hope to emulate the tradition maintained in the older chapters.

Brothers Clarke and Harvie, Pledges Patrick and Thomson are playing in the intermediate and freshman football squads.

Brother Willis is one of the assistant managers of the senior team. Brothers Todd and Ross are active in track and harriers. Brother Savage is one of the cheerleaders. Pledge Mahon is a member of the swimming and water-polo teams.

Brother Stirling Ferguson won a traveling scholarship in architecture which he was unable to take advantage of due to the war. Brother John Ferguson obtained his Ph.D. degree in physics at the fall convocation.

THIS year we have returned to the university under what the Board of Governors has termed a "War Session." In spite of this, campus and fraternity activities, with few exceptions, are proceeding as usual. We were off to a good start with a highly successful rushing season, under the able guidance of Chairman Campbell Kenmuir.

The Mothers Club held a Silver Tea on October 15 at the home of Mrs. R. J. Kenmuir, proceeds to be used for furnishing the new chapter house. As the lease on the old house expired last spring we moved to a larger and much nicer one, located at 1937 Allison Road, University Hill. Psi U now boasts the nicest house and best location of any fraternity on the campus.

Once again the brothers are participating in numerous campus activities. The Student Council under the capable leadership of Brother John Pearson, president, who acts as chief executive of the undergraduate body, is expecting a big year. The highlight will be the opening of the Brock Memorial Building, new Student Union headquarters on the campus. Brother Derek MacDermott's worried look is the result of numerous duties as president of the Musical Society. Brothers Pearson, Dowrey, Teagle, and Fournier form a powerful combination on the senior Canadian Football team. The Canadian Officers' Training Corps, a non-active military body, affiliated with Canadian universities, has many active Psi U undergraduates and alumni on its rolls.
