OUR ANNUAL CONVENTION OF 1946

A CONVENTION will be held this year. It would be advantageous if some Chapter could act as host, in accordance with our usual custom, but many of our Chapters are just getting started, some contemplate repairs to their houses, and it may well be that this function cannot again revert to the Chapters until next year. If this proves to be the case, the Executive Council will sponsor and arrange the meeting as in the past three years. Unfortunately, facilities for holding the Convention are more difficult to secure than they were during the war. None of the three places utilized in the past three years are available in 1946. In spite of this, we feel certain that we will shortly be able to make an announcement through the columns of THE DIAMOND giving date and place for this Convention. It seems important that the continuity shall not be broken.

LATER: At its meeting on May 8 the Executive Council determined to hold the Convention under its auspices at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago on September 16 and 17. Official notices were mailed to chapters and alumni groups on May 13.

THE TREND OF THE ATTITUDE OF COLLEGES TOWARDS FRATERNITIES

IN 1919, Dr. Marion L. Burton, President of the University of Minnesota, delivered an interesting address before the Psi U Convention which he titled "A Quest for Quality." While admitting the stabilizing benefits of good fraternities in a college, he also gave warning that there were two factors that would ultimately kill fraternities if they were not corrected. One was snobishness, and the other was indifference to the intellectual development of the members. A fraternity must raise the moral and intellectual condition of its members, and make definite contributions to the welfare of the college. Nobody should argue against this. It is natural that, in any walk of life, men of certain common interests associate closely together. In our own Fraternity, the scholastic position of the Chapters of Psi Upsilon is recorded and, with the help of our alumni effort has been made to improve our standing. In fraternity life, perhaps too much emphasis has been put on social activities, and not enough on intellectual development.

President of Cornell Makes Statement on Fraternities

Edmund E. Day, President of Cornell University, has issued a signed statement which should make interesting reading for all fraternity men:

FRATERNITIES TO RE-OPEN AT AMHERST

WITH the resumption of fraternity activities at Amherst College scheduled for September, 1946, the Board of Trustees of the College has formulated the following rules to govern all chapters on the campus:

I. In reopening the fraternities, the College shall make available such additional facilities as may be needed to provide living quarters and appointments for social life equal to those now available at fraternity houses, to the end that each member of the three upper classes who wishes to join a social organization may have the

"The University Administration sets a high value upon the contribution of fraternities to their members and to the institution. The fraternity is a living center, established and maintained from generation to generation by men who choose each other's companionship and pledge themselves to help each other in the achievement of a well-rounded development.

"When fraternities live up to this ideal, they render an immeasurable service to young men and supplement in valuable ways the formal education of the classroom and laboratory. The fraternity becomes, in effect, a laboratory of social living.

"The Administration wishes to see chapters on the campus strong and effective in this service to their members; and wishes, too, to see fraternities accept responsibility for strengthening all good campus agencies and activities which enrich the life of the University. In turn, the Administration pledges all aid it can give to fraternities in the fulfillment of their avowed purposes.

"It is sincerely hoped that the post-war era will be one in which the standards of the most successful fraternities will be emulated by all, with great advantage to generations of young Cornellians and to their University."

opportunity of doing so.

II. No freshman shall be permitted to be pledged by, or join any fraternity. No rushing shall be permitted until after the final examination at the end of the freshman year.

III. Fraternities shall not be permitted to operate dining rooms, and members of the upper three classes shall not be permitted to eat in fraternity groups.

IV. The Student Council shall be re-organized so as to exclude fraternity and house representation.

V. It shall be a condition of the reopening of each fraternity that it formally recognize that the College Administration has the same control over the maintenance and operation of fraternity buildings and social life in the fraternity as it has with respect to the dormitories.

VI. National dues and all other costs to the undergraduates at Amherst shall be drastically reduced.

VII. The present Fraternity Business Management Committee will be continued.

VIII. There shall be established as promptly as possible a committee to consist at the outset of one alumni representative from each fraternity or house and, as soon as feasible, an undergraduate from each fraternity or house, and to include the Fraternity Business Manager as Secretary. This Committee shall be known as the House Management Committee, and shall elect its own chairman and a working Executive Committee, and adopt such other rules of organization as it may desire. This committee shall—

(a) Formulate and implement a program for re-establishing rushing, bidding, and the initiation of fraternity members, both until normal conditions are established and thereafter—including regulations for the size of fraternities and delegations.

(b) Prepare a code of conduct for the members of fraternities.

(c) Establish, in cooperation with the faculty, a system of faculty advisers for each fraternity.

(d) Take such steps as may be found necessary to effect a drastic reduction of National charges now made by each fraternity, exclusive of cost of the pin.

IX. Fraternities shall be permitted to reopen in the fall of 1946, or as soon thereafter as is feasible in the opinion of the House Management Committee and the College Administration.

X. A standing committee of the Board of Trustees on Fraternities shall be established, with the understanding that this committee shall present annually to the Board a written report on the fraternity situation at Amherst College with recommendations of such further action as may appear to be necessary.

President King, in commenting on these requirements, said, "This action of the Trustees is progressive, for not only will all the important values in fraternity life be retained, but many of the recognized evils will be eliminated. This new program will require the fraternities to play a more constructive role in student life than heretofore."

The First of Three Installments of the Report of Our Special Committee on Improving Relations of Chapters with Educational Institutions

To the Executive Council and to the Chapters of Psi Upsilon:

In compliance with General Resolution No. 5 of the Convention of 1944 the Executive Council appointed the undersigned as a committee "to study and suggest specific steps which should be recommended to member chapters for adoption in order to improve relations of fraternities with their respective educational institutions."

Preliminary to any long range efforts to improve relations with its educational institution, as speedily as possible each chapter must be revived to its normal size with a well balanced delegation from each undergraduate class eligible for membership. So doing will help in solving any financial problems. Moreover, less friction with college authorities is likely to arise when a chapter is an efficiently administered self-governing unit. Under such circumstances, social relations within the chapter and between the chapter and other groups of students on the campus are adjusted more smoothly; self-discipline is maintained; and unfortunate incidents provoking criticism are least likely to arise. Moreover, quickly rebuilding chapters will shorten the period during which opponents of fraternities believe them to be open to successful attack.

Thus, we have problems incident to the transition from war to peace-time conditions and long range problems. We make recommendations as to each of these classes of problems.

RECOMMENDATIONS RELATIVE TO TRANSITION PERIOD

(a) Reestablishing Normal Chapter Membership

During the war years our Canadian chapters have come nearest to maintaining normal chapter life. Expanding membership to peace-time numbers should not in their case constitute a very difficult problem.

Our chapters in the United States, however, face an entirely different situation. A few have been obliged to suspend all operations. Others have maintained a small but constantly fluctuating membership drawn mainly from underclassmen, supplemented in some cases by students in Army or Navy training programs or in graduate schools. In numerous instances the use of the chapter house has been unavailable and chapter life has been far from normal. The drafting of men for the armed forces has made inroads upon present membership and for several years may prevent civilian classes attaining pre-war size. Veterans intending to complete their education may be expected to return to the campus only gradually and one by one.

Clearly those chapters which have suspended operations should be revived as soon as desirable students are available, and the remaining chapters should be on the alert to increase membership.

The problem in each case is a local one in which a common policy by all fraternities on a given campus may have to be pursued. Previous rigid rushing rules supervised by college authorities may need temporary modification. Particularly will this be true when there are few student members and alumni constitute the majority of the active members of the chapter.

At first because of reduced membership several fraternities may have to unite in maintaining common dining facilities. In the initial stages of rebuilding chapters a succession of problems may arise. We believe necessary adjustments in former practices may best be worked out through an alumni interfraternity committee made up of a representative from each fraternity on the campus. At any college or university where such a committee does not exist we urge that one be organized.

(b) Selecting and Training Chapter Officers

It is the right of active members to elect chapter officers, and alumni who are not active members should not attempt to exercise this right. Ordinarily, well established chapters select qualified and capable men for office. The members of the chapter are familiar with the qualities of leadership and business ability which the tasks demand. Suitable standards of selection are adhered to and methods of training successors in office are followed.

Under the conditions confronting our chapters in the United States, however, it is of prime importance that undergraduate officers during the period of rebuilding membership and resuming normal activities be wisely chosen. Proper leadership at the outset can add impetus to the entire process. Poor leadership may severely handicap the chapter for several years to come.

In order to avoid these disadvantages, alumni designated by the alumni organization should counsel undergraduates in the selection of the undergraduate chapter officers to be charged with rebuilding the chapter. They should emphasize that ability to perform the task is more important than popularity, and that one element of ability is having the requisite amount of time faithfully to perform the duties incident to the office. Without overstepping their rights as alumni and by using tact and diplomacy these alumni should endeavor to lessen the chance of costly mistakes.

Once the chapter officers have been selected they will not automatically know their duties. Former customs and practices will not have been handed down to them from predecessors in office.

The head of the chapter may be unfamiliar with his own tasks in connection with pledging new members, pledge training, pre-initiation and initiation ceremonies, as well as with the traditional manner in which the chapter conducts its meetings and other activities. Customs which it is desired to preserve may have to be pointed out to him. Financial officers are likely to be unfamiliar with accounting systems, budget estimates and budget controls, financial statements and methods of conducting the chapter's business affairs. They may not be alert to the importance of collecting bills promptly and, when called for, in advance, and the danger of allowing unpaid accounts receivable to accumulate. For some months after resumption of full operations, close supervision by qualified alumni will be called for and systems for training probable successors in office will have to be installed.

The committee recommends that alumni organizations designate appropriate alumni who are willing and able to perform the foregoing duties.

(c) Necessity of Frequent Visits by Alumni

For the first several years of peace-time operation each of our chapters is likely to have a wide spread in the age groups of its active members. Military service will have lasted in the case of some members from four to five years. Thus, some returning veterans will not only be unusually mature in years for college undergraduates; but the nature of their experiences will probably have matured them even beyond their years. Such men will be coming into close daily contact with young civilian undergraduates. There is thus more than the usual danger that chapter membership may divide itself into small cliques between whom frictions of various kinds may arise. After long years of rigid military discipline, some returning veterans may be temporarily impatient at all discipline and thus become disturbing factors in chapter life. Others, with every desire speedily to adjust themselves to life within the chapter group and to the requirements of peace-time living, may find difficulty in doing so.

In short, it would seem highly desirable that in the earliest peace-time years a limited number of alumni of the right type should be willing to make frequent visits to the chapter. These men should be broad gauged and possessed of good judgment and of tact. These visits should not be formal in character. They should not return as a group but singly and at different times. Each alumnus should seek to establish between him and undergraduates a real relation of personal friendship. In this way the alumni organization will be kept informed of current developments within the chapter. Any situation requiring special attention may become quickly known. Small frictions between various groups in the chapter may be smoothed out before they become big ones. Other problems may be solved at inception before they become difficult. The alumnus may even be of considerable assistance through talks with veterans in enabling them to make peace-time adjustments.

We suggest that each alumni organization line up a number of suitable alumni to make such visits. We believe that the men volunteering for these visits may perform a worthwhile service to returning veteran brothers and to the chapter.

RECOMMENDATIONS RELATING TO PERMANENT POLICIES

(a) Regarding General Management

We believe that efficient and proper management of our peace-time chapters constitutes an important part of the foundation for proper relations between the chapter and its educational institution. To this end, we recommend that due attention be paid to each of the following:

(1) Condition of Chapter House

Chapter housekeeping is of real importance. Both the general living rooms of the house, as well as bedrooms and studies, should be kept in neat and orderly condition. The kitchen and dining room in particular should be maintained in a spotlessly clean condition and due emphasis placed upon sanitation. Fire preventive apparatus and fire escapes and exits should meet appropriate standards as required by state law and as is customary in college dormitories. The college administration should be convinced that the chapter is intelligently endeavoring to take proper measures to ensure the health, comfort of living conditions and physical safety of its members.

(2) Cost of Membership

In the years immediately ahead, the average family may have less money to spend. For this reason values to be gained from fraternity membership may be more carefully weighed. It will thus broaden our field of possible members and lead to less criticism from a college administration, if to the extent feasible we keep the cost of membership low. This result can best be achieved through efficient and careful management of financial affairs.

This is so important that former methods of estimating budgets, budget controls, accounting systems, financial reports, audits, the making of purchases and the rendering of bills to members should be carefully reviewed as to their adequacy and efficiency.

In colleges located in small communities where a number of interested local alumni are not available to advise undergraduate financial officers and to check their performance, financial results over a period of years have in the past been far from uniform. Too often surpluses of good years have had to be utilized to meet deficits arising from subsequent mismanagement. In such institutions it would be desirable to consider the advantage from the financial standpoint of the employment by all fraternities on the campus of a fraternity manager to counsel with undergraduate officers, as was done in recent years at Amherst and at a few other colleges. His duties can be limited to financial affairs and his on-the-spot activities can prove a useful supplement to the rather long range supervision of alumni.

Experience has demonstrated that such a fraternity manager, acting under a local interfraternity committee by whom he is employed, can achieve important financial economies. Loose and extravagant practices are eliminated. Standardized systems of accounts and budget control are established. Monthly audits are provided. Economies in the purchase of furniture, food and supplies are affected. Each fraternity retains the power to decide what to purchase and the amount that it can afford to spend for any particular purpose. The fraternity manager assists in obtaining the best value for the price paid. Undergraduate officers are kept on their toes in collecting accounts receivable and losses on receivables are thus minimized.

The committee recommends to each alumni organization a careful study of the management by the chapter of its financial affairs.

(3) Relations with Other Fraternities and with Students in the Non-Fraternity Group

One of the most frequent criticisms of the college fraternity is that it tends to restrict the student's associations to the small group within the chapter, and that it would be preferable to have one's social contacts extended to a broader circle of friends. This criticism loses force to the extent that the fraternity chapter succeeds in promoting numerous social contacts between its members and members of other fraternities and students in the non-fraternity group.

Participation in worthwhile extracurricular activities results in such contacts. In addition, chapters might consider the feasibility of establishing periodic guest nights on each of which a few guests from other fraternities and from the non-fraternity group might be invited. Moreover, the members of the chapter should make such guests feel that they are the guests of the entire chapter rather than of the few men who may have invited them. Thus, the acquaintanceship of each member of the chapter on the campus will be broadened. All other means of adding to the friendships of members among the general student body should be encouraged.

In following such a policy, however, it must be borne in mind that one of the chief reasons for the existence of the fraternity is the development of worthwhile friendships within its group. Therefore, in a program to promote friendships outside the fraternity, the essential values of the fraternity itself must not be sacrificed. We believe, however, that with a proper sense of proportion both objectives can be attained.

(The report, of which the foregoing is the first installment, is signed in its entirety by the following Committee: Stephen G. Kent, Delta Delta '11, Chairman; W. Ray Ashford, Iota '17, S. L. Christensen, Epsilon Nu '00, Roswell G. Ham, Epsilon '14, Oliver B. Merrill, Jr., Gamma '25, Edward T. Richards, Sigma '27, Walter S. Robinson, Lambda '19, Samuel L. Rosenberry, Rho '23, George T. PSI UPSILON SCENE

Xi Centennial

THE delayed Centennial of the Xi chapter at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., is to be held October 25, 26 and 27. This historic celebration would have been held on November 20, 1943, if conditions had permitted. This date next fall was selected in order that the host of returning brothers might be assured of adequate accommodations and have an opportunity to see the college in full normal operation.

Robert I. Laggren, '13, is chairman of the Centennial Committee, with various subcommittees assisting. The tentative program includes a chapter meeting on Friday evening, followed by a banquet; a reception at the house after the football game with Amherst on Saturday afternoon; and in the evening an informal gathering for a fireside sing and for good fellowship.

The plans also are for a memorial service in the Chapel Sunday morning commemorating the members of the Xi who were lost in the war.

During the Centennial a bronze plaque with the names of all Xi men who died in this and previous wars will be dedicated at the house.

Later a booklet will be issued containing the full program and other appropriate material.

There are more than 600 living members of the Xi and every effort will be directed toward a full attendance.

The Xi's campaign to raise $15,000 is now going down the home stretch. If the materials and equipment can be obtained in sufficient time, the house will be completely rehabilitated prior to the Centennial.

Rho Fiftieth Anniversary Fund

The following is quoted from a letter from Rho of Psi Upsilon, Inc., sent to Rho alumni:
February 26, 1946

DEAR BROTHER:

This letter is addressed to you in high hope that it will find you with us not only in spirit but, of more importance, in deed. There may have been more crucial or more worthy causes carried on in the name of good old Rho of Psi Upsilon but no one seems to want to challenge the statement that "NOW IS THE TIME, OF ALL TIMES, TO ACT AS A FAITHFUL AND STRONG BROTHERHOOD."

You may have been wondering if the 50th Anniversary Fund has been quietly put to sleep. Or you may think it has been successfully concluded, making it unnecessary for you to bestir yourself. Such is not the case. The original amount asked for is only half subscribed. As a matter of fact the goal wasn't set high enough. YOUR HELP IS BADLY NEEDED—NOW.

A house mother is a definite requirement of the university for the opening of the 1946-47 school year. The architect's plan converts the two second floor rooms in the southwest corner into a suite for her. Revenue lost due to giving up these rooms will be made up by finishing three single rooms, with shower, etc., on the ground level—lake side. In addition the roof will be repaired, floors done over, bath rooms put in shape, storm windows renewed, and the entire house inside and out painted, decorated and renovated and put in presentable condition. The cost of this work will be $8,700 as shown by the attached list of bids.

The work was authorized by a directors' meeting at Madison on January 26 and will start right after the close of the current semester—so as to be completed early in September.

You will note no provision has been made for furniture, carpeting or draperies, all of which need attention and in many cases renewal. What is done about these will depend to some extent on the success of the 50th Anniversary Fund. Something will have to be done, regardless of its outcome.

Collections for the Fund have been applied against the mortgage and the house was free of debt for the first time on September 11, 1945. We can go back into debt if we have to—but it should not be necessary and won't be if each man will do his part. It boils down to just that.

The Rho is a livelier organization today than in many years. One hundred and thirty-one alumni have expressed their interest with cash.

Certainly you will want to identify yourself with it again. If you have not contributed, send in your check at once. If you are now on the list, consider making an additional gift. The Psi U heritage passes on from generation to generation. Some one did it for you. It's time to do it again and the money is needed NOW.

Come on, Psi U, let's go! A fire of deep seated satisfaction will burn in your breast for the rest of your life. If you think that's an exaggeration, just try it and see.

AN INCIDENT IN THE EARLY LIFE OF THE SIGMA CHAPTER

THE early records of the Sigma Chapter show that President Wayland of Brown was attacking fraternities in 1840, one hundred and six years ago. This is reviewed in the Annals of Psi Upsilon, and there one can read of the valiant part that James B. Angell, Sigma 1849, played in preserving this Chapter.

During its early years, the Sigma, perhaps more than any other Chapter of Psi Upsilon, bore the brunt of official opposition to secret societies. A meeting was held September 26, 1840, to consider the steps the Sigma should take regarding the communication which had just been issued by President Wayland of Brown that "you need not make any more elections." A committee, consisting of Campbell, Bartol, and Giles, was chosen "To wait upon the President . . . to ascertain correctly and precisely what are his views concerning our Chapter, and to endeavor to effect a repeal of the prohibition."

Thus began President Wayland's relentless warfare on fraternities at Brown, which was to last through a decade. There is some evidence that the Sigma worked in concert with Delta Phi in opposing the President's desire to eradicate college fraternities. Occasional references to his attitude appear in the chapter-minutes of the early eighteen forties. It was not until 1847 that he expressed his disapproval in the form of college rules which he had had legally adopted. No meeting could be held "unless at such time and place as the President may direct." The records and meetings were at all times to be open to official inspection. Violation would mean faculty action, probably abolition of the society.

The minutes of the meeting held June 19, 1848, show the Sigma's growing resentment. A committee was again appointed to present the chapter's private records to the President, and at the same time to express to him the feeling of the members, and to ascertain the course he intended to pursue.

Dr. Wayland's reply dated July 19, 1848, was uncompromising:

While secret associations are liable to many abuses he is not aware of a single advantage which they offer which is not equally offered by associations not liable to severe abuses. . . . They are permitted to meet only on condition that their records are always open to his inspection.

A year later, the problem of relations with the University was still unsolved. The Sigma, staunch in its decision to continue as a chapter of Psi Upsilon, faced a future that seemed dark indeed. A committee consisting of James B. Angell, '49, and James Tillinghast, '49, which had been appointed March 29, 1849, reported May 25, 1849:

Your Committee waited on the President at the earliest opportunity, and informed him that the society were not disposed to comply with his request, but chose rather to incur the risk of the penalty prescribed for disobedience by awaiting the action of the Faculty for its suppression.

Whereupon, the Committee informed the chapter, the President had given to the members of the Sigma marks of fifty on conduct, the lowest grade "which can be reached."

By 1849, relations with President Wayland seemed to have reached an impasse, and at a meeting on June 11, the Sigma voted not to disband, but to adjourn indefinitely until further notice. The chapter decided, after much deliberation, to continue to initiate new men, to continue to elect officers, but to discontinue official meetings so that the President could not expel the members for transgressing his rules. Unofficial meetings during the term were held informally, for literary purposes, and "to keep alive the Psi U Spirit." It was decided that the regular meetings, at which new members were elected and initiated, should take place during the vacations. Meetings seem to have been held on the campus frequently and successfully.

In Memories of Brown, William W. Hoppin, Sigma 1861, wrote in part:

One incident in the history of secret societies in Brown University should be recorded here: When President Wayland was in office, and the late Hon. Samuel G. Arnold was a member of the corporation, the advisability of doing away with secret college societies was under consideration. President Wayland strongly advocated abolition, and, as is well known, whatever President Wayland advocated was generally adopted. Governor Arnold was one of the . . . members of Psi Upsilon in Brown University, and to the end of his life was an enthusiastic member of that organization. He strongly and unflinchingly defended the secret societies, then five or six in number, and frankly opposed the views of President Wayland. The result of the discussion was that secret societies were not done away with, and, although the mode of conducting them may have been modified, they are today an important factor in college life.

The survival of the fraternity system at Brown is largely due to the sturdy character and manly action of Governor Arnold.

September 10, 1850, the Sigma voted to resume its meetings "at regular intervals." Thus the most crucial period in the Sigma's long history passed without an actual disbanding of the chapter. It is apparent that a great deal of alumni-pressure had been brought to bear on President Wayland, with the result that "a kind of armed neutrality" was established, and, after 1850, fraternities continued unmolested. A battle in behalf of all Greek-letter fraternities had been fought and won by a courageous band of Sigma undergraduates. In this battle, James B. Angell, Sigma 1849, later to become the beloved President of the University of Michigan and a life-long friend of the Phi chapter, played a valiant part.

Right now Dr. Butler is directing the university's 100 million dollar endowment fund drive, a job he thinks will take him five years. Maybe it will, but don't be surprised if by that time the campaign goal is topped and Dr. Butler in the midst of another job just as big.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL MEETINGS

Summary of What Transpired at Recent Sessions

Meeting of February 4, 1946

The Executive Council met jointly with the Board of Governors of the Alumni Association in New York on February 4, 1946. President Scott Turner presided at the Council meeting. Brothers Turner, Berry, Burleigh, Burton, Collins, Field, Flagg, Jones, Kingsley, Richards and Rosenberry were present. There were also present the following members of the Board of Governors: Brother Robert G. Fuller, Mu '23; J. J. E. Hessey, Nu '13; Robert P. Hughes, Delta '20; Oliver B. Merrill, Jr., Gamma '25; James M. Nicely, Omega '20; Walter S. Robinson, Lambda '19; Charles S. Seaver, Psi '21; and G. Hunt Weber, Eta '14.

President Turner cordially welcomed to his first meeting the newly-elected member of Council, Brother George C. Kingsley, Psi '05.

The Secretary reported the receipt of a communication from the college officer in charge of fraternities at Dartmouth College, enclosing a report of the Committee on Chapter Programs of the Dartmouth Fraternity Alumni Advisory Board; also the receipt of a letter from the College Fraternity Secretaries' Association relative to this report.

The Treasurer rendered a written report of the finances of the Fraternity, which was accepted.

President Turner read two letters with reference to the Rho chapter: the first from the Chairman of the Committee on Student Life at the University of Wisconsin, and the second from Brother Frederick S. Brandenburg, Rho '09, President of the Rho Alumni Association. The latter stated that the chapter was resuming normal fraternity life in a satisfactory fashion with reference to the financial aspect, that the mortgage on the house had been paid in full, and that a celebration would soon be staged by the Rho Alumni.

The President reported that fraternity matters had been satisfactorily adjusted at Amherst College, and that the Gamma could look forward to an early resumption of fraternity life. He asked Brother Merrill to comment on the new fraternity regulations which had been adopted. Brother Merrill stated that he thought the regulations were fair, and had been adopted in order to retain certain valuable features and eliminate evils. Two important changes are: No rushing will be permitted until a freshman has completed his examinations at the end of his first year at the college;

there will be no eating in the fraternity houses. (See page 67.)

The President read a communication from the alumni of the Omega chapter at Chicago University. The change in policy at Chicago was taken to mean the end of the college-fraternity system in 1947. It was felt that graduate students would not have the same feeling as to fraternities and, under the new plan, they would be the only students eligible for membership in fraternities. The Omega Alumni reported that the change was a heart-breaking one as far as they were concerned.

President Turner reported that the alumni and undergraduates of the Phi chapter had requested the University of Michigan to return the fraternity house to the chapter in the near future. (The chapter is occupying the house at the time of going to press. Ed.) The Phi chapter had twenty-six members and some pledges, and was ready to resume normal operation.

The President reported that he had heard from seven chapters in reply to his request for pledge manuals, by-laws and rushing rules. No one of the seven chapters used pledge manuals, but some interest in them was expressed; some stated that they thought it would be a good thing if a pledge manual were prepared and issued. One chapter sent a copy of its by-laws. Two sent copies of the college rushing rules. It was hoped that other replies would be received soon.

Brother Berry reported that, in the new post-war period, the Kappa chapter was in good shape and that alumni and undergraduates had been brought together in renewed ties of friendship and interest.

Brother Richards reported as to the situation at the Sigma chapter. There was discussion as to whether the Sigma should surrender its property to Brown University on the basis of the present proposal or, on the other hand, incur the risk of being banned from the University. Individual opinions were expressed, but no vote was taken. All present expressed sympathy with the Trustees of the Sigma chapter, in agreement with previous resolutions passed by the Council and by the Board of Governors.

The Council meeting was recessed at 6:05 P.M., in order to permit a session of the Board of Governors of the Alumni Association; it reconvened at 6:35 P.M.

Brother Kingsley reported that fraternity life would be resumed at Hamilton College on April 4, 1946, immediately following the Spring recess. It was felt that there would be an adequate number of civilians in college, so that the fraternities would have no difficulty in pledging good delegations.

A letter from Brother Cadwallader Evans, Jr., Eta '01, was read by President Turner. A few undergraduates of the Eta chapter were expected to return in February and to have the use of the house. The house was to be redecorated with funds provided by the alumni for that purpose. Normal operation was expected to be resumed in the near future.

The President reported that fraternities expected to resume normal operations at Michigan State College in the near future. The Epsilon Nu expected to occupy its house soon, and there were plans to build a new lodge room. The chapter was in sound condition, financially and otherwise.

The Chairman of THE DIAMOND Committee wrote President Turner that he hoped to have the publication returned to pre-war size in the near future. However, it would be necessary to await the lessening of the paper shortage before this could be accomplished. THE DIAMOND Committee will report further as soon as it appears practicable to return the magazine to its previous size and format.

President Turner reported that the fiftieth annual dinner of the Little Chi of New York had been held on January 18, 1946, and that seventy-three members attended.

The Treasurer reported that all but five copies of the Annals of Psi Upsilon offered for sale had been sold, and that the Council had a limited supply of copies in reserve. It was resolved that fifty of these copies should be offered for sale at $5.00 per copy.

Informal reports were made on visits to the Zeta, Gamma and Sigma.

With those present standing, the President read the Fraternity necrology, containing the names of 39 brothers.

Meeting of April 8, 1946

The Executive Council met in New York on April 8, 1946. President Scott Turner presided. Brothers Turner, Babst, Burleigh, Burton, Collins, Fales, Field, Kingsley, Richards, and Rosenberry were present.

The Secretary reported correspondence with the Yale Divinity School in regard to the investigation being conducted relative to religious activities on the part of fraternities.

President Turner reported that 21 of the 25 chapters had sent in their annual reports.

Four chapters had been excused from reporting because they were not operating on March 1, the date of the report. Two chapters which were operating were remiss in reporting. (Note: At the time of going to press, one of these chapters had reported; a communication received from the other indicated that its report would shortly be received.)

The President reported receiving inquiries from Lehigh University regarding the method of operation of the active chapter there, and the influence of the Executive Council on the activities of the chapter. The President stated that he had replied that our chapters were autonomous and governed themselves on local matters. The President had also received a communication from the Eta alumni stating that the chapter house was in excellent condition, having been used carefully by the United States Army, and that the chapter was in a good position financially.

The President reported receiving a communication from the National Interfraternity Conference urging that hazing be outlawed. He had replied that the matter of hazing was controlled by our chapters. There was discussion and it was agreed that Council was of the opinion that physical hazing was undesirable and not in accord with the principles of the Fraternity.

The President reported that the University of Michigan had appointed an inspector of fraternity houses. This inspector, a woman, had given the Phi house a 95% rating. Her report stated that the house was in excellent condition, except that a little redecorating was needed in the dormitory section.

The President reported that the Delta Delta was planning to resume operations in September, 1946, but that under the college regulations there would be no rushing until that time. He exhibited a new brochure entitled Regulations Governing the Management of Fraternities at the University of Wisconsin.

Brother Richards reported that the Sigma chapter had concluded an agreement with Brown University, and that, under this agreement, the chapter house was to be transferred to the University.

Brother Burleigh reported that the Zeta chapter opened on March 1, 1946, as did the other fraternity houses at Dartmouth. He stated that the chapter had obtained 20 pledges, constituting, in his opinion, an excellent delegation.

The President called attention to the fact that the Special Committee on Improving Relations of Chapters with Educational Institutions had rendered its report. Copies of the report had been sent to the members of Council and the members of the Board of Governors of the Alumni Association, and would shortly be sent to the heads of the active chapters and to the presidents of the Chapter-Alumni Associations. There was some discussion as to whether the report should be made available to all members of the Fraternity, but no decision was reached. Several members of the Council said that, in their opinion, the report should be sent to the Deans of the various colleges at which Psi Upsilon has chapters. It was unanimously voted that the Secretary send a message of appreciation to the Chairman of the Committee, expressing to him and to the Committee the deepest gratitude of the Executive Council for their work in preparing the report.

In connection with the President's request of January 16 for copies of all chapters' pledge manuals, several members felt that a standard manual might be desirable. The President appointed a committee, consisting of Brother Richards, chairman, Brothers Burleigh and Field, to give consideration to the proposal, and perhaps, after all existing booklets had been received, to draft a unified manual that might be used by all chapters.

The President reported that the by-laws received in response to his written request of January 16 addressed to all the chapters, were as follows: Xi, Eta, Omega, Delta and Zeta. It is hoped that other chapters will soon comply with this request, as a complete file is desirable, and, when all have been secured, a study with the object of codification is contemplated.

The President read a letter from Mr. Arthur Davenport, of the House Management Committee of Amherst College, asking for certain information in regard to the finances of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity. After discussion, it was voted that the Treasurer of the Executive Council, Brother Jones, be appointed to work with the House Management Committee of Amherst College, and that the Fraternity furnish such financial statement of its expenditures as may be prepared by the Treasurer of the Council.

The President reported that 34 of the new Song Books had been sold, and that 17 copies of the Annals had recently been sold.

The members of the Council discussed possible meeting places for the 1946 Convention. It was felt that, since many of the chapters have recently reopened, and several are about to renovate or redecorate their houses, it might be advisable to have the Convention held, as in the past three years, under the auspices of the Executive Council. The time for holding the Convention was also discussed, whether it should be in June, in midsummer, or in September. It was voted that the officers of the Council be empowered to decide when and where the Convention should be held, if it should be necessary that such determination be made before the next regular meeting of the Council.

The President reported that Brother John V. Irwin, Delta '94, had deposited in the Archives four interesting old items, which were magazines published fifty years ago, containing articles regarding college fraternities.

The Chairman of the Committee on Chapter Visits, Brother Burton, stated that in his opinion it was desirable that certain chapter visits be made within the next month or so.

A suggestion was made in regard to filling the office of Archivist, now vacant. The candidate's name was referred to the Archives Committee, with the request that the Committee report at the next regular Council meeting.

With those present standing, the President read the Fraternity necrology, containing the names of 20 brothers. The meeting adjourned until Monday, May 6.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

On March 27 the Rho chapter was installed at the University of Wisconsin, with ninety charter members.

The Sixty-third Annual Convention was held at the Phi on May 7 and 8. The Convention authorized a committee on Revision of the Constitution and nullified certain proceedings taken in Chicago by alumni of the old Omega chapter, and appointed a special committee to deal with that subject.

Dr. Martin L. D'Ooge, Phi '62, said that the Greek letter fraternities are a distinctively American institution and there is nothing in German, English or French universities that exactly corresponds with them.

THE CHAPTERS SPEAK

THETA

Union College

The Theta resumed weekly meetings on March 7, 1946, with a meeting attended by fifteen active members, most of whom were discharged recently from the armed services. The chapter house was vacated by the Navy and turned over to the college on March 1, and will be used as a civilian dormitory until August 31, when it will again be in the hands of the Theta. Activities and committees are already well under way, and every effort is being made to have the chapter on a pre-war basis at the time the chapter house is fully opened in September. Any brothers returning to Union at that time should contact Sheldon C. Jenkins, Phi Upsilon House, immediately, in order to secure accommodations in the chapter house.

Officers of the Theta for the Spring Term are as follows: Brother Dave Mandeville, '45, president, replacing Brother Bob Bush, '47, who was graduated in February, leaving behind him a splendid record of service, both to the fraternity and to the college. Brothers Wally Wiggins, '46, and Hal Enstice, '46, were elected to the first and second vice-presidencies, respectively, and Brother Jay Bottomley, '46, was elected to the office of secretary. We also welcome back to the Theta Brothers Sheldon Jenkins, '40, Tom Hanigan, '44, Bill Bailey, '45, Bob Heidell, '46, John Bobear, '48 and Stan Sutton, '48, all recently discharged from the armed services.

On February 9, 1946, the Theta welcomed to her ranks at a formal initiation Brothers Robert F. Carroll, '49, Saratoga Springs, N.Y.; Richard B. Hand, Jr., '49, Forest Halls, L.I.; William W. Naumann, '49, Flushing, L.I.; Raymond John Newton, '49, Sidney, N.Y.; and Andrew F. Westwood, '49, Elmira, N.Y.

An appropriate memorial is being planned by the active members and the trustees to perpetuate the memory of the following brothers of the Theta who gave their lives in World War II: Charles F. Clowe, '42, Stephen W. Ensko, '45, Arnold C. Harwood, '40, Fred F. Kingsbury, '41, Houghton Letts, '45, and Charles D. Shelley, '45.

DELTA

New York University

Since the last issue of THE DIAMOND the hall of Delta has echoed with the strains of music ushering in the first post-war formal at the house and on the campus. Our annual Christmas dance on December 22 was again made a formal affair and the custom of presenting each girl with a corsage was revived. The orchestra played a varied selection of numbers and we discovered how adept some of our brothers are at waltzing and jitter-bugging.

An ever welcome speaker at our initiation ceremonies on October 15 was the retiring president of Vassar College, Dr. Henry Noble "Nibsie" MacCracken, '00. At these ceremonies the following men were initiated into the chapter: Charles F. Mach, Martin E. Bluttinger, and William H. Tallmann, all of New York City.

Some ceremonies and traditions which had been dropped during the war were reinstated during "hell-week" which terminated on February 18. At this initiation we accepted the following men into the Fraternity: Robert B. Saul, Jr., Yonkers, N.Y.; William A. Wrenn, Danbury, Conn.; Martin F. Stewart, West Fairview, Pa.; James L. Sharpe and Joseph P. Hegarty, Easton, Pa.; and Chris J. Brous, Palisades, N.J.

Brothers Bluttinger and Saul weren't able to enjoy the hallowed traditions of Psi U for long since both have left for the armed services, the latter having enlisted in the Navy for a two-year "hitch." The active chapter now consists of nineteen men and our present rushing period holds excellent prospects.

Since October, 1945, the officers of the house have been: president, Ralph P. Piffath; vice-president, William T. Magee; treasurer, Herman R. Staudt; secretary, William F. Pfeifer.

Psi U is strongly represented in the N.Y.U. glee club which presented a new opera, King Harold, at Hunter College in January, 1946. Brother Staudt is serving as managing editor of the Violet. An I.F.C. basketball rally in February and a formal in April is being successfully shaped by Brothers Dieckmann and Mach.

A generous donation has enabled the house to acquire three rooms of furniture and venetian blinds for the entire house. Our Alumni, which is very active, is giving us wonderful backing and assistance in the matter of installing a completely modern kitchen. A liberal donation from Dr. Orrin S. Wightman, '96, and a sizable amount from the Alumni Corporation have permitted us to start the construction work. Some of the classes have undertaken the cost of the dishes and silverware which will bear the shield of the Fraternity.

In recent months we have received welcome visits from brothers of the Pi, Xi, Tau, Theta and Iota chapters.

SIGMA Brown University

Until very recently, we of the Sigma chapter have been uncertain as to the future of the house at Brown. The University's proposed Fraternity Quadrangle plan has been repeatedly refused by our alumni throughout the last few months, but now it looks as though some sort of a compromise is about to be reached. Nothing, however, is definite at the present time.

During the last two semesters our membership has been quite small, but most of the brothers have been active in campus publications, clubs and governing bodies. Brother Bill Polifka has been editor for quite some time of the campus magazine, The Brunavian, and Brother Bill Joslin has been helping him as business manager. Brother Holmes Stockly, besides being president of the chapter, is now serving on the Interfraternity Governing Board, and Brother Ray Rogers is active in the Glee Club. The membership of the house at the present time consists of about half navy men and half civilians. The navy men, who leave in June to be commissioned or discharged, all intend to return to Brown in the fall.

The beginning of this new spring semester has brought eleven old men back to the Sigma. Most of them are living in the college dormitories, but a few of them have taken apartments in the city. Being hopeful of a satisfactory settlement with the University on the Quadrangle plan, and with our ranks greatly enlarged by old brothers, we of the Sigma chapter are all looking forward to a much brighter future.

PSI Hamilton College

The active undergraduates of the Psi, together with Brother Ed Stanley, '27, and Brother Paul Williams, '08, held their first informal meeting on Monday, February 18, to discuss matters concerning the chapter's restoration to its pre-war standing.

Six active members made up our present strength: James M. Kieffer, '43; Roger G. Wilson, '44; Anthony R. Kuolt, '46; James Kent, '46; Morgan Olcott, Jr., '46; and Robert N. Hilfinger, Pi '48. Bob Hilfinger is a recent transfer and is a brother of Marty Hilfinger, '39. Jim Kieffer, Rog Wilson, and Morgan Olcott are veterans returning this term. Toni Kuolt and Jim Kent, veterans, returned in the Fall of '44 and '45, respectively.

The main topics of interest were the forthcoming pledging of new members and the re-opening of the house.

Pledging started Thursday, April 4, the day following the end of Spring Vacation. All fraternities will be limited to a seventeen-man complement, including actives. This limits the Psi to eleven pledges. However, additional pledging will probably occur during the Summer session.

The house is expected to be opened in the Fall and possibly this Summer.

Elections at our first meeting resulted as follows: president, James Kieffer, '43; secretary-treasurer, Roger Wilson, '44; and rushing chairman, James Kent, '46.

Toni Kuolt (acting captain), Jim Kent, and Bob Hilfinger are on the varsity basketball team. Bob should prove a great asset to the football team when it is formed again this Fall, having played as a "start" end on the Syracuse U. team of 1944.

The chapter's revival is underway and the future again looks promising.

XI Wesleyan University

As the spring semester begins, Wesleyan is fast returning to normalcy; college enrollment is some 490, and activities are more varied and moving at a faster pace. College accommodations for veterans returning with their wives have been well planned, and there are about 60 couples now on campus. The Xi has two married undergraduate brothers at present: Bump Beyer and Don Stuart. Brother Stuart has just returned, as have Brothers Doc Walters, Bill Warren, Pat Eldredge, Binn Dunn, Max Weyer, Moon Mansfield, Richie Smith, Wick Kentworthy, and Tiny Ott. Pledge Wy Barrett is back; so also are two Xi postgraduate brothers: Buck Jones and Zeke Pond. As a result the house is fully occupied. Though we have lost Brother Bull Finch to the Navy and Brother Judge Robertson to West Point Academy, we have thirty undergraduate brothers and four pledges—a united and well-balanced group.

Spring term elections, recently held, resulted in selection of Brothers Bill Warren as president; Hap Barnes, senior vice-president and rushing chairman; Pat Eldredge, junior vice-president; Bunky Baker, recording secretary; and Chip Stone, sophomore vice-president. Returning brothers from the services have stepped back into their accustomed responsibilities.

It is significant that the chapter roll no longer includes active alumni brothers. Undergraduates accepted last semester with reluctance the withdrawal of the alumni from active status, realizing that alumni guidance, often not apparent, has been largely responsible for piloting the Xi through the difficult war times. We are aware, though, that alumni suggestion, advice and support are still at hand and we are confident of the future. Even now, a drive for funds for extensive renovation of the house is under way which will be culminated in the late spring.

The prospects for rushing are good. Each fraternity on campus will be permitted six freshmen, and the Xi expects to take a full delegation of good men. As Wesleyan returns to full peace-time operation, the Xi will keep peace; we will have a wholly normal complement of brothers by next fall when college enrollment will have reached a peak.

IOTA

Kenyon College

The Iota has, in the terms following the close of the academic year of 1944-45, prospered greatly; it now holds title to the largest and strongest fraternity group on the Hill. There are at present twenty active members and seven pledges. When the next term begins a month from this writing, we expect the return of five active brothers.

The Iota has been particularly blessed by the return of many former members who left Kenyon for service in the Armed Forces. Those recently returned include: James G. Bellows, '44; Bruce B. Bothwell, '42; Bert B. Jarl, '45; and John D. Levinson, '44.

Officers at the present time are: president, Herschial D. Welsh, '46; 1st vice-president, John A. Shortridge, '47; 2nd vice-president, Rodney E. Harris, '48; recording secretary, Robert G. Ruffie, '49; corresponding secretary, Stewart E. Perry, '48; treasurer, W. Ray Ashford, '17; steward of the household, Raymond L. Woodall, Jr., '49; assistants to the steward, Ross Houston Dalzell, '49, and G. Bruce Lawrence, '49; intramural manager, Guy Grant Wedthoff, '49.

In the past two quarters we have initiated eleven new brothers: George Beck Haberkorn, '49, and Edward Henkel, Jr., '49, both of Grosse Pointe, Mich.; James Blaine Olmstead, Jr., '49, Elmira, N.Y.; Robert Gail Ruffie, '49, Elgin, Ill.; Ross Houston Dalzell, '49, Pittsburgh Pa.; Stanley Ray Day, '48, Grosse Pointe, Mich.; Gilbert Bruce Lawrence, '49, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Daniel James McCaustland, '49, Kansas City, Mo.; John Edward Park, '49, Detroit, Mich.; Raymond Lemar Woodall, '49, Newport News, Va.; Guy Grant Wedthoff, Jr., '49, Grosse Pointe, Mich.

The chapter now occupies its traditional quarters, North Leonard Hall, after a long period of living in other buildings during the war. It has been a great pleasure for all brothers again to utilize the comfortable suites and spacious parlor and lounge facilities which have long served as the Owl's Nest at Kenyon.

Near the top, academically speaking, we can also boast of members in literally every campus extracurricular activity. But attention to such matters has not interfered with the social obligations of the chapter which have been fulfilled with zealous fervor.

The Iota finances are in excellent condition despite the resumption of expenses that were waived during the war-time period of low enrolment. A drive is now in progress for the purpose of refurbishing the lodgings, the furniture now in use having been deteriorated by the recurrent moving. Many alumni have already contributed generously to the fund. This indulgent action is typical of the generous support of our alumni brothers which has been made manifest in many other ways.

Thus with an almost pre-war status of strength and security, the Iota looks forward to the coming year with the confidence that emanates from brotherhood in Psi Upsilon.

PHI

University of Michigan

The Phi chapter is back in its house again! Since 1941, when the University took over practically all fraternity houses for use as dormitories, the actives have not lived together as a group. Recently we have been using the Michigan Union as a meeting place, and the houses of Ann Arbor alumni for rushing.

Nine of the old fellows, most of whom have been serving overseas, are back: H. McDonald, J. McDonald, D. Christy, J. Waller, J. Emery, D. Chanter, K. Blake, G. Miller and J. Stover.

Elections for the current semester were held and results were: president, John Waller; treasurer, Keith Blake; secretary, Wm. John Upjohn.

University life is returning to normal and, since we are back in the house and have a pledge class of ten excellent men, we are looking forward to a promising future.

OMEGA University of Chicago

On March 24, following a three-year period during which the University has rented the chapter house, 27 brothers and pledges will have moved into the chapter house at 5639 University Avenue. Because of enlistments and draft calls during the war, the house could not be filled with brothers; consequently the University has operated it as a residence hall. Plans have been completed whereby all of the interior of the building will be redecorated and new carpet will be laid on the upstairs floors and hallways.

Although the University had planned to abolish fraternities last summer, a later reconsideration has rescinded this proposal. Chancellor Hutchins plans to speak to all fraternity men some time in the near future. He will welcome the fraternities back into their houses and presumably will express his views relative to the position the University will take toward them in the future. Subsequent to March 1, 1947, we will not be permitted to rush or pledge men enrolled in the two-year Bachelor of Arts program. In effect we are then restricted to pledging third and fourth year men, i.e., men seeking Master's or Doctor's degrees. Such restrictions will work a hardship on all fraternities, but we currently feel that the limitations will not be too difficult to overcome.

The following men were recently initiated: Walter Meyer, Curtis Smith, Raymond Free-ark, Fredrick DeGraw, Gordon Dahlstrom, Price Jackson, Peter Ball, Frank Mangin, and Jack Mathis. Seven new pledges were added to the chapter at the close of winter quarter rushing.

Veterans from the classes of '40, '43, '44, and '45 have returned and others are continuously notifying us of their imminent return to the University and to the Omega. Brother Graham of the Chi is now active here and Brother Hunt, also of the Chi, expects to matriculate for the spring quarter. Brother Close of the Psi wrote that he also expects to join the Omega this spring.

PI Syracuse University

With the war's end and the return of many old brothers to the Halls of the Pi in the first semester of the year 1946, reactivation was the keynote of Psi Upsilon. Among the brothers who have returned are Jack Bock, Jud Clark, Bill Campbell, Bill Freidell, Lew Kelly, Charlie McCulloch, Bill Roseboom, Bud Jones, Bill Burt, Don Flagg, Whit Ingraham, Dick Downing, Bill Morrison, Charles Metzger, Jack McLusky, and Paul Fulmer.

Spring term elections resulted in Jack Bock taking over as president and treasurer, assisted by Bill Campbell and Lew Kelly as first and second vice-presidents, Bill Steckel as secretary and rushing chairman. Bill Freidell is in charge of our social affairs for the semester.

With reorganization started, the fraternity began its rushing season. By the end of formal rushing, the total number of pledges had risen to twenty-one with the pledging of Ed Bell, Whit Ryan, Jerry True, Frank Selmser, all of Syracuse; Donald Dickerson, of Yonkers; Joseph Gallagher, of Norwich; Edward Johnson, of Los Angeles; Douglas Rich, of Rochester; Howard Spokes, of Freeport; Dickson Ward, of Malden, Mass.; Thomas Perry and Roy Peters, both of Schenectady.

Social activities began with an open house on Sunday, February 17, to which four sororities and four fraternities were invited. The function was regarded by many as one of the finest of its kind to be held. Next on the list was an informal pledge dance which took place March 15. Two more activities appeared on the social calendar: the first post-war initiation and banquet, and the annual Spring Formal, which was held during the first week of April.

Intramural activities began with the formation of a bowling team, consisting of Don Flagg, Don Eshenour, Dick Downing, Bruce Craine, and Bob FitzGerald. The first round was won hands down. The basketball team, led by Lew Kelly, and called affectionately "Kelly's Tearoom Five," has the unmatched record of being defeated ten consecutive times with little difficulty.

Interfraternity Sing competition is under way and Psi U has become eligible for the semi-finals. The cup was won by the Pi last year and three years before the war.

The ranks of the Pi chapter include forty-five actives, brothers and pledges, who are looking forward to a successful post-war fraternity year.

BETA BETA Trinity College

The active chapter of Beta Beta Alumni held their last official meeting on February 6, 1946, at the University Club in Hartford at which time returning undergraduate brothers once again assumed the leadership and operation of the chapter. The retiring president, Albert M. Dexter, '35, announced that the undergraduates, eight in number, would hold a meeting shortly for the purpose of electing officers to serve during the remainder of the year. About 23 alumni and undergraduates attended the dinner meeting.

At their meeting on February 8, 1946, the undergraduate brothers elected the following officers: president, A. Reed Schroeder; secretary, Richard Paddon; and treasurer, Frederick C. Moor. The first formal meeting of the chapter was held Wednesday evening, February 13. The rushing season opened two days earlier and continued through Saturday, February 16.

With students continuing to return to Trinity in ever-increasing numbers as demobilization reaches its peak, Beta Beta finds herself in a most fortunate position on the campus owing in no small measure to the continued active support of the alumni who carried on faithfully during the trying war period and now again in the transition period. We salute the brothers and their newly-elected officers and wish them well in this first difficult year. We also look forward to the opening of 81 Vernon Street's doors in the not far distant future.

For the Active Alumni Chapter

ETA Lehigh University

At a meeting held in the chapter house on February 21, 1946, the undergraduates of the Eta resumed operation of the chapter. At that time the alumni members who had been active during the war years resigned as active members of the chapter. Undergraduates who were elected to offices were: Harry Kohl, president; Gene Gott, vice-president; Frank Sturges, secretary; Robert Maloney, treasurer.

The rushing period was from the 24th of February until March 5, with classes for the Spring semester starting on the 28th of February. We pledged seven men, including one senior, one sophomore, and five freshmen, at a Pledge Dinner held in the House on the 7th of March. They are: John James O'Connell, New Haven, Conn.; Norman Bennett Christie, New York, N.Y.; Asa Lopez Day, Bethlehem, Pa.; William Lewis Eakin, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Raymond Theodore Howard, Philadelphia, Pa.;

Leslie Frederick Muter, Jr.; Chicago, Ill.; Robert Clement Watson, Jr., Washington, D.C.

There are now six Brothers back in the house and we expect several more back for the next semester. At the present time the D.U.'s are eating with us since neither house has enough men to support a kitchen alone. We expect to be eating by ourselves next semester, however. We are having a few troubles getting the chapter running smoothly after having been closed for so long, but everything seems to be coming along very well, all things considered. By next summer or fall the Eta should be back to its pre-war standards.

TAU University of Pennsylvania

The Tau Chapter elected the following new Officers for the Spring Term: President, William Banks; Treasurer, John Kieffer; Secretary, Edgar Voneiff; Corresponding Secretary, Bradley Randall, Jr.; First Vice President, Joe Rumberger; Second Vice President, William Carr; Third Vice President, Gerald McDonnell; Fourth Vice President, Kenneth Ritter.

Heads of the following Committees are: House Committee, Brother Borges; Social Committee, Brother McDonnell; Inter-Fraternity Representative, Brother Rumberger; Rushing Committee, Brother Roos.

The old Officers did an excellent job. A great deal of credit must be given to Past President Francis W. Pedrotty for his hard work and marked leadership during the fall months. His striving to keep alive the Tau spirit and his efforts to eliminate centralization of House government have been outstanding.

The chapter welcomes the return of the Old Brothers: Louis DeMall, Ed Hartong, John Herbert, William Jones, Bob King, Conrad Martin, "Topsy" Nason, Joe Pyle, George Schwab, Jim Schroyer and Carl Suedhoff.

With conditions returning to normal, we have resumed our peacetime activities, and we are pleased to state that the chapter is operating smoothly. The Table is open and numerous house improvements have been made. There is every indication at the Tau of a successful and happy future.

MU University of Minnesota

With the opening of Winter quarter, many brothers, just recently discharged, came back to the Mu. We now have thirteen active members as compared with only two in Fall quarter. On the night of March 4, 1946, Ed Zupanc, Carl Hafften, Ken Houlton, and Charles Bailey were initiated into the bonds of Psi Upsilon. They will be a great help to our active chapter.

As the result of some actives leaving and others returning, we have elected new officers for the remainder of the year. They are: president, Warren E. Maul; vice-president, William B. Everett; secretary, John D. Chandler; treasurer, Ed Zupanc. Brother John Grill has the job of house manager. Hudson Mealey has the charge of the kitchen which is again turning out very good meals. Charles Rouse is house committee chairman and is gradually converting the house to civilian use; rugs are going down, pictures are going up, etc.

Our Winter rushing program proved very successful. As the result of hard work by the chapter and alumni led by Bill Everett as rushing chairman, and with the good standing that Psi Upsilon holds on the campus, we now have eighteen new pledges. They are: T. H. Warner, Robert Bartkoski, Kenneth McIntyer, Theodore Murphy, Robert Stowell, Robert Mickelson, Truman Brooke, David Claypool, Bill Hield, Logan Langwith, Donald Brandt, Cecil Hurd, Eugene Rode, Dale Pulver, William Lahiff, Joseph Leoni, Joseph Mindrum, and Jimmy Johnson. We are all very proud of these boys and you can be well assured that they are all of excellent calibre. Bud Hurd is president of the pledge class and has everything under control.

Charles Bailey, head of the sports department, reports that the new pledges have entered into the spirit of things by helping the brothers to win the inter-fraternity hockey title.

Social chairman, Bill White, has promoted some excellent parties so far this quarter, and we expect many more this Spring.

All in all, the Mu is in very good shape, and we are confident that it will continue to be so for many years to come.

RHO University of Wisconsin

From June 1943 to May 1944, 222 Lake Lawn Place was Barracks #6, rented by the United States Army through the University for the Army Training Program. During that time it housed 70 men. From May 1944, to January 1946 it operated as a rooming house. The chapter was kept alive and some Rho men lived in the house but the number never exceeded 10 and was usually much less. The other rooms were rented to outsiders. Under these conditions the property took a terrible beating but enough revenue was obtained to pay taxes and insurance as well as to make considerable reduction on the mortgage debt.

With the opening of the second semester on January 23, 1946, enough Rho men had returned from service to take over and start operations as a Psi U house, furnishing board as well as rooms to its members. Already this has made a tremendous difference. House discipline and study conditions are greatly improved.

The chapter consists of 19 actives and 12 pledges. All but 5 of them are ex-service men.

If you are in Madison, take the time to come to the house and get acquainted. You will be most welcome.

Here they are:

Active Chapter

Graduate Students—Bill Callow, Waukesha, Wis.; Duke Gocke, Neenah, Wis.; Mike Wood, Janesville, Wis.

1946—Kurt Grimm, Milwaukee, Wis.; George Hoeffel,* Green Bay, Wis.

1948—Don Johnson, Evanston, Ill.; Bud Lynott, Madison, Wis.; Jerry Wall,† Milwaukee, Wis.

1949—Jack Sweeney, Waukesha, Wis.

Pledges

1947—Bob Anderson,§ Evanston, Ill.

1948—Don Amundson, Decatur, Ill.; Harry Kiefaber,† Dayton, Ohio; Darrel Latch, Decatur, Ill.; Dave Pray, Oak Park, Ill.

of brothers from other chapters this year. Tom Hardeman from the Iota, Steve Atwater and Malcolm Wood from Omega, and Don Johnson from the Omicron.

In March the Rho celebrated its fiftieth anniversary in Psi Upsilon. The mortgage has been paid off and the alumni are raising funds to redecorate and refurnish the house for the active chapter. A mighty vote of thanks to all of those who have spent so much of their time and money on the projects.

In athletics, the Rho is represented by Kurt Grimm, varsity cager who after a fine start was forced to the sidelines with injuries. Jim Wilson was high man in the inter-fraternity bowling league. Psi U won first place in the divisional volleyball and badminton leagues, and second in basketball. With the coming of spring the Rho will seek to bring more glory to the chapter.

Chapter spirit is growing better and things are really looking up under the leadership of George Hoeffel who is doing an excellent job as president.

At the opening of the spring semester the Epsilon is very fortunate in having back from the Navy Brother Arthur Anderson, '41, and from the Navy Air Corps Brothers Hancock Banning, '44, Wilbur Hopper, '45, and Arthur Keyes, '46. Also returning are Brothers David Vordermark, '46, and Walter Johnson, '42, of the Army Air Corps and from the ground branches of the Army Brothers Allen Coutchie, '42, James Schuyler, '46, Peter Leaf, '46, and Pledge Blake Beauchamp, '48. It's to be expected that eventually we can expand to our former strength.

On March 25, 1946 we planned to initiate pledges Laurence Smith, William Gravem and James Yost, all of '49.

We expect to be well represented in athletics since Brothers Hopper, Vordermark, Leaf, and Pledge Beauchamp are going out for spring football practice and Brother Keyes is going out for track. We will also be represented on the crew by Brother John Vernay, '44.

The Omicron has opened the house in Champaign for the second semester. I have enclosed a list of the men who are in school and the properly elected officers of the chapter together with a list of the pledges.

A deal has been made with the Chi Phis and the Dekes, whereby each are allowed to have not more than ten men live in the Psi U house. This arrangement was made when we thought there would be not more than six or eight boys returning for the second semester. As it works out we will be able to operate the commissary as there will be approximately forty in the house.

On February 17, we had a rushing party at the University Club in Chicago. It worked out well, in that it enabled the returning men to look over the boys and in addition the word could be passed that the rushee could state that he had housing accommodations in his application to the University, a very important item at this time.

The officers of the Omicron active chapter are: President, Jack Stout; Vice-president, Gene Kwasniewski; Secretary, Larry Fischer; Treasurer, Bob Lee; Rushing Chairman, Bob Llewellyn; House Manager, Ed Pritchard; Pledgemaster, Warren Alcock; Interfraternity Council Representative, Bob Llewellyn.

J. RUSSEL SCOTT,
Erstwhile President

NU University of Toronto

This has been a big year for the Nu, both in the number and quality of the men initiated, and in the progress which has been made in the physical improvement of the chapter house. Since last September the chapter has doubled its numbers and has gained several excellent men. At the same time the chapter, aided by the Alumni, has gone ahead with painting, plastering, and buying furniture to complete the re-decoration of the house. Those brothers who remember the house as it was three or four years ago can hardly recognize it now.

Spring is election time at the U. of T., and while for some years the men of the Nu have been somewhat reluctant to run for office, this situation is being corrected. Of the four brothers who ran for Hart House Committees, brothers Broderick and Templeton were elected to the House Committee and the Debates Committee respectively. Hart House is the centre of all male undergraduate activities at the University. At the Nu, elections are still going on. The only election announced to date is that of Jim Osbaldeston to succeed Sandy Fleming as President. Jim is a medical student, and one of the best-liked men in the house. Under his leadership the Nu hopes to strike a balance between students and athletes, between party boys and executive types, and to uphold the chapter's standing on the Campus.

With the war ended and the return of many brothers from active service, this chapter now finds itself stronger, both from a standpoint of membership and finances, than it has been in many years. We now have thirty-six active brothers, of whom about eighty percent are returned men.

Psi Upsilon has been active this year, both in campus affairs and in inter-collegiate athletics. Brother Dave Townsend and Peter Hadrill were recently elected President and Vice-President respectively of the McGill Union; Brother Townsend is president of the Player's Club; Brother Dan Koch is president of the Choral Society; and Brother Hadrill is president of the Student's Council at Dawson College.

In athletics, Brother O'Connor is on our senior hockey team; Brother Bob Basset recently won the 118 lb. inter-collegiate boxing title; and Brothers Townsend and Bob Mahon are on the Senior Water-Polo team.

Last December we held the first formal dance since the war at the Mount-Royal Hotel. A convention of the alumni and active brothers of this chapter took place on March 16, and will be reported in a subsequent issue.

ZETA ZETA

University of British Columbia

Launching of a combined campaign by the active chapter and alumni of Zeta Zeta for a $20,000 house marked the opening of the first peace time term in six years at the University of British Columbia.

The campaign is part of a program initiated by all fraternities at UBC for the establishment of a fraternity row near the campus. Like most of UBC's fraternities, Zeta Zeta gave up its house during the war.

During the fall session the chapter initiated 10 new brothers with the result that we now have 35 active members. They are: Doug Boothe, Tony Greer, Phil Guman, Ron Haggart, Chas Johnston, Norman McLeod, George Wilson, John Gummow, Charles Bryant, and Jim Papajohn.

Back at the university after war service were eight brothers: Dave Payne, RCNVR; Ed and Frank Pidgeon, RCNVR; Bill Inman, Sandy Thomson, RCAF; Jack Lightstone, army; Ken Logan, RCAF; D'Arcy Nickerson, army.

Distinction came to Brother John Forrester with the announcement he had been awarded a research fellowship in physics to Purdue.

The chapter's spring formal was held February 28 in Stanley Park Pavilion.

Brother George Wilson took second place in UBC's intramural swim meet and the chapter held second honors in campus volley ball play.

Gil Edwards was initiated during the spring term.

With the closing of winter term the chapter finds itself growing stronger with time, due to the return of several of our active and charter members from their respective branches of the armed forces. Our weekly meetings are still being held in the Union Organization rooms with several of the more active alumni in attendance, to them we are grateful for their support. Brother F. B. Stebbins, Phi '17, has been extremely cooperative with us in surmounting obstacles which arise from the lack of our house. The Gamma Phi Beta's still reside in the "Vatican" but we have the utmost assurance that they will vacate before summer, at which time, the house will be renovated and redecorated in preparation for our Fall term entrance.

With nine charter members returned, our ranks are bolstered to twenty-one members. Charter members who returned at the beginning of Winter term were: William J. Lally, III, Robert D. Yeiter, Richard A. Curtis, Herbert Sibilsky, Richard Wier, William Morris, Austin H. Faulkner, Frank Prescott, and Dea B. Meadows, Jr.

At the first initiation of the year, held on February 15, Gene R. Miller, '48, and Russel Reader Jr., along with the aforementioned charter members, were taken into Psi Upsilon. Alumni enlivening the occasion were: Nathan S. Potter, Phi '98, F. B. Stebbins, Phi '17, and Erling Brauner, Chi '31. After the installation a dinner was held in the Hotel Olds, here in Lansing. The ceremony was brilliant and the evening proved successful.

Officers elected for the Spring term are: President, William Morris, '46; Vice-President, William J. Lally, III, '46; Corresponding Secretary, Richard P. Smith, '47; Recording Secre-

ENSIGN DONALD ARTHUR ABEL, U.S.N.R., Omega '44, has been reported killed in action. His home was in Riverside, Ill.

LT. COMDR. JOHN H. ANDREWS, Theta Theta '42, was one of nine Navy men who were killed by a practice bomb when it hit an airfield observation tower in the Caribbean area on April 4, 1946.

Brother Andrews was an outstanding member of the Class of 1942 at the University of Washington, was extremely popular in the Theta Theta house and on the campus, made his letter on the swimming team and took a leading part in Chapter activities. He entered naval aviation after his graduation from the University and soloed late in 1941. He was a son of Col. Fred P. Andrews, U.S.A., retired, former commanding officer of the Alaska Communication System. He is survived by his parents, his wife, a two-year-old son, and a sister.

ROBERT S. BEACH, Phi '17, attorney, of Saginaw, Michigan, died January 16, 1946.

Brother Beach, after his graduation from the University of Michigan in 1918, studied at Harvard University law school, and thereafter practiced in partnership with his father. In 1933 he was named counsel for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, serving in that capacity for two years in Washington and Detroit. During that period he played an important part in bank reorganizations throughout the country, and was closely associated with Justice Stanley Reed, then solicitor general, now a member of the United States

Supreme Court.

In April, 1940, Brother Beach was appointed a commissioner of the State Bar of Michigan, in which capacity he served until the time of his death.

Brother Beach served in the Navy during World War I and in 1918 was commissioned an ensign in the Naval Reserve. He was a member of the American Legion, an ardent sportsman, devoted to hunting, fishing and boating, and a staunch Democrat. He is survived by his mother, a son and daughter, and one brother.

EZRA BOWEN, IV, Eta '13, head of the Economics Department at Lafayette College from 1920 until 1931, died December 26, 1945, at his home in New York City.

Brother Bowen, an economics professor for 21 years, retired eight years ago. He was born in Bethlehem, Pa., and was graduated from Lehigh University in 1912. He was a great-grandson of William Ezra Bowen, founder of the Mercantile Library of Philadelphia. He was the author of Social Economics and An Hypothesis of Population Growth.

Brother Bowen was married twice. His second wife survives him, as well as two children by his first marriage, his mother and two sisters.

CHARLES LAWRENCE BRISTOL, JR., Delta '14, a member of the law firm of Watson, Bristol, Johnson and Leavenworth, New York City, died on January 9, 1946, after suffering a heart attack. He was a son of Professor Charles L. Bristol, Delta '83, and uncle of Robert W.

Greenleaf, Delta '43. His home was in Pelham, N.Y.

Brother Bristol, a patent lawyer, was president of the New York Patent Law Association, and president of the school board of Pelham. He is survived by his widow, two daughters and a son.

SHIRLEY EDGAR BROWN, Pi '78, died January 9, 1937, THE DIAMOND has recently been informed by Mrs. Brown's attorney. Brother Brown was a lawyer and his home was at Hornell, New York.

CHARLES THEODORE BURNETT, Gamma '95, Professor of Psychology at Bowdoin College, and author, died on January 31, 1946, at the age of 72. He had retired in 1944, but had continued to teach to augment a war-depleted faculty.

He was graduated from Amherst College in 1895, a classmate of the late President Coolidge and the late Dwight Morrow, former Ambassador to Mexico and United States Senator.

Brother Burnett was a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and a member of the American Psychology Association and Phi Beta Kappa. He was the author of Splitting the Mind and Hyde of Bowdoin, a biography of William De Witte Hyde, president of Bowdoin in the last quarter of the nineteenth century.

Mrs. Dwight Morrow was among those attending Brother Burnett's funeral at his home in Brunswick. Among the honorary pallbearers, was Dr. Robert B. Osgood, also Gamma '95. The active pallbearers were all young members of the Kappa chapter.

REV. JOHN E. BUSHNELL, D.D., Beta '80, died July 17, 1945. He lived in Wooster, Ohio. Mrs. Bushnell survives him.

CHARLES T. CARRUTHERS, Kappa '88, died November 15, 1945, at his home near Brunswick, Maine, at the age of 86. He taught school in several towns, including Brunswick, before taking up farming in 1906. He retired several years ago. His widow, a son, and a half-sister survive.

MAJOR HENRY ALEXIS COURTNEY, JR., U.S.M.C., Mu '38, was killed in action on Okinawa on May 14, 1945. Major Courtney, for heroism displayed while commanding his battalion of the Twenty-second United States Marines, sixth division, during the battle in which he lost his life, has been recommended for the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Brother Courtney's nomination for the highest honor bestowed by the United States on its fighting men was submitted by Major General Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., commander of the sixth marine division. In a letter to Brother Courtney's parents General Shepherd wrote, in part: "Major Courtney was much beloved by his men and admired by many friends in the Twenty-second Marines. His gallant accomplishments on the night he voluntarily led his men forward to seize Sugar Loaf Hill are among the most inspiring in the annals of the Marine Corps."

Brother Courtney was twenty-nine at the time of his death. He was born and brought up in Duluth, the son of an outstanding lawyer of that city. After his graduation from the University of Minnesota he enrolled in the Loyola University Law School at Chicago, where he was graduated in 1940. While at Loyola, he enlisted in the Marine Corps and attended an officers' training school at Chicago, later continuing his training at Quantico, Virginia, and San Diego, California. He first served in Iceland, and later was assigned to duty in the South Pacific. He fought with his company on Tulagi and Guadalcanal. In the Solomons, he contracted malaria and was sent first to New Zealand and then to the United States.

He was offered a post as marine instructor in the United States, but chose rather to return to his regiment and active duty. He rejoined his battalion not long before the landing on Okinawa.

Brother Courtney had wished to take examinations and win admittance to the bar in Minnesota before leaving for active duty in 1940. Time did not permit, but a special examination was conducted by the state supreme court for him while he was home on leave. He passed this with distinction and was admitted to the bar just before he began his last journey to the Pacific area.

MAJOR WILLIAM L. GLATFELTER, II, Sigma '40, was killed in the line of duty on January 7, 1945, when an Army transport plane in which he was flying crashed near Horn Lake, Miss.

Brother Glatfelter was a graduate of Hill School, Pottstown, Pennsylvania, and attended Brown University, where he was a member of the Varsity basketball and baseball teams. Prior to his induction into the Army in 1941, he was employed in the Sales Engineering Department of the York Corporation. His home was in Spring Grove, Pennsylvania, his parents, three brothers, his wife and two-year-old daughter survive him.

ROBERT FLETCHER HOLDEN, Beta '18, of Philadelphia, died November 17, 1944.

LAWRENCE EUSTIS HORTON, Mu '97, died December 23, 1944. His home was in Pasadena, California.

TIMOTHY D. JEROME, Phi '94, of Seattle, Washington, died April 7, 1945.

HENRY BOYNTON JOHNSON, Zeta '83, of New York City, died January 7, 1942.

HERBERT GOODWIN JONES, Kappa '27, of Waban, Massachusetts, died July 11, 1943.

LT. THEODORE T. JONES, JR., Mu '40, has been reported killed in action in Normandy, June 6, 1944. The War Department reports this as a fact, as he has been missing since that date.

He was a Paratroop Engineer in the 101st Airborne Division.

His brother, Captain Frank T. Jones, is a member of the Mu, in the delegation of '41, and his father is T. T. Jones, Rho '03.

CLARENCE WARREN MEHLOP, Phi '99, died on January 19, 1946. His brother, Frederick W. Mehlop, Phi '88, writes, in part:

"Dr. Mehlop practiced in Dubuque, Iowa, until the first World War, when he enlisted in the Medical Corps. He remained in the Army for a number of years, becoming a Major. He resigned and became connected with the Veterans' Administration. He retired at seventy years of age, but after a year was called back into service. He died January 19 after a brief illness while still in the service. Burial was in Arlington. He would have been 74 years old on April 1."

RICHARD LAMSON, Gamma '97, of Prescott, Arizona, died May 8, 1945.

DONALD LUEY, Zeta '19, of Holden, Massachusetts, died March 27, 1945.

JOHN HILL MORGAN, Beta '93, of New York City, died July 16, 1945.

EDWARD CHRISTOPHER MOULE, Beta '24, died January 12, 1945. His home was in Salisbury, England.

REV. ERNEST MOORHEAD PADDOCK, Tau '94, died July 13, 1945. He lived in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

HAROLD BRAINERD RAFTERY, Beta Beta '16, New Haven, Connecticut, died April 29, 1945.

ANDREW GEORGE RAITHEL, Rho '13, died December 24, 1945. His home was in Chicago. He was a life member of the Alumni Association of Psi Upsilon.

FORREST RAYNOR, Delta '87, died on March 11, 1946, at Port Jefferson, Long Island, where he had his home.

JAMES WESLEY RICKER, Beta '18, of Poland Springs, Maine, died January 8, 1945.

RALPH CURTIS RINGWALT, Iota '94, president of the J. S. Ringwalt Company which conducts the Ringwalt store in Mount Vernon, Ohio, died at his home there on March 9, 1946. He was 72 years old.

Brother Ringwalt was born in Mount Vernon, attended Kenyon Military Academy, studied two years at Kenyon College, and then entered Harvard University, where he was graduated in 1895. While at the University, he was president of the Harvard Union, the leading debating society there, won a Boylston prize for speaking, and was on a Harvard debating team which defeated Yale in 1895.

He taught English and argumentation for three years at Columbia and Barnard Colleges. Subsequently he traveled in Europe, then returned to this country to enter Harvard Law School, where he received the degree of bachelor of laws. He practiced law in New York for a number of years, also lecturing on public speaking at Columbia.

In 1911, Brother Ringwalt returned to Mount Vernon to become the president of the J. S. Ringwalt store there, a family enterprise founded in 1869. He held this position for 34 years. During this time he was a leader in civic and community affairs. He was for some time a member of the Board of Trustees of Kenyon College, a post which he resigned because of ill health. He is survived only by a brother, his wife having died in 1944.

VICTOR A. SCHWARTZ, Sigma '07, died suddenly on March 17, 1946, at his home at Seekonk, Rhode Island. He was 60 years old.

While at Brown University, Brother Schwartz played four years of varsity football and basketball. He was captain of the football team in 1906 and earned the reputation of being one of the outstanding quarterbacks produced at Brown. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Until 1928 he was an official in intercollegiate athletics and a member of the Eastern Association Football Officials, and handled many important games. For ten years he refereed the Yale-Princeton games.

Brother Schwartz was president and treasurer of the Newark Vegetable Ivory Button Company until 1924, when he went to Providence as manager of the investment firm of Harris Forbes Company. He was later a partner and president of Fletcher and Schwartz, Inc., investments, and manager of the Providence office of Starkweather and Company. In 1942 he was named administrative assistant of the Rhode Island State Rationing Board, running the ration bank for OPA. For the past year he had been with the Hospital Trust Company.

He was a past president and had several times been a director of the Associated Alumni of Brown University. He was active for many years in the Providence Brown Club and the Brown University Athletic Council and served as chairman of Alumni Day ceremonies in 1941. He is survived by his wife, a son, his mother, and a brother and sister.

tary, Carroll B. Chapman, Jr., '48; Treasurer, Robert D. Yeiter, '47.

We were successful last term in pledging twelve outstanding men. These are: David A. Hess, Edward McCallum, Richard G. B. Hanson, Harold Paul, Dean Williams, Jack Halliday, John McCallum, John D. Curtiss, Robert S. Wells, Edward J. Cookson, Walter Gerstacker, and Ronald Kasperzack.

Epsilon Nu celebrated the third anniversary of its installation into Psi Upsilon on April 17, 1946. Because of the limited facilities about town during the week we planned a joint Anniversary and Initiation celebration on April 20.

With events shaping up as they are, the men of Epsilon Nu are confident of a bright prospective year.
