ANNUAL CONVENTION TO MARK EPSILON'S 50TH ANNIVERSARY

FOR the third time in the history of our Fraternity, Brethren from the four corners of the United States and Canada will meet on the Pacific Coast for the Annual Convention. The Epsilon Chapter, this year celebrating its 50th anniversary, as well as fifty years of Psi Upsilon on the Pacific slopes, has been honored as host for the 119th yearly gathering of our Order.

Some thirty-seven years ago, at the time of the 1915 Pan-Pacific Exposition, which was held in San Francisco, the Epsilon entertained the Eastern delegates, carefully shielding them from the wild Indians who roamed the Western landscape scalping all in sight! But the West has grown since those days—and Psi Upsilon has grown! Today we are an international order and the Far-West representation in our Fraternity has come to play an increasing part, as demonstrated by the excellent Convention put on by the Theta Theta at Seattle in 1947.

Fully realizing the importance of our annual get-together, as well as the remarkable hospitality shown by other entertaining Chapters in recent years, an energetic committee composed of both Northern and Southern California alumni and active Brothers of the Epsilon Chapter is laying plans for the three-day reunion. Inasmuch as the University of California follows a later academic schedule than the majority of Eastern and Mid-Western colleges where Psi Upsilon Chapters are domiciled, we are planning the Convention for the days, Thursday, June 26, through Saturday, June 28. We feel also that this time is especially appropriate as it will give the visiting Brothers additional travel time, after the closing of the Eastern colleges, to cover the distances involved.

Plans have been made to house the delegates and visitors, both graduate and undergraduate, in one of the University's dormitories for men, Bowles Hall. A full program of business meetings and social gatherings is being planned, with little time lagging, we assure you. The Convention Committee, however, in keeping with the summertime theme of travel and sightseeing, is concentrating its plans for the annual outing on a private boat trip around San Francisco Bay, the customary baseball game (which we trust Dr. Lincoln will referee!) and a barbecue. We eagerly anticipate the pleasure of showing our guests the astounding growth of the San Francisco Bay area since we last had the opportunity of entertaining the Fraternity.

Full details of the plans for the 119th Convention, together with the final program of the three-day meeting and an up-to-date story of the activities of the undergraduate Chapter, will be found in the March issue of THE DIAMOND. In the interim, the Epsilon wishes to extend to all Brothers, from Maine to British Columbia and from New York to California, a most hearty invitation to be present from June 26 through June 28, and help us to celebrate a half-century of Psi Upsilon on the Pacific Coast!

The 110th Convention in the 119th Year of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity will be held with the Epsilon Chapter, Berkeley, California, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 26, 27 and 28, 1952. This Convention will mark the semi-centennial of the Epsilon and of Psi Upsilon on the Pacific Coast. Plan now to attend!

PSI U PERSONALITY OF THE MONTH

Edward C. Reifenstein, Jr., M.D., Pi '30

By JOHN K. MENZIES, Pi '41

AS a member of a real Psi U family, as well as because of his high personal qualifications, this month's Psi U Personality is a fitting selection for that honor. Brother Edward C. Reifenstein, Jr., Pi '30, is the Director of the new Institute for Medical Research of the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation in Oklahoma City, and is the brother of two other Pi Chapter doctors, Brother George H. Reifenstein, M.D., Pi '32, and Brother Robert W. Reifenstein, M.D., Pi '43.

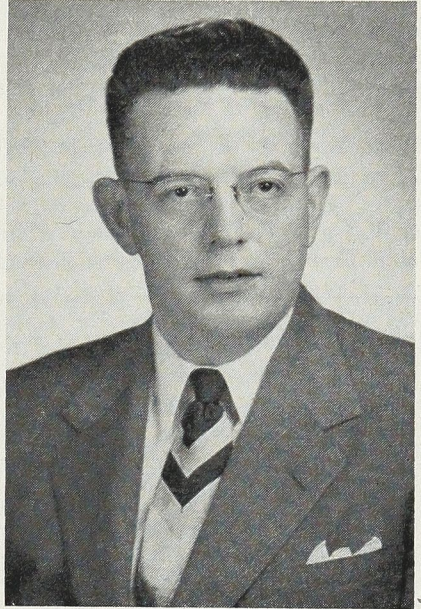

This institute, which Ed now heads, is a private enterprise sponsored by Oklahoma citizenry and heavily endowed. Its staff of more than fifty devotes its full time to medical research at the clinical level with the problems of aging as its main theme. Through its affiliation with the Oklahoma School of Medicine, Brother Reifenstein also holds the appointment as Professor of Research Medicine and chairman of research at the school.

Born in Syracuse, New York on the seventh of December, 1908, he attended local schools and graduated from North High School. From there he went on to get his Liberal Arts education at Syracuse University where he joined the Pi Chapter. At Syracuse, in his undergraduate days he found time to be editor of the Onondagan yearbook, work on the Daily Orange staff, as well as to become a member of Phi Kappa Phi and Pi Delta Epsilon societies. In 1934 he graduated from the University's College of Medicine. In medical school, Ed was president of the local chapter of Alpha Kappa Kappa, national medical fraternity, and a member of Alpha Omega Alpha and Sigma Xi.

In his early professional career he was associated with his father, Edward C. Reifenstein, Sr., M.D., in Syracuse, New York, specializing in medicine and psychiatry. It was during this same period that Brother Ed also was associated with Syracuse University's Hospital of the Good Shepherd and New York State's Syracuse Psychopathic Hospital. From 1940 to 1946, he held a research fellowship at Harvard Medical School and worked under Dr. Fuller Albright at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

From Boston and Harvard, our Personality of the Month then went to New York City where he was associated with the

Dr. Edward C. Reifenstein, Jr., Pi '30

Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research of the Memorial Hospital Center, as a research consultant in endocrinology and in charge of the metabolic division. It was during this same period that he worked also as clinical research consultant for Ayerst, McKenna & Harrison, Ltd., pharmaceutical manufacturers. Then in 1949-50, he served the latter firm as their Executive Director of the medical and research division. It is to be noted that Brother Reifenstein is also the author of numerous scientific articles and papers.

Brother George H. Reifenstein, Pi '32, and Brother Robert W. Reifenstein, Pi '43, who have joined their brother in the medical field, are active in Syracuse, New York and Boston, Massachusetts, respectively. Our Psi U personality now resides in Oklahoma City with his wife, the former Esther C. Tilden and two children, Edward C., III, 14 and Susan T., 11.

NEW YORK FOUNDERS' DAY DINNER

WEEKS prior to the holding of the Annual Founders' Day Dinner at the University Club, New York City, November 28, your Editor had the opportunity to observe the operation known as the Birth of a Banquet. The chief surgeon was Alfred H. Morton, ("Doc" Morton, that is), and the scene of the operation was an 84-inch table against the wall of the Psi U headquarters, Room 510, Graybar Building.

At an ordinary operation the surgeon calls out to his assistant: "Scalpel—clamps—suture." Here the assistant surgeon was Peter A. GaBauer, Pi '25, former Archivist of the Fraternity, and the instructions were: "Peter, the Epitome—Peter, the name of that architect, oh, yes, Francis Keally—I want to get Francis Turner of the Nu," and so on into the night.

Then the printer was given copy for the advance notice—then the follow-up—then the dinner cards—and finally the program in Garnet and Gold. Arrangements were made with the University Club that are identified with the handling of several hundred hungry and thirsty Brothers who probably are not interested in all the details of how a party like this is formulated.

As wonderful as the banquet was, to me it seemed like a peaceful achievement after the weeks of gruelling work that preceded it.

Doc and Peter delivered the largest crowd ever to attend a Founders' Day Dinner in New York City. Out of 29 Chapters, 27 were represented. The large turnout was accomplished by appointing a Brother from each Chapter to get out its members. Many came late, and extra tables and chairs were rushed to the banquet room to take care of these tardy arrivals. The dinner had purposely started early so that Brothers would not have to run for their trains, and they were enjoying themselves so heartily that the gavel had to be used to bring them to order.

Instead of the speakers' table being exclusively manned by a lot of brass and elder statesmen, it had a number of undergraduates, including Chapter Heads, football all-Americans, etc. Some of the Executive Council left the speakers' table and joined their delegations at the Chapter tables.

Doc Morton skilfully and wittily acted as toastmaster. The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. John Ellis Large, D.D., Beta Beta '28, Rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York City. Robert P. Hughes, Delta '20, President of the Alumni Association of Psi Upsilon, conveyed the welcome of the Association to the assemblage, and LeRoy J. Weed, Theta '01, President of the Executive Council, brought the Council's greetings. Blair Moody, Sigma '22, U. S. Senator from Michigan, was the principal speaker of the evening, his subject being "Psi U's and Leadership." Six Psi U's from the University Glee Club of New York City sang during the evening: David W. Avery, Pi '41, Cyrille Carreau, Delta '04, William L. Dewart, Jr., Sigma '20, Walter E. Hayne, Omicron '18, J. J. E. Hessey, Nu '13, and George H. Werrenrath, Zeta '33.

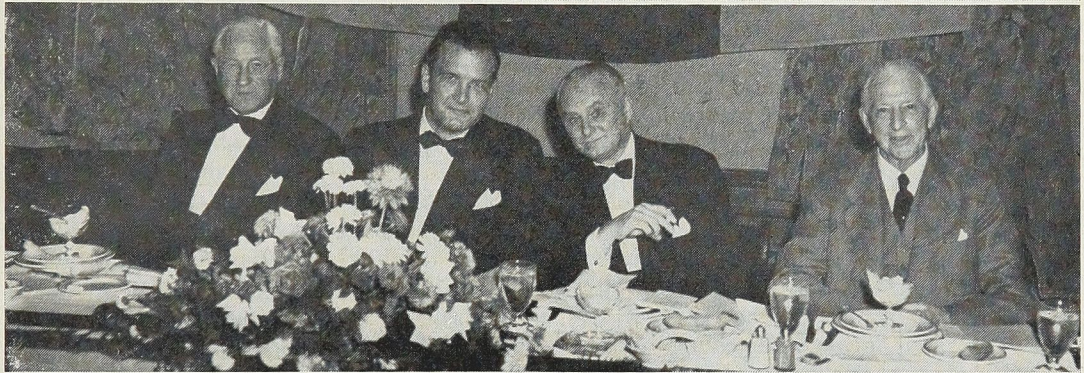

The Honorary Chairman of the Dinner was Earl D. Babst, Iota-Phi '93. Alfred H. Morton, Omicron, '19, acted as General Chairman, with, as Co-Chairmen, LeRoy J. Weed, Theta '01, Robert P. Hughes, Delta '20, Walter S. Robinson, Lambda '19, Benjamin T. Burton, Chi '21, J. J. E. Hessey, Nu '13, and Peter A. GaBauer, Pi '25. Franklin F. Bruder, Theta '25, was Treasurer, and the Dinner Committee included: C. J. Bertheau, Epsilon '19, John K. Borton, Epsilon Nu '50, George L. Brian, Iota '20, Tully O. Buckner, Delta Delta '18, William E. Cless, Iota '25, Donald B. Derby, Pi '18, John W. Fawcett, Sigma '22, Harold L. Field, Upsilon '10, Herbert J. Flagg, Theta Theta '12, John E. Stevens, Chi '99, a Past President of the Executive Council.

ROBERT A. LOVETT, BETA '18, APPOINTED SECRETARY OF DEFENSE

BROTHER ROBERT A. LOVETT, Beta '18, was appointed by President Truman, on September 12, to be Secretary of Defense. He succeeded General George C. Marshall, to whom he had been Deputy. This appointment, which his chief had earnestly recommended, has been universally applauded throughout the country and abroad. It comes as a reward for, and in logical sequence of a long and unselfish dedication to public service.

Brother Lovett was born on September 14, 1895, in Huntsville, Texas. His father was the nationally distinguished Judge Robert S. Lovett, lawyer and chief executive of the Union Pacific Railroad System. He prepared for college at Hill School, Pottstown, Pennsylvania, and entered Yale in the Class of 1918 (Academic). His classmates, both at Hill School and at Yale, remember him as an earnest student and an excellent one. He showed unusually mature judgment and ability to think. There was extremely little of the sophomoric about him.

At the same time, he was far from being a one-sided "grind." His college record included singing in the Glee Club (he had even then a low-pitched, resonant and pleasing voice), managership of the Junior Prom Committee, managership of the Dramatic Association, membership in the Elizabethan Club (a literary institution), Skull and Bones, and many other extracurricular activities.

He was one of the first group of his Class elected to Psi U and took a genuine interest in the Chapter, rarely missing the weekly dinners of the 1918 delegation. He was friendly, affable and approachable to all his classmates, who soon learned that his air of gravity was due to earnestness and seriousness but not to lack of sympathetic propensity for friendships. Many a lesser light in the Class remembers pleasantly Lovett's interest in listening to what he had to say. The word "democratic" has been frequently used at, or about, Yale to describe the conspicuous absence of feeling of caste or snobbishness. Bob Lovett was a personification of this characteristic.

The Class of 1918 at Yale College, as in other colleges, found itself in April, 1917, faced with its country's declaration of War. Before the Junior Year exams could come on in June, about 400 out of 450 men of the College class had left for war service, almost all volunteers. The big exodus came in early May to the Officers' Training camps. Many Yale students, luckily had had some advanced training in the Yale Batteries. Lovett was one of the very first to leave college, in March, to join the U. S. Naval Reserve Flying Corps; at the same time two of his classmates and Psi U Brothers, Trubee Davison and Artemus Gates, left with him to join the same Naval Aviation Organization. It is a fateful coincidence that Lovett, Gates and Davison, who left college in March, 1917, to go into Naval Aviation (even before the United States declared War), should have later had such important war-time top posts in Washington in the Second World War, in Naval and Army Aviation, at the same time. Lovett's war service was active and distinguished, with a combat record which earned him the Navy Cross. His last rank was as Lieutenant Commander.

After the War, Brother Lovett decided on a banking career and got early experience with the National Bank of Commerce in New York (which merged in 1929 with the Guaranty Trust Company). His associates in that bank remember him as an eager, apt and thorough banking apprentice and as a man of charming and friendly disposition. Especially remembered is the fact that Lovett got along with the bank's personnel in all ranks with the utmost harmony. This stems not only from his "democratic" nature, referred to above, but also to an innate interest in, and a sense of respect for, human beings in general which Brother Lovett possesses.

During his banking apprenticeship, with his customary quickness to learn, logical mind and thoroughness, young Lovett impressed all his banking associates. He showed every aptitude for banking, both as to the detailed procedures and the basic principles involved. So that it was no surprise to them to learn of his being admitted later as a partner in Brown Brothers and Company. Mrs. Lovett is the former Adele Brown, daughter of James Brown, senior partner in the firm. They were married in 1919, not long after Brother Lovett's return from World War I.

Two years before World War II, Brother Lovett, convinced that trouble was brewing, began to brush up on his flying. This activity turned his thoughts to a study of plane production and potentials. He wrote down his conclusions, and this report was later shown to the late James E. Forrestal. It was the impression made on Mr. Forrestal by this report which eventually led to Brother Lovett's appointment as Assistant Secretary of War for Air. Under his leadership, airplane output soared to 96,000 planes per year, while big-bomber production leaped from six to 500 a month.

The crux of the problem which Brother Lovett must solve as Secretary of Defense is the building up and maintenance of a permanently formidable defense for this country which may at any time be speedily augmented to our full war potential. Brother Lovett is working to solve this problem by setting up multiple sources of supply, permanently operated. "The difference between supply lines in being and in moth balls," he has estimated, "equals about ten months of time in arming for all-out war. Moreover, we can quickly inject new models into such operating facilities, instead of storing obsolescent equipment."

Good natured, calm, indefatigable, Brother Lovett requires and gets little recreation, because his work is his pleasure. He enjoys murder mysteries, pulp westerns, the theatre and the movies. His manner is easy and informal and his quietly ironic sense of humor never deserts him. His predecessor, General Marshall, wrote of him, in a letter to a friend, "If Lovett was an important factor in the State Department, he is an absolutely invaluable force here in the Defense Department."

EARL D. BABST, Iota-Phi '93

BROTHER BABST, a past president of The Executive Council, was honored by his alma mater this past commencement. A caption beneath his photograph in the July Michigan Alumnus reads, "For his lifetime of service to American enterprise and to the University (of Michigan) Earl D. Babst, '93, '94L, A.M. (Hon.) '11, is hooded with an honorary Doctor of Laws degree."

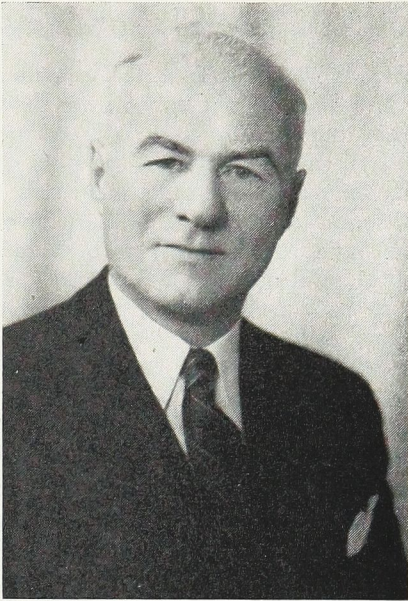

When the degree was presented to Brother Babst, the following citation was read to the tremendous commencement gathering—"Earl D. Babst: Lawyer industrialist; President of the American Sugar Refining Company from 1915 to 1925, and Chairman of its Board since that time. As a student and alumnus, he has participated actively in University and alumni affairs for more than sixty years. As secretary of the Class of 1893, as President of the University Club of New York City, as Director-at-large of the national Alumni Association and in a host of other capacities, he has continued to serve his University with rare vigor and consummate devotion. A man highly respected in the fields of law and commerce, and greatly revered by thousands of Michigan alumni, he is an inspiring example of lifetime service to American enterprise and to his Alma Mater.

BROTHER GOETZENBERGER was recently appointed to membership on the United States National Commission for the United Nations' Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

He is vice president of the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, and is director of the company's Government Project Office, in Washington.

During World War I, Brother Goetzenberger held the rank of major with the Ordnance Department of the U. S. Army in France, and was awarded membership in the French Legion d'Honneur. He serves as deputy chairman of the Fire Control

Instrument Division of the American Ordnance Association and as adviser to the Production Integrating Committee of the Army Ordnance Department on gunnery fire control for tanks.

He is chairman of the Citizens' Federal Committee of Education, a lay advisory group to the United States Office of Education, which consists of some thirty organizations, including the Parent-Teachers' Association, the American Bar Association, and other leading agencies having cultural interests. He represents the Engineers Council for Professional Development on the American Council of Education and is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, The Philosophical Society of Washington and numerous other engineering, scientific and professional societies.

Brother Goetzenberger is a native of Minnesota. He married Edna Olive Cooper in 1921. They have three children, Louise Maude (Mrs. Warren H. Howard), Edward Basil and Ralph Leon, Jr., Delta Delta '47. This loyal Psi U. family resides in Chevy Chase, Maryland.

A LETTER TO THE ASSOCIATE EDITOR

December 11, 1951

MY DEAR BROTHER GABAUER:

I received your letter of the 15th of November, of course, some time ago, and with it the copy of THE DIAMOND. I am indebted to you for this and other publications and papers, for which I thank you. When you were here last June, and called at the house, and knowing that you were attending the Psi U convention in Minneapolis, and we were talking about former conventions, I could not help but think that when I attended the convention in Columbus, Ohio, the question of establishing a Chapter at the University of Minnesota came before the convention. Of course, I was young, only twenty-one; inexperienced, and had no vision of the West and its wealth, so when it was proposed to establish a Chapter, I voted against it. You know, before I came to St. Paul, in 1888, I was told that I would meet Indians in the street and buffalo; all of which was greatly exaggerated. I have never seen a live buffalo, either in St. Paul, or elsewhere, but I have seen one Indian.

In 1888 the Minnesota University was a very small affair, just the same in proportion as Syracuse University is to the present Syracuse University. Anyhow, when the chapter was established at the University of Minnesota, my remembrance is that through Kenneth G. Brill, Mu '07, I contributed a small amount of money. I was told I was a charter member.

I wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, and everything that is fine.

Yours in the bonds,
W. P. WESTFALL, Pi '88

PSI U'S IN THE CIVIL WAR

By EDWARD C. PEATTIE, Phi '06

THE first installment of the list of Psi U's who served in the Civil War was published in the March, 1951, issue of THE DIAMOND. The roster, culled from the Catalogues of the Fraternity, is complete insofar as these records give the necessary information. It has never, so far as I know, been collected or published before.

It is noticeable that, although most of those who served were in Northern ranks, an appreciable number enlisted in the Confederate forces. The list contains 496 names, nearly one-fifth of the entire membership of the Fraternity at that time. In 1862, due to the decimation of the Chapters by the War, only four Chapters sent representatives to the Convention, and, as these did not constitute a quorum, the business sessions did not take place.

Upsilon Chapter of 1883

THE CHAPTERS SPEAK

GAMMA

Amherst College

"Year after year the Gamma achieves the top among fraternities at Amherst," are words often uttered; and this year, as in years gone by, they ring true. There has been a great deal of effort on the part of the undergraduate Brothers, and even those who have graduated, to instill even more deeply the spirit of action, cooperation, and achievement which has so long been the trademark of the Gamma. That they have succeeded will be readily known to one who glances at the following.

The Gamma had an extremely successful fall, climaxed by alumni weekend with its traditional initiation banquet and festivities. Since the delegation of 1954 was brought into the bonds last spring, there was no formal ceremony; but each new Brother was introduced and much of the customary traditional program of events was retained so as not to diminish its significance to the returning alumni Brothers. This week-end was also the big sports week-end of the fall with Amherst meeting its traditional Little Three rival, Wesleyan, in several athletic events. As usual, the names of many of the Brothers were to be found on the rosters of the various squads. Playing football were Brothers Mike Keady and Greg McGrath, seniors; Jack Boehm, Leo Connelly, Don Ostrander, juniors; and Tom Blackburn, sophomore. Brother Henry McDonald, last year's leading ground gainer and scorer was disabled early in fall practice and was unable to play. The house had three Brothers on Amherst's once beaten soccer team; they were Bob Munroe, Jim Williams and Charles Strait. Their only defeat, unfortunately was at the hands of an underdog, but spirited Wesleyan team. One of the mainstays of this year's cross-country team, which enjoyed a rather successful season, was Brother Don Bishop, who was number one man. At the end of the season Barret T. Schleicher was elected next year's football manager.

In intra-mural activities the Chapter was well on its way by winning the touch football title. It might also be added that this team was not even scored upon, such was the spirit and determination of this group.

This winter there are many Brothers participating on the winter sports teams. On the wrestling team are Brothers Dick Elton and Greg McGrath, captain, both of whom are seniors; Spike Schellenger, a junior; and George Tulloch, Roger Pitkin, and Harry Steuber, all sophomores. On the swimming team is Brother Pete Kruidinier, a junior. On the basketball team are three Brothers, George Slight, a junior, and Willie Wilson and Jim Gilligan, seniors.

With this good representation in sports, the Gamma is not wholly without participants in non-athletic extra-curricular activities. Brother Jim Gilligan is sports editor of the Amherst Student, while Brother Tom Blackburn is a member of the sport staff of the same paper. Since these are the only men in non-athletic activities, there is a serious attempt being made to get more of the Brothers to participate.

The Chapter's academic average, which has slipped dangerously low, is once again on the upgrade, mostly due to the strenuous efforts of our scholarship committee.

The social regulations placed upon us by the Chapter corporation have had an effect of making the house a place of sobriety, as well as the "driest" house on campus.

New officers were recently elected and they are William Wemple, President; R. Gregory McGrath, Vice-President; and James Clark, Secretary.

There can be no report on rushing as yet, since this is deferred until the second semester, but Brother Bob Munroe, rushing chairman, feels certain that the Chapter will pledge a group consistent in character with the type of men who have brought the Gamma to its place of high esteem and leadership on the Amherst campus.

ZETA

Dartmouth College

With the first snow, we enter the usual Hanover winter, quite pleased with our successes since last reporting. A trio of accomplishments have improved the House. Thanks to the efforts of Brothers Bloomer and Candler, the active Brothers have contributed money for new rugs for the living room and hall, and these will be installed in January. We are moving to complete a permanent guest room on the second floor, and finally, as a pledge project, our entire alumni record system has been reorganized and brought up to date. Internally, we have instituted a scholarship committee under Brother Walker and plans are in order to revive the scholarship awards. Brother McCarthy has been made editor of our new alumni newsletter, and the first issue should be out in February.

Athletically, we seem to dominate the varsity hockey squad, with Brothers Dunlap, Smith, Haskell, Jack Boyle, Morse, Thim, and Learned. New-Brother Tyler joins Brother Simpson on the winter track team, and another new Brother, Bill Brooks, is on the swimming team. Brother Pierce is our lone star on Doggie Julian's basketball squad, and in squash, we are ably represented by Brothers Fisher, Ed Boyle, and Cullerton. Intramurally, Brother Baxter was "purged" and has been replaced by equally untalented Brother Thim. The basketball team is still undefeated, and the team is using the services of new-Brothers DesCombes and Klippi. Brother Jones was dropped from the "squad." Brother Howard, back to earth despite the popularity of the Ledinac Choral Group, has teamed with Brother Schnell to top the handball competition. Finally, the usual ski enthusiasts have turned out in force, led by Brother Allison.

This year's pledging period was run as an experiment, and although only the future can tell the results, the immediate returns are gratifying. Work of a constructive nature keyed the program, and every pledge cooperated to his utmost. We have retained the usual "fun" element and the combination of the two worked out well. Our initiation banquet was held at the Hanover Inn on Friday, December 7. Brother Jones acted as toastmaster with Brother John Rambach speaking on behalf of the pledges and Brother John Burleigh, '14, spoke for the alumni. A trustees' meeting followed the banquet, and Raymond D. Mallory, '24, was elected President of the Zeta Association. We are looking forward to another great Winter Carnival. Until then,

KAPPA Bowdoin College

The Kappa prepares for its winter activities with a confidence which its fall successes have instilled. The entertainment committee engineered an outstanding week-end for its own members, and those members of the college who wanted to take advantage of it, by hiring the College Jazz Band, and throwing an off-weekend House Party. The House was packed with students and their dates, and the party judged completely successful. Two members of the Band are Psi U freshmen, who promise to bring renown to the House in the hitherto unexplored field of jazz. Our athletes continue their top-flight activities on campus, with stellar men competing on the varsity track and basketball teams. Of the top ten men on the freshman basketball team, seven are Psi U's, and some of our first-year men at track are already pushing the times of the varsity track standouts. Interest is rising in interfraternity competition, and the quality of the Psi U teams is rising proportionately. Our basketball and bowling house teams are giving a good account of themselves.

Three Brothers in the House have recently been highly honored by their fellow students in the college: John Slocum, of the class of '52, has been elected president of the Student Union Committee, Allen Hetherington, '54, has been elected president of his class, and Herbert Cousins, '54, has been elected vice president of his class. Brothers Hetherington and Cousins also took the two top prizes in the Alexander Prize Speaking Contest held here at Memorial Hall. Brother John C. Williams, was recently promoted to news editor on the Bowdoin Orient.

Psi U is still well represented in the various extra-curricular activities of the college, and the House singing group is coming along well.

One of the outstanding successes of the fall semester was a Christmas Party given by the brothers for thirty underprivileged children from the town of Brunswick. Brother Warfield Martin's untiring efforts in organizing the affair, and the enthusiastic participation by the brothers in the festivities, which included movies, presents, and a cake and cookie feast, deserve special mention.

Work is now in progress on the Marine Room alterations. The carpenters are expected to have the entrance from the Marine Room to the bar widened, and the benches and booths all set up by the time we return from Christmas vacation. We hope to be able to acquaint our alumni soon with the renovations to be performed by publishing a picture of it in the Kappa Owl, and giving a description of the details.

Using our new entertainment room as a starting point, we can look forward to even more successful parties in the future. As we settle down for the winter here in snow-bound Maine, we can look with pride on our activities in all fields for the fall, and with anticipation for bigger and better things to come.

PSI

Hamilton College

The Chapter's animal lovers were left speechless when Brother Chick announced that he had replaced Psi (the big St. Bernard that we gave to the Pi) with a pair of hamsters named Izzy and Dizzy. These animals immediately displayed their prolific nature and at the time of this writing, the House is anxiously awaiting the blessed event.

A vote of confidence was extended to the officers of the Psi as the fall elections reinstated Bob Fry, Dick Murray, Bill May, and Stu Pollock as president, senior officer, junior officer, and secretary respectively.

The Christmas season has urged Brother Dave Dickinson to lead his social committee on to bigger and better parties. The annual Christmas Party given in honor of the freshman pledge class is expected to provide entertainment for over one hundred alumni, faculty, and dates. The highlight of the party will be the midnight Carol Sing held around the punch bowl full of Christmas cheer and warmth. Past history tells us that this is one of the best affairs of the year and sets the stage for the annual Orphan Party given later in the week for a group of children from a nearby Utica foundling home. A Christmas Tree, a Santa Claus, and many gifts give these children a badly needed lift around this time of the year and the Psi urges that the other Chapters adopt a similar policy in their locale. The results are always gratifying.

The athletic situation is an excellent one with the Psi, providing thirteen football lettermen, while two brothers won their letters in soccer. The winter sports picture is encouraging with Brothers Jack Sanborn, Bill May and Dick Price sure of berths on the hockey team, while Bill Wetherbee, Al Persons, and Charlie Pratt are playing basketball. Pete Fox does the diving for the Hill swimming team. It is evident that the Psi is well represented in college athletics.

The House basketball team is at present the leading contender to the championship held by the Alpha Deltas and Coach Bob Kelso is optimistic that the team can win the coveted trophy which it lost by a few points last year. The hockey league will provide a great deal of enjoyment both for player and spectator but this won't start until there is ice in the Sage Building.

The Psi wishes to extend season's greetings to all the chapters and we hope that a prosperous New Year is forthcoming.

UPSILON University of Rochester

With Christmas just about here, the Upsilon has many fond memories of the past semester to look back upon, and a few irons in the fire for the future. The formal Pledge Dance at Thanksgiving time sent the social season into high gear. The "Ups" is now shifting into overdrive with its gala Christmas formal, which will be preceded by a cocktail party and a buffet supper for the Brothers and their dates, to the soothing music of a string trio. Actually, festivities will commence the previous evening with a varsity basketball game and a decorating party. There is little doubt that the Brothers will arrive home with the proper Christmas spirit.

A highly successful "Owl Night" was recently held at the Chapter House. With plenty of food and beer available, the alumni and active brothers thoroughly enjoyed a short skit produced by the pledges and an entertaining magic show by Pledge Fred Bush.

In varsity athletics, several Brothers have gained the limelight. Vic Allen, captain of this year's soccer team, was selected to play center-halfback for the North team in the annual North-South soccer game in Philadelphia. Bob VonderHeide was awarded the Most-Improved-Player trophy at the annual post-season football dinner. In swimming, Art Jewett, John Turner and Bob McDonald have been turning in solid performances, Art setting and breaking two university records after having teamed with Bob and another man to break the 150 yard medley relay pool record by three seconds in a previous meet.

So far this year, the Psi U Bachelor's Protective Association has lost four of its clients. Brothers Ed Kennedy and Johnnie Johnson will each be married during the holiday season, while the engagements of Vic Allen and John Turner have recently been announced.

This year's pledge class is setting all sorts of chapter records. While engaged in one of their pledge duties, they set about cleaning out the attic. A few of the more eager ones decided that the old piano must go and pushed it off the fire escape outside the third floor. Many bets were lost when the relic refused to bounce.

In all, the state of the Chapter remains good. Active membership was increased to 34 with the initiation of Paul Cunningham. Initiation of the pledge class after midyear exams will bring the House slightly above its normal strength of about fifty brothers.

Vincent L. Guandolo, President of the Iota

IOTA Kenyon College

On Saturday, December 8, the Iota held its annual Christmas banquet at the Lodge. Through the untiring efforts of Brother Randall and his committee, and Brother Ashford, the celebration was a tremendous success. During the meal, Dr. Ashford was presented with his Christmas present, this year a six foot, garnet and gold muffler. The active Chapter was joined by Harrison Greer, Iota '27, who added a great deal of impetus to our lagging bass section, among other things.

The Chapter was deeply moved to hear Brother George H. Mason, Iota '52, announce his decision to leave school. Now that he has left, we see more clearly the contributions which he made to the Chapter, and sorely miss his constant cheerfulness and wit. We still hope, though, that he will be back with us after not too much time.

Work is now going ahead on the installation of a television set in the Campbell-Meeker Room. The set is being donated by the Iota Association, for which we are sincerely grateful. North Leonard will be the second Division on the Hill to have TV.

Following a suggestion made by Brother Levinson, the present treasurer, we have decided to henceforth elect to that office in the middle of the Semester. This action will permit the new treasurer to avail himself of the experience of the old. George H. Dunn, Iota '54, is the new treasurer.

The president of the Iota for the year is Vincent L. Guandolo, '53. Brother Guandolo is the one who so ably stepped into the shoes of Brother Bogle, with no past presidents to guide him.

His success was by no means unexpected. As the Chairman of the Financial Steering Committee, he formulated many ideas, and personally guided their execution, to keep the Chapter out of the red. His work was not restricted to finances, however; as Intramural Chairman he instilled a fighting spirit into the various teams representing North Leonard.

Although he is kept busy with Chapter activities, Vink finds enough time to be the Business Manager of the 1952 Reveille (the yearbook), and to be one of the starting lettermen on the Lacrosse team.

Outside of Kenyon, Vink has been associated, in a big way, with the Bethesda-Chevy Chase Rescue Squad, a volunteer group located in his home town of Bethesda, Maryland.

Brother Guandolo has brought the Chapter a sense of purpose and unity, and through his own drive and initiative, has embodied that same spirit in the Iota.

Mainly through the efforts of Bill Ririe, and the Pledges, a new coat of paint has been given the upstairs hall. This together with the painting which has already been done, has given the Division a new appearance, a thorough facelifting which it has not had for some time.

PHI University of Michigan

Our annual pledge formal was held on December 8. Both the banquet and dance were held at the house. A truly great dinner, a fine orchestra, and fine Christmas decorations combined to make the occasion our finest party of the fall. A large share of the credit must be given to our social chairman, Ted Nagle.

The house manager for the spring semester has just been elected. He is Dick Ratcliff. He will replace our present house manager, Bill Ryan. The job at present is doubly difficult since it is desired to retain the same high quality of food without increasing house bills despite increasing food prices.

Our house grade point average dropped somewhat last year, but it is hoped that it will improve this semester. To aid our pledges in acquiring good study habits a scholarship chairman, Brother Hugh Wright, has been chosen.

It is of interest to note that this year for the first time the University has employed a full time fraternity adviser in the Office of Student Affairs. The new set-up is not only facilitating Interfraternity Council-University cooperation but is in general fostering better fraternity-University relations.

For the past year and a half the Interfraternity Council, through the Research Center for Group Dynamics of the University has been conducting a survey of fraternity men's opinions on discrimination. The final conclusions have just been released. Of greatest importance was the observation that there is no correlation between fraternity men's opinions on discrimination and whether or not the fraternity has a discriminatory clause. In other words, discrimination has a much deeper basis than a mere verbal regulation on fraternities' actions. It is rather a feeling or an opinion that permeates society as a whole. Though discriminatory clauses may still be accused of perpetuating discrimination, they cannot be accused of creating prejudice. Fortunately Psi Upsilon is not affected by the discriminatory clause controversy since we do not have such a clause.

We sincerely hope that any Psi U's passing through or near Ann Arbor will stop in at the Phi.

OMEGA University of Chicago

With the first quarter of the academic year already past history, every Omega pauses a little to consider this past quarter before plunging into the next. Secretly, however, his thoughts are not "What needs to be improved?" but "What can be improved?" Let us, therefore, turn to an introspection of our conscience.

The primary function of a fraternity is to be fraternal. Were we? The answer is an emphatic yes. Due to an extensive and high quality of rushing last spring, we were able to initiate a very active and high calibre group of nineteen into Omega. Now, once again, we have a high quality group of pledges. Next high point of the quarter was the Founders' Day Banquet late in November. Thirty active Omegas turned out to meet with other Psi U's of the Chicago area, including, among others, A. A. Stagg. Finally came the election of officers for the remaining two quarters, resulting in the following slate: president, Ray Busch; first vice-president, Chuck Lindell; second vice-president, George River; corresponding secretary, Gene Anderson; and recording secretary, John Galey.

A second duty of a fraternity is to keep its members a functioning and oriented part of the larger university group. Here in the intellectual and cultural realm, Omega continued its policy of high standards. We had such distinguished guests as William Bierenbaum, director of Student Activities and one of the most controversial figures on campus, also Bernard Loomer, Dean of the Theology School, and finally the successor to Hutchins and new chancellor, Lawrence A. Kimpton. And then in the more intellectual realm, there were some monumental excursions into the time honored "Bull" session.

Psi U, regardless of where it is, never seems to be lacking socially. Omega is no exception. In early October, the old pledge class put on a tremendous mock homecoming party. At the appropriate time, our new pledges threw a Christmas party, which was also quite spectacular. However, nothing can quite compare with the annual Hard Times Party, and this past one was even labelled "Best in years." The formal Inter-Fraternity Ball was its usual suave and sophisticated perfection.

As for athletics, fate, armed with an early snow, finally caught up with the Omega football team. In the championship game, they lost their first game in many years. However, in swimming it was the same old monotonous story: Psi U 58, next closest rival, 11.

However, it is not for the Omegas to sit reminiscing, especially at a time such as this, when New Year's resolutions are in fashion, and there are problems of a new year to solve. The Omega chapter resolves not to be satisfied with mere superiority and superlatives, but we shall move forward to perfection.

CHI Cornell University

The tempo of activity at Cornell is modifying slowly after the rush of Fall. Early winter and the first snows of the winter have driven the Chi-men indoors and their activities consist, for the most part, of those found not too far from the nearest radiator. Many of the Brothers are finding that more time with the books will pay future dividends; bridge has taken over from football and soccer. The House's indoor squash court has seen a sudden burst of renewed activity.

Looking backward at the social season for the last three months, perhaps one week-end stands a little above the rest: Michigan Week-end. After about a decade Cornell and Michigan renewed an ancient rivalry, this time at Ithaca. With the Wolverine team came a large contingent from the Phi. Cornell won the football game but Michigan took Cornell. Next year, we hope to do as well at Ann Arbor.

Eleven varsity football letters were awarded to Psi U's. Now that they are safely packed away, the scene has shifted to interfraternity basketball. Psi U is defending champion this year with last year's five completely intact and with the addition of two previously ineligible members. So far, all their games have wound up in the win column. Not to be outdone, three other House teams have been fielded. The sophomore squad led by George Bogar and Herb Bool have not failed to score a twenty to forty point margin over all their opponents. Needless to say, there is some contention as to who are going to be champions of what.

Our pledges are shaping up nicely. Their academic standing is well advanced for this early in the game, for there are but three assigned to evening study table. They have organized their own Independent League basketball team, the "Owlettes," and generally taken a leading role in campus pledge activities, such as pledge week. They seem to be especially proud of their choice and we are proud of them. No little credit is due to pledgemaster John Ehret, who has done a wonderful job of instilling such fine spirit.

On the Hill, indeed, "it's Psi U that makes the World go 'round." Psi U's may be found in just about every functioning organization. Fletch Hock was recently elected Assistant Managing Editor of the Cornell Daily Sun, while Fred Wood and John Davidge have become new members of the Sun's Sports Board. The Inter-fraternity Council's many committees are adequately staffed with Brothers. At the annual Cornell Football Party, it was the Psi U Quartet that stole the show. Dwight Robinson was made chairman of the Campus Charities' fund drive. And speaking of fund raising, a team of solicitors won first place in soliciting for the Episcopal Chaplain's Fund. As a result, all were awarded the Order of the Multicolored Piggy Bank. In collegiate athletics John Noonan is Cornell Captain of Fencing while Brothers Rose, Coddington and Mariani travel with the varsity basketball team.

So, as this is written, the House stands well balanced in all aspects and turns with confidence to the new year. As a reminder, our door is open to all alumni and friends who may just happen by.

Dick, whose home is in South Orange, New Jersey, is an Electrical Engineer and is majoring in Communications. A driving force in the house since his freshman year, Dick has held numerous offices, including Rushing Chairman at which he did a very fine job. He was the chief delegate to the Convention at the Mu last June, and this fall has served the House unselfishly and wisely.

He has always been the backbone of the House football, basketball, and baseball teams. His spirit and interest have helped to promote the good reputation of the Chapter throughout the campus. Dick is in the Advanced Air ROTC unit at Lehigh and a member of two of the Honorary Air Force societies. In addition, he is a member of Eta Kappa Nu and AIEE.

Lehigh University

Despite the handicaps created by the repairs being done to the House early in the semester, the Chapter has had a fine record this fall. As the culmination of a successful social season, the Brothers have designated Saturday, December 15, as the day to hold the annual "Underprivileged Children of Bethlehem" party. As has been the custom in the past, following cartoon movies, one of the Brothers will masquerade as Santa and give each of the youngsters his gift individually.

Received with such enthusiasm in years gone by, the party, at which ice cream and cake are served, not only boosts morale in the Chapter, but helps in no small way to make Christmas brighter for those who have so little.

Throughout the fall one of the Brothers has played on the Varsity Soccer team, and this winter six men will represent the house on the Varsity Hockey team. Brother Bill Blocker, '53, who figures prominently in every musical organization at Lehigh, has organized an octet—a new activity on the campus. Every member of the House is engaged in some extra-curricular activity and not only in the clubs and organizations, but in the honorary fraternities as well, many of the top offices are filled by Psi U's. Brother Malcolm Bingaman was honored by being elected to Tau Beta Pi.

As Vice-President and Steward, Brother Gus Mahan, '52, has done a very fine job and has helped immeasurably to make the running of the House smoother and more efficient. Having hired a new cook, who has done a superlative job herself, he proceeded to reorganize the kitchen and reduce the drudgery of his office to an absolute minimum.

Arvids Kulitis, the Latvian D.P. student who has lived with us for the past two semesters, will graduate with a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering. He expects to work in New York City. Throughout his stay at the Chapter House, he has always been a most cooperative and friendly individual and a definite asset to the House.

In looking forward to next semester, our House wrestling team has great promise. Brother Dan Hunter, '53, who won the 123-lb. championship last winter, is already helping the other men to get in shape. Brother Hunter is also rushing chairman and has a very clever campaign planned out. The House basketball team has nearly the same members as it did last year and we look forward to a successful season.

MU University of Minnesota

Since the last report in THE DIAMOND, the Mu Chapter has elected a new group of officers. They are the following: Brother Palmer "Bud" Roach, president; Brother Mark Jones, vice-president; and Brother Roger Swanson, secretary. With a combination like this, the Mu can be expected to have nothing less than great success for the remainder of the year.

The big word around the House these days is "rushing." Although our present membership is around forty-five, we will have to do an above average job of rushing in order to make up for the losses we expect from the graduations of various Brothers this quarter.

In the intramural sports picture, fate has been fairly kind to our Chapter. Our football team reached the finals in the interfraternity football championship, and our basketball squad did almost as well by reaching the semi-finals in the basketball playoffs. Much of the success of our intramural sports program is due to the energetic work of our athletics chairman, Brother Roger Erickson. The Mu has placed two of its members on Minnesota's varsity basketball squad. They are Brother Charlie "Buzz" Bennett and Milt Papke.

Socially, the Mu has been active in various parties and in open houses before and after football games this quarter. However, the ban on drinking in the house has hindered our social schedule a little bit, but Brother Jerry Hayes, our social chairman, has done a wonderful job of planning parties and stags in spite of this hindrance. The annual Homecoming party was held at the Lowery Hotel in St. Paul with the Dekes. All who attended were greatly satisfied. One of the Highlights of the quarter was the dinner that the Mother's Club put on for the Brothers' parents and dates. An excellent time was had by all.

RHO University of Wisconsin

On December 1, the Rho initiated four men into the Bonds. They are: Thomas J. Moran, '52, Chicago, Illinois; James W. Williams, '53, Madison, Wisconsin; Tom R. Walker, '54, Columbus, Wisconsin; and Sidney M. Miller, '55, Madison, Wisconsin. Following the initiation, the traditional banquet was held.

In spite of an astonishing amount of snow, Homecoming, on November 3, drew a good crowd of alumni, who, with the active brothers, managed to warm up after a frigid afternoon in Camp Randall Stadium. The Badgers won, the Rho's Homecoming display weathered the elements, and only twelve cars became stuck on the hill in front of the house; the weekend, then, was officially successful.

Several weeks later, the Chapter set the campus agog by holding what some hope, and what others fear, will become a new tradition: a Clean Cutters' Party. Paced by Brother Lee Tolley, the Brethren consumed gallons of ice cream, malted milk, soda pop, and other equally foul concoctions; no alcohol was to be found, creating, to say the least, a mild sensation. One of the Brothers, however, was heard to mutter, "Who put soda pop in my soda pop?"

The final social event of the 1951 season was the Three-Way Christmas Formal, on December 8, with the Dekes and Alpha Deltas. It is strongly suspected that a good time was had by all, even though Social Chairman Tony Stebbins failed to arrange with the Madison Weather Bureau to have a sufficient amount of snow fall to create the proper Christmas atmosphere.

Interest waned in respect to intramural football, when, (a) the University failed to receive a Rose Bowl bid, and (b) the Chapter discovered a game scheduled for a Sunday morning. Coach Koeper's job, then, was for the moment saved; at present, he is fielding an undefeated water polo team and a super-human, although not always victorious, basketball squad, so his position seems secure.

A perusal of the coming attractions at the local cinema reveals that a glorious collection of Epic and Great flicks are to be shown in the near future; this of course means only one thing: final examinations are near at hand. With a firm glance at the Scholarship Trophy, the Brothers are scurrying around buying pencils, College Outline Series pamphlets, movie tickets, No-Doze pills, and even textbooks. The Rho Chapter, in short, is prepared.

Alumni Notes—Brothers Sam DeMerell and Dick Van Horne attended the Founders' Day banquet in Chicago on November 30, and were pleased to meet many of the Chicago area alumni there. The Chapter wishes cordially to invite all alumni to visit the house whenever they are in Madison. . . . A communication was recently received from Brother Charles M. Sharpsten, '96, 510 Anita St., Laguna Beach, California. Brother Sharpsten reports attending a Psi U banquet in Los Angeles. . . . Brother Cesar Brum, '51, through a series of post cards, has informed the Chapter that the Montevideo, Uruguay, Alumni Association is progressing nicely.

THETA THETA University of Washington

Of primary concern about the house in the recent week has been the annual Orphan-Benefit Christmas Party, sponsored at the house in conjunction with the local chapter of the Alpha Phi sorority. The party is ordinarily held on a Sunday afternoon, with cake, cocoa, favors, and gifts presented to our guests from the Seattle Children's Home. In addition to contributions from the Brothers, the Theta Theta Mother's Club contributed generously to defray the expenses of gifts for the children; who range in age from six to twelve years. Brother C. "Buns" Ketcham in red suit and white whiskers provided a jolly, portly Santa Claus impersonation for the benefit of the younger orphans.

For the next term of office, the Brothers elected Richard Main to the President's position. Dick is a senior in the College of Forestry here, and has previously held the offices of Vice-President and Study Hour Chairman. The newly elected Vice-President is Brother John Riley, who saw service as Rushing Chairman in the fierce campaign of 1951. Brothers John Proctor and Pete Wallerich will hold the offices of Recording and Corresponding Secretaries.

Turning out for the winter sports here at Washington are: Brother Bill Reed, wrestling, Brother Nick Olson, swimming, and Pledgemen Steve Roake, basketball, and Bill McKensie, swimming.

Socially, the annual Pledge Dance, held this year at the Sand Point Country Club under the able direction of Brother John Proctor, proved to be a high point of the season. In addition, numerous "Friday Night Socials" of an informal nature have met with success. Brother Proctor is currently at work on plans for the Winter Formal, a prominent feature of which has always been the welcome participation of Brothers from other Chapters.

Since the last communique was written only a short time ago, there is very little to relate this time. The formal initiation ceremony took place in the Windsor Hotel on the 14 of November and then the traditional Punch Bowl Ceremony was carried out at the Chapter House. It is regrettable that so few of the Alumni attended the initiation since the active Chapter is genuinely interested in meeting them at these events. Since THE DIAMOND is the best way to contact the Alumni individually, it might be mentioned here that the Annual Beer and Oyster Party, and probably a supper before one of the Winter Carnival events, will be held in the not too distant future so please make an effort to attend. All local brothers will be sent invitations in the mail so if you have moved, please forward your new address to the House so we can bring our lists up to date.

Elections have just been held and we are pleased to announce that Brother Mackenzie Strathy has been elected President. Mac is a third-year student in Commerce and has held executive positions in many campus organizations.

Elected to the other posts were, Ross Murphy, 1st vice-president; Peter Astwood, 2nd vice-president; Don Renwick, treasurer; William McCrudden, recording secretary; Farrell Hyde, corresponding secretary; John Ferrabee, rushing manager; Elwood Rice, House Manager; Morley Luke, Social Manager; John Vipond, Historian; Paul Webb, Librarian; and Harry Whipper, Athletics Manager.

Since the Christmas Season is now in full swing, the social aspect of the Chapter has been booming. The Alpha Gamma Delta's (girls' fraternity) invited us over "en masse" to their house for a party last week and this week the Kappa Kappa Gamma's (girls' fraternity) visited us for an evening of entertainment. This week is also the date of our Christmas Formal which proves to be bigger and better than ever. The Psi U Barbershop Quartet is always much in evidence at the events, singing their one and only song "She's Just a Psi U Sweetheart" with local verses. This song was written originally by Brother Doug Lee and has proved to be a tremendous success.

The skiing season is now upon us here in Montreal and we welcome all brothers to visit us when they come up to indulge in the sport.

EPSILON NU

Michigan State College

The fall quarter of 1951 started off to what should be a very successful year for the Epsilon Nu of Psi Upsilon. Michigan State's football team beat Michigan for the second consecutive year and went on through the rest of its games to an undefeated season. This paved the way for many enjoyable parties for the Brothers of Epsilon Nu. Buffet dinners were held after each football game, with the most successful one being held on homecoming day. The last Sunday before vacation, we held our annual Christmas Party for underprivileged children of the Lansing area, and it was its usual success. Fall pledging was exceptionally prosperous with twenty-five men accepting the garnet and gold. Eight men were initiated in this past term and helped make up for the losses due to graduation and Uncle Sam. In campus activities, we are proud to have in our Chapter the President of the Men's Glee Club, the President of the Junior Class, the Vice-President of the History Club, the Circulation Manager and Assistant of the "State News," two men on the Union Board including one on the Executive Board, and of the eight juniors chosen for Blue Key, the junior and senior men's honorary, two were Psi U's. Chapter officers elected for this Winter quarter are Brothers A. C. Rosenau (originally from the Iota), President; Henry R. Hutt, Vice-President; Richard B. Fletcher, Secretary; and Paul A. Schmidt, Registrar. Financially, the House is in sound condition. The Epsilon Nu extends a hearty invitation to all Brothers traveling in or near the vicinity of East Lansing, and the Chapter would greatly appreciate any recommendations for men soon to attend Michigan State.

IN MEMORIAM

William Constable Breed, Gamma '93

William Constable Breed, Gamma '93, died December 3, 1951, at the age of 80. He was senior partner of the law firm of Abbott, Breed and Morgan.

A former president of the State Bar Association, Brother Breed was an ardent campaigner for judicial reform and late in the 1920's obtained a survey of administrative procedures.

He was for many years an active member of the board of directors of the New York Chapter of the Red Cross, and headed its fund drive in 1918. He also had served on the St. Lawrence Waterway Commission, as president of the Merchants' Association of New York, as chairman of the board of the New York State Economic Council, and as an executive in many other business, civic, professional and philanthropic organizations.

He leaves his widow and two sons.

The Rev. Charles Major Eddy, Pi '84

The Rev. Charles Major Eddy, Pi '84, believed to have been the oldest living Pi alumnus, died at the age of 90 in Cortland, New York, on October 23, 1951. He had been retired from active ministerial work since 1925, but during his active days was pastor of the Furman Street Methodist Church in Syracuse, New York, as well as having served churches in Cazenovia, Auburn, Newark, New York, and Cortland.

Brother Eddy was graduated from Syracuse University in 1884 with Phi Beta Kappa honors, as well as being a graduate of Drew Theological Seminary. He received his doctorate at Syracuse University in 1914 and was an active member of the Anti-Saloon League and the Lord's Day Alliance.

William Harry McCollom, Mu '03

William Harry McCollom, Mu '03, died on December 18, 1951, from a cold which developed into pneumonia. In June of 1950 he broke his hip, which never healed; rather developing into a bone tumor which pulled down his resistance to a point where he could not respond to protective treatments.

Born in Dassel, Minnesota, January 28, 1880, the eldest son of Charles A. McCollom, M.D., and Clara Rolfe McCollom, he spent his boyhood there and at Minneapolis, where he graduated from Central High School in 1899. He was initiated at the Mu Chapter in the fall of '99, while a freshman in the Engineering Department of Minnesota University. The next year he transferred to Law, and took two years' work before leaving college to join the firm of Eugene Stevens and Company of Minneapolis in the commercial paper and bond business. Brother McCollom took active part in these affairs in Minneapolis until 1919 when Mr. Stevens sold out to accept the position of vice president of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank in Chicago. Brother McCollom followed him there to be in charge of the Bank's Bond Department.

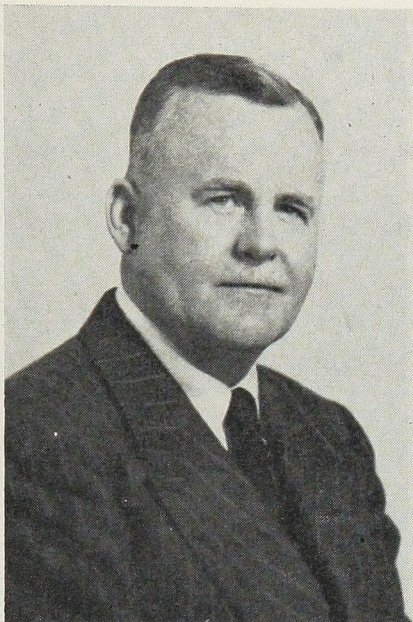

In 1923 he left Chicago and established residence in Southern California, first at Los Angeles and later in South Pasadena, operating Golf Driving Ranges. In 1942 he again returned to the financial world to replace younger men who had joined the armed services, acting as a bank teller for the Bank of America in the South Pasadena, and later in the Pasadena branch of that Bank.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. George Harris Clute (wife of G. H. Clute, Theta '90) and one brother, Charles Rolfe McCollom, Mu '06, and his widow, Kathryn S. McCollom.

Kenneth Dickerson Miller, Mu '17

Kenneth Dickerson Miller, Mu '17, widely known Minneapolis and Chicago businessman and loyal Minnesota Psi U, was stricken with a heart attack and died suddenly on Saturday, November 19, 1951, at the Evanston, Illinois, airport. His age was 56.

Brother Miller was born March 15, 1895, at Patchogue, Long Island, New York, the son of Frank W. and Mary Dickerson Miller, and moved to Milwaukee and then to Minneapolis at an early age. He received his education in Minneapolis, and was graduated from the Lake Harriett Grade School in 1909, and from Minneapolis West High School in June, 1913. He then attended the University of Minnesota, Class of 1917 in S.L.A., where he became a member of the Mu Chapter of

Psi Upsilon. Always a loyal and interested member of the Fraternity, he has been very active in the alumni affairs of the Mu Chapter over the years since his active membership in the undergraduate Chapter.

Upon leaving the University of Minnesota, he entered the employ of the Barrett Roofing Company division of the Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation, in their Minneapolis offices, and, in 1933, was transferred from Minneapolis to their Chicago offices, his home address being 32 Crescent Place, Wilmette, Illinois. At the time of his death, Brother Miller was Sales Supervisor of the Barrett Company in the Chicago division area.

Brother Miller served in the U. S. Navy during World War I. He was a member of The Kable Klub and the Masonic Lodge in Minneapolis, and was very active in the Church of the Holy Comforter (Episcopal) in Kenilworth-Wilmette.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Decker Miller; one son, David Decker Miller, a junior in the Law School of the University of Michigan; and a brother Donald D. Miller, Mu '20, who is prominent in the insurance business in Minneapolis, and known to his friends and business associates as Don Miller.

James Hutchison Scott, Jr., Tau '11

James Hutchison Scott, Jr., Tau '11, died on January 5, 1952, at his home in Abington, Pennsylvania, after a long illness. He was 64.

Brother Scott was a former University of Pennsylvania football and track star, and a member of Sphinx senior society. He was for many years employed in a managerial capacity by the John Wanamaker Store in Philadelphia. He was a member of the Racquet Club in Philadelphia and in New York and the Sunnybrook Golf Club.

He is survived by his wife, a daughter by a former marriage, three grandchildren, two sisters and a brother.

John Wilkinson, Chi '89

John Wilkinson, Chi '89, internationally known engineer and inventor of the air-cooled motor, died at the age of 83 on June 25, 1951, in Syracuse, New York.

Educated in Syracuse schools, Brother Wilkinson was graduated from Cornell University in 1889. He was a member of the University's first football team in 1885. Active in sports, he was also a member of the college tennis team and baseball squad which was coached by mail by the late Walter Camp, famous Yale mentor. In the 1880's he was also noted for his bicycle racing activities. At Cornell, Brother Wilkinson majored in mechanical engineering.

It was back in 1902 that the eyes of the then-budding automobile industry were turned on Syracuse when Brother Wilkinson, under contract to the late H. H. Franklin, invented the first four-cylinder air-cooled engine, one of the "firsts" which brought him fame while associated with the automobile firm. When he retired in 1926 he had at various times been chief engineer, vice-president and a director of the H. H. Franklin Company.

Brother Wilkinson's genius in engineering resulted in many inventions for the growing automotive industry. A few of these were:

The first six-cylinder engine in 1905, the first to employ drive-through springs and to use transmission service brake in 1906, first to adopt automatic spark advance in 1907, first to use individual recirculating pressure feed oil systems for engine in 1912, first to use exhaust jackets for heating intake gases, pioneered closed bodies and first production in 1913. In addition, and probably familiar to anyone connected with the automotive field, Brother Wilkinson pioneered aluminum pistons in 1911, and was the first to use an electric carburetor primer to facilitate cold weather starting in 1917, and the first to use case-hardened crankshafts in regular production in 1921. In 1926, he was instrumental in developing the six-cylinder

Dodge, and in 1942 was cited for his air-cooled motor in helping with the war effort.

Always a leader, Brother Wilkinson joined with the late Henry Ford in the early 1900's to found the American Society of Automotive Engineers.

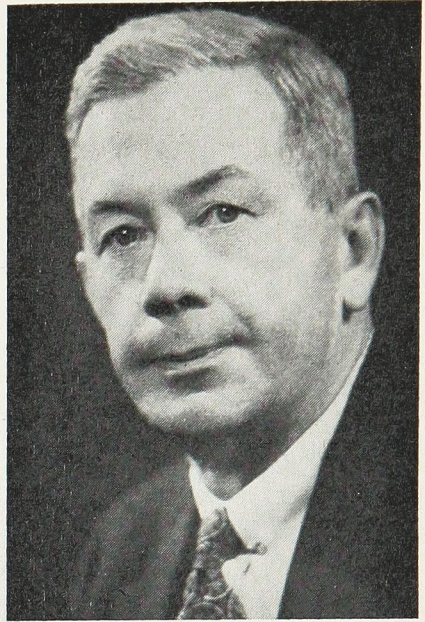

Walter Philip Berg, Eta '15

Walter P. Berg, Vice President and Director of Dravo Corporation, Pittsburgh, Pa., died suddenly in a Pittsburgh hospital on February 3, 1952, at the age of 60. Funeral services were held Wednesday, February 6.

Associated with Dravo Corporation for thirty years, Brother Berg also was a member of the firm's Executive Committee and general manager of the Machinery Division. In addition, he was president and director of Dravo-Doyle Company, and a director of Union Barge Line Corporation, Tri-Lok Company and Southern Transfer Company, Memphis, Tenn.

Brother Berg was born in Pittsburgh. He was educated at public schools there, and later attended Moravian College. He was graduated in 1917 from Lehigh University. From 1917 to 1919, he served as a First Lieutenant in the Field Artillery.

He was a life member of the Psi Upsilon Alumni Association, and a member of the Engineers Society of Western Pennsylvania, Army Ordnance Association, Army Transportation Association, Shannopin Country Club and the Duquesne Club.

Walter Philip Berg, Eta '15

Brother Berg is survived by his wife, Mrs. Solveig Ellewson Berg; a son, Walter P. Berg, Jr., Eta '51, and two daughters, Miss Solveig Mae Berg, and Mrs. Thurman C. Tejan. He was a brother of the late John D. Berg, Eta '05, who, at the time of his death in 1949, was chief executive officer of Dravo Corporation.
