NEW CHAPTER AT UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA AT LOS ANGELES

ON June 23rd The Sterix Club of the University of Southern California at Los Angeles will become the Theta Epsilon Chapter of Psi Upsilon. It will be readily seen that our thirty-second chapter will carry the Greek letters of the Epsilon, our oldest chapter on the Pacific Coast, and its nearest sister chapter, the Theta Theta.

A new chapter of Psi Upsilon Fraternity at the University of Southern California has been a dream of many Psi U's on the Pacific Coast for the past decade. Proof of this desire was expressed at the National Convention of Psi Upsilon at Seattle, Washington in June 1947. The Alumni Association of Southern California in Los Angeles sent a representative to that Convention in order to receive support of the Convention towards starting a local in the Los Angeles area. The Convention went on record as favoring a chapter of Psi Upsilon in Southern California.

Brothers Stuart Clarke and Don Becket, both Theta Theta '51, transferred to the University of Southern California in the Fall of 1949 to continue their studies there and expressed their desire to the Alumni Association of building a local to petition Psi Upsilon Fraternity. They worked with the aid of Dr. Donald Skillen, Epsilon '29, in forming this local. By November they had a group formed of eleven undergraduates and adopted the name of Sterix Club of Southern California. The Charter members were: Clarke, Becket, Jack Birkholz, William Burns, Pete Vlahos, Frank Kaufmann, Howard Holden, Ree Carle, Royce Crain, Frank Ruttencutter, and Ivan Curtis.

The Sterix Club then set out to be recognized by the University and Psi Upsilon. University recognition came in the Spring of 1951 with the aid of four faculty members of The Sterix Club, after The Sterix Club had proved to the school that it was sincere in its efforts to become a fraternity upon its campus. The local started with its meetings held in a room of the Student Union building, then moved to a private house adjacent to fraternity row, and finally now in its present home within that row (see inside front cover). Throughout this climb it has maintained financial solvency and has placed its members in all phases of campus activities.

The Psi Upsilon Alumni Association of Southern California aided and supported the local by giving them direction and guidance when needed. The three chapters of Psi Upsilon on the Pacific Coast then voted to support their petition to the National Convention that was held in Minneapolis in June 1951. At that Convention the delegates voted unanimously to accept

W. AVERELL HARRIMAN, BETA '13 HAS HAT IN THE RING

PSI UPSILON again comes up with another first in the fraternity world! In Chester A. Arthur, Theta 1848, and William Howard Taft, Beta 1878, it has been the only fraternity with two Presidents of the United States. Now with Brother W. Averell Harriman, Beta '13, announcing his candidacy for the Presidency, we have a doubly unique situation, with two of our Brothers striving for that high office, at the same time—and they were Brothers in Psi Upsilon at the same time, at Yale. On the cover of the March issue of THE DIAMOND, you saw Robert A. Taft, Beta '10, son of the late President Taft. The cover of this issue shows Brother Harriman with Mrs. Harriman, and his daughter, Mrs. Mary C. Fisk. His brother is E. Roland Harriman, Beta '17.

Brother Harriman's father died while he was still in school. He had to learn railroading, because he knew that his father expected him to take over the helm of the great Union Pacific Railroad. So he got a job as a section hand, and learned the railroad business from the bottom up, and within a short time became vice-president of the Union Pacific. He fulfilled his father's expectations by becoming chairman of the board in 1938. He is well known for the development of Sun Valley.

An insight into Brother Harriman's character comes from "Newsweek Magazine," from which we quote: "Harriman's boyish smile and soft-spoken manner can be misleading. He is a very serious man with deep convictions. By now his firsthand knowledge of world military, diplomatic, and economic affairs is encyclopedic. He is so deeply engrossed in them that it is hard to imagine that he was ever a polo player or ever engaged in activities, so small and simple by comparison, as being chairman of the board of a railroad system or partner in an investment-banking house."

While Brother Harriman has given much of his life to public service, he is now seeking an elective office for the first time. He was Ambassador to Russia during World War II, and Ambassador to Great Britain following the war. A "New York Times" editorial of April 24 states: "He has played a leading part in initiating and carrying through a whole series of great international projects, from the coordination of Lend-Lease to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. No one has been so closely identified with the European Recovery Program or its successor, the Mutual Security Administration, of which he is now the director. In dozens of difficult and delicate negotiations his tact and patience have reconciled apparently irreconcilable differences."

In having leading Psi Upsilon alumni of both parties in the presidential race, we close with the editorial words of the "New York Herald Tribune" of April 23, 1952: "We welcome Mr. Harriman to a race in which he may well show political talents equal to those he has displayed for the broader fields of public service."

the petition of The Sterix Club to become a chapter of Psi Upsilon, and referred it to the Chapters for ratification.

LeRoy J. Weed, Theta '01, President of the Executive Council, will head a large delegation consisting of the officers and members of the Executive Council, and leading alumni of the Fraternity from all parts of the country. They will install the Theta Epsilon, and all Brothers are invited to attend the installation and welcoming celebration of our newest chapter.

Only Human

By SIDNEY FIELDS

The Editors wish to thank Brother William K. Doggett, Delta '16, classmate of Brother Draper, for his help and the following comments:

"Brother Bill Draper, Delta '16, has not changed a bit over the years. In college he was friendly, human and well liked by everybody. He was always outstanding in his academic and extra curriculum activities. All of these qualities are evident in his tremendously interesting career.

"His life history has been written up by a great many people at different times but I think that Mr. Sidney Fields has come nearer to portraying the human Bill Draper we knew in college than anyone else. Because of his fine portrayal of Brother Draper, I have secured permission from the General Manager of "The New York Mirror," Mr. William N. Thomson, to reprint the story which was published in their Sunday edition of February 3."

Back in college William Henry Draper, Jr., paid all his bills with magic. He was a competent enough magician to earn from $20 to $50 a performance, and to become a member of The Society of American Magicians. He hasn't done much sleight of hand these past ten years, but he'll need all he ever knew, plus a lot of mental agility, for his new job.

A few weeks ago Republican Draper was appointed by Democrat Truman as Roving Ambassador to NATO, and chief representative of the Mutual Security Agency, which replaced the Marshall Plan. In effect his task is to bring U. S. defense in Europe beyond plan and conversation, and make it a fact. As the top U. S. civilian mouthpiece to NATO he is actually Mister America in Europe.

"The immediate job is to strengthen the economic supply lines to and within the North Atlantic Treaty nations," Draper said. "I have no troops to command. That's Ike's job. Mine is backing him up."

He may have been reluctant to accept this job. As a constant government trouble shooter he's neglected his own business these past ten years. But there was a big incentive to take it. His son, Lt. William H. Draper, III, is in Korea, and ran an infantry platoon until last Christmas, when he was made aide to Ninth Corps Commander, Gen. Willard Wyman.

"So I didn't have much choice," the Ambassador said. "My boy came out of Yale in June, 1950, and was in Harvard business school for three weeks when he was called back to service."

Romance in Work

We met on the Queen Mary when Draper sailed for Europe and his new job, with his pretty wife, Eunice, daughter of a retired West Point general. She was a WAC captain and worked for Draper when he was putting together Germany's shattered post-war economy as economic adviser to Gen. Lucius Clay. His first wife died. Besides his son, he has two daughters and three grandchildren.

Draper describes himself as "one of those terrible things—an investment banker." He's a soldier and a statesman too. Tall, black-browed and 57, with a smile that is honestly engaging, Draper is the son of a New York dentist. At N.Y.U., where he won an A.B. and M.A. in economics, he was involved in football, track, and debating. He also managed the tennis team, the literary society, the dramatic association, and headed the student delegation on the Ford Peace Ship in 1915. Two years later he was a lieutenant in the army. He came out of World War I as a major.

After the war he began as an interviewer in the personnel division of National City Bank, switched to bookkeeping, and after a stretch as assistant treasurer of Bankers Trust he moved over to Dillon, Read & Co., where his boss was James V. Forrestal. Draper is now a vice-president on leave from Dillon, Read.

A member of the Reserve, he was called to active duty in 1940, requested combat, and took an infantry regiment to the Pacific, but was recalled to Washington, and ordered to handle war contract terminations. His other war jobs: Maj. Gen. and economic adviser to European theatre commander. Adviser to Sec. of State Marshall at Moscow Foreign Ministers Conference, in charge of U. S. Occupation policy in Germany and Japan. And Undersecretary of the Army.

"I quit a couple of years ago, and thought I'd get back to my private affairs," he said, "but I got the Long Island Rail Road tangle to unwind. Moved right out of Westchester to the Island so I could be a commuter myself."

One Mess to Another

He's credited with restoring public confidence in the L. I.; increasing its annual revenue by $4,000,000; executing the $6,000,000 safety program, and honestly telling Gov. Dewey the only way to untangle the whole mess was private operation under public ownership.

Before he was through with the Long Island both General Ike and W. Averell Harriman, head of the Mutual Security Agency, asked him to take his present post. He went over about four weeks ago to discuss it with Ike, and agreed to stay for a year.

In mid-February Draper digs in formally at the Lisbon meeting of NATO foreign ministers and the 36-man North Atlantic Council. At the meeting the Council structure will probably be revised, with just one deputy for each country. Chances are Draper will be the American Deputy.

He'll have to pump a lot of blood into the anemic body of NATO by speeding U. S. production to the troops, and get other countries to contribute their own arms production.

"There are great problems involved in any peacetime alliance of twelve sovereign nations," he said, "especially in developing an unprecedented common defense force. Differing points of view of different nations, and former enemies, must be solved. But compare the picture today with that a year ago and the progress is almost unbelievable."

Yet to come are the big headaches. But then, it's been said that Draper has a head for aches. In this case, the results he produces may well determine our survival.

"The basic objective of my job," he said, with humility, "in fact the objective of the whole American effort in NATO, is to deter aggression and prevent World War III."

FRANK L. HOWLEY APPOINTED VICE CHANCELLOR OF NEW YORK UNIVERSITY

BRIGADIER GENERAL FRANK L. HOWLEY, Delta '25, distinguished post-war military governor of Berlin, has been appointed Vice-Chancellor for New York University development, and began his new duties March 1.

During the perilous Russian blockade of Berlin and the American airlift from June, 1948, to May, 1949, which saved Berlin from paralysis and starvation, General Howley earned the undying gratitude of the Germans and the undying hatred of the Russians.

Brother Howley is holder of the United States Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Honor, highest French award, for establishing the allied command in Berlin, for his courageous stand against overwhelming odds, for bringing the first food into Paris after the liberation, and for other acts of military and administrative bravery and skill before and after the armistice.

He also was awarded the Croix de Guerre (with three palms), the Belgian Military Cross, First Class, U. S. Legion of Merit, and four campaign battle stars.

Born February 4, 1903 in Hampton, N.J., Brother Howley was graduated from South Side high school in Newark in 1921, attended New York University School of Commerce for two years, transferred to the University College of Arts and Science, and received his B.S. in economics in 1925.

As a reserve captain, he was called to active duty in 1940 to head the Rising Sun School of Aeronautics near Philadelphia. In 1941 he went to the Cavalry School at Fort Riley, Kansas, to teach horse tactics and serve as plans and training officer. He became executive officer of the Third Cavalry in 1943 and helped convert it from a horse unit to a mechanized one.

His later renowned service in Berlin started with a motorcycle accident in Louisiana maneuvers. His back was broken and he was detached from his unit until recovery. Then he was sent to military government schools at Camp Custer, Michigan, and in Cleveland.

Then a lieutenant colonel, he went to

Frank L. Howley, Delta '25, Formerly Military Governor of Berlin, now Vice-Chancellor of New York University.

England as director of the officers' division of a military government unit destined for France. His detachment landed in France four days after the Normandy invasion and set up the first allied government of Cherbourg.

In 1944, as commanding officer of the largest military government unit ever assembled, he established military rule in Paris. He later took the first ground party across the Elbe river into Berlin and became deputy commandant of the Allied Kommandatura in July 1945. From December, 1947 until September, 1949, when the U. S. State Department assumed control, he was commandant.

His firm and fearless conduct of American affairs with Russia was a constant thorn in the Russian side. In July 1945, he was promoted to brigadier general. During the fateful air lift he was responsible for all ground operations and all negotiations with Russian commanders.

When Berlin residents voted in December 1948 for a new city government in the face of Communist intimidation, General Howley alerted American troops. The Russians didn't make a move, but their papers said American bayonets drove Berliners to the polls. Howley retorted that they had chosen freedom over totalitarianism.

He called the Russian bluff many times, but his most effective counter-blow was his six-point plan of December 1949 for restoring Berlin harmony. He proposed that Russia lift the blockade, resume four-power control, repudiate direct support of the Communist minority claim for political domination, drop anti-American propaganda, and cease kidnapping non-Communists.

Until the Kommandatura was boycotted by the Russians in July 1948, Howley estimates he spent 1,500 hours in inter-allied conferences and signed more than 1,300 documents for the administration of Berlin, from school curricula to the operation of street cars.

He worked closely with his French and British associates. He founded the Free University of Berlin in 1948, continued his long-time interest in horsemanship, and impressed his subordinates with his team spirit. He competed in international horse jumping events in Luzerne in 1946 and in Aachen in 1947, and founded the American Riding Association in Berlin in 1947.

General Howley married Edith Jenkins Cadwallader in 1934. They have four children, Dennis, 15, Peter, 11, William, 10, and Frances, 8, all of whom were in Berlin during the blockade. They live at Pomona Hill Farm, West Chester, Pennsylvania, but will move next summer to New York City.

He is the author of "Berlin Command," a 1950 book published by Putnam, and numerous articles, including the 1949 series in Colliers on "My Four Years' War with the Reds." Since 1949, he has been writing and lecturing on his experiences in Germany.

He is a member of the Philadelphia Racquet Club, Cricket Club, and West Chester Country Club, and Alpha Kappa Psi (professional commerce fraternity).

PSI UPSILON HEADQUARTERS MOVING

AT ABOUT THE DATE when subscribers receive this issue of THE DIAMOND, the Executive Council and the Alumni Association of Psi Upsilon will remove from their present location in the Graybar Building to more commodious and attractive offices on the fourth floor of the Columbia University Club, at 4 West 43rd Street, New York 18, N.Y., just west of Fifth Avenue.

The Executive Council and DIAMOND offices have been at 420 Lexington Avenue, New York City, since 1930, when the first small central office was opened there, and in Room 510 in that building since 1934. The one-room office has also housed the activities of the Alumni Association of Psi Upsilon since its inception in 1932, while the Fraternity Archives have, in recent years, been stored in an adjoining stockroom.

All of the official activities of the Fraternity will be continued in the new offices.

THE FOURTEEN POWER CONFERENCE WITH THE THETA

By W. P. DELANEY, JR., Theta '52, AND LESLIE F. COUCH, Theta '52

ON the week-end of April 4, 5, and 6, the Theta played host to an informal gathering of representatives of the New York and New England Chapters of the Fraternity. To all intents and purposes this conference has replaced the old Seven-Power Conference. The reason for this was a feeling among many undergraduates that one of the main benefits to be derived from a national fraternity is informal association among the members of the various Chapters. As the Seven-Power Conference was based so largely on artificial (from the fraternities' point of view) boundaries and the New England Chapters had expressed an interest in enlarging it, we felt that it would be of advantage to all concerned to extend it as much as possible. So prevalent was this view among the delegates present that the possibility was discussed of the Chapter playing host next year throwing the doors open to all interested in attending, extending a special invitation to the Canadian Chapters.

Here we would like to emphasize, specially for the benefit of the Western Chapters, that the conference is in no way the beginning of a rival to the National Convention and that we took every effort to prevent even the chance of development of a bloc. We did have long meetings in both the morning and afternoon on Saturday but we took no votes and formulated no plans of action. The meetings were limited strictly to the discussion of common problems and the solutions the various Chapters had found.

The greater part of the discussion during the meetings was devoted to the discussion of problems relating to rushing, pledging, hell-week, initiation and other ritual. When the question of deferred rushing came up, while it was felt that a fraternity with a reputation like Psi U's did not stand to benefit from a deferment, it was also found that there was little a single fraternity could do about it. Also concerning rushing there was also some talk of having a formal pledging ceremony.

Hell-week was one of the most discussed topics. Many Chapters feel that the old-fashioned hell-week is a thing of the past. Some Chapters (e.g. the Chi and the Theta) have substituted a plan of house improvement for it. Both these Chapters felt that the plan was too new to call it an unqualified success but so far the results are encouraging. However there were many Chapters represented that felt that in giving up the traditional hell-week we gave up an integral part of the fraternity. Only time will tell.

Another subject upon which we dwelt was the variation in the initiation procedure. While all chapters follow the ritual specified in the Constitution many have added ceremonies preceding this. Space would not permit a listing of the various additions but there is a ritual committee of the National Fraternity working on this now and their report will be much more complete than ours could be. In an attempt to show the assembled delegates the ritual followed by the Theta we initiated Louis W. Booth, Henry A. Coons and Ian G. MacDonald.

The problem of fraternities in general was discussed along with the public relations value of participating in community activities. It seemed to be the opinion of those present that each Chapter should do all in its power to improve the position of fraternities in the eyes of the public.

Alumni relations were also discussed; it was brought out that all Chapters would like to improve alumni relations but had difficulty keeping in touch with local alumni of that particular Chapter and found it almost impossible to keep track of the alumni of others Chapters living in the area. It is a subject of some concern to the undergraduates that the alumni do not seem to feel free to drop in at the various Chapter Houses. We feel that a Psi U is welcome at any of the Chapter Houses.

The blackest side of the fraternity picture from the undergraduate point of view is, of course, financial. This was discussed at some length and some ideas brought forth but as in the past, if any major improvements are to be made to the Chapter Houses or the furniture kept in repair, the burden must fall on the alumni. We must admit that we all were somewhat envious of the Chi chapter in which the alumni have organized so they are able to have all House furnishings renovated or replaced every five years.

At the banquet held on Saturday night the treasurer of the Theta trustees expressed hope that in the future the trustees of the various Chapters could come together in similar meetings to discuss and perhaps solve some of their difficulties.

The gathering's official business was brought to a close by an address by Dr. Carter Davidson, President of Union College. As President of the College where Psi U was founded, Dr. Davidson considered some of the purposes and values that prompted the founding of the Fraternity and their place in modern America. He also took note of some of the contributions made by Psi U's to Union College.

Although we attempted to reach no conclusions it was the feeling of the delegates that this type of informal gathering of Brothers and its resulting social intercourse did much to make us "true friends and brothers."

ELMIRA ALUMNI MEET

The annual dinner meeting of the Psi Upsilon Association of Elmira, New York, was held on December 28, 1951, at the Elmira City Club, with about forty-five active and alumni Brothers from Elmira, Corning, Waverly and Seneca Falls in attendance. Chapters represented included the Theta, Gamma, Zeta, Psi, Xi, Upsilon, Iota, Pi, Chi, Eta, Tau and Omicron.

Several active Brothers gave reports of present activities at their particular Chapter Houses and Brother William W. Gregg, Gamma '92, discussed life at Amherst College before the turn of the century. Fraternity conditions at Amherst today were analyzed by Brother Richard Denton, '43.

Dr. Earle L. Miller, Eta '09, was named president for 1952, succeeding James W. Perry, Tau '24, and Boyd McDowell, II, Pi '47, was elected secretary, succeeding Harland Wheadon, Tau '38.

Delta Alumni Hold Annual Meeting

The annual meeting and dinner of the Delta Corporation, the Delta Chapter's alumni body, was held at the Lotos Club in New York City on May 1. Forty-two Brothers attended, including seven from the active Chapter, and representing delegations from 1896 to 1955, a span of sixty years.

The first hour or so was spent around the bar renewing old friendships. The business meeting followed a fine dinner.

Brother C. L. Von Agloffstein, Delta '12, the President of the Delta Corporation, regretfully announced the resignation of Brother George Walton, '26, from the Board of Directors. Brother Walton felt that the growing pressure of increasing business responsibilities had reached a point that made this decision necessary. We will all miss Brother Walton's help. He has served actively in the affairs of the Chapter from the time of his graduation until the present. It was largely through his efforts that the Chapter House was maintained throughout the war years. Brother Robert P. Hughes reviewed much of the fine work Brother Walton had done over the years.

Brother Edward Ingram, '36, was elected to fill the unexpired directorship.

The meeting broke up officially at nine-thirty, but unofficially continued until late into the night.

Letters to the Editors

Providence 12, Rhode Island
May 8, 1952

In your March issue, which I have been looking at this afternoon, I notice your record of the death of Dr. Mervyn St. Clair Shaw, Brown 1906. You may care to know that our records give his death as January 25, 1950.

While I am writing, let me say once again how much I appreciate the opportunity of seeing your fine magazine and thank you for your willingness to exchange. I thought you handled that pickup on the old Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper in a very interesting fashion.

Sincerely
W. CHESLEY WORTHINGTON
Managing-Editor

Chicago
May 5, 1952

I wish to compliment your splendid March, 1952 issue of THE DIAMOND. However, as the writer of the Chicago Founders' Day report I find that somewhere between Roger Barrett's office and your printer the name of Harold J. Nutting, Phi '24, Vice-President and General Manager of Marshall Field & Company, was omitted as one of the listed guests at the speaker's table. I did not omit his name yet my personal regret and embarrassment is profound. I have written him accordingly.

Therefore, may I request that your permanent file be now corrected so that if that story is carried in any future annals Brother Nutting's name will appear as I wrote it—"Harold J. Nutting, Phi '24, Vice-President and General Manager of Marshall Field & Company and civic leader," just following the listing of Carleton Blunt, Zeta '26. Brother Nutting is a loyal and distinguished member of our fraternity, and despite great business demands, he is a trustee of the Phi chapter.

Fraternally yours,
STEPHEN A. WILSON, Omicron '20

How much brighter and better—this current DIAMOND! You have given it a high polish and before you get through it will glitter still more. It's a tremendous improvement—format, typeface et al. It makes you want to read it—which after all is the objective of a publication.

Just a word to let you know that THE DIAMOND appears to me to be greatly improved in various ways, especially in the wide-spread variety you are offering.

It is a pleasure to receive and to read our magazine and I send you my warm thanks for your efforts and success.

I would like to comment on the new layout of the cover for the March issue. It is different, and I think a welcome change from the cover that has been used for the past many years.

This is just a line to express the appreciation of the Epsilon chapter and the Psi U alumni around San Francisco Bay of the fine coverage of THE DIAMOND of Psi Upsilon in connection with the approaching convention, history of the Chapter, and so forth. We are delighted, too, that you were able to include Brother Ham as the personality of the month. The other articles, of course, are full of interest.

Brother Harris [Hood M. Harris, Epsilon, '44], who sent the material from Berkeley, is receiving congratulations from this end of the line.

Yours in the Bonds,

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PRESENTS KEYS

According to annual custom, the Alumni Association of Psi Upsilon is presenting Psi Upsilon Alumni keys to the Juniors elected by their Chapters as outstanding. These Juniors are the only undergraduates who may wear the key, or watch chain charm, its use being otherwise restricted to alumni.

The Alumni Association also undertakes to reimburse for the cost of their keys Psi Upsilon undergraduates who are elected to Phi Beta Kappa, Tau Beta Pi or Sigma Xi.

The following lists are incomplete, as some Chapters have not yet sent in their elections at the time of going to press. Complete lists will appear in the Annual Report of the Alumni Association which will be mailed to all Psi Upsilon alumni for whom we have addresses.

Outstanding Juniors for College Year 1951-52

THE CHAPTERS SPEAK

DELTA New York University

Since the appearance of the last DIAMOND the ranks of the Delta have been swelled by nine new brothers who have found their way quickly into House and school activities. Brothers Sedlack, Scudder, A. Elliot, and Ruggiero are in the Glee Club, and Brother Werner is the new Corresponding Secretary for the Chapter. Brother Scudder is the new Assistant Steward and Brother Elliot the new Social Chairman. Pledge Jim Tansey is on the varsity Football team. Of the older Brothers, Ray Matelli is the Cadet Colonel of the Army R.O.T.C. at the University. This is the third time in four years that Psi U has had this honor. Ralph Muschett is on the Regimental Staff and Charles Muller is a Company Commander. Lee Murray is the highest ranking Junior in the Corps. Brother Matelli was awarded the Infantry Cadet Officer Medal and a Varsity letter for the rifle team. Brother Muschett is the Director of Athletics for the IFC and Lee Murray is an associate editor of Quadrangle, the engineering magazine. Brother Werner was elected the Chapter delegate to the National Convention in June. Their individual engineering honorary fraternities elected Brothers Frank Elliot and Arthur Griglak to membership. Brothers F. Elliot and Frad Backer are members of the Chapel Choir and Varsity Glee Club.

In late March the house participated in a competition of skits in the Freshman Follies, and came out first of all clubs and Fraternities entering and are the proud possessors of a new cup for a skit in a barbership setting complete with two quartets. In this line, the House Softball team is doing quite well in the intramurals.

The Brothers who know how indifferent and sometimes hostile student opinion has been towards fraternities at the Heights will be glad to hear that in the recent elections the men supported by the fraternities staged an almost clean sweep and we hope that no more "Headline Hogs" will plague us. Brother David Mitchell was elected Junior N.S.A. delegate and seems to have the road to the Presidency of Student Council open next year. He was also elected Treasurer of the regional

N.S.A. by that group. Brothers Murray and Muschett have been appointed to special committees of Student Council.

A distinguished alumni, Brother Frank Howley, Delta '25, whom we have seen quite a bit of lately since his return from Army service as a Brigadier General in Germany, has been appointed a Vice-Chancellor of the University and we wish him luck in this difficult position. We had Gen. Howley at the house for a few hours after our recent Army field day.

The annual Delta Dinner was held at the Lotus Club on May 1 where seven brothers from the active Chapter enjoyed the hospitality of the alumni, and met again many of the older Brothers we seldom have a chance to see. On that night, also, Brother Orrin S. Wightman was awarded a plaque for distinguished and meritorious service to medicine and the New York Academy of Medicine by that group, a great honor for this good Psi U.

The Delta wishes to thank the hosts from the Theta for the recent 14-Power Conference and hopes that this successful gathering will be held annually.

In the connubial bliss department, Brother Bill Axon and Don Limmer and Charles Mach have surrendered their freedom, while Brothers Al Ruggiero and Art Margelot have become engaged. Bouncing baby boys have arrived at the homes of Brothers Jim Sharpe, Roy Andersen, and Bill Kneer and the stork is headed for Doug Kinnes' soon.

As this semester draws to a close we can look back upon a successful year at the Heights, especially in the scholastic and extra-curricular fields where the Psi U's have raised their position greatly. Looking to the future, we have elections coming up next week for the next term, and a start on rushing for the next year in the form of two potential pledges. However, the loss of eight seniors will leave the house a big gap to fill in September and if any of our alumni know of any Psi U material coming to New York University next year, we would appreciate it if they would write the House so we can rush them then.

ZETA Dartmouth College

Once again the Zeta enjoyed a wonderful spring—with the House prominent in campus affairs; the tremendous success of Green Key Weekend; and weather unprecedented in New England.

The success of this spring has been to a great extent a tribute to the enthusiasm and hard work of our present officers. As is the custom here, new officers are elected in late March to serve until January when they are then succeeded by a second set of officers. This March the gavel was handed over to a junior, Ed Boyle, who succeeds the very able Dave Larsen. Ed, a very popular man and a tireless worker, is Past President of the Junior Class and V.P. of his class next year. As a member of the Undergraduate Council he is chairman of the Academic Committee which is now presenting a proposed honor system to the student body. Ed's ability is not solely administrative, as he is a three sport man—football, squash and tennis. Sophomore Jim Adams has been chosen to assume the duties of associate editor for THE DIAMOND next year.

The vice-Presidency has been filled by Frank Casalvieri, who also doubles as an efficient house manager. The jobs of recording secretary and corresponding secretary have gone to sophomore Ned Hoban and junior Tim Thomas respectively, both very hard workers.

The Zeta takes great pleasure at this time in announcing the formal initiation of David Byers Metz, of New Britain, Conn., and Loomis Preparatory School, and Charles Enos Tayntor, also of New Britain, who prepped at Gunnery. Both of these men have already exhibited a tremendous interest in various House activities, and I am sure will add a great deal to the sophomore delegation.

The senior societies recently tapped at Dartmouth and we find Psi U well represented. Brothers Thim, Learnard, Bloomer, Gabianelli, Fenton, Casalvieri, and Florence joined the Dragon. Brother Sandy Learnard was subsequently elected to head that organization and accordingly joined Brothers' Leavens and Boyle on the U.C.C. (Undergraduate Council). Brothers McCarthy and Henderson proceeded to become members of Sphinx while Leavens, Simpson, and Boyle joined Casque and Gauntlet. Incidentally it can be seen that the variety of interests in Zeta is constantly expanding as recently elected Dartmouth Outing Club President Brother Leavens is the first active D.O.C. man to be a member of Psi U.

Dartmouth's newest sport, Rugby, finds a strong Zeta nucleus in Brothers Smith, Descombes, Metz, Gabianelli, McCarthy and MacKibben as does the golf team with Jack Boyle and Phil Fast playing outstanding games.

On the intramural side of the ledger we have been quite fortunate. Under the tutelage of Brother Thim as athletic manager the squash squad reached the finals, and the volleyball and tennis teams the semi-finals, to say nothing of an upset victory in the College Bridge Championships engineered by Brothers Florence and Fisher. Our softball team has recently won the league and by so doing has firmly secured second place for Zeta in the IF competition. If our strong softball squad goes off, as expected, to the college championship, we will wrest the winner's laurels from AD and Psi U will be the proud holder of the IF special events crown.

The renovation of the House is slowly materializing (with new drapes, rugs, curtains etc.) and everyone was justly proud of its appearance over the big Green Key Weekend. With balmy weather and exotic females, the Brothers of Zeta unanimously agreed that this years Green Key was the finest weekend seen on the Hanover Plain for many years.

We take this chance to advise the members of Psi Upsilon of our rushing chairman's name and address in the hope that you will let us know of any Dartmouth student who would be promising Psi U material: Bill McCarthy, Boyce Ave., Ruxton, Maryland.

We now give a salute to the graduating seniors at Zeta and the rest of the members leaving their active positions in Psi U throughout the country.

LAMBDA Columbia University

Climaxing a very successful spring semester, the Lambda elected its new officers to assume the positions so ably filled by this term's officers. Elected as President was Brother Bill Owen, '53, who is from the Bronx. He will be assisted by Brother Henry Donaghy, '53, as Vice-President, who also serves as Rushing Chairman. Brother Walter Bossert, '54, is the new Recording Secretary and Brother Ed Hawxhurst, '54, takes over the important task of Treasurer. Brother V. Stanley Davis, '53, of Kingston, Ontario, was this year's recipient of the Psi Upsilon Junior Key.

On Wednesday May 14, Pledges Edward Francel and Richard Korsak were initiated into the bonds of Psi Upsilon. Brother Francel recently won his freshman numerals on the Lion cub track team.

On the athletic scene our intramural softball team, sparked by pitcher Ed Hawxhurst, emblazoned the name of Psi Upsilon on Columbia's South Field by winning the Alpha League softball championship with a 5-1 record. Out of the seventeen campus fraternities, the Psi U teams, captained by Brother Robert Gleckler, '53, are in third place in the closely contested race for the coveted Dean Hawks Cup, given each year for outstanding performance in inter-fraternity sports.

The Lambda, holding several functions in conjunction with the near-by Delta Chapter, enjoyed a full social program under the leadership of Social Chairman Donaghy. The highlight of the social scene was the annual Alumni Get-together, held in the Phi U suite, which was a tremendous success. We look forward to a much closer bond with our alumni in the future.

The Lambda is very proud of its representation at the recent 14-Power Conference held at the Theta. Over one-third of the Chapter attended, the largest proportional representation with the exception of the Theta itself. To the National Convention of Psi Upsilon at the University of California this summer, we are sending Brothers Henry Donaghy and George Borwicz, '53.

One of the most outstanding accomplishments of the Lambda this quarter has been the winning of the Pamphratia Spring Carnival Cup for the best record in selling chances during the Columbia Inter-fraternity Council's annual Ford raffle. The Chapter broke the all-time record by selling $501 worth of chances—an average of over $20 per brother. Much credit for this achievement goes to Brother Fred Tagg, '55, Raffle Chairman, who sold over $100 worth of chances himself. We would like to take this chance to thank the chapters for their co-operation in the Lambda's own raffle, just recently conducted. Through their assistance we were able to make a net profit of $225, which will be used for the improvement of the Chapter's quarters.

In conclusion, the Lambda extends a warm invitation to all Psi U's to stop at our suite, 704 Hartley Hall, at any time during the coming school years.

KAPPA

Bowdoin College

The Kappa Chapter looks back with just pride to its long list of accomplishments and achievements this past year. Athletically we were even stronger than usual, with our upperclass representatives augmented by a freshman delegation that proved itself to be one of the strongest and most capable in years. Psi U leadership continued through the Spring season, with Rogers Johnson, '52, elected captain of the tennis team, and Dave Iszard, '52, and John Williams, '52, among the top-seeded men. Versatile Fred Fleming, '53, retained his first string position on the baseball team, and four of our freshmen show promise for the future in this sport. We were very well represented on the varsity and JV golf teams, with Doug Morton, Clark George, Pete Hetherington, and John North, all of the class of '54, leading the way. Nate Cushman and Lou Benoit are our JV racquetmen. We are strong contenders for the total point cup for varsity participation, which will be awarded at the end of the year.

In the extra-curricular field Psi U really moved ahead. We have key men placed in the Quill and the Orient, with numerous men moving up the ladder, and the Glee Club boasts six Brothers. The interest in singing rose to tremendous heights this year, and culminated in a stunning victory for the Kappa in the Interfraternity Singing Competition, our first since the contest began eighteen years ago. The House was led by Allen Hetherington, '54, who was recently elected to the Meddie-bempsters, the college double quartet, and Warf Martin, '52, served as Concert Manager. Professor Frederic E. T. Tillotson, Bowdoin College Glee Club Director, quoted in the Orient, said, "This event will be the talk of the campus for many years to come."

Psi U leadership is further evidenced by the fact that two of the Brothers serve in the top elective positions of the sophomore class, and that two of our freshman Brothers were Captains of the fledgling football and basketball teams. Senior John Slocum, now House President, was President of the College Union Committee this past year. And during the year, Brothers Carson, '53, Cousins, '54, and Hetherington, '54, were all prizewinners in Public Speaking Contests held in the college auditoriums.

Socially we have been very active, as usual. Our new Marine Room Bar has become one of the most popular gathering places on campus during House Parties, and the Entertainment Committee, under Brothers Martin, '52, and Hall, '52, has worked hard and successfully in organizing our House festivities for the various weekends. We are looking forward now to Ivy, which falls this year on May 16, and it promises to be one of the finest weekends of the year.

The Literary Committee published the Conventions of

In this month of our Convention with the Epsilon Chapter, the 110th Convention, held in the 119th year of Psi Upsilon, it is interesting to cast a backward glance at Conventions in our past. Space permits the reproduction here of only two photographs of such assemblages. A pictorial panorama of our Conventions will be found in the Annals of Psi Upsilon, from which these two pictures are taken.

The group at the top were those attending the Convention of 1875 with the Kappa, seventy-seven years ago. The lower photograph shows the Convention with the Iota in 1910, thirty-five years later and forty-two years ago.

Kappa Owl this spring, and mailed copies of it to all our alumni, in an attempt to give them an idea of the excellent state of the House. The Committee spent a lot of time on the paper, and the results were greeted with enthusiasm by the Brothers. In regard to House scholarship, a quote from the Owl describes that particular difficulty very well: "The scholastic standing of the Kappa is again low, but it is encouraging to note that it is no longer unfashionable to study, and it is hoped that the change in attitude will soon produce a concrete improvement in grades."

Dave McGoldrick, '53, and Dick Hall, '52, past president of the chapter, were recently voted house awards as the most popular members of their respective delegations, and Martin Mitchell, '54, was elected House Steward for the coming year.

In many ways we may feel satisfied with our achievements of this past year, and we do look with just pride upon them. But the finest note of the year is the unity and real fraternal feeling engendered by our participation in campus activities, as a member of the college community, and in House activities, as a member of a fraternity group. We may look with certainty toward future success as individuals, and even more importantly, as a unified fraternal whole.

ALLEN HETHERINGTON, JR.
Associate Editor

XI Wesleyan University

With the advent of spring, Xi-men's thoughts have turned toward outdoor activities. Representing the house on the varsity Track Squad are John Remensnyder, Donn Maurer, Bob Muir, Bob Hadley, and Bill Ellis, number one dash-man for Wesleyan. Holding down positions on the Baseball team are Bruce Goddin and Homer Eckerson. The Xi has fared well in the "Bush" (Interfraternity) League, splashing away to an easy victory in the Interfraternity Swimming Meet. Due to unforeseen circumstances, we were eliminated in the semi-finals of the Hoop Contest, but hope to regain our standing by means of a hard-hitting softball club, which, at this writing, occupies second place in the League.

Scholastically speaking, we are doing quite well, spurred on by receiving the Downey Cup for Scholastic Improvement.

In the extracurricular field, the house was recently awarded a "Blood Cup" for having the greatest percentage of donors represented in the campus blood drive. Despite our vocal shortcomings, the Psi U Warblers entered the Inter-fraternity Sing Contest, meeting with a certain limited success in their brave attempt at "Drink to me only with thine eyes." It was with great pleasure, however, that we learned of the election of Bill Hicks '52, prominent in extracurricular activities, to a place in "Who's Who in American Colleges."

The Chapter was able to initiate another freshman, Bob Bowman, who exceeded the college-required 75 average for all students desiring to become members of a fraternity. At the same time, looking forward to a profitable season, the chapter elected next year's Rushing Co-Chairmen, Stebbins Nelson and Cochrane Chase.

It is with a feeling of regret that we announce Professor Paul H. (Pete) Curts' leaving this year. Pete (Beta '05) has acted in the capacity of Financial Adviser for the Chapter during the last twenty-five years. We of the Xi are deeply indebted to him for his assistance in helping solve any and all problems (financial and otherwise) that have occurred in the time he has been here. After his retirement this year, Professor Malcolm Stearns will take over the position.

IOTA

Kenyon College

As this is being written, most of the Brothers are shaking off the effects of a very successful Spring Dance weekend. This just-finished Dance Weekend was a noteworthy occasion for all of Kenyon, but it was especially important to the Iota as it marked the opening of our new basement bar room.

This room, formerly used only for storage purposes, has been converted into a very serviceable room primarily through the efforts of Brothers Guandolo, Paul, Groves, Dunn and Lothringer. They are to be commended for having kept the expenses to a surprisingly low point, while installing a tile floor, indirect lighting, and acquiring the necessary furniture to complete the room. It has already been proved that the addition of this new room saves much of the wear and tear on the upper parlors of the Division.

On March 1, in a very impressive ceremony, the following new Brothers were initiated into the Fraternity: Allen Keith Gibbs, Joseph Goodwin Hubbell, II, David Randal Sexsmith, and Paul Basil Wolfe. Shortly afterward, John David Foulke, V. Philippe Kondratief, III, Cameron H. Sanders, Jr., and Gamber F. Tegtmeier, all of the Class of '55, were pledged by the Iota. Brother Hubbell, it might be added is the son of Robert G. Hubbell, Iota '28, and the grandson of the late Joseph Goodwin Hubbell, Mu '98.

The Chapter is now looking forward to Commencement Weekend, June 6 through 9. Aside from the fact that it is a highlight of the College year, the Iota is expecting to welcome a good number of its Alumni.

We have, incidentally, received visits from several of the Brethren during the past months. Doug Downey, '51, was here for a few days, as were Stan Henning, '53, and Bill Briggs, '52. Bill is studying now at Waynesburg College in preparation for the Presbyterian Ministry. Dr. Maxwell B. Long, '05, was here for Kenyon Day; Colonel Thomas L. Ferenbaugh, '05, has made a number of trips to Kenyon in the past months, while Robert "Bud" Cless, '40, has found time to spend a few minutes with Active Brethren. We enjoy these visits, and wish more of our alumni could find the time to come back to Gambier and see us.

JOHN D. HALLENBERG
Associate Editor

PHI University of Michigan

The spring semester has been accompanied by a variety of activities. Initiation was held a couple of weeks before spring vacation. The banquet held at the House following formal initiation was topped off with a fine address by a distinguished Psi U, George G. Brown, Delta '17, Dean of the Engineering School at Michigan.

Just following vacation the members of the Phi had an opportunity to see and hear one of the most distinguished of all Psi U's, Robert A. Taft, Beta '10. The occasion was a campaign speech delivered at Hill Auditorium, here on the campus. Though Senator Taft's rigorous campaign schedule did not permit him to visit the Chapter House, a large block of seats was reserved for members of the Phi by the Young Republicans who held a banquet in his honor.

Michigras, a biennial all campus charity carnival, was held recently. We were glad to see that our booth was one of the top ones in the amount of money taken in. For this, special credit goes to David Bogle, Iota '51, who is now doing graduate work at the University. He volunteered many hours of work and contributed much enthusiasm to the project.

The same weekend as Michigras four of our members were initiated into Kappa Beta. This year Brother Dennis M. Ryan is President of that organization. One of the Brothers just initiated into Kappa Beta Phi was a few days previously initiated into Phi Beta Kappa. To our knowledge this is the first time such an event has occurred in the Phi.

The next event on the social calendar was Mothers' Weekend, and a grand success it was. After an informal buffet lunch at the House, the mothers were shown the House and the campus. Later in the afternoon we had a party centering around the television broadcast of the Kentucky Derby. We had a banquet at the House and then all attended the all-Wagner concert of the May Festival, an annual music festival held here at Michigan in the first week of May. That night the members moved out of the House and it was turned over to the mothers. Following Sunday dinner the mothers left for home.

Our spring pledge formal was also a gay success. Once again the formal dinner and dance were held at the Chapter House. Bill Fleckenstien, our Social Chairman, did a fine job on this, as well as our many other activities this semester.

The last weeks of the semester were filled out with the Interfraternity Council Ball, at which Ralph Flannigan played. We also gave our annual faculty tea.

We would like to extend a warm invitation to all Psi U's passing or residing near Ann Arbor to visit the Phi.

DONALD NELSON
Associate Editor

OMEGA University of Chicago

The Omega can look back on the past year with a feeling of satisfaction—it has indeed been a year of success for our chapter. Everything from the actual process of running the House to all the outside activity has been highly gratifying in its results.

Financially speaking, the House is as stable as ever, due to the fine work of the Treasurer, John Scandalios, and Jim Philon, head of the commissary. Brother Philon has kept up his policy of good meals at low cost to the great benefit of the Chapter. The other officers during the year have worked hard to keep our chapter on the top at Chicago—Presidents John Landor and Ray Busch have been the co-ordinating forces behind our successful endeavors.

Social activity at the Omega has been one of our major improvements during the year—the social chairmen have organized the parties and other social events much better than at any time in the recent past with the resultant great improvement in their quality. The rest of the Chapter has also shown commendable activity in this regard. As usual, the annual Hard Times Party was the biggest Omega party of the year, with the Inter-Fraternity Ball as the major inter-fraternity undertaking. Another feather in our cap was the election of our candidate as Queen of the I-F Ball. Also a large affair was our yearly Two-Way Formal with the Alpha Deltas—"a good time was had by all."

Athletics is another paragraph in the Omega success story—the intramural teams from the house have won the swimming, basketball, and track crowns, and have taken second in touchball and volleyball.

The winning of the annual intramural track meet typifies the spirit shown by the Chapter during the year. Not finding ourselves loaded with outstanding trackmen, we turned out en masse and won the meet fifty to forty-four the next closest rival. Twenty-six of our points were scored on third, fourth, and fifth placings by fifteen men—certainly an excellent showing of House co-operation—such spirit now has us running neck and neck with the DU's for the Intramural Trophy. With twenty-one actives and pledges on varsity teams we are almost surely a cinch for the Varsity Cup. What more can we ask?

With the Inter-Fraternity Sing coming up in June we are busy planning the big yearly reunion with the alumni, most distinguished of whom this year will be A. A. Stagg, Beta '88. We should win the Quantity Cup this year with the large number expected to return to see the "grand old man."

As good as this year has been, next year should be as good or better. Due to the efforts of the rushing chairmen, Gene Anderson and Chuck Lindell, we have initiated four men and pledged sixteen others. With this group to more than take up the slack left by graduation and the draft, the Omega is sure to hold its high position on campus.

CHARLES C. MESSER
Associate Editor

PI Syracuse University

The end of the spring semester finds the Pi in pretty good shape. The old officers have all done a splendid job and now are ready to sit back on their Alumni Laurels. We have initiated a fine group of men and pledged six more to take their place. This new pledge class seems to follow the trend this year in that they are all city men. New officers have been elected, and now the sage old "alumni" shake their hoary heads and wonder how the next year will be.

Of course one of the bigger jobs, other than that of the approaching finals, is the summer rushing program. To this end, if any of you men know of boys coming to Syracuse next year, please contact Donald Carpenter at Pittsfield, Mass. If Don can do the good job that was done last year, we hope to again have as good a pledge class.

Those newly elected to carry the Pi through the next school semester are: Karl Malloy, President; Don Carpenter 1st Vice-President; Jack Forgette, 2nd Vice-President; Dave Glass, 3rd Vice-President; and Pete Ainslie, Secretary. Don occupies a double post next year since he is the new Steward and House Manager.

In sports, there is little change. There are still representatives of the Pi on the football field, track cinders, and the new addition of the first string first baseman, Don Carpenter. Bob Mandeville has discovered that the golf team is not so dead, and so in his frosh year he is the first man of the golf team. Don Shupe has found that the hurdles are his specialty. Brothers Leberman and Brenneman have won their letters for outstanding play on the football team. Herb Breckheimer has won his letter as the crew commodore.

Scholastic-wise, we are sure that we are going to hold our own, and are aiming for a noticeable improvement. The men that made the Dean's last semester, numbering six, are all notching their sights for the next semester and we hope to have one or two more additions in the "2.0 Club."

Probably the greatest improvement in the house is the addition of a new cook. Not only is she a great culinary artist, but she and her husband, both over from England just recently, have a willingness and a humor that makes them almost the central focal point for the whole House. Any of you that would like a real meal, complete with Yorkshire Pudding, should stop in the House at any time.

There is one sad note for the last semester. Our big Saint Bernard, the best known Psi U on the campus, discovered a new taste sensation contained in the skin of little boys. He spent a few days in the hoosegow because of his newly acquired taste, but we all felt that it would be the best thing to send him to another school where there were not so many kids. Now he has been shipped away to a neighboring school called Colgate, to spend what we all hope will be an enjoyable existence. Say hello to Psi if you should be going through Hamilton sometime.

CHI Cornell University

The first flush of warm weather in Ithaca has drawn the men of the Chi out onto the golf courses, the tennis courts, and the picnic grounds. Nevertheless the Chapter retains its high academic average and unequaled extra-curricular representation, making "Psi U in '52" more than just a catch-phrase at Cornell.

In Cornell spring athletics, the names of Psi U's again occupy prominent positions. Co-

Dwight Rienzi Robinson, President of the Chi Dwight, a Junior from Mendham, N.J., studying pre-medicine, has been one of the Chi's mainstays ever since he entered Cornell in 1949. This year he won letters both as a cheerleader and as a member of the university's fencing team. He has served as a freshman camp counselor and as chairman of this year's very successful Campus Charities Drive. For such outstanding work he has been elected a member of the Red Key Honorary Society. As an accomplished pianist, Dwight is widely known and greatly applauded. His combination of talent accomplishment, and personality made him the logical choice to lead the Chi in the coming term.

captain and catcher of the Big Red baseball team is Psi U Joe Eberhardt. He will be receiving the deliveries of Brothers Walt Knauss, Dick Coddington, and Rocco Calvo. The lacrosse team will rely heavily on Psi U's too, with Brothers Todd Kolb, Herb Bool, George Bogar, and "Clancy" Fauntleroy making up its nucleus. At this year's Penn Relays, Cornell's winning sprint relay team was sparked by Psi U's Stu Merz and Al Sebald. Also returned to action with the track team is hammer-thrower Porter Stone who was sidelined with an injury last season. Crewmen Warren Breckenridge and Al Spindler and tennis-player John Davidge round out the ample Psi U spring sports representation.

Equally good has been the House participation in student government groups, campus publications, and the various university clubs and service organizations. Brother Paul Reynolds, Vice-President of Cornell United Religious Work, Brother Dwight Robinson, Chairman of this year's Campus Charities Drive, and Brother Al Rose, Chairman of Cornell's Sub-Frosh Weekend, exemplify the Chapter's excellent work in university activities. On the staff of the Cornell Daily Sun, Managing Editor Fletch Hock, Business Manager Monte Morgan, sportswriters John Davidge and Fred Wood, and editorial-writer Phil Fleming have all contributed to the already-high prestige of Psi Upsilon.

One of the highlights of this spring's chapter activities was the initiation of twelve new men to the ranks of the Chi on April 5. They are: Brothers George Bosworth, Charles Brandt, James Brackbill, Robert Brokaw, John Davidge, Franz Euler, Robert Jones, Stephen Mitchell, Donald Oglesby, Irving Pettit, Frederick Rose, and Alan Spindler. This is the first class initiated into the Chapter under the new plan of substituting a purposeful project for an "informal" initiation, and the consensus of opinion is that the experiment has been a complete success. Already we are planning for next fall's rushing program, with our goal that of obtaining an equally fine pledge class. Brother Bruce Boehm, 12 Walnut Court, South Orange, N.J., is Rushing Chairman for the coming term, and we of the Chi would certainly appreciate your informing him of any prospective Psi U's who will be entering Cornell. It is largely through your cooperation and assistance that we are able to keep Psi U "on top" at Cornell.

Sharing the attention of the Chapter's business with initiation was the election of officers for next term. Those elected were President Dwight Robinson, 1st Vice-President Bruce Boehm, 2nd Vice-President Jim Price, Recording Secretary Charles Sherman, Corresponding Secretary Bob Neff, and Sergeant-at-arms Charlie Brandt. These men have already taken over their respective duties.

Remembering the adage about, "All work and no play . . ." the men of the Chi have found time to round out their personalities with a few well-planned parties during the spring term. Foremost among these was the annual spring Weekend, in which fifty of the Brothers and their dates participated. Included in the weekend was the 6th Annual Psi U Follies, a growing institution here at Cornell. This year's edition of that outstanding variety show was directed by Brother "Barney" Pyott, and featured all of the members of the House. Another exercise of the House's unity and talent was its entry into the Interfraternity Singing Contest. Brother Ken Merrill of the Cornell Men's Glee Club brought out the best in us, and the entire Chapter benefited from the opportunity to undertake such a group project.

Thus June finds the Chi at the end of a successful school year, with a record of outstanding performance and well-balanced participation behind it. We now turn our attention to the coming fall term, in an endeavor to maintain the name of Psi Upsilon at its present high level. We would like to remind all Brothers, that the hand of the Chi is always extended in welcome to any of you who are in the area.

BETA BETA

Trinity College

On Wednesday night, April sixteenth, the Beta Beta Chapter elected its officers for the coming year. Peter L. Winslow of Boston was elected President, replacing Bertrand Hopkins. Arthur H. Tildesley and Duncan C. Merriman were elected First and Second Vice-Presidents, respectively, succeeding Stuart H. Otis, Jr.

Peter Winslow, Beta Beta, President for the fall of 1952 and Charles B. Medford. The offices of Treasurer and Secretary, formerly held by Arthur Tildesley and Duncan Merriman, are now being filled by Henry J. Woodward and Philip C. Ward. The Eating Club, which has been so ably directed for the last three years by Richard Hunter, is now in the hands of Earl Sproul. The entire Chapter owes a great deal of thanks to the old officers for doing a superlative job.

During the weekend of April fifth, the accelerated freshmen were rushed by all the fraternities of Campus. Psi Upsilon was fortunate in pledging five outstanding members of this group. They are as follows: Hugh Gilbert Cunningham of Cohasset, Mass.; Christopher Burr Ross of New York City; Alexander Francis Saunders of West Hartford, Conn.; Robert Lindsay Scott of Winnetka, Ill.; and Ronald Frederick Storms of Salisbury, Conn.

Psi Upsilon has been active on campus this last semester. The Beta Beta chapter points with great pride to the election of Murray Hastings to the Presidency of the Interfraternity Council. Once again Psi Upsilon has dominated the annual elections of the Trinity College Corinthian Yacht Club. Peter Winslow was elected Commodore; Edgar Crocker, Vice-Commodore; Stuart Hunter, Secretary; and Philip Ward, Racing Captain. Under the direction of these men, Trinity took fifth place in the 1952 McMillan Cup Race, held at the U. S. Naval Academy. Brother Crocker gained a second place at the Friis Trophy Regatta, held this year at Tuffs College. Brothers John Parsons and Philip Ward gained a third place in both the Connecticut Valley Championship, and the eliminations for the New England Championships. That is quite a bit of sailing!

Psi Upsilon has also been well represented in the college Air Force ROTC unit this year by brothers Baylis Laramore, Lt. Colonel; Charles Medford, Major; Earl Sproul, Captain; Heath Oliver, Lieutenant.

Two months ago we took part in the college Embassy Plan. We were visited by a Chaplain from one of the nearby New England colleges who led the House in a discussion on religion. The discussion was entered into with interest by the Brothers.

In the sports field Joe Woodward is currently doing a great job for the Varsity Track Team in both the broad jump and the high jump. Charles Medford is Co-Captain of the Trinity Lacrosse team. The starting line-up includes brothers Stuart Otis, Baylis Laramore, and Gorden Phelps. Dick Stewart is leading the tennis team as number one man, followed closely by Mike Morphy number four man. Together, they team up to form the college's number one doubles combination. Earlier in the season Dick won the Brainard Squash Trophy, given to the Number One squash player.

In the Intramural Golf Tournament held last week, Psi Upsilon placed third out of ten entries. Peter Adams was the low man in the House with an eighty-four. Due to frequent showers, we haven't yet engaged in any softball games, but we know that our team is good and should fare well. Going back to the winter sports for a moment, Duncan Merriman was the outstanding man in the 154-lb. wrestling class.

Saturday, April 26th, was the date of the annual Alumni Party of the Beta Beta Chapter. On hand to recount the tales of Beta Beta's past history were brothers Ansen McCook, Sumner Shepard and wife, George Bates, and Donald Tree and wife. Just one day away, as this article is written, is Beta Beta's Spring House Party. The Chapter has been a beehive of activity as the Brothers make preparations for what looks to be the best party of the year. Not far in the future is the annual baseball game with the Xi Chapter.

The Beta Beta Chapter will close its season with the June Festival, to be held on the thirteenth of June. At this time Beta Beta will bid farewell and good luck to one of its outstanding classes. The Brothers that are leaving are as follows: Charles Medford, Stuart Otis, Richard Hunter, Harris Laramore, Murray Hastings, Bertrand Hopkins, Raymond Arias, Heath Oliver, Gorden Phelps, John Parsons, and Morrey Fremont-Smith.

Stop press news! As this communication was about to be mailed, the editor learned of three more honors conferred upon members of Psi Upsilon. Arthur Tildesley of Asbury Park, N. J., was not only elected to the College Senate, but has received the added honor of being chosen as President of the Trinity College Interfraternity Council and Vice-President of his class. Brother Woodward was elected as Secretary of the Interfraternity Council's Athletic Committee, and Brother Harold Morrison was admitted to Sigma Pi Sigma, a physics honor society.

We would also like to pass on the news of Brother Houston Hale's wedding to Miss Jane Fountaine which took place this spring.

ETA

Lehigh University

Most significant fraternity development at Lehigh during the winter was a proposal by the local chapter of a national social fraternity calling for the removal of religious and racial barriers from the constitutions of all Lehigh fraternities.

As read in the Inter-fraternity council, the proposal called for the ejection of fraternities retaining either type of discriminatory clause in their constitution.

Strong opposition from IFC members brought removal of clauses in the proposal that made disbarment from Lehigh's IFC mandatory in the event of non-compliance.

Despite this watering down, IFC rejected the proposal 26-4.

Within the Eta itself, house members brought the scholarship rating of the Chapter into the upper third of 58 university living groups with a 2.12 average.

The Eta entered the IFC community service project, joining three other houses in helping to open a summer camp run by the YWCA. The brothers and pledge class of nine men spent the better part of a Saturday cleaning grounds and painting buildings.

Brother Paul M. Beach, South Orange, N.J. was re-elected President of the Chapter. A junior, Beach is a member of the executive committee of the '53 class cabinet, chairman of the Spring Houseparty dance, member of the Pre-Med society and a member of the university skiing team.

Other officers elected for 1952-53 were Vice president Peter Matthes, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Secretary Paul H. Borgardus, Darien, Conn.; and Treasurer Donald M. Smith, South Orange, N.J.

Societies in which Eta brothers and pledges have been active include the National Society of Scabbard and Blade, honorary military society (three men); Arnold Air Society (three men); Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering society; Eta Kappa Nu, national electrical engineering society (two men); Pi Mu Epsilon, national mathematic honorary society; AIEE; ASME; Institute of Radio Engineers; and AIIE.

Four house members, including two freshmen, who at Lehigh this year were permitted to participate in varsity sports, won letters on the university hockey team. Three men took part in the fifth annual Lehigh Music Festival—six brothers are members of the Outing club, second largest student club at Lehigh—two men are running for class offices—seven men are on the staff of the university newspapers, three of them in executive positions. Pledge William A. Latshaw, Reading, Pa. is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary leadership fraternity.

Again this year, the house was host to the annual banquets of the ASME and the Brown and White, student newspaper.

In spite of overwhelming evidence to the contrary, spring did finally arrive in Madison. Shattering all records, precedent, and tradition, the Psi U's, with an unexplained burst of energy, managed to construct one of the first piers of the season—as well as one of the longest. Brother John Ramaker officially opened the pier, in the traditional manner, by riding a bicycle off the end (whose bicycle it was has not yet been ascertained). This done, it promptly started to rain, probably for the rest of the semester.

With the opening of the pier, the spring social season got under way. In addition to the weekly pier-parties, Alumni Weekend and Psi U Weekend are the big events for May. Also on the agenda are some less pleasant activities, such as studying while everyone else is out sailing, swimming, golfing, etc. Exactly how this conflict is going to be resolved is not quite clear at the moment, but doubtless a solution (such as continued rain) will arise.

The Brethren have suddenly become quite extracurricular in their activities. Brother Dick Van Horne was recently elected President of the Wisconsin Men's Association, a position which not only allows him to attend an extraordinary number of banquets and meetings, but, unlike many other student government jobs, has some real importance and responsibility attached to it. Brother John Ramaker has been elected Vice-President of the Interfraternity Council, and Brother Dick Johnson, in addition to being an active member of the Wisconsin Players, has for some time, it was recently discovered, been a Rear-Admiral or Grand Marshall, or something equally important, in the local ROTC. Brother Al Bryan toured the state during spring vacation with the 1952 Haresfoot show, Follow the Girls. Brother Ray Hunder won his W in boxing, and Brother R. Y. Nelson is captain of this year's crew team. Brother Doug Downey remains one of the two TNE's still extant on the Wisconsin campus.

Athletically, the Rho got off to a brilliant start in intramural softball, golf, and tennis. Then something happened. That, however, is traditional, and far be it from the present Chapter to tamper with a hallowed Tradition.

Final examinations are at this time in the offing on the Illinois campus. The only big social activity left in the year is the annual Psi U weekend, consisting of a dance, a picnic, and a sweetheart dinner on Sunday. Summer rushing looms as the next big job for the chapters' men, as soon as exams are out of the way.

The brothers did a lot of hard work this spring. The University's annual Spring Carnival found us running a comic photograph stand. Construction of the set, production of the prints, and entertainment for the carnival-goers all conspired to keep us busy that day, while planning and publicity occupied some Brothers for weeks before the April event. Brother Dick Carlson is to be congratulated on the job he did as chairman.

Our spring House Manager, Brother Gene McCarthy, has also kept Saturday mornings busy with the Herculean tasks he dreams up during the rest of the week; however, the results have been inspiring. The House looks good.

Brother Russ Scheibel was House President through a good portion of the spring after Brother Kirk Kandle resigned under pressure of his grades. Brother Scheibel now takes over the all important duties of summer rushing chairman.

The spring social calendar fulfilled its early promise. House functions of this sort were uniformly enjoyable under the guidance of Brother Dick Underwood. Exchanges continued at a rapid pace, and the big Initiation Formal was a true pleasure. The House was heavily decorated with balloons, crepe paper, and some more substantial things as well as the loveliest girls in the world. Mothers' Day weekend was the customary barrel of fun. I-M baseball holds the spotlight still; the Omicron is in position to win a trophy in its division with the issue still in doubt.

The Chapter received the I-F council's third place trophy for scholastic improvement. The spring pledge class gives promise of raising our average even higher. We've still a long way to go to get to the top, but we are definitely on the upgrade.

Pete Jensen is next year's Treasurer for Campus Chest. Pete is also an initiate of two commerce honoraries and the all-University scholastic honorary Phi Kappa Phi. Brother Dick Lance is now a member of two engineering school honoraries. Russ Scheibel is caught up in Young Republican activities as an orator and organizer for Brother Taft. Bob Fairbanks and Joe Kenston our I-F representatives, hold important posts in I-F committees, Bob on the judicial committee and Joe on the program committee. Jack Rooney is now a member of Liberal Arts and Sciences College Council, and Art Andrew has been active on many University functions throughout the spring.

All in all the Omicron has been continuously employed this spring, bettering the house in every way. Officers for next fall were elected recently. They are Jack Rooney, President; Dick Lance, First Vice-President; Hugh Dolby, Second Vice-President; Pete Jensen, Treasurer; and Fred Heim, Secretary. We are confident of further bettering the Chapter next year.

With Spring Houseparty a thing of the past, everyone is tired but happy with memories of a very successful weekend. Things are now back to normal, the lawn and roof of the House covered with prostrate figures trying to take in the sun and study at the same time, compromising with the heavy hand of spring fever.

The freshmen and sophomores have turned the old third-floor bar into a game room, complete with ping-pong table. It has been totally redecorated, and the sound of the bouncing ball continues far into the night. The juniors, continuing their house-tending activities with undiminished fervor, have recently recarpeted the third-floor hallway. An old upright piano was picked up at a local rummage sale by bargain-hunter Gordon Damon, '52, and has been added to the furniture in the bar. This may curtail the activity in the bar somewhat, because Gordon plays particularly bad piano.

Never a House for springtime over-exertion, we nevertheless have John Freese, '52, and Dave True, '53, on the varsity track team. John runs a pretty fair half-mile and Dave throws the discus. President George Stege, '53, and Ted Mitchell, '52, are playing on the lacrosse team, with Ted playing an outstanding game against Duke last week, scoring two goals for a losing cause. Jim Cassidy, '55, is doing very well on the freshman tennis squad and should nail down a singles berth in time to open the season.

Lunchtime finds everyone crowded around the new horseshoe pit beside the driveway. The competition is hot and heavy, even the most staunch advocates of armchair athletics trying their hands. The House intramural softball team started off the season with a loss, but the future looks bright with Lee Monroe, '54, at the helm and veteran Archie Beard, '52, on the mound, and we hope to complete as successful a season as last year's finalists.

We have recently added two pledges to the House roll. They are Stephen D. Paine, '54, of Millis, Mass., and George M. White, '54, of Ho-Ho-Kus, N.J. Steve was freshman basketball manager this winter. We are very proud to have them both with us.

As always, we are more than happy to entertain any of the Brothers who might stop in Williamstown, and we'd like to re-extend this standing invitation to everyone. The Chamber of Commerce tells us that the mountain scenery can't be surpassed, and I might add that it looks a lot better over a tall Tom Collins.

THETA THETA

Spring quarter at the U. of W. has been one of much work and activities for the Brothers of Theta Theta. Under the guidance of officers Brother Rick Eisen, President; Brother Clank "Hot to Go" Robbins, First Vice-President; Brother Willie "Sutton" Conner, Second Vice-President; Brother Duane Pulsifer, Recording Secretary; and Brother Jim Solomonson, Corresponding Secretary; the House is looking forward to a rousing quarter.

The secrets of Psi U were revealed to fifteen pledges April 11. The active Chapter feels that their new Brothers are a great bunch, and in the future years will maintain and represent Psi U and Theta Theta in the traditional ways that make Psi U the great fraternity that it is.

Words of praise are in order for Brothers John Riley and Dick Main for their efforts spent in training the pledges and for Bill Reed in handling initiation.

Last quarter was favorable scholastically as two senior Brothers received four points. Brother John Fery was elected to Oval Club, an upper classman's activities and athletic honorary.

In athletics here at the U. of W. this spring, Psi U has done exceptionally well. Brother Bill McKenzie received a j-v award in swimming. Brother Steve Roake, a freshman from "Illinois," did an outstanding job in spring football turnouts and the University will be seeing plenty of Steve next year on the gridiron. In the baseball department, Brother Bill Reams, with a 3-0 pitching record for the freshman team so far, is doing a fine job. Turning out for crew we have Brothers Bill Stevens and Pete Lane. Brother Lane is coxswain for the freshman boat.

Brother Dunk Jansen and his crew have really been working hard with the Tri Delts in preparation for the Sophomore Carnival. Last year we walked away with top honors so this year we will be the target and it should prove to be quite a battle.

Social Chairman, John Proctor, with the able assistance of several of the Brothers has been providing the House with a variety of functions this spring. April 26 we had an "Apache" dance and quite a party it was at that; then May 11 we had our spring informal. At the present Brother Proctor is completing the arrangements for our annual "Beachcombers" brawl.

ZETA ZETA

University of British Columbia

For the Brothers of the Zeta Zeta, the summer holidays started a lot earlier than they do for our Brothers in the American colleges and by the time this letter is printed we will have enjoyed a month or more of work or rest after the exams. The spring term has been a very busy one for the Zeta Zeta starting with the initiation of nine new Brothers just before the Spring Formal, early in March. The new blood in the Chapter includes quite a cross-section of the campus, everything from Commerce men to Engineers. The new Brothers include Clyde Fox, Cliff Harris, Jack Preston, William McCamey, Maryan Maciejewski, Bernie Schachter, Bill Smitheringale, Bob Johnson and Ken O'Shea.

The executive for next year includes Brother Jim Clarke as President, Brother Keith Middleton as Vice-President, Brother Tom Bole as Treasurer and Brother Bernie Schachter as Secretary. Although the Brothers on the executive have a job to do, the Chapter has entrusted the position of Rushing Chairman for next fall to Brother Joe Bockhold who we feel will be able to do an excellent job providing he receives the full cooperation of the other Brothers. During the summer months Joe can be contacted at the Psi Upsilon House in Montreal, Quebec, should any of the Brothers care to reach him, and we hope they will, and let him know of any prospective rushees. Brother Will Preston who did such a grand job as Rushing Chairman this spring has been recommended by the other Brothers to receive the Alumni Association's Chapter key for the past year.

On the campus, the Brothers have not been shirking and two Psi U's are among the carefully selected group who have been admitted to the U.B.C. Medical School. Brothers Roger Stanton and Gerry Phillipson are to be congratulated on their success and in a few years hence two more Brothers will join the numerous Psi U alums in the Medical profession.

In student government, the Chapter is well represented with Brother Joe Bockhold and Brother Bob Johnson serving on the Engineers' Council while Pledge Dennis Silverstrini has replaced Brother Jack Lintott as Co-ordinator of Actions on the general Students' Council.

In the field of Athletics, Psi U finished quite high up on the long list of intra-mural teams for the years' activities. A higher standing was hindered by the fact that a great number of the Brothers were unable to enter the track meet due to injuries and conflicting schedules. Brother Bob Wassick has been performing in top-notch style on the Varsity track team, capturing the honors in the hurdles event at two inter-collegiate meets.

Next fall may find the Zeta Zeta in a new location, closer to the University. Arrangements are now being made to sell our present house, which is not in a very convenient location, and purchase a house closer to the University campus. The committee appointed to handle the arrangements for the sale includes our President, Brother Jim Clark the Alumni President, Brother Keith Middleton, Sr., and two other Alums all of whom are well aware of the inconvenient location of the House in respect to transportation and the campus.

This summer will find the Brothers widely scattered throughout the country and in Europe. While most of the Brothers will be returning home for the summer, Brothers Bill Anstis, Ted Jeffreys and Dean Beaubier will be in Europe. Brother Anstis has received his commission with the Canadian Army and leaves for Eastern Canada and Europe immediately after graduation. Brothers Jeffreys and Beaubier are taking a vacation on the European continent. Closer to home, at least three of the Brothers will be travelling to Berkeley, California for the National Convention towards the end of June. Brothers Jim Clark, Trev Roote and Hal Thompson are the ones who plan to make the trip south.

To close the spring term and celebrate the end of exams, the Brothers enjoyed a post-exam party at the Roof of the Hotel Vancouver at the beginning of May. This party was followed by a week-end cruise and vacation to nearby Keats Island where the Brothers were the guests of Brother Trev Roote. The following week the Brothers held a stag party for Brother Glenn Milne who was married in the middle of May.

With spring term finished, the Brothers are all enjoying the summer and looking forward to next fall when every effort will be made by the Brothers of the Zeta Zeta to make Psi U the top fraternity on the University of British Columbia campus.

EPSILON NU

Michigan State College

The house of the Epsilon Nu takes pleasure in announcing the initiation of five new brothers into the ranks of Psi Upsilon during the Spring Quarter. They are: James C. Graulich, West Orange, N.J.; Robin J. Kolkoski, Phoenix, Ariz.; Frank J. Kropschot, E. Lansing, Mich.; Karl E. Rundquist, E. Lansing, Mich.; and James Alan Stover, of New York City. This brings the total active chapter to fifty-four.

The chapter is now making plans for the Greek Feast to be held here May 16. All fraternities and sororities on MSC's campus are invited to this annual song and dance fest.

Our annual Mothers' Day is fast approaching, and judging from the replies to our invitation, we can expect an almost perfect attendance. Other social events include exchange dinners, desserts and just parties.

Congratulations to Brother Lee Hanson, our song director, who led the Brothers to their fourth consecutive victory in the annual interfraternity song contest, with the singing of "Shadrack" and the "Smoking Song."

Many brothers have actively engaged in Campus affairs during the past year and are now holding positions which include; President of the IFC, President of the Junior Class, and Circulation Manager of the State News.

The spring sports schedule has moved into full swing with the baseball team proving its merits on the diamond and the track and golf teams preparing for a good showing in the near future.

Brother "Spiny" Smith was welcomed back this quarter after a three months' convalescence from injuries sustained in an automobile accident during Thanksgiving vacation. Brother Smith, though still on crutches, is making a quick recovery, as we knew he would.

The house is running smoothly this term with Brothers Dan Reed pounding the gavel, Don Sprogell at the "Veeps" post and M. J. Morrell at the cash register. Brother Jack Wingerden, replacing Bill Moody as House Manager is maintaining high caliber meals with no little help from "Mom" Mallison, our cook for the past 27 years.

Our Chapter was privileged to be visited by Brother Charles Lincoln, Kappa '91, this term. With this the men of Epsilon Nu extend to all Psi U brothers, old and young, an invitation to stop and visit when in the Lansing area.

EPSILON OMEGA Northwestern University

May 16 was the day we added three new brothers to the ranks of the Epsilon Omega. Brother Dan H. Brown of the Executive Council was again present at the ceremonies, and a number of Chicago area alumni joined us at the banquet afterward.

Spring quarter is always the busiest, socially, at Northwestern, and thanks to the expert planning of our Social Chairmen we didn't lack parties to attend. Beside the White Dragon formal, a theater party, and all-day picnic, and a hay-loft party, the Brothers also gathered for a number of informal house parties and beach parties.

And, a fifth in our successful series of get-acquainted parties with a sorority was held. This time with the DG's.

Surprisingly, in spite of social pressure, the men of the Epsilon Omega are maintaining a high scholastic standard. We boast a respectable House average of B-. And, that average is higher than the one that ranked us 10th of the 28 fraternities on campus last year.

We're holding our own in the I-M athletic race. At the time of writing we are tied for first place in our baseball league, with excellent chances of repeating last year's championship.

Our hopes of building a new House, one more worthy of a Chapter of Psi Upsilon, are becoming more of a reality. Under the leadership of President Bill Doyle, and especially Brother Jim Harper we've launched a positive program toward that end.

In the meantime, we're still at 1958 Sheridan Road and welcome any Brothers who are in the area to stop in and see us.

IN MEMORIAM

Willard DeLaker Ackley, Pi '22

Willard D. Ackley, Pi '22, a noted former football player at Syracuse University, died suddenly at his home in Oneida, N.Y., on April 15, 1952.

A quarterback on the college football team coached by "Buck" O'Neill, Brother Ackley was chosen a member of the third All-American team selected by Grantland Rice.

Upon learning of his death, the Sports Editor of the Syracuse Herald-Journal wrote: "The death of Willard Ackley brings sorrow to many alumni and friends of Syracuse University. The 54-year-old former Sherrill High School four-letter athlete came to the Orange campus and inscribed his name high on the list of Hill football immortals. A great field general, Willard was also an outstanding dropkicker, a highly specialized part of the pigskin sport back in the '20s."

Brother Ackley graduated from Sherrill High School and from the College of Business Administration of Syracuse University. A lifelong resident of Oneida, N.Y., he was employed with Oneida, Ltd. He was a member of Community Associated Clubs, of Sherrill; the Sherrill Block S Club; a member and former director of the Sherrill Rod, Gun and Conservation Club; and Sherrill Post 230, American Legion. A veteran of World War I, he resided in Kenwood Heights, a suburb of Oneida, N.Y.

Charles Matchett Bent, Omega '17

Charles Matchett Bent, Omega '17, died April 15, 1952, at his home in Honolulu. He was 56 years old.

In college "Charley" won his "C" in basketball and track. He was the son of the late George P. Bent, former Chicago piano manufacturer. A son, Matchett, was in the Air Force during the war and died as a result of wounds.

Brother Bent is survived by his widow, a daughter, a brother and three sisters.

Albert Lee Clark, Epsilon '07

Albert Lee Clark, Epsilon '07, died on March 19, 1952, from a heart attack, at his home in Red Bluff, California. He had been in poor health for the past two or three years. His age was 68.

Among his survivors is a son, Albert Lee Clark, Jr., Epsilon '42.

Robert Warren Clark, Pi '06

Robert W. Clark, Pi '06, died in Syracuse, New York, on April 4, 1952. Brother Clark, an employee of the Easy Washing Machine Corporation, resided at 102 Ostrom Avenue, Syracuse, at the time of his death.

Brother Clark attended the College of Liberal Arts at Syracuse University and was a member of the Technology Club and the East Genessee Street Presbyterian Church of Syracuse.

He is survived by two sons, Robert, of Syracuse and Warren J., of Denver, Colorado.

Rev. Edwin Henry Dickinson, Gamma '79

The Rev. Edwin Henry Dickinson, Gamma '79, died on June 10, 1951, at the home of his daughter in Ovid, New York. He was 95 years old.

Brother Dickinson received his B.D. in 1882 from Auburn Theological Seminary and his D.D. in 1898 from Hamilton College. At Amherst he was the leader of the College Glee Club. Among his pastorates were the Presbyterian Church at Knoxboro, McGrawville and Seneca Falls, New York, and the North Presbyterian Church of Buffalo, New York. The late Howard Carter Dickinson, Psi '05, who died in 1935, was his son.

In notifying THE DIAMOND of Brother Dickinson's death, his daughter, Mrs. Henry Van Sickle, wrote: "Thank you for the pleasure the news of his much treasured Fraternity brought him through the years."

James H. Flinn, Phi '96

James H. Flinn, Phi '96, died March 18, 1952. He was a retired Detroit attorney and a graduate of the University of Michigan Law School class of 1896.

Brother Flinn was a life member of the Alumni Association of Psi Upsilon, and a member of the Detroit Club, Country Club of Detroit, Grosse Pointe Club, Detroit University Club, Huron Mountain Club, Metamora Club, Metamora Hunt Club. His home was in Grosse Pointe Park, Michigan.

Surviving are his wife, a daughter and a son.

Bruce C. Follett, Pi '48

Bruce C. Follett, Pi '48, a former Editor of the Pi Garnet during his undergraduate days, fell to his death from the eighth floor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York building on April 15, 1952.

At the time of his death Brother Follett was Assistant Editor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York Employees' publication, The Fed. Following graduation from Syracuse University's School of Journalism, he was Editor of the Prosperity Company of Syracuse, New York house organ, Prosperity Family News.

Brother Follett served in the Signal Corps of the Army in 1944-45 and was graduated from the Farmingdale, Long Island, High School. He was survived by his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Follett and a younger brother, Barry F., of Farmingdale.

Joseph Albert Ford, Zeta '95

Joseph A. Ford, Zeta '95, died suddenly at his home in Scarsdale, New York, December 4, 1950 of a heart attack. At the time of his death he was president of Ford and Company Inc. of New York.

Born in Chicago, Illinois, October 13, 1872, Brother Ford received his early education in that city and graduated from the Lake Shore High School in '91. He entered Dartmouth that fall and graduated in the class of 1895.

Early in his career he entered the Advertising Business and was made Western Manager of The Crowell Publishing Co. in Chicago, which position he held until he came to New York in 1911. Soon thereafter, he started the Ford Company, his own business. Due to a heart condition he retired from active participation in January, 1950.

He was always deeply interested in Dartmouth affairs and quite a few boys went on to college due to his encouragement and help. One of his major interests was in the Camp Fire Club of America, and he served as a member of the Conservation Commission up to the time of his death. He was a member of the Dartmouth College and the former Psi Upsilon Club of New York, and was also a member for many years of the Scarsdale Golf Club and the University Club of New York.

A resident of Scarsdale for thirty-eight years, he was a charter member and former trustee of the Hitchcock Memorial Church.

He is survived by his wife, three daughters and eight grandchildren.

Rev. Charles Lewis Gomph, Gamma '00

The Rev. Charles L. Gomph, Gamma '00, rector emeritus of Grace Protestant Episcopal Church, Newark, New Jersey, died on February 17, 1952, after a long illness. His age was 73.

Before his retirement in 1949, Brother Gomph served as rector of Grace Church for thirty-eight years. None of his twelve predecessors had served more than nine years.

A native of Albany, New York, Brother Gomph was educated at Amherst College and General Theological Seminary, New York City. He received a B.D. degree in 1903 and was ordained to the priesthood the following year. He served in Trinity Parish, New York, and was later rector of Trinity Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut. He accepted a call to Grace Church in 1913.

Dr. Gomph was active in diocesan affairs, having served as a member of the finance and advisory board of the Diocese of Newark and on its budget committee. He was the first vice-president of the Church Mission of Help. He was a member of the Cathedral Chapter of the Diocese and was ten times a deputy to the General Convention of the Episcopal Church.

In 1933, Dr. Gomph was elected president of St. Barnabas' Hospital, Newark, a post he held for fifteen years. He had been chairman of the executive board of the hospital before it was merged with the Hospital for Women and Children.

A sister, with whom he lived, survives.

Andrew G. C. Sage, Beta '96

Andrew G. C. Sage, Beta '96, died February 3, 1952, after a long illness. His age was 78. He made his home in New York City.

Brother Sage was for many years one of the nation's leading breeders of pointer dogs. Until recently he owned a plantation at Alberta, Alabama, and among the many champion pointers bred by him there were Pandemonium, which in 1948 and 1949 captured the National Field Trial Club's annual Southern quail classics, and Saturn, winner in 1947 of the national bird dog championship at Grand Junction, Tennessee. Saturn gave Brother Sage his fifth winner in the competition with eight years.

Brother Sage's Sulu had won the championship of the bird dog world at Grand Junction in 1936, and two years later his Luminary took the thirty-third annual American field-quail futurity.

In 1941, when his Ariel brought him his third victory at Grand Junction, he obtained permanent possession of the Robert W. Bingham Trophy, donated by the late Ambassador to the Court of St. James.

A member of the Jockey Club for many years, Brother Sage also was regarded as an authority on horse racing. In 1939 his Entracte won the Toboggan and Zev Handicaps at Belmont Park. Another of his horses was Pedagogue, which took the Stillwater at Jamaica in 1947.

Brother Sage was born in Brooklyn. He was a grandson of Andrew Gregg Curtin, Civil War Governor of Pennsylvania, and Henry W. Sage of Ithaca, New York, a founder of Cornell University.

He was graduated from the Westminster School and from Yale, where he was a member of Scroll and Key. In the first World War he served as a captain in the Army and was stationed at the American Embassy in London. He was a member of the Racquet and Tennis, Union and Links Clubs. Brother Sage never married. He leaves four nieces and two nephews, one of whom is Henry W. Sage, Beta '25.

Rev. Edward Taylor Sullivan, Beta Beta '89

The Rev. Edward Taylor Sullivan, Beta Beta '89, rector of Trinity Church, Newton Center, Massachusetts, for more than fifty years, died on May 8, 1952. He would have reached the age of 91 next August.

Brother Sullivan was born in Castletown, Bantry Bay, County Cork, Ireland, where his father was master of the Protestant Church school. He came to this country in 1862, and settled with his family in Detroit, Michigan.

He attended Detroit grade schools and left to enter business upon completion of the grammar school grades. His first job, when he was thirteen, was with a mercantile shop. He also worked on the railroad, a newspaper, and in the grocery business, until he felt the call to enter the ministry.

At the age of twenty-four, he enrolled at Trinity College, won a series of scholarships, and received his degree in 1889. From there he went to the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, where he received his B.D. degree in 1892. Trinity gave him a master's degree in 1903 and the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1921. He was ordained to the diaconate in 1891 and to the priesthood a year later.

Assigned to a preaching station for students in Newton Center, Dr. Sullivan built his Church into one of the largest, and most enthusiastic parishes in the country, numbering before he retired in 1942, 1200 members and 500 families. A special service, on June 17, 1951, celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of the beginning of Dr. Sullivan's work in Trinity Church. His career connected solely with one parish, was a remarkable one, and his influence stretched far beyond his parish bounds.

In August, 1922, Dr. Sullivan began broadcasting an hour-long Episcopal service, believed to be the first broadcast of a complete church service in America. For many years he served as summer dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, and for nearly 25 years he edited The Church Militant, which he founded in 1898. As Chaplain of the British Naval and Military Veterans' Association, he was spiritual leader for many British and Canadian people in Boston.

Mrs. Sullivan, whom he married in 1915, died in 1946.

Francis Mills Turner, Nu '14

Francis Mills Turner, Nu '14, vice-president of the Reinhold Publishing Corporation of New York City, died April 3, 1952, in Manhasset Medical Center. He lived in Roslyn Heights, Long Island. He was 61.

Brother Turner was born in Brockville, Ontario, and was a graduate of Trinity College of the University of Toronto. He began his career as a research chemist with the Vanadium Corporation of America. In 1916, he joined the Chemical Catalog Company, predecessor of the Reinhold Publishing Corporation, and was its president from 1927 to 1931.

He was the author of several books on chemistry and was the first chairman of the technical and scientific book publishing division of the American Book Publishers. Surviving are two sons, a daughter and two brothers.

Charles Dean Young, M.D., Upsilon '85

Charles Dean Young, M.D., Upsilon '85, died in Rochester, New York, on March 16, 1952. He was born in Rochester on August 9, 1863.

Dr. Young was educated in Rochester; in the public schools, the Rochester Free Academy and the University of Rochester, A.B. 1885. A.M. 1888, Phi Beta Kappa, Psi Upsilon.

After his graduation from the University of Rochester he was a reporter on the Democrat & Chronicle and Principal of No. 19 School in Rochester.

He entered Harvard Medical School in 1888 as a second year student. He had studied notes on the first year lectures in medicine and passed the first year examinations—(No residency or clinical work required). He received his M.D. degree from Harvard in 1890.

After his graduation in medicine, Dr. Young was for two years an interne part of the time (the only one) at the Rochester City Hospital (now the Rochester General Hospital). Later he was physician to the Out Patient Department; then assistant attending physician to the Hospital and attending physician. For some years he was secretary to the Medical Staff and was the last president of the Medical Staff before the formation of the present Medical Board. He was greatly interested in the record of the General and wrote an account of its earlier days. He used to tell of a physician who while operating, stopped to strop his knife on his boot. Surely a surprising surgical technique!

In his earlier private practice he was associated with Dr. William S. Ely Upsilon '61.

Dr. Young was greatly interested in the Western New York School for Deaf Mutes (now the Rochester School for the Deaf). For many years he was physician to the institution.

Dr. Young was one of the founders of the Rochester Academy of Medicine and helped in writing the first draft of its Constitution and By Laws.

Dr. Young saw the beginnings of antiseptic surgery; its development through an antiseptic approach to an aseptic conclusion. He also saw the change in medical thought from the belief in an anatomical background for symptoms and diseases to the belief in a physiological background for them.

He was actively interested in all phases of medical thought; while holding firmly to what was proven good in past medicine, he was receptive to new ideas. He was a therapeutic skeptic but not a nihilist.

He was a man with an educated and thoughtful mind; interested in many fields of knowledge outside of his own profession. Above all he was a courteous and understanding physician; a helpful counselor and a dependable friend.
