NATIONAL PSI UPSILON CONVENTION AT XI CHAPTER NEXT SEPTEMBER

By ALBERT MANN, Xi '06

THE CONVENTION will be held this year at the Xi, Wesleyan University, Middletown, Connecticut, September 9, 10, 11, 12, 1953.

There were two main reasons for selecting these dates. First, many of the undergraduates have to leave as soon as possible after their last appointment in June to take a summer job, to sail for somewhere, to get married, or for some other relatively unimportant reason which they, however, seem to think requires an early departure from the campus. The entire Xi Chapter will be on hand to greet the members in September.

The other reason is, perhaps, yet more important. A convention held in September, rather than June, will still be a vivid and exciting recollection when college sessions start only weeks later. If the details work out anywhere near as planned, this is going to be one of the most thrilling and inspiring experiences that the brothers have ever known. It will be a rare opportunity for delegates from California and Michigan, Wisconsin and New York, Washington and Pennsylvania, from all parts of this country to live, work and cavort together. For four days they will share fraternity business ideas as well as many hilarious hours of frolic. Whether it be at a business meeting or at a beach party, softball game, or formal convention banquet, the times these travellers spend together will be stimulating, enjoyable, and long-remembered. Fresh from this experience they will go back to their own chapters carrying with them a spirit of enthusiasm that should give a real boost to every chapter represented.

This is a big year—the 120th anniversary of the fraternity and the 110th anniversary of the Xi Chapter. Venerable as it is, the Xi has the real spirit of eternal youth, maintaining its very enviable position among the fraternities on the Wesleyan campus.

Those who have seen Middletown in September know that the Xi is fortunate in being located in one of the most charming spots in New England. With a picturesque scenic background, on a hill overlooking the Connecticut River valley, it is a modern town that has still kept something of the tone of early colonial days.

This reporter has not had much experience with plans for previous conventions, but he is tremendously impressed with what is going on here. Ever since the first week in February, committees have been organized and actively at work planning every detail—comfortable quarters for visiting brothers, good meals, proper facilities for all the interesting events, everything that means hospitality at its best. And, incidentally, there is in the making an imposing list of nationally famous persons who will be present. If there is any “stone left unturned,” it will certainly be one firmly cemented in the ivied walls!

The over-all direction of the convention plans is in the very capable hands of Robert I. Laggren, '13, a member of the Executive Council and a trustee of the University; Charles B. Stone, '23, also a trustee of Wesleyan and vice-president of the Xi Corporation; George F. Bickford, '19, president of the Corporation; Warren L. Hall, '37, secretary; Henry C. Trundle, '21, treasurer; and Malcolm Stearns, Jr., Gamma '39, assistant treasurer and faculty adviser to the Chapter.

Under the general direction of these officers, the following committees are working out the various details: executive, finance, banquet, luncheon, entertainment and refreshments, registration and housing, publicity, outing, transportation, decorations, music. In addition, a brief history of the Xi Chapter will be prepared for publication, and arrangements made for photographic records, humorous and serious, of this memorable event.

The Convention program follows:

WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY

WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY, the site of this year's national convention, is a small liberal arts college for men. The campus is on a hill overlooking Middletown, Connecticut, a city of 30,000 midway between New York and Boston. At Middletown, the lovely Connecticut River makes a wide bend between hills which blaze with the famed New England foliage of the fall.

OLIN LIBRARY. Probably the finest small college library in the country, Olin has more than 500,000 volumes. In its Davison Rare Book Rooms are fine manuscripts and rare editions covering seven centuries.

The College was founded in 1831, and although Methodist clergymen were the founders, the original charter provided that a man's religious beliefs would have no bearing on his admission or any other privilege of the College. This applied equally to the faculty and other employes and is still adhered to rigidly today. In 1872 the College began admitting co-ed but abandoned the experiment in 1912. Today there are a few women among the 50 graduate students, but Wesleyan remains a men's college. To maintain a ratio of one professor to each nine students, the entering class is restricted to about 200. Total undergraduate enrollment is held to 750.

Students come from every state in the Union and from many foreign countries. About 60 per cent of them are graduates of public high schools and the rest are from independent preparatory schools. This helps make the College community highly democratic. Being a residential college where virtually every student lives on campus, Wesleyan relies heavily on its twelve fraternities. More than 85 per cent of the student body belongs to one of the social organizations, which form an integral part of the college life. Students, through their fraternity representatives in the College Body Senate, largely run their own affairs. No proctors monitor any exams and a strict honor system, started in 1893, is administered by the undergraduates.

So that no deserving boy will be kept out of Wesleyan because of financial difficulties, a liberal scholarship program is maintained. Each year about $130,000 in scholarship aid is awarded.

In two recent surveys of American education conducted by the Ford and Carnegie Foundations, Wesleyan ranked high among the nation's leaders in the production of scientists and scholars. As a liberal arts college, it stresses a broad general education for all its students. A large well equipped science program offers courses in astronomy, biology, chemistry, genetics, geology, mathematics, physics, and psychology. An unusually high proportion of the seniors (more than 60 per cent) go on to graduate study, the rest go directly into business and industry. For outstanding students there is an Honors College program leading to the Bachelor of Arts Degree with Distinction through independent study with individual tutors. Wesleyan is one of two men's liberal arts colleges with a chapter of Sigma Xi, the honorary science society, and since 1845 a campus chapter of Phi Beta Kappa has been active. A full athletic program centers about the old Little Three rivalries with Amherst and Williams.

TO PERSEVERE AND TO EXCEL

A Tribute to Brother Frank Jay Gould, Delta '99

PERSTARE et Praestare are the words inscribed on New York University's official seal. Their meaning: to persevere and to excel.

Perseverance and excellence have marked every step in the work and life of Brother Frank Jay Gould to whom NYU's Perstare et Praestare gold key was recently presented in recognition of his brilliant achievements and unmatched devotion to his alma mater.

The following citation, read by the student president of Perstare et Praestare Society, accompanied the award, which is one of the University's highest honors:

"The Bible states that it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter into the Kingdom of God. I hope no one will accuse me of blasphemy if I must take decided exception to that remark this afternoon. Surely a man who has used a part of his fortune to aid the youth of his alma mater and to make campus life constantly better, is deserving of the highest awards which a student body can confer upon him.

"A noted and influential personage in the financial world, with interests here and abroad, he attended New York University as a special student in the sciences, and is a member of the Class of 1899. He, and his family, are responsible for the erection of the building in which we are now seated, the Gould Dormitory, the main basketball court in the gymnasium and, of course, the building which will be realized during your four-year span at the Heights, the $1,500,000 Student Center. The Perstare et Praestare gold key was presented to Mr. Frank J. Gould, with the deep appreciation and recognition of the Society and the entire student body."

The $1,500,000 gift by Mr. Gould brings to more than $3,500,000 the total gifts to New York University by Mr. Gould; his father, Jay Gould; his sister, Mrs. Shepard; and her husband, Finley J. Shepard.

Previous gifts to the University by the Gould family include the Gould Memorial Library, the colonnade of the Hall of Fame for Great Americans, land for the University Heights campus, and Gould Hall (a dormitory).

Gould Student Center will fill one of the greatest needs at the University Heights campus—a place where students may gather for extra-curricular activities or for just relaxation.

Chancellor Henry T. Heald revived a time-honored University custom when he spoke from the steps of Gould Memorial Library to announce Brother Gould's generous gift to the assembled student body.

"The new student center will relieve overcrowded and inadequate facilities for our students at the University Heights campus," Dr. Heald said, "and we are deeply indebted to Mr. Gould for his continued interest in improving the University he attended more than 50 years ago."

"Through his gift, Mr. Gould has done a wonderful thing for our students. The new building will be of lasting benefit to successive generations of New York University students."

Brother Gould, a member of the class of 1899, attended the University as a special student in engineering and sciences. Since the turn of the century, he has been a member of the University's governing council, a member of the New York Stock Exchange, and a conspicuous figure in the business and financial world, with wide interest and influence in railroads and other industrial enterprises.

As a student at the University, he was a member of the Delta chapter of Psi Upsilon. He was chairman of its building committee and personally broke ground for the chapter house it now occupies near the Heights campus. The chapter house of the Delta is one of the traditional landmarks at New York University. Through its Halls have passed many brothers who were destined to distinguish themselves in financial, industrial, cultural and professional lines of endeavor. Among them are Frank Jay Gould who recently made a substantial gift toward the maintenance of the House; Henry Noble MacCracken, President Emeritus of Vassar College; Deems Taylor, composer; William H. Draper, U. S. Special Representative in Europe; Orrin S. Wightman, noted physician; Reinald Werrenrath, famous baritone; C. F. S. "Chet" Whitney, physician and long-time counselor of the Chapter; John Irwin, distinguished lawyer; General Frank L. Howley, now Vice Chancellor of New York University; and many others.

Frank Jay Gould is the youngest son of the late Jay Gould, one of America's widely known financiers. Jay Gould was one of the major subscribers to the fund which enabled the University in 1892 to acquire the University Heights campus. After his death in December, 1892, his daughter, then Helen Miller Gould, later Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, carried out his wishes by giving to the University the further benefactions which he had intended.

Brother Frank Jay Gould is a man of humility. Blessed with great fortune, he has known how to live graciously but also how to give generously in a way that young men and women of America will benefit for years to come.

He deserves all the words of tribute that have been spoken about him and to him. But words cannot describe this kind of man. He himself has chosen to speak little but to do much. If we are to follow his example, we will be men of deeds—constructive, kind, generous deeds.

grown impressively. The heart of the College is Olin Memorial Library, probably the finest small college library in the country. A development program now underway plans new student dormitories, an enlarged student union, an additional athletic field, a music building, and additions to the theater and chapel. Under a $250,000 grant from the Surdna Foundation, a Public Affairs Center is being organized to house and coordinate the work of all the Social Sciences. The jewel of the campus is the new Davison Art Center. This recently-restored pre-Civil War mansion is a unique combination of architectural landmark, museum, and center for the study of prints, painting, sculpture, and other fine arts.

TRINITY COLLEGE INAUGURATION OF ALBERT C. JACOBS, PHI '21

SATURDAY, May 16, 1953, was the 130th anniversary of the chartering of Trinity, and the inauguration ceremony was marked by an academic splendor that was a throw-back to a grand but by-gone age. Parading in the long inaugural procession were state and national government leaders, distinguished educators wearing their multi-color degree hoods, prominent alumni, representatives of the clergy headed by four bishops, the student body, a color guard from the Trinity Air ROTC, and Trinity trustees identified by their blue beef-eater hats.

The procession marched half way around the quadrangle and then down to the inaugural stand set up at the southwest corner of the handsome Gothic chapel. There an assemblage of 2,500 persons, bathed by a warm May sun, witnessed the impressive, outdoor ceremonies.

Twenty-eight college and university presidents were among the 145 representatives of the institutions of higher education from coast to coast.

A. Northey Jones, Beta Beta '17, of New York City and Newtown, chairman of the trustees committee that selected the new president, officially presented Brother Jacobs. The new president was invested by Newton C. Brainard, Beta '02, of Hartford, chairman of the Board of Trustees.

Calling for a reversal of the trend away from liberal education, Dr. Jacobs said this would be the one sure way to save freedom and individuality in America.

The new president of Trinity College in Hartford, Connecticut, Albert Charles Jacobs, Phi '21, delivering acceptance speech on May 16, 1953.

"We have become a generation of the 'common man,'" he said, "and 'common' has come to mean technically skilled. We have created a generation of men who have much 'know how,' but little 'know why.' To check the drift toward technological giants and moral midgets is the challenge that faces small liberal arts colleges such as Trinity."

The Trinity College student body will continue national in character but small in number, Brother Albert C. Jacobs pledged.

Honorary degrees were conferred on Earl D. Babst, Iota-Phi '93, past president of the Executive Council, and Senator Prescott S. Bush, Beta '17, by President Jacobs, whose citations follow.

EARL DANIEL BABST

Doctor of Laws, Honoris Causa

"Seest thou a man diligent in his business? he shall stand before kings." With such words this man was greeted by his business associates and friends when, retiring at the age of eighty, after an industrious and diligent life, he laid down the cares and responsibilities of the great company over which he had been presiding for thirty-six years. Educated in the law, as a young man he entered the National Biscuit Company, and later embarked upon a distinguished career in the American Sugar Refining Company, whose products (indescribable for a Roman, indispensable for an American) bring sweetness to our lives and spirits. But his efforts were not absorbed by these duties alone; from the days of his youth he has spent a useful life, taking part in food committees national and international; a writer of books; a promoter of the arts and learning; a true American, a true servant of his fellow citizens—Earl Daniel Babst.

PRESCOTT SHELDON BUSH

Doctor of Laws, Honoris Causa

This citizen of Connecticut recently elevated by his fellow citizens to high office, we also, Mr. President, desire to honor as far as in us lies. A man who among other offices served as Moderator of the township of Greenwich for many years; a graduate and a member of the Corporation of Yale, devoted to sound knowledge and education; a leader in business and industry; a man of faith, and a loyal servant of the church; a man of wide-spread interests, in youth and in college outstanding in football, now a star in the presidential game of golf; the distinguished Senator of the United States—Prescott Sheldon Bush.

WE NEED YOUR HELP

SEVERAL HUNDRED of our Brother Psi U's who are entitled to THE DIAMOND are not getting it because they have failed to notify THE DIAMOND office at 4 West 43rd Street, New York 36, N.Y., of their new addresses. As they will probably never read this appeal, we address it to those Brothers (more than nine thousand) who presumably do receive their Fraternity quarterly magazine.

You, as a recipient of THE DIAMOND, would be doing a fine, brotherly turn if you would take it upon yourself as a committee of one to discuss this matter with Brothers who may have complained to you about non-receipt of THE DIAMOND. All graduates in the main since 1926 have paid for a life subscription to THE DIAMOND and are entitled to receive it quarterly. We especially need your cooperation in locating Brothers who do not now receive THE DIAMOND. We should appreciate your sending us the current addresses of any of these whom you know, or suggesting to them that they send us their addresses themselves.

Let yourself at some future date be added to the missing, please make a mental note now to notify THE DIAMOND office whenever you change your address. A post card is sufficient, but please type or print your address legibly, give your Chapter and delegation, and do not forget to sign your name, as Brothers have occasionally done in the past. If you will do this, we promise to keep up with you, or at least not to fall more than one issue behind. If you fail to do it, we will still try to track you down, but the odds may be too much for us.

In case you need it now, there is a change of address blank on page 114 of this issue.

Letter to the Editors

Your Editors are especially grateful to Brother Raymond K. Dykema, Phi '11, and his friend Gordon W. Kingsbury, for the following letter and the photograph on the opposite page. Brother George M. Humphrey, Phi '12, Secretary of the Treasury, is in lower right-hand corner of the original picture. We made a blow-up of that picture and inserted it, top left. Top right is a "shot" of Brother Humphrey "surrendering" on board the USS Helena, when he met, at sea, with President-elect Eisenhower, this past December.

We are grateful to Brother Dykema also for material supplied for the article in the March issue on Brother Humphrey which attracted so much interest.

Dear Ray,

You asked me to supply some information about George Humphrey for the Psi U. magazine. Though what I have to offer is not pure Psi U. literature, it may provide an interesting sidelight on George's career at Michigan.

I came to know him as an actress. We were both members of the troupe that put Koanzaland—the Michigan Union Opera—before the footlights. George was one of the leading "ladies" in the cast and I was the publicity man. It was not the early publicity that made George a great man but it was the talent visible at that time which helped carry George forward in his climb to success.

Among the pictures in my old college scrapbook is a photograph of the whole cast taken at the conclusion of one of the acts. George is shown in full make-up. He wears that engaging smile and the striking pose of a most attractive blond actress. On top of the blond wig he wore a large wide-brimmed hat surmounted with two ostrich plumes. His jacket was black or dark blue trimmed with white edging, the skirt was white, and he carried, and maneuvered enticingly, a parasol.

You will recall that George was no great success as a singer so his function in the opera is most easily explained by referring to the Koanzaland program. You will recall that the opera story centered around the fact that some university students, seeking escape from college problems, found themselves in Africa. Here is the way George was listed:

"Zola Smoothe, late of Kieth's with affinity for Chauncey
. George N. Humphries"

The error in the spelling of the last name would be an easy one and I don't believe was any effort on George's part to avoid detection. Of course he sang in the "ensembles" at the close of each act but his principle role in the opera was to play the part of an attractive damsel having a good time with some college boys. George used that million dollar smile to perfection—good training for the multi-million smile he wears today.

George could strut his stuff back in Koanzaland, but I notice in the program that you were a member of the finance committee. With you serving in your capacity and I as publicity man, don't you think we gave George a good start?

Sincerely yours,
GORDON W. KINGSBURY

WILLIAM H. DRAPER, Delta '16. The following editorial about Brother Draper was in the New York Herald Tribune of May 12, 1953.

"When Ambassador Draper undertook his twofold task in Europe as director of American aid activities and also permanent representative on the NATO Council, he requested that its duration be limited to a year. Afterward he stayed on at President Eisenhower's special request. His resignation, therefore, does not come as a surprise; but inevitably it brings a sense of loss. An able financier and administrator, Mr. Draper was well suited to his task of bringing American views to bear directly upon European problems; he gave an impetus to rearmament and by his informed and enlightened judgment helped solve some of the difficulties in the field of economic co-operation. His report on the first year's work, issued last August, was a striking document which set the stage for the development of a more liberal trade policy as a substitute for indefinite aid.

There is apparently to be no replacement for Mr. Draper as co-ordinator of American aid activities; this function is reportedly being transferred to Mr. Stassen in Washington. Whatever the advantages of this plan, the fact that the United States representative on the NATO Council will not have a direct responsibility in directing military aid is to be regretted. Mr. Draper's dual functions permitted him to implement and guide NATO decisions in a highly constructive way. At best, only a strong figure will be able to take his place on the council. He will return having served well the cause of Western defense, and with an experience which should stand him in good stead in other jobs for his country."

FRANCIS S. DANE, Kappa '96 and Mrs. Dane observed their golden wedding anniversary on February 14. Brother Danes' sons, Francis S., Jr., Kappa '31 and Nathan 2nd, Kappa '37 were present.

BROTHER E. V. DURLING, Xi '13, writes in his column "Life with Salt on the Side," in the New York Journal American: "Are you a fraternity man?" asks an Amherst sophomore. "Certainly am. A member of the country's best college fraternity which, as everybody knows, is Psi Upsilon."

LEO B. (PETE) FARICY, Omicron '30, formerly with the convention bureau of the St. Paul, Minn., Association of Commerce, is now general manager of the Minnesota Automobile Dealers Association at 314 Plymouth Bldg., Minneapolis 3, Minn.

JOHN D. FASSETT, Upsilon '46, will serve as clerk to Stanley Reed, Justice of the Supreme Court.

Brother Fassett, who was on the Dean's list at the University of Rochester where he won a B.A. degree, played varsity football, tennis and handball and was advertising manager of the college yearbook. He was a member of Psi Upsilon social fraternity and also won the Charles E. Caldwell Prize for the best work in the Department of English, was president of Chi Rho honorary society, chairman of the College Traditions Committee and a member of the Morey Club. At Yale, he was elected to the Law Journal Editorial Board.

Fassett is a veteran of three year's service in the U. S. Army Quartermaster Corps, having enlisted as a private and gained the rank of second lieutenant at his separation.

Mr. Hughes and other members of the Board established last December will help determine and implement policies in connection with the University's 10-year, $102,000,000 program for new buildings and endowment. Chairman of the group is Charles R. Cox, president of the Kennecott Copper Corporation and a member of the University Council, governing body of the institution.

Members of the Board will work with Chancellor Heald, Frank L. Howley, Delta '25, vice chancellor for University development, and a special development committee of the Council.

WILLIAM A. HUMPHRIES, JR., Pi '41, associated with Bethlehem Steel Co. since graduation from Syracuse University, with the exception of three years service with the Army Air Corps in World War II, has been elected Vice-President and Controller of Bethlehem Steel Co. He is married to the former Ruth McCorkindale of Holyoke, Mass., and resides in Scarsdale, N.Y., with his wife and three daughters. He is a member of the Dartmouth Club of New York, University Club and Office Equipment Manufacturers Institute.

How did baseball's seventh-inning-stretch start? Today it is so much of a must that a fan is made to feel like a traitor, at least, if he fails to rise at the proper moment. Helen Mull in the current Catholic Digest says this was the beginning:

"When William Howard Taft (Beta '78), was president, he went to a Washington Senators game. In the seventh inning the President stood up to get the kinks out of his back. Thinking he was leaving, the crowd stood up for the President. When Taft sat down, the crowd sat down."

SCOTT TURNER, Phi '02, formerly president of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, has been elected to the presidency of the American Institute of Consulting Engineers. Brother Turner has had a long and spectacular experience in the field of mining engineering. He served under President Hoover as head of the United States Bureau of Mines. From 1937 to 1946 he was President of the Executive Council of Psi Upsilon.

THOMAS J. WATSON, JR., Sigma '37, president of International Business Machines Corp., was installed recently as president of the Greater New York Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the organization's annual meeting. Brother Watson, who has been city Scout Commissioner for the last five years, will serve for five years in his new capacity.

ERIC W. WILL, Pi '18 has been elected an Alumni Trustee of Syracuse University.

THE CHAPTERS SPEAK

DELTA New York University

JAMES H. FAY, JR., '55, Associate Editor

The closing weeks of the year were begun with a Victory Party at the Fraternity House the evening after Student Council Elections. Present at the stag affair were campus leaders from other fraternities and student organizations, as well as a number of Brothers from the Delta. The party was the high point of the year as far as our relations which other students on campus is concerned. The spirit of all present was tremendous. The success of the party should have a lasting effect with students on campus toward our Chapter.

The softball team, in a league with the other fraternities on campus, hopes to win the first place trophy with a well balanced team having enough depth to include three pitchers and several substitutes for both the infield and outfield. The team also has the drive and spirit needed to win many of the games on a quite crowded schedule. Art Elliot, Delta '53, is its able captain.

Dick Haywood, Delta '54, was our delegate to the recently held fourteen-power conference at the Pi Chapter. Ralph Muchett, Delta '52, accompanied him. Both reported having a grand time and enjoyed observing the initiation ceremonies of the Pi.

David L. Mitchell, Delta '54, has been elected president of student council. A member of Perstare et Praestare, Mitchell is a political science major . . . was a National Student Association delegate for two years, serving them as New York regional treasurer . . . active in the John Marshal Pre-Law Society . . . a member of the executive board of the Heights Young Republicans . . . delegate to the Young Adult Council of New York City . . . a native of Clearfield, Pa.

Ray Woznick, Delta '51, married Evelyn Hoffman on May 2 . . . Dick Haywood is very active in the German Club . . . Jim Fay is vice-president of the Heights Young Democrats . . . Joe Marra, Delta '53, was elected to the Honorary Industrial Engineers Fraternity . . . Joe Raimondi, Delta '55, is preparing to retire from the Pershing Rifles . . . his place is being taken by Eric Nelson, Delta '56 . . . Furniture donated by our Alumni is complimented by all.

SIGMA Brown University

EDMUND D. MOONEY, Associate Editor

Now that classes have ended, and before the senior delegation begins chewing its fingers worrying about comprehensives, the Sigma can take a brief pause to look back on an eventful Spring.

Four initiates were added to the roster of Brothers: Guy Hughes, Richard Hughes, Joseph Simpson, and Donald Sinclair. Because the University allowed rushing to be held early, rather than late, this Spring semester, men were pledged and initiated in the same semester for the first time in four years.

Socially, the spring was fairly active, featuring many fine entertainments. Some were held jointly with other houses. For Spring Weekend the Brothers rented a party boat which anchored in the Seekonk River during the crew races, and aroused a good deal of interest, including pictures in the Providence newspapers. An alumni smoker, similar to one held during the fall semester, proved to be exceptionally successful. As guest speaker we had Allen Pierce, who lectured and showed color movies of his cruise around the world on Arthur Johnson's cruising schooner, Yankee II. Mr. Pierce, who is now a student at the University of Vermont, spoke for approximately two hours, and his lecture was greatly enjoyed by the active Brothers, alumni of the Sigma, and officials of the University who attended.

Enthusiastic participation in extra-curricular activities continues to be a watchword. Dave Bell was recently elected president of the Cammarian Club, the Brown student governing body. Bill O'Brien was named secretary of the interfraternity governing board. Bob Womsley is treasurer of the Brown Key. The freshman delegation this year is especially interested in athletics; twelve out of fourteen are on a university team, and four of them are team captains. Team captains are: Mike Carney, varsity lacrosse; Charlie Flather, freshman track; Nat Green, freshman tennis; and Lanny Parker, freshman crew.

Elections were held this spring, as usual, and the results were: Bill O'Brien, president; Bill Pettine, vice-president; and Derek Stedman and Bob Womsley, rushing co-chairmen.

Next year's rushing period is not set yet, but it will be scheduled in the second semester. Correspondence regarding rushing may be forwarded to Edward T. Richards, 1109 Hospital Trust Building, Providence, R.I.

ZETA Dartmouth College

T. JAMES ADAMS, Associate Editor

1952-1953 has been an outstanding year for the Zeta Chapter of Psi Upsilon. We started off in the Fall at a rapid pace by winning the cup for the most outstanding fraternity on campus. Soon fraternity rushing began and Psi U took in a fine pledge group. The pledge class of twenty men is a close-knit unit with varied and diversified interests that give the House representation in a majority of Dartmouth's campus organizations and activities. This year, as in the past, Zetas were very active athletically. On the collegiate level over half the members of the House participated on varsity squads. In the intramural field Psi U has done extremely well and up to date is leading all fraternities in the intramural competition. We won the college championships in football, handball, ping pong, and squash, reached the semi-finals in ice-hockey, and in general did well in all other intramural contests.

In late February the Zeta players took third in the interfraternity play contest with their presentation of The Book of Job. In the spring campus elections a Psi U was chosen to head the undergraduate executive committee and two of our new Brothers were elected to positions in Green Key. Just before Spring vacation Psi U received great recognition as nine Brothers were tapped for membership in the senior honorary societies.

We are all proud to say that our position scholastically on campus has been rising steadily for the past several years. In the House elections for the officers that will serve for the remainder of this term and one-half the next school year we had the following results: Mike Finnigan took over the position of president; and Ned Hoban is the new vice-president; Jim Adams was elected corresponding Secretary; Doug Melville filled the recording secretary's chair. The outgoing officers should be heartily commended for the fine job they have done.

Social activities at Psi U have, as in the past, been held on two levels. Formally, there were the cocktail parties, to which the faculty was invited, and our three large weekend Houseparties, Winter Carnival, and Green Key. On the informal level, beer served after home athletic games and on several other occasions made up the Chapter's social life. On both levels Zeta maintained the respect and prestige of the campus.

In the Spring hum we sang impressive arrangements of "Steal Away" and "We Kiss in a Shadow." It was a good year for Psi U at Dartmouth.

Our rushing chairman for the next pledging period is Ned Hoban. His summer address will be 299 Vernon Ave., Glencoe, Ill. The approximate dates for next fall's rushing period will be October 20 to November 1.

LAMBDA Columbia University

JOHN A. CHANCE, Associate Editor

Alfred J. Perez, potential petrologist pleni-potentiary, polled votes to become the Lambda Chapter president in our May 4 election.

The vice-presidency was conferred upon Edmund Hawxhurst of the Monroe, N.Y., Hawxhursts.

George Michel, of campus NROTC fame, was elected secretary, while Walter Glinnsman, freshman crew 1st-boat stroke, rowed his way to the treasurership.

Sixteen fraternities on the Columbia campus

cooperate to put on a Spring carnival, proceeds of which go to the National Scholarship Fund. In connection with this event, a 1953 Ford was raffled off. The Lambda distinguished itself doubly in this undertaking by selling the most raffle books per man, and having as a Brother, Al Markovich, the leading salesman on campus.

Our booth at the carnival was certainly the busiest of the sixteen. This year we tried an idea of rolling plates down an inclined plane and challenging pitchers to break the plates. Money-wise, the booth fell short of expectations, even though contestants thronged to it five hours straight. Next year we will put our engineering experts on the booth job and have a "going concession."

At the present date, Ed Hawxhurst has pitched Psi U to a 4 won-2 lost count in the interfraternity league softball series. We have a first-rate chance of tying for first place when the season closes.

Plans are being blue-printed for a farewell party to our six graduating senior Brothers. May 27 is the probable day. The six who will receive degrees are: George Borwicz, Stanley Davies, Henry Donaghy, Erlend Fredericksen, Robert Gleckler, and William Owen.

We have a world champion in our midst at the Lambda. Walter Bossert smoked away 'til the golden ray lit up the dawn of a 104-minute record. This feat was accomplished at Yale in the intercollegiate pipe smoking contest. Walt also emerged as executive officer of the Arnold Air Society. Named after General "Hap" Arnold, the society is under the auspices of the campus AFROTC program.

Harry Smith and Lenny Florentino will be reporting to Camp Columbia in August, there to undergo tutelage by Lou Little. Smith is a guard candidate and Florentino is striking for a full-back position.

Despite an apathetic, lackadaisical atmosphere which permeates the general tenor of life here, as a result of summer-like Spring weather, all the Brothers are rousing themselves into small dynamos of decisive activity, thereby to really do well on final examinations.

PSI Hamilton College

CHARLES E. PERSONS AND JAMES P.
THOMPSON, Associate Editors

Spring has found its mark at the Psi Chapter, and the House is bubbling with the enthusiasm of the time. In accord with the new leaves and flowers, the Psi's have a new president. He is John O. Logan, a junior who makes his home in Baltimore, Md. A long time bulwark in House affairs, John has proven his leadership ability in academic circles as well as on the football field.

Synonymous with Spring is softball, and early evenings find manager "Pumpkin" Pratt's hitless wonders vieing for top rung on the intramural ladder. With veteran infielders Paine, Price, Weatherbee, Blood, and Spoehr playing a stellar defensive roll and with Brothers Freytag, Goodhand, Henry, Fletcher, Benza, and Cline as capable fly chasers, the intramural arm of the Psi looks forward to a successful Spring season to back up the bowling and basketball championships.

Approximately half the Brothers are in the ranks of varsity teams. Veteran pitcher Bill May leads the aggregation of Jim Dunn, Jim Thompson, Joe Giglio, and Ron Hovey to the baseball diamond, while Ed Reed, Rog Mosher, Dan Gregory, Dick Fox, Wayne Mahood, John Bush, and Bill Penfield are stalwarts on the lacrosse team. Al Persons, captain of the golf team, is still undefeated on the links, as are Dave Doty and Charlie Persons. Brother Earl Cline has made a name for himself in the pentathlon events, not, however, outshining the efforts of Roy Basler and Rog Cunnane. Represented on the tennis team are Max Gray, Stew Pollock, and Bill Bradley.

Two Brothers of the Psi have been elected to offices of their respective classes. Stew Pollock, who was chosen for Who's Who in American Colleges, will be president of the senior class next fall, and Paul Lewis will be vice-president of the sophomore class,

John O. Logan, President of the Psi

Rushing Chairman Robert Goodhand may be addressed during the summer at Harwood Lane, East Rochester, N.Y., and the rushing period will be from September 13 through September 20.

The Psi has had a good year, and although the loss of thirteen seniors will seriously deplete our ranks, we look forward to even greater years in the future.

XI Wesleyan University

CHUCK CHADWICK, Associate Editor

During the current year the Brothers of the Xi have turned in a remarkable record both in the House and on campus. It is perhaps not unusual to say that athletics has accounted for much of this, but we feel that this year has been exceptional in that respect.

At the winter sports banquet, it was announced that Brother Chase was to be wrestling captain for next year while Brothers Chadwick and Shepherd were elected swimming co-captains. As a result Psi U now captains three sports since Brother Bachman is football co-captain, and with the Spring sports season only beginning, the list may not be complete.

Brother Corky Chase wrestled his way to another stellar season, and not only retained his New England crown, but also was voted as the outstanding man in the championships. Corky received further honors when he was elected to Skull and Serpent, honorary senior society at Wesleyan. Corky's fine record here has not been primarily athletic, for as an Olin Scholar he has maintained a very high honors average. In swimming Brother Chuck Chadwick was the team's top sprinter and made the finals of the New England championship. Both Chuck and Brother Scott Shepherd, who developed into a fine backstroker, set school marks this season.

The House itself had a grand winter season as it went undefeated to win the interfraternity basketball championship and then turned right around to take the swim crown.

Ace sprinter Brother Bill Ellis is capably filling his job as track captain and Brother Muir is also starring. In baseball Brother Bill Chittenden's hitting has helped the team and in addition Bill was elected to the Skull and Serpent Society. The Xi also has Brother Bowers as number one ranking tennis player, while in golf Brother Ott proves to be one of the team's best. In freshman sports, Pledge Bixby and Brother Baldrige are mainstays of the baseball team, while Brother Bretcher excels on the tennis courts.

The House elected Brother Knapp as prexy for the Spring term. Bob Knapp hails from Hamden, Conn., and has held many responsible positions in the House as well as playing on the baseball and basketball teams. Brother Branch was chosen vice-president and Brother Claybaugh, secretary. The election of Brother Bachman to the Mystical Seven (a college honor society) was another laurel for the House, which was followed by Brother Remensnyder's selection for Who's Who in American Colleges.

At the last House meeting, the Xi was happy to initiate Pledges Fred Frost and John Foster.

The Brothers look forward to September 9-12 when they will be back here to welcome "loyal sons" for the Annual National Convention. We recognize and appreciate the work being done by the alumni, and hope the affair will be second to none in our history.

Rushing Chairman Cameron Rodney O'Connor and Bruce D. Hale may be reached during the summer at 142 Lainsdowne Road, Warwick, R.I., and 124 Forrest Avenue, Riverside, Ill., respectively.

UPSILON University of Rochester

DAVE SKINNER, Associate Editor

This rapidly passing Spring has witnessed the successful conclusion of a banner year for the Upsilon. Already many of the extracurricular honors, numerous successful social events, and the rewards for much hard work during the '52-'53 school year have begun to fade into the obscurity of the past. They will, however, be fondly remembered by the departing Brothers of the class of '53 and proudly recalled by the actives in years to come as a high point in chapter excellence worthy of serving as a goal for future endeavors.

The position of eminence in this article rightly falls upon the departing senior members of the Chapter. The Upsilon class of '53 has certainly been outstanding in all phases of college life, and each member is individually worthy of all the honor which he inspires in the other Brothers due to his contributions and interest in the Chapter and in the school. The entire Chapter wishes them continued and uninterrupted success in the future—a wish in whose fulfillment we have complete confidence based on the past achievements of these Brothers. Brother Jack Glenn, for instance, has been elected to Phi Beta Kappa and Brother Don Lesh has been awarded the coveted Woodrow Wilson Fellowship for a year of graduate study at Harvard University. Brother Lesh will enter the Russian studies program there next fall.

In the Spring sports activities, many Brothers have again contributed to the successes or failures of the University's athletic program. In tennis, Brother Brian Peoples is still undefeated in singles play, and Brother Letteron also finds time from his other numerous obligations to join the netmen. On the golf links, Brother Brugler is cutting divots in his usual dependable style contributing to a winning season in this sport, while Pledge Brother Bob Burch has moved into the Number 2 spot and is displaying a consistently good game. An onlooker at the baseball diamond would notice several Up's holding down vital positions on this year's squad. Brother Bower handles his share of the mound duties although still plagued by a football injury; Brothers Wood, Olin, and Burkely are kept busy chasing flies in the outfield gardens; and Brother Deveraux and Pledge Brother Anagnost hold down starting berths in the all-important infield. This year's track team is more than ably captained by Brother Pete Peters who has been the squad's chief point-earner through his stellar performances in the dashes. Pledge Brother Evginedes speedily seconds Brother Peters in his rapid motions, while Brother Friedlander and Nagel have adjourned quite successfully to the weight throwing events. All in all, the U of R Psi U's have certainly again shown their supremacy in the field of athletic endeavors.

On the social scene, a good time has been had by all during the recent months. Almost every weekend has seen a large gathering thoroughly enjoying themselves in the House. Of special note was the traditional novelty party which this year took the form of a '20's party at the suggestion of Brother Brugler. This event as planned and staged by Social Chairman Arbaugh, consisted of a picnic, splash party, and '20's dance, with all the Brothers and their dates attending in appropriate garb. All agreed that it turned into the best social event of the year thus far. Now all eyes are focused on the approaching Spring Weekend to be held on the Memorial Day Weekend. With an all-fraternity Coney Island theme, this two-day event promises to end the year on a high note. Several members of the Chapter also wish to extend thanks to the Nu for the wonderful time they had at the Spring Formal held in the Toronto Hunt Club.

Campus elections have been held for positions of leadership in next year's activities, and we are proud to announce the election of several Brothers to positions of importance. Brother McPherson was chosen as a member of the Board of Control, having power over student activities' finances, and Brother Nagel was selected as a member of the Academic Honesty Committee. In class elections, Brother Bill Powell was elected President of the Class of '56 while Brothers Wood and Skinner will serve that class in the capacity of student senators.

Within the Chapter, elections have also been held for next year, and Brother Tom Rickert, an English honors major from Niagara Falls, has been selected to hold the gavel as President next fall. Tom has also been chosen to direct the next production of Quilting Club, the all-men musical comedy production. Tom succeeds Brother Ponazecki in that capacity. As Vice-Presidents the Chapter has chosen Brothers Art Jewett and Bob Lohnes. The responsible duties of Steward and Treasurer have fallen to Brothers Slocum and Brady respectively. The all-important assignment of Rushing Chairman has been entrusted to Brother Bob McDonald. Congratulations are also in order for Brother Jewett upon his selection for the Psi U Outstanding Junior Award. Brother Eleder will capably represent the Chapter at the 1953 Convention to be held at Wesleyan in September. The best wishes of the house are extended to the Xi Chapter for a successful Convention. Last, and as usual, not least, congratulations are in order to Brother Tom Detro upon his initiation into the Brotherhood.

IOTA

Kenyon College

ALLEN K. GIBBS, Associate Editor

The beginning of Spring was celebrated at the Iota with a Vernal Equinox party in the Kokosing River (creek). Due to no astronomical misinterpretation on the Chapter's part but one by nature, the elements changed. For the remainder of March and the greater part of April, the snows came. Assured that the Iota Owl is now in the favorable phase of its zodiac, lawn and convertible parties seem to be here to stay. It has been reported that a few paladins have even returned to the River.

The end of the second down period necessitated the Iota Faculty Cocktail party. The party was a most interesting means, even if its unethical end was not achieved. As this epistle is being formed, we are a few short days from the Spring Dance Weekend. The only annotation at this time is that the social chairman has assured the Chapter that a plentiful supply of ice will be available at all times. Commencement weekend, June 5-8, is the only formal occasion remaining on the calendar. Initiation will take place on June 6.

The Chapter is pleased to announce the marriage of its president, George H. Dunn, II, of New York, to Miss Sheila Carey, also of New York, and formerly a student of the University of Vermont. Sheila and George were married between semesters. George was recently chosen by the Iota to receive the Psi Upsilon Alumni Key.

Participating in the Kenyon Dramatic Association's Spring presentation of William Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors" were Brothers Lynch, Randell, Wolfe, and Pledge Ryan. It is also to be noted that Pledge Ryan won first place in the Kenyon extemporaneous speaking contest. Brother Hartong is low scorer for Kenyon's unvictorious golf team. But the Iota has been far more successful in the intramural softball league. At present we are tied for first place.

Graduating this June are Brothers Guandolo, Parks, Paul, Ririe, Starr, and Williams. The Chapter is proud of their records at Kenyon and esteems their work for Psi Upsilon.

Kenyon College will initiate a new rushing program next year. Kenyon fraternities no longer will be able to pledge in October. They must wait until after the second week of the second semester. This is of great concern to every fraternity at Kenyon, but considering the Iota's great success this past year on campus we are positively preparing for this innovation.

OMEGA University of Chicago

GEORGE STONE, Associate Editor

The most important happening at the Omega this Spring was the initiation of seven new men into the Chapter. The new Brothers are John Broyles, Robert Giedt, Ted Greiner, Wendell Marumoto, Dick Moy, David Smith, and John Varady. In addition to these men, Jerry Czamanski and Bob Blumer went through the complete pledge period but were not formally initiated because they are uncertain about their next year's plans. If they return to Chicago, they will be initiated the first thing next fall. Keith Kelly also went through the pledge training with these men and was accepted as an associate member of the Omega. With these new men in the fold, the Omega will start next year in a very strong position.

The House itself, under the guidance of Brother Valantas, is also in good shape. At the present time, plans are being carried out to give the house two new flagpoles and a complete set of flags. It is hoped that they will be ready in time for the Interfraternity Sing on June 6.

The social activity this Spring has been lots of fun. Brothers Alex Shane and Harry Oley-nick as social chairmen have done an excellent job. The annual two-way formal with Alpha Delta Phi was a great success this year as always. The themes of other successful parties have ranged from a square dance to a "Communist Rally." The last official party of the quarter was a theatre party to the revue "New Faces." Onrushing exams have ended the social activity for the quarter but a committee under Brother Ralph Apton is working hard to make the annual Interfraternity Sing and Reunion a big success. Great effort is being made to get as many alumni as possible back to the Omega. Last year Psi Upsilon won the Quantity Cup at the Sing and we have great hopes of winning it again this year.

In sports, Psi Upsilon continues to rule the roost at Chicago. In intramural activities, in addition to the touchball, track, and swimming titles already held this year, the Omega added the volleyball crown and is well on its way towards taking the tennis and softball titles as well. Basketball was the only major championship to elude us this year and we were runners-up there. Athletic chairmen John Frank-enfeld and Joe Ellis deserve a great deal of credit for their management of the teams.

Our rushing chairman is Al Yarowsky. His summer address will be 5639 University Ave., Chicago 37, Illinois. Opening day for Chicago next fall will be September 26, 1953. Classes will start on the 29th of September. The dates of the rushing period haven't been given out yet so we can't pass them on to you at this time. After having had four men on the basketball team, Psi Upsilon continues to dominate the spring intercollegiate sports. The entire starting infield of the baseball team, as well as the first two pitchers are Brethern of the Omega. John Frankenfeld, the second baseman, is co-captain of this year's team. Dave Utley, Bruce Colby and Wendell Marumoto make up the rest of the infield. Lou Hamilton and John Broyles are the pitchers. In track, Jerry Czamanski is the top javelin man on the team and one of the top high-jumpers. Alex Shane was the number one épée man on the fencing team and competed in the National Intercollegiate Championships at Philadelphia in March. George Stone is playing on the varsity tennis team. At the present time, the Omega seems to be assured of the Varsity Cup, awarded each year to the group with the most letter winners.

The Chapter communication of the Chi will be found on pages 132 and 133.

BETA BETA Trinity College

JOEL B. JEPSON, Associate Editor

The month of April witnessed the inauguration of the electives to their various positions. On April 29, Ralph Louis Tompkins, Jr., was elected President of the Beta Beta. He will be ably assisted in the fall term of 1953 by Joseph Woodward and Ronald T. Storms, who achieved the positions of First and Second Vice-President, respectively. The Brotherhood expresses their faith in the competence of these new men. John R. Hopkinson succeeds Bud Sproul as the House Steward. A word of commendation should be bestowed upon Brother Sproul for his sagacious and profitable management of the eating club. The subsidiary posts of Secretary and Treasurer were voted respectively to Clay Stephens and Joel Jepson. The elections were terminated by the selection of George Kennedy, François Hyde, and Arthur McCully as the Corresponding Secretaries of the House.

The Brotherhood, after due consideration, awarded the Junior Key to Harold M. Morrison for the inexhaustible interest and self-sacrifice he contributed to the Chapter. The equally coveted Brady Cup, awarded to the Sophomore having the most noble characteristics, was conveyed to Clay Stephens.

The initiation of the new Brothers was effected during the week of April 19. The six

Ralph L. Tompkins, Jr., President-elect of the Beta Beta

Brothers were enthusiastically welcomed at a banquet held on April 24, at which time the Beta Beta enjoyed the presence of alumni Brothers: Sumner Shepherd Sr. and Jr., McCook, Rodgers, Arias, Hopkins, and Parsons. Those formally initiated into the Beta Beta Chapter were: Class of 1954: François Tonetti Hyde, Palisades, N.Y. Class of 1955: Brenton Godfrey Fuhger, Grosse Pointe, Mich.; George Chalfant Kennedy, Jr., Pittsburgh, Pa.; Richard Malcolm Leach, Chestnut Hill, Mass.; Louis John Isselhardt, Scarsdale, N.Y.; Thomas Pearson Wright, Keene, N.H.

On March 11, Beta Beta held its semi-annual Fraternity festival or as it is more commonly called February Festival. The event was postponed for several weeks to coincide with the arrival date of President Jacobs (Phi '21) at Trinity College. The Chapter was very pleased to have present alumni Brothers: Jim Lin, Bart Wilson, Richard O'Brien, Philip McCook, Maxwell Phelps, Seth Low, Albert Dexter, John Coote, Ralph Rodgers, and W. S. Granger, all of whom added greatly to the party. The Chapter was very honored to have Dr. Jacobs, in his official capacity as President, enjoy his first meal at Trinity in the Fraternity House. He was accompanied by Mrs. Jacobs and their daughter, Sarah.

The sports scene at Beta Beta finds its focal point in intramural softball and the noteworthy participation of Joseph Woodward and Paul Thomas on the varsity track team. After a lethargic start the softball nine has rapidly improved, winning the last two of its four contests. Paul Thomas has shown his virtuosity in the high jump this spring by copping several firsts, and his compeer Joe Woodward has proven to be a strong contender in the broad jump. Brother R. Stewart is also in line for congratulations for making the golf team.

Undoubtedly the most auspicious achievements in athletics at Beta Beta in the last few months have been rendered by Michael Morphy and Richard Stewart. The first mentioned performed admirably on the squash courts this past season, with Dick Stewart playing number one and at the same time captain of the team. Stewart, who recently won the Newton-Brainard award for the outstanding player at Trinity College had long been voted an accomplished competitor in and around the Hartford area. Morphy was runner up to Stewart for the previously mentioned award and was given the Mason Prize for the most improved squash during the season of 1953. Mike was elected Co-Captain for the forthcoming season and should have an extremely successful year in '54.

Ralph L. Tompkins, President-elect for the fall term, as was previously mentioned, was also appointed to the Senate. Michael Morphy was appointed to the Inter-Fraternity Council. These two ramifications of the student administration are mandatory; thus, the ample representation which was acquired will prove quite beneficial.

The Yacht Club is functioning efficiently, under the guidance of Commodore Stewart Hunter, Vice-Commodore Hugh G. Cunningham, Racing Captain Richard Pearson, and Secretary Richard Leach. The Chapter extends the best of luck to these officers for the forthcoming year.

Clay Stephens continues his versatility in drama by commanding one of the lead roles in The Man Who Came To Dinner, the current production of the Jesters. Clay was recently elected President of the Jesters, and John Isselhardt Secretary, and some special note should be made here that Forrester Smith is on the Senior Ball Committee.

Arthur Tildesley has been appointed as the Class Agent, for that body graduating in the spring. Peter L. Winslow was appointed to the Class agent Committee. These two seniors should handle their positions capably in the future; each served a term as President of the Beta Beta.

Brother Louis Downes, upon his demise, has made the college the beneficiary of a majority of his $750,000.00 estate. Most of the money is to be used in the construction of a clock tower.

As I write this on the eve of the Spring House Party, I'm hoping that that event will prove to be a fitting culmination of an eventful and rewarding Spring Term.

ETA

Lehigh University

WILLIAM A. LATSHAW, JR., Associate Editor

Spring semester is rapidly drawing to a screeching halt but the brothers of the Eta are still going full speed ahead—scholastically, socially and extra-curricularly. Most of us are currently recuperating from Spring House-party weekend, Elliot Lawrence and iced coils. Minor panic occurred when Brother Willoughby Blocker had his leg pinned between a car bumper and a stone wall . . . a woman driver, but no bones broken.

Theme for the occasion was "A Bermudan Weekend," and although it got a bit chilly in our shorts, a Dixieland band helped make it a tremendous success.

In retrospect, Eta copped a covey of fine pledges, the majority of whom are already actively engaged in campus activities to maintain our reputation as one of the top houses on the Lehigh scene. The next few weeks, however, will see the end of most of the social and extra-curricular work with the approach of final exams. Eta Chapter did not fare as well scholastically as was expected last semester, but this term the grades should improve.

Final exams will definitely be the final ones for three graduating Brothers: Willoughby Blocker, Tom Higgins and Bill Latshaw. "Anchors Aweigh" will be the cry for Brother Blocker, and even Tom might get nautical, following in the naval footsteps of Brothers Bogardus and Hill. Brother Latshaw will spend the summer practicing ducking bullets before taking an Infantry refresher course at Ft. Benning.

Robert W. Jenkins, Jr., was recently initiated into Cyanide, Lehigh University's Junior Class honor-leadership society. Brother Jenkins now holds the position of assistant news editor of the Lehigh Brown and White.

Pledge Bryan Hitchcock was elected captain of the Lehigh varsity hockey team for the season next year, but otherwise, Eta seems to be out in left field athletically. Intramurally we have fun providing competition (?) for the other teams. On the links however, Brothers Al Day and Buz Lydon have been guiding Pledge Dick Austin in perfecting his golf game.

Not much more for now. Remember, just because Bethlehem is the Christmas city doesn't mean the House isn't open for Brothers the rest of the year. Stop by.

Eta chapter announces the initiation of: Neale Birdsall, '55, Plainfield, N.J.; George Lowman Howell, '55, Elmira, N.Y.

TAU University of Pennsylvania

F. HOWARD MILLER, JR., Associate Editor

The last few weeks of the spring semester find the Tau winding up a very successful term, and some twenty seniors looking forward to graduation. Most of our graduates this year will answer the call of Uncle Sam, and the remainder will be taking jobs in the various companies around the country. At present it looks as if the Navy will claim a majority of the Brothers, with the Air Force running a close second.

As usual, the spring found Psi U's engaged in many activities on campus. The Red and Blue pitching staff featured lefty Ralph Meacham, and John Geis was a consistent winner for the golf team. Varsity and J.V. crews were bolstered by Brothers Greene, Flint, Grashof, Riley, and Cunningham, and Brother Bill Myers returned to stroke the 150 lb. crew. Out for football next year will be John Holland, Roger Wagner, and John Cannon, while Brothers Bull, Boardman, Tucker, MacAllister, and Jervis will be on the soccer field. Writing for the various campus publications this fall were Lem Schofield, Charlie Cachot, Fred Tucker and Jack MacAllister, and the Mask and Wig was supported by Dick Morse, Lem Schofield, John Geis, and Carl Grashof. Other Psi U's in activities include Brothers Boardman, Schofield, and Brigstocke in the Glee Club, Morse and Winson on dance committees, and Hovey and McFarland on the Dorm council.

Highlights of the social season at Penn were Interfraternity weekend in February and Skimmer Day in May, both of which gave rise to great parties at the Tau. Cocktail parties and the annual Spring formal rounded out a lively social calendar. As usual Brother Henry Woolman held the Spring picnic at his farm in Valley Forge for all Brothers and Alumni, and this was a huge success as always.

Easter recess found a small group of Brothers, under the guidance of Roy Cleeland, engaged in improving the physical conditions of the House. Much painting and plastering was done and the Chapter House is now in the best of shape.

Officers for this term have been: Richard Morse, president; Victor Polity, vice-president; Duncan Bull, treasurer; and Edward Dearden, secretary.

Rushing Chairmen: Charles Cachot, Red Ground Rd., Old Westbury, N.Y., and Fred Tucker, Route #2, Phoenixville, Pa.

Rushing period: Probably the first two weeks of November.

Fall semester begins: September 28, 1953.

CHI Cornell University

FREDERIC C. WOOL, JR., Associate Editor

With June's final exams rapidly approaching and another senior class preparing to leave Cornell, the Chi looks back with satisfaction over another very successful Spring term.

This Spring has been highlighted by several outstanding house functions, and has been marked once again by the usual high percentage of Psi U's participating in the various activities which are available here at Cornell.

Tops among the Spring house functions was of course the initiation into the bonds of thirteen members of our freshman pledge class on Saturday afternoon, April 11. The principal speaker at the traditional banquet that night was brother Robert W. Purcell, '32, while Charles B. Hall, '38, acted as toastmaster. The initiate response was given by Brother Mike Mitchell, '57, and other new initiates included Brothers Don Barker, Dave Brackbill, John Brothers, Dave Ellison, Bill Grove, Jerry Hunt, Doug Merkle, John Merkle, Chuck Rolles, John Simek, Herm Van Lokeren, and John Vaughan. The festivities concluded with the customary snake dance into the Chapter Room.

Since our last report the House has held two highly successful houseparties, the Junior Week affair coming after mid-year exams in February and the Spring Weekend, which fell this year on the weekend of May 16. The seventh annual Psi U Follies was once again the top show at the Spring Carnival, and has become one of our most popular house functions.

A week before Spring Houseparty, on Sunday, May 10, we held our annual faculty cocktail party and some nice weather allowed us to use the terrace, which once again affords a view of the lake now that the wartime temporary dorms have finally been torn down. The consensus of opinion was that this year's faculty party was one of the best we have ever had.

Another highlight of the Spring term was our participation in the annual Interfraternity Song Contest, and under the able and inspired direction of Irv Pettit, we placed third out of a field of about twenty entrants, the best that Psi U has done in this affair in a good many years.

Rounding out the Spring house functions was the election of officers for next fall in the Chapter meeting of Monday, May 4. Brother Jim Price of Elmira, N.Y., who will be entering his fourth year in the School of Civil Engineering, is the new President, and takes the gavel from retiring President Al Pyott. Warren Breckenridge was elected first Vice-President and will handle our rushing program in September, while Fred Wood is the new corresponding secretary. Junior officers for the coming term will be George Bosworth, second Vice-President and Brother Pettit, Recording Secretary, while Brother Ellison was chosen Sergeant-at-Arms, and Mike Mitchell will be our sophomore representative in the Interfraternity Council. At the same time, the retiring House Committee selected Jack Vail as the new House Manager, while Steward Jim Wilson and Social Chairman Bud Munsick had been chosen earlier in the year.

In athletics, Psi U's once again played a prominent role on the campus this spring. Brother Bob Engel was the starting center-fielder on the baseball team in the early games, and Walt Knauss, in his third season of varsity competition, was alternating between left field and the pitcher's mound. Brother Simek has been handling the catching for the freshman squad. Defenseman and Captain Todd Kolb and midfielder Herb Bool both hold down starting spots with the Cornell lacrosse team, while first-string defenseman Doug Merkle and midfielder Jerry Hunt have been playing for the frosh.

Al Sebald has been running number two for the Big Red's outstanding mile relay quartet, in addition to running the 440 and 220 yard events, and Charlie Brandt has been working with the weights for the track team. Al Spindler is the House's only representative on the crew and John Davidge's tennis playing rounds out the Psi U participation in spring athletics at Cornell.

Brother Bud Rose, recently elected Junior Representative of the Cornell Interfraternity Council, and Sebald, who heads the IFC's Community Service Project, lead the Chi's IFC aspirants who include Brothers Bosworth, Pettit, and Brandt.

Psi U's Paul Reynolds, Brandt, Grove, Ellison, and Barker have all been active in the Cornell United Religious Work activities this spring, while Brothers Rose, Breckenridge, Pyott, and Steve Mitchell have been chosen as CURW freshman camp counselors for the coming fall.

Brother John Brown, who sits on Cornell's Executive Committee for Freshman Orientation, leads the House's representatives in that field, who include Orientation Counselors Wood, Grove, Ellison, and Doug Merkle. Psi U's Vail and Spindler have been active in Student Council work this spring.

Many of Cornell's honorary societies have tapped new members since our last report, and once again Psi U came out with ample representation. Atmos, the mechanical engineering honorary elected Brothers Vail, Breckenridge, Clancy Fauntleroy, and Bill Simon, while chemical engineer Wilson was invited to join Pros-Ops, and Brother Price received a bid to Rod and Bob. Brother Wood was pledged to Sigma Delta Chi, a journalistic society, and Psi U's Fauntleroy, Sebald, and Dick Coddington were tapped by Scabbard and Blade, the ROTC honorary. Brother Sebald is also a recent initiate of Ho-Nun-De-Kah, an honorary society in the School of Agriculture.

In other activities on the Hill this spring, Brother Rose headed the Committee for the very successful annual Sophomore Cotillion, which was held in March, and he was ably assisted by Brothers Spindler, Bosworth and Bob Brokaw. In journalism, sportswriters Wood and Davidge constitute the House's representation on the Cornell Daily Sun. Brother Wood will also be writing all the football programs for home games next fall as the assistant to the publicity director for the Cornell University Athletic Association.

Brother Pettit, who starred in a local dramatic production of "Bloomer Girl" during Spring Weekend, has also been chosen to sing in the Cayuga Waiters, a select group of 12 voices from the Cornell Men's Glee Club.

Psi U Bill Dearden was recently chosen as a Cornell cheerleader for the coming year and he will be working with Brother Brokaw, who will be one of the two Cornell bears who cavort at the various athletic contests during the year.

Three of the Brothers will be married this summer, and the House takes this opportunity to wish them all the best of everything. Bruce Boehm and Alice Ann Marquardt have set their date for June 27 in Briarcliff Manor, N.Y., while Bob Engel and Jane Coe, along with Port Stone and Judy Rodgers, have not yet chosen a definite date.

Our rushing chairman next fall will be Brother R. Warren Breckenridge, Jr., and the dates of formal rushing at Cornell are from Monday, September 21 to Friday, October 2.

The Chi wishes to remind all Brothers of Psi U that that any rushing information you can render that might help us in the big task that lies ahead of us next fall, will be much appreciated, and that our doors are always open to you whenever you are in the vicinity.

MU University of Minnesota

LOUIS HARRIS, Associate Editor

"Ah, to be at the Mu, now that Spring is here." That's probably what Robert Browning would say, thinking of the great activities going on at the Mu, when the lilacs bloom along with the stomachs of our off season athletes.

Winter closed with the initiation of such "jolly boys" as Dick Micheels, Dave Moline, Jim Blanchard, Joe Bonnett, John Quinn, all of Minneapolis, Mik Murphy of St. Paul, Bernie Martenek of Bruno, Dick Huseth of Elk River, and Bruce Moulton of Highland Park, Ill.

Buzz Bennett picked up a letter in basketball for outstanding service, above and beyond the call of duty, and a girl at the Tri Delt house for these warm summer evenings, while Milt "Pop Up" Papke picked up his travelling bag, and went out for golf. The boxing squad was dominated by Capt. Pete Lee, Ron "Silent" Bruch, Mark Hurd, and Bob Marshall, as lettermen. Pete and "Silent" took a trip to the N.C.A.A. tourney, in April. Pete went to the semis, "but I sure hated to miss those crazy parties," said Pete, after everyone else had lost before him. One of the tourney officials had a heart attack and was placed on the seventh floor of the hotel for peace and quiet. Unfortunately, "Silent" Bruch had the adjoining room; services were held the following Monday. Nevertheless, "Silent" was named co-captain on next year's team for his boyish charm, and never ending supply of bubble gum.

Parties and picnics have been the by-word lately. Our song and dance man, Al "Cuddles" Hitch, braved a sprained ankle to honk his way through his original renditions of Pagan Love Song, and The Moon. He also gave a hilarious performance on his "invisible sax," which was one of the highlights of the last party. With our Spring Formal coming up, and also the Campus Carnival, our social calendar is filled up tighter than a size 30 bathing suit on "Roundy" Erickson.

The Mu is expected to romp in intramural athletics this Spring. Under the shrewd management of "Casey" McCartney, the softball team is currently in the play-offs and a strong contender for the championship. We have been established favorites to retain our boxing and golf titles, both for the third consecutive year, and also have a good chance of getting back our track and tennis titles, which slipped from us last year. As we sit on our broad veranda, and listen to the strains of When the Saints Go Marching In, as rendered by our barbership quartet, we heartily welcome all alumni or any other passer-by who happens to journey to the "city of lakes and parks," in the "land of ten thousand lakes."

RHO University of Wisconsin

ANTHONY HASWELL, JR., Associate Editor

The best time of the year has arrived for the Rho, for it is now that our pier goes out into Lake Mendota and everyone likes to think that schoolbooks just don't exist. We thought we had our pier in about three weeks ago, but winter's last stand blew half of it down one night. We hasten to add, however, that everyone else lost their whole piers—we claim that even though we aren't burning up the intramural fields we at least have some potential master carpenters.

The outstanding party so far this semester was our annual pledge party preceding initiation week, the first week of March. The pledges ran the whole show, and among other things dictated that everyone appear as a character from Skid Row with the House decorated accordingly. Initiation was one of the finest in many years, with twelve new Brothers taken into the bonds.

Spring vacation the third week in April found many of our group travelling around the country side. Brothers Tomlinson, Moran, Miller, and Pledge DeMerell livened up New York City, while Brothers Zeitler, Williams, Tom Walker, Moore, Connor, and Pledge Sullivan basked in the Florida sun. An additional asset to some of us over vacation was the new Milwaukee Braves ball club; now that Wisconsin has gone big league, the baseball fever in the House is apparent as soon as one walks in the door.

Our annual Alumni Weekend on May 2 was a big success, as we are always glad to welcome back any of our alumni who can make the trip. Most of us are now looking forward to Psi U Weekend, the last blast before finals—it includes the spring formal, a picnic, and pier party all in one package.

Officers for this semester are: Lee R. Tolley, '54, president; Gilbert Warren, '54, 1st vice-president; John A. Chadbourn, '54, 2nd vice-president; John F. Tomlinson, '54, treasurer; H. John Lyke, '54, secretary.

Second semester initiates are: Robert E. Blue, Jr., '56, Madison, Wis.; John H. Burlingame, '56, Milwaukee, Wis.; William Connor, '54, Laona, Wis.; William H. Kellett, '55, Menasha, Wis.; Roger G. Monson, '56, La Crosse, Wis.; David E. Moore, '56, Milwaukee, Wis.; David F. Nelson, '56, Edgerton, Wis.; James H. Peters, '55, Madison, Wis.; Clarence F. Stensby, '55, Chicago, Ill.; Jack P. Ward, '55, Milwaukee, Wis.; Carl B. Weston, '56, Madison, Wis.; Harold A. Williamson, '56, New Brunswick, N.J.

New pledges are: James M. Sullivan, '56, Milwaukee, Wis., and Roderick W. Tillman, '56, Macomb, Ill.

Stephen Speltz, Omicron, newly elected to the Student Senate of the University of Illinois

OMICRON University of Illinois

GEORGE L. FEARHEILEY, Associate Editor

Honorarys and activities have opened their arms wide this spring at the University of Illinois and members of the Omicron have rushed in to enjoy their fruitful embraces.

Brother Jack Rooney's honorary chain is already bogged down by Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi keys, but the Mathematics Department has decided that it would also bear the weight of a Pi Mu Epsilon key. This is what happens to former Quiz Kids who go to college.

Brother Richard Lance is also crowding his honorary chain as he must find room to place his newly acquired Tau Beta Pi key next to his Pi Tau Sigma and Sigma Tau keys.

Brother Russell Scheibel, who already shows signs of being a struggling young lawyer, is making a case for his new Phi Delta Phi key.

Brother Richard Rowe, who just acquired his flying license and gets his kicks by buzzing house members using our sun deck, came down to earth long enough to receive his Alpha Kappa Psi badge only to find that Brother Fred Heim had accomplished the same feat.

Brother Stephen Speltz has been elected to the University Student Senate in an all-university election. Competing against twenty-eight candidates, he polled the third largest number of votes. On the business staff of the Illio, Brother Speltz is a well known and popular student on the campus.

Brothers Richard Michalak and Bernard

Quandt boast membership in Skull and Crescent, a sophomore honorary and the latter is junior manager of the Daily Illini.

Twelve candidates for graduation to be held June the twenty-first are practicing the refrains of the Parting Song. Brother David Johnson will enter Northwestern University medical school next fall while Brother Joseph Kenston begins his study of dentistry at the University of Illinois' professional school in Chicago. Brother William Loewe, a physics major, will be employed by the Dupont Company at Aiken, S.C., which is working on a project for the Atomic Energy Commission. Brothers Rooney, Heim, Dolby, and Andrew will all be commissioned officers in the armed services having taken advantage of the R.O.T.C. program. Brothers Stevens, Mallstrom, Luthi, Underwood, and Fairbanks, not wishing to join the ranks of the unemployed, are scurrying for various field of occupation or are awaiting their draft notices.

With the expected addition next fall of Thomas Hull who was initiated at the Xi and recently discharged from the service, as well as Don Lee, a new Pledge from Rock Island, we may roughly expect from twenty-five to thirty members to return next fall. Fall rushing is again in the hands of Brother Scheibel who has prepared a rushing brochure and mapped out elaborate plans to fill the wide gap in membership left by graduation. Five house members who will bear the dreaded Champaign summer heat in order to pick up some extra hours, will also assist in the rushing program directed from the Chapter House.

Socially, three weekends have engaged our attention. On April the eighteenth, the Brothers staged a song-and-dance at the annual Spring Carnival. Although barely missing a trophy, we helped to earn a $12,000 proceed which was turned over to the Campus Chest. The weekend of May the second, we entertained thirty-seven of our Mothers. Three special banquets, a touch of campus life, and a pen-serenade at the Pi Beta Phi house delighted our Mothers. Mothers' and Fathers' days are big events here at Illinois and we of the Omicron spare nothing to show our parents the superior way Psi U's live on the campus as well as our appreciation for their helping to make this possible. The weekend of May the ninth found us making merry at our annual Psi U Weekend. The Brothers exercised their imaginations to the full in preparing a costume party with a gangster theme. And then the picnic and sweetheart dinner put the polish to a weekend which can never be forgotten.

Brother Jack Hester, switched from behind the plate to third base on the Illini nine, never looked better. Pledge Norman Altenhoff, who pole vaulted thirteen feet for the track team at the Milwaukee Relays, promises to be a great asset in the coming years. Led by Brothers Robert Murray and Gene Lewis, the house gymnastics team picked up an intramural trophy. Other Brothers are engaged in golfing, tennis, and baseball.

Older members of the Omicron will be pleased to hear that Frederick Green '89, Dean Emeritus of the University of Illinois Law School, dropped in to see us recently. He enjoyed meeting the younger House members while we enjoyed watching him thumb through the 1917 Catalogue of Psi Upsilon Fraternity, recalling vividly the intimate details of the very oldest members of our chapter.

Rushing information: Bids to prospective rushees will be sent out from May the fifteenth to August the twenty-sixth. The actual formal rushing period will be held from September the eighth to September the eleventh. Brother Russell Scheibel will be the rushing chairman and his address will be 313 E. Armory, Champaign, Ill.

DELTA DELTA Williams College

ROBERT N. CLOUTIER, Associate Editor

After a highly successful Spring Houseparty on the weekend of May 2 and 3, complete with a large number of returning alumni, the House is settling down to the problem of coming final examinations which begin May 22.

This semester has found major changes on campus. Negotiations for C.B.M. (Campus Business Management) have reached what amounts to almost unanimous approval by the fifteen fraternities at Williams. This plan calls for a central food purchasing and distributing agency operated by the college which will procure provisions wholesale from the Treadway Inn warehouses. Menus are under the jurisdiction of the individual social units as is the quality and amount of food purchased. At this time it is uncertain whether or not the college will bill fraternity members for their board, or whether, as it has been in the past, the social units will manage their own board problems. The purpose of C.B.M. is reduction of house board bills which have of recent years become almost prohibitive, without a reduction of food quality. It is modeled after a similar plan used with great success at Bowdoin for a number of years, where substantial savings occur through central buying and storage.

With deferred rushing going into effect as of the Fall semester, 1953, a freshman commons is in the process of construction. At a cost of approximately $2,000,000, this commons will provide both dining rooms and lounges for freshmen and upperclassmen, and refrigeration and other storage facilities for C.B.M. Freshmen will take all their meals in the commons during their entire first year, and will be rushed in the Fall of their sophomore year. C.B.M. could possibly be the answer to increased operating costs of fraternities next year due to the deferred rushing plan. However, if any or all social units find they are dissatisfied with C.B.M. after a full college year's trial, they have the option of dropping out of the plan and returning to their previous commissary procedures.

Viewed on a long-term scale, C.B.M. is another step on the part of the college administration in its de-emphasis of fraternities. With the imposition of deferred rushing, such a plan is the only logical further development possible considering the financial crisis precipitated by the new rushing plan. The freshman commons building incorporates both the area and facilities to serve as dining rooms for the complete undergraduate body, with minor additions, when the college chooses to abolish fraternities. This event, whether for good or evil, is in the foreseeable future at Williams.

Sunday, June 7, is commencement. As usual, the weekend is in great part designed for returning alumni, and we'd like to extend a cordial invitation to all the brothers who can possibly make it to stop in. We're looking forward to it, and we hope you are, too.

THETA THETA U. of Washington

GRANT J. PEYTON, Associate Editor

Highlighted by the winning of the Sophomore Carnival, the success of the newly initiated Eternal Triad, coupled with the election of our new president, Tony Callison, the Theta Theta has taken on a new note of optimism for the rapidly approaching end of another school year.

Two more House functions round out our social calendar, the first being the Apache dance, which is accentuated by alluring costumes, mood music, and torrid atmosphere, and last but not least, that mad caper, the beachcombers brawl.

Big men on the athletic scene Spring quarter are Brothers Bill Reams, baseball; Steve Roake, outstanding prospect in Spring football; Pete Lane, coxswain of varsity crew; Keith Walker, track; Ed Garretson, tennis; Bill Lewis, co-star with Sonja Henie in Stars on Ice at Vancouver, B.C.; Jerry Hopper, swimming; and Brother Dudley Stair currently holding title of back-alley wrestling champion.

In extra-curricular activities, Brothers Fred Halverson and Skip Flohr were appointed to Purple Shield and Brother John Fery is directing Husky Potlatch weekend.

Current sorority girl idol around the campus is Brother Alan Faye, whose bashful grin and black wavy hair placed him fifth in the nationally sponsored Mr. Formal contest here on the campus.

Newly initiated members during Spring quarter were Jim Pell, Hawaii; Edward Garretson, Yakima, Wash.; Jerry Hopper, Wayne Carter and Brian Dammier, our Tacoma, Wash. delegation; Archie Patrick, Ronald, Wash.; Edward Kuhn, San Francisco, Calif.; Pete Parsons, Woodenville, Wash.; and Alan Martinson, Seattle, Wash.

It is our pleasure to announce the marriage of Brother Jack Price in April and also to note the following items of interest: Karl Karshner now serving in U. S. Army; Jim Joy accepted in Naval Air Cadets; John Riley finishing Naval officer basic training; and Brother Rick Eisen hitting the lucky combination 4-F.

NU University of Toronto

BILL PLOXTON, Associate Editor

Ah! Our pulses slow; we now breathe easily; and the 1953 Spring semester fast draws to a close. The Nu Chapter House also rests more easily now, since we have learned from authoritative sources that the Old Hall will remain undisturbed by the construction of one University College Men's Residence. So reliable are these sources in fact, and so eager are the brothers to better the appearance of old Nu that already, hasty plans have been drawn up for a Fall Semester rebuilding program. Down from their sooty shelves the saws and paint-scrapers will come!

With the completion of another academic year, there appears the hearty clasp and the sad farewell. We may take this opportunity to congratulate Brother Doug Lucas, who will join the Faculty of Pharmacy next year in pursuit of his M.Sc. degree; Brother John Tory, '52, who is about to depart in the near future, on an adventure of a different sort. He will be married on Saturday, May 16; Brothers Jack Burnett and Jim Sintzel, who will enroll in the Law Course next year; Brother Binnington who will assume an active capacity in the recently amalgamated Sears-Simpson Co.; and Brother Gord Osbaldeston, '52, who has completed his M.Ba. year at the University of Western Ontario. He will join the Department of Trade and Commerce of the Federal Government.

Travelling this summer, are four of our more robust Brothers Carl Kaneroff, Bob Cameron, Ross Murray, and Don Taylor. They plan to motor to Los Angeles (to visit the Theta Epsilon Chapter) and then sling pipe in the wastes of Alberta for the Trans-Mountain Pipeline; Rumour has it that another foot-loose Brother Mike Gee plans to tour the Continent this summer. Need we say more?

Brother Ken Blackwell has spent several weeks in the hospital in a heavy bout with virus pneumonia. We are all greatly relieved to hear that he has fully recuperated and will write his exams.

The Phi chapter will no doubt be interested to hear that their alumnus, Brother Robert H. Andrews has paid us several visits of late and asks to be remembered. He has been in Canada for a number of years and is now Managing Director of the Edwards Co. of Canada Ltd.

Recently returned from the West are Brothers Ray Monnott and Ed Maynerick who travelled with the Toronto Tri-Bells Basketball club. In Edmonton, Alberta, they urged the club on to win the Canadian Men's Basketball Championship. Congratulations.

This certainly has been an active year and until the Fall, when all efforts will be directed toward the re-building project, we must depart, content with the knowledge that the 1953-54 year will bring as much or more than the year just passing, for both Active Brothers and Grads alike. We might here hastily remind the Chapters that the Nu House will remain open during the summer, under the capable hand of Brother Carl Spencer—so if you happen to be near Toronto, you will be most welcome.

ZETA ZETA British Columbia

SCOT FARNCOMBE, Associate Editor

This year has been a most successful one for Zeta Zeta. Full cooperation from a record number of chapter members meant that Psi U at U.B.C. placed extremely high in all phases of fraternity and inter-fraternity activities.

Highlighting as well as climaxing spring of '53 was a complete renovation of the house done by the brothers between the end of exams and the beginning of summer vacation. Brother Lyle Ahrens, assisted by all the brothers, conducted a face lifting that fairly transformed the fraternity house from cellar to attic. As well as a general clean up of the yard and interior, we carried out such individual projects as painting of the whole exterior, and a complete rebuilding of the front stairs. The house was a veritable beehive of activity for a week, with brothers swarming from windows, scaffoldings and ladders, working to the steady drone of electric waxers, power saws, air compressors, power mowers, and hammers.

However spring of 1953 was anything but all work and no play. On the social side, the annual formal, this year held at picturesque Canyon Gardens in Capilano Highlands, climaxed a busy, and at times unusual, season. French night, for example was a great success. Everyone came dressed in Bohemian costumes and the house was temporarily transformed into a Parisian night spot. Competitively speaking Psi U's songsters under the able direction of Cam Aird placed a very close fourth in a competition that is extremely keen at U.B.C.

Psi Us were active this season in a variety of sports. In inter-mural basketball we tied for second place with the DUs, while in skiing we placed third. In track and field brother Bob Wassick placed first in the hurdles, while brother Joe Geigerich came in third in the one mile.

A closely fought election campaign this year saw the following brothers elected: Keith Middleton, president; Ken O'Shea, vice-president; Mac MacCamee, treasurer; Joe Geigerich, secretary; Ed Burton, recording secretary.

Quite a number of the brothers are looking forward to attending the convention, next September.

EPSILON NU Michigan State

ROBERT BURNS, Associate Editor

After a spring vacation of a week and one-half, the brothers of the Epsilon Nu returned to their roles as students, although it was a great task to break away from the lively streets of Fort Lauderdale and other southern vacation centers. From all reports, Bros. Henry Hutt, Paul Schmidt, Bob Hays, Duke Wallin, and Ed Dorsey managed to have a good time and still get a little of the famous Florida sunshine.

We have received our scholastic report from the college and can look with pride to the improvement that has taken place. After a long sojourn at the bottom of the list, we went from 17th to 14th, a jump of 3 positions. The chapter is bearing down a bit more on the less studious men and this should result in an even better result next time.

Interest is running very high as to the outcome of the approaching fraternity sing on May 21. If we win this time, it will be for the 5th consecutive year. Lee Hanson, our director who has directed us to victory on three previous years is out to get the first place trophy again. He has selected and rearranged a song that has great possibilities.

In the spring softball league, we have almost a complete team returning from last year. They have been practicing industriously and will hustle in every game. Coach Bill Doerr figures that he has great potential in Bros. Don Harden, Jim Graulich, Ed James, Bill Jonson, and Jim Haidle. Brother Haidle is especially important due to his status as the chapter's reigning titleholder as a "long ball hitter."

On May 3, we are having our annual mothers' day at the chapter house. This is an annual event and is thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. Since the ground became dry enough to spread a blanket on, the usual rash of "grass parties" have become the method of entertainment for the weekends. Also scheduled in the near future is a party with the Phi. This is an annual event that helps strengthen relations between the two chapters in Michigan. The week-end of the 22nd is now scheduled to be the date of the mid-west convention. Chapters expected to attend are the Rho, Phi, Iota, Omicron, Omega, and Epsilon Omega. This was last held here at MSC in 1951 and was very successful. On this year's agenda is a well rounded program that should help increase and further promote the relationship between all of the chapters in the mid-west area.

Officers for Spring Term: M. J. Morell, president; Joe Shaw, vice-president; Paul Schmidt, secretary; Jack Neil, treasurer; Bill Doerr, housemanager.

New actives: John Hurlburt, Evanston, Ill.; Lee Smith, Evanston, Ill.; Bill Jonson, Hamilton, Ohio; Doug Roberts, Bud Decker, Bob Pond, Detroit, Mich.; Dean Cunningham, Indianapolis, Ind.; Jim Beachum, East Lansing, Mich.; Steve Ivkovich, Reed City, Mich.

EPSILON OMEGA Northwestern

EVERETT W. HUFF, Associate Editor

Spring quarter saw the return of many sun-tanned brothers from their vacations in Florida. Also returning from spring vacation was our newly elected slate of officers.

Brother Rasmussen, who is a charter member of the Epsilon Omega and president of the chapter for spring, will graduate this June. Brother Fancher was elected as vice-president. Brother Fancher is also graduating at the end of the quarter. His talents as an artist and as an all around athlete have been a tremendous asset to the chapter. Brother John Reichelderfer was elected steward-treasurer and scholastic chairman. John, who is a sophomore in commerce school, was initiated last February. Brother William Newell is our new secretary. Next fall Brother Newell will enter Northwestern Dental school. Our social chairman is Brother Robert Werner who has been chapter president for two quarters, is a graduating senior this year. Brother Werner has been leading the brothers in practice for the all school May sing. He has elected to use "After the Battle" and "Psi U. Joys."

We also have a promising social program. April 25 we had our first party at the Country Fair and on May 1 we are having a spring formal. In addition to this we have arranged several picnics and beach parties. A family day is planned for May 17 and a serenade on May 25. We are also looking forward to the initiation of our spring pledge class.

The end of the quarter will see the termination of a very successful year in the history of the Epsilon Omega. June will see many of the old-timers graduating. The group is as follows: Warren Rasmussen (Charter Member), Frederick Pfeiffer (Charter Member), John Bird, Vernon (Pete) Little, Robert Werner, Gordon Fancher, William Brueske.

IN MEMORIAM

Florizell Charles Avery, Zeta '88

Florizell Charles Avery, Zeta '88, died at his home in Stamford, Conn., on August 15, 1952. He was 91 years old and was the fourth oldest living graduate of Dartmouth College at the time of his death. He received an A.M. degree from Dartmouth in 1906.

After graduate work at New York University he taught for a time at Wells River, Vermont, and then at Athol, Massachusetts. In 1904 he went to Stamford High School, first as a teacher and later as its principal. He retired in 1931 and was made Principal Emeritus. During his active years as principal and teacher he was deeply interested in the promotion of college entrance for young people, as well as interscholastic athletics.

He married Mabel Hatch of Strafford, Vermont, who died in 1922. She was a niece of Lemuel Hastings, Zeta '70.

After his retirement Brother Avery occupied much of his time with wood carving and built several grandfather clocks. Among his surviving nephews is Andrew Marshall, II, Zeta '22.

Arthur Petherick Foreman, Pi '06

Dr. Arthur P. Foreman, Pi '06, Chief of Pre-School Service in the Syracuse Department of Health and Associate Professor of Clinical Pediatrics in the N.Y. State College of Medicine, died at his home in Syracuse, N.Y. on July 7, 1952, at the age of 72.

Born in Syracuse on August 3, 1879, Brother Foreman received his degree in Electrical Engineering at Syracuse University, where he was a charter member of Beta Chapter of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity. For four years he was assistant engineer in charge of the Research Division of the Electrical Engineering Department of the New York Central Railroad, New York City.

In earlier days, he had been in business with his father in the New York Central Restaurant in the old Syracuse Depot which opened in 1895.

Later he returned to college and graduated from Syracuse University's College of Medicine in 1916. He started teaching in the college the following year. He also became assistant attending physician in pediatrics in Syracuse Memorial Hospital and more recently senior attending pediatrician. He retired from active work in 1950, due to poor health.

In commenting upon his death, the Editor of the Syracuse Herald-Journal wrote: "The fine work that Dr. Arthur P. Foreman accomplished in the field of pediatrics accrues to the benefit of many children, now grown to manhood and womanhood in Syracuse. As chief of pre-school service in the city's Department of Health, Dr. Foreman doubtless saved the health and lives of many young children. He saw the need of free service for babies and pre-school children and volunteered his services to the Child Health Committee. In 1918 he opened the first Child Health Clinic here. Not only in this work but as associate professor of Clinical Pediatrics in the College of Medicine and in hospitals Dr. Foreman devoted his time to promoting health and to teaching. He was a fine physician and a kindly man."

A licentiate of the American Board of Pediatrics, Brother Foreman was also a member of the Onondaga County Medical Society, the N.Y. State Medical Society, Syracuse Academy of Medicine and the Central New York Pediatric Club. In addition, he was a member of Nu Sigma Nu (medical) and Tau Beta Pi (engineering) fraternities.

He is survived by a wife, daughter and one brother.

Stephen Goodrich Groves, Iota '53

On June 10, 1952, the Iota Chapter lost in the person of Brother Stephen Goodrich Groves, Iota '53, a devoted member of Psi Upsilon. Brother Groves was fatally injured as he was motoring to his home from Kenyon following the Commencement ceremonies at Gambier.

Brother Groves was born in Minneapolis, Minn., on May 10, 1931. Following his graduation from The Blake School, Hopkins, Minn., he spent his freshman year at Williams College, subsequently transferring to Kenyon where he became an ardent supporter of both College and Fraternity.

"Goody," as he was known here, played an essential role in the Chapter's activities and projects. In his capacity as Athletic Chairman he was instrumental in fielding many Iota teams, while likewise he was one of the major forces behind certain physical improvements made to North Leonard. He is known outside the Chapter primarily through his attendance at the 1951 Convention held with the Mu, and through occasional visits to that Chapter, the Delta, and the Rho (where he spent a summer).

His final act of fraternity was the recording of Chapter and Alumni singing, under the direction of Brother Phil Stanbery, '98, at the 1952 Commencement Banquet.

The Iota indeed feels the absence of Brother Groves—his is a place which will be hard to fill.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Groves of Minneapolis, Minn.

Albert Emerson Hadlock, Zeta '87

Albert Emerson Hadlock, Zeta '87, died in White Plains, New York, on August 5, 1952. He was 89 years old.

He was president of his class in his freshman year. In senior year he became a member of Phi Beta Kappa and graduated as valedictorian. After three years' employment in a school of tutoring he entered Harvard Law School and graduated in 1893, cum laude.

From 1893 to 1929 Brother Hadlock held six positions that involved legal practice, including secretary to the president of the Borough of Richmond, N.Y.; assistant corporation counsel in the Law Department of New York City; political candidate for Municipal Court Justice, and for Court Judge of Richmond; in charge of the Bureau of Law and Adjustment of the Finance Department of the City of New York; Treasurer of the U.S. Realty and Improvement Company.

In 1929 began the position that he filled to the end of his life, secretary of the Lawyers' Club and its Lunch Club at 115 Broadway. At the time of his death he was an active member of the Lawyers' Club, Whitehall Lunch Club and Dartmouth Club. He was especially fond of Dartmouth and served his class as president and agent. For many years he spent his summer vacation in Hanover.

Brother Hadlock is survived by two sons and a daughter. Both of his sons were in World War II, one of them being Canfield Hadlock, Zeta '26.

During World War II, he was a lieutenant colonel in the Engineers' Corps. He served on the staff of Major General Eugene Reybold in the European theater of operations, receiving the Legion of Merit.

In 1933 he joined the Manufacturers Trust Company. Before being elected a vice-president in 1938, he was in charge of the bank's real estate department. He was made a di-

Horace Earle Kimball, Sigma '04

Horace Earle Kimball, Sigma '04, died on November 25, 1952, after a long illness. He was in his 72nd year.

Brother Kimball, who was president and treasurer of the Clicquot Club Company, national ginger ale firm, became its head when he was twenty years old, and saw it become for a time the largest firm in its field in the country.

Educated in private schools, Brother Kimball attended Brown University for one year in the class of 1904. He was a member of the football and baseball teams.

In 1901 his father acquired the Clicquot Club Company of Millis, Massachusetts, a soft drink concern operating in New England. That year, at the age of 20, Brother Kimball left Brown and became general manager of the company. He soon became president and treasurer, positions he held until his death.

At the time he entered the firm there were no national beverage companies. During his career as president, the Clicquot firm was, at one time, the largest ginger ale company in the world. The firm under his management was the first to use nation-wide radio advertising.

Brother Kimball was interested in yachting and at one time was commodore of the Rhode Island Yacht Club. He sailed many of his yachts in Narragansett Bay.

He was a member of the corporations of Rhode Island Hospital, Roger Williams General Hospital, Providence Lying-In Hospital and Butler Hospital. He belonged to the Sons of the American Revolution and the Squantum Club.

Brother Kimball never married. His sole survivor is a sister.

Brother Schnering was the founder of the Curtiss Candy Company. He was among the first to market a 5-cent candy bar individually wrapped and carrying a brand name. Ten years ago his intense interest in farming led him into founding his world renowned dairy farm, stocked with prize dairy cattle, at Cary.

Brother Schnering sponsored many programs for the 4H clubs and Future Farmers of America besides the Chicago Boys' Clubs and the Evanston Boy Scouts. He was a life member of the Alumni Association of Psi Upsilon.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, Robert B., Omega, '37, and Philip B., Omega, '39, a daughter, a sister and thirteen grandchildren.

Wilbert Austin Smith, Beta Beta '12

Wilbert A. Smith, Beta Beta '12, former Sales Manager and Director of the L. C. Smith & Corona Typewriters, Inc. at Syracuse, N.Y. died June 27, 1952, after a protracted illness.

A member of a family well-known for its pioneering in the typewriter field, Brother Smith was born in Syracuse on March 31, 1881. Later in life he attended Michigan Military Academy, Pontiac, Michigan and was graduated from Trinity College at Hartford, Conn.

During World War I, he served with the U. S. Navy aboard the old four-stacker destroyers, about which he had many yarns. He attained the rank of Lieutenant and was later in the Naval Reserve.

A member of the Century Club, American Legion and the Cavalry Club, all in Syracuse, Brother Smith is survived by his wife, four daughters and a brother.

Morris H. Stimson, Phi '04

Morris H. Stimson, Phi '04, died on October 25, 1952, at the Saginaw (Michigan) General Hospital. He was 73 years old.

Brother Stimson, a leading mechanical engineer and industrialist, was president and general manager of Mitts and Merrill, Saginaw, from 1928 until his retirement in 1943, when, with his family, he moved to Bay View, Michigan.

Brother Stimson was graduated from Central High School, Grand Rapids in 1900, and in 1904 received his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Michigan. In his early business life he was associated with the American Radiator Company, the Detroit Steel Products Company, of Detroit, the Buick Motor Car Company, of Flint, and from 1913 to 1928, with the U. S. Radiator Corporation as manager of its Dunkirk, N.Y., plant and general plant manager at Edwardsville, Ill.

He was an honorary member and past president of Saginaw Rotary Club and a past president of Saginaw Manufacturers' Association.

Brother H. A. Colvin, Phi '07, writes of him:

"Stimmie was on the rushing committee back in 1903 when I entered school. He graduated the next year but was a good friend of the freshmen and I formed a firm conviction of his high caliber. For about a year, just before or after the stretch with Mason Rumney's (Phi '07) firm—Detroit Steel Products—he was with the Allington and Curtis Manufacturing Company here, where I still am.

"The next time I met him was at 1000 Hill Street after a football game in 1927. I asked him if he would consider the position with Mitts and Merrill. I got them to extend the invitation and he accepted. We made him a director of the Allington and Curtis Manufacturing at the next election and we were in close touch for fifteen years until he quit at retirement age as he had long planned.

"He certainly was one of the most able and friendly men I have ever known. He did a great job of reorganizing Mitts and Merrill and you can see that his talents were recognized by Saginaw Rotary and the Manufacturers' Association. To be the head of these organizations is no mean honor."

Brother Stimson is survived by his wife, two daughters, six grandchildren, two brothers and two sisters.

In World War I, Brother Stout went to France as a Young Men's Christian Association executive. He was a former treasurer of St. Luke's Hospital and a former director of the Museum of the City of New York. He had also been a director of the International Nickel Company, American Bank Note Company, American Water Works and Electric Company, and Mack Trucks, Inc.

He also was one of the three members of a committee of the New York Academy of Medicine, which conducted a three-year study, 1930-33, of maternal mortality in New York City.

Arthur Lucian Walker, Lambda '83

Arthur Lucian Walker, Lambda, '83, died at the Hillcrest Nursing Home, Whippany, New Jersey, on September 30, 1952. He was 89 years old.

He was consulting metallurgist-at-large for ordnance in the War Department during the First World War.

He designed many copper casting installations and electrolytic refining tank rooms for plants in the United States, Canada, South America, Australia, Russia and Africa.

Brother Walker was a great-grandson of Philip E. Thomas, first president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. He was born in New York City. After graduation from the Columbia School of Engineering, then called the School of Mines, in 1883, as an electrical engineer, he went to Globe, Arizona, where he was successively chemist, engineer and superintendent of the Old Dominion Copper Company. During his ten years there, two Indian campaigns took place.

He received the Egleston Medal from Columbia University for distinguished achievements in engineering in 1939. He was a member of the division of engineering of the National Research Council. His widow survived him only briefly, but he is survived by his son, A. Lucian Walker, Jr., Lambda '21.

Howard Irving Young, Delta '14

Howard Irving Young, Delta '14, died in March, 1952, at his home in Beverly Hills, Calif.

He spent many years of his life abroad, having been managing director of Paramount British Productions, and associate producer of European Fox Films. He produced talking pictures in fourteen languages between 1930 and 1933.

He was at one time literary critic of The Nation, and cinema critic of Theatre Magazine.

Among his produced plays are: March On, Not Herbert, Hawk Island, The Drums Begin, Holiday for a Husband, Windfall (produced in London), a L'etrange Nuit de Rockland (produced in Paris in 1935).

Brother Young served overseas in World War I, and, previous to that, with the Seventh New York National Guard Regiment on the Mexican Border. He was the editor of the first Army newspaper, The Rio Grande Rattler.
