Scott Turner, Phi '02, Awarded Hoover Medal for 1957

By EDWARD C. PEATTIE, Phi '06

SCOTT TURNER, Phi '02, has been notified that he has been awarded the Hoover Gold Medal for 1957. This is the top engineering medal; it is awarded by a board of twelve engineers, three representing each of the four great international engineering societies, named, in the chronological order of their establishment, American Society of Civil Engineers; American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical, and Petroleum Engineers; American Society of Mechanical Engineers; and American Institute of Electrical Engineers; the combined membership is about one hundred seventy-five thousand.

The medal has only been awarded seventeen times in the thirty years of its existence; Brother Turner is the eighteenth medallist. The complete list of recipients contains many well-known names; it is as follows: Herbert Hoover, Ambrose Swasey, John F. Stevens, Gano Dunn, D. Robert Yarnall, Gerard Swope, Ralph E. Flanders, William H. Harrison, Vannevar Bush, Malcolm Pirnie, Frank B. Jewett, Karl T. Compton, William L. Batt, Clarence D. Howe, Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., Charles F. Kettering, Herbert Hoover, Jr., and Scott Turner.

Search reveals that none of these were Psi Upsilon's, so Brother Turner seems to be our first member to receive this high honor. This fact brought up the question of how many of our Brothers would be classed as engineers. Assuming that there are about twenty thousand living Brothers, it seems safe to assume that at least one in every hundred earned an engineering degree. If so, then there are at least two hundred Psi Upsilon engineers, and the probability is that there are more than five hundred.

The Hoover Medal was named for the former President, and went first to him. It bears the inscription "From Engineers, to a Fellow-Engineer, for Distinguished Public Service." In notifying Brother

Turner that he had been chosen for the honor, the Chairman of the Board of Award wrote him in part as follows:

"I have the honor to inform you that the Hoover Medal Board of Award has unanimously selected you for the 1957 Hoover Medal Award. It is a great privilege for all of us to join in honoring you for your distinguished service to our engineering profession, to industry, to your fellow men and to your country. We salute you and hold you with deep feeling for all you have done."

Brother Turner is a Past President of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical, and Petroleum Engineers, of which Mr. Hoover is now the Senior Past President, with Brother Turner next in seniority. Brother Turner is also a Past President of the American Institute of Consulting Engineers, and has long been identified with engineering activities. While he has received many academic honors, including two honorary Doctor of Engineering and two honorary Doctor of Science degrees, plus Tau Beta Pi, this is the most outstanding recognition he has received from the members of his own profession.

Born in Lansing, Michigan, Scott Turner received an A.B. in Science from the University of Michigan, which later conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Engineering. He received the degrees of Bachelor of Science and Engineer of Mines from Michigan College of Mines, which later, as the Michigan College of Mining and Technology, awarded him the honorary degree of Doctor of Engineering. He also holds the honorary degree of Doctor of Science from Colorado School of Mines, and from Kenyon College.

Starting shortly after the turn of the century, at Tombstone, Arizona, Brother Turner's early engineering years were

"Brother Rho"—Frederick S. "Heggie" Brandenburg

By LAURANCE G. WOLFE, Rho '38

YOU need only mention the nickname "Heggie" to any member of any Rho Chapter delegation over the last fifty-odd years to receive an instantaneous reaction.

For to Rho Brothers of the last half-century "Heggie" is none other than "Brother Rho"—Frederick S. Brandenburg, Wisconsin '09, Psi Upsilon extraordinary.

To document Brother Brandenburg's contributions to the Rho Chapter fully one would have to cover the wide range of problems which face college men in general. Then it would be necessary to take these problems one by one and tell how "Heggie" helped solve them for one or more Rho Brothers over his many years of service to the Chapter and the Fraternity.

Brother Brandenburg's interest in the Rho Chapter and the men of the Rho has been expressed in many ways. Outstanding in the memory of Brethren of the 1930's is the fact that "Heggie" kept the Chapter going in serious times.

"If it weren't for Heggie Brandenburg," says one Brother who was a student during the pre-World War II period, "There would not be a Rho Chapter today. Heggie actually dipped into his own pocket in order to pay the grocery bill and the taxes on occasion."

Brother Brandenburg's generosity has not been confined to the Rho by any means. Some time ago he established the Brandenburg Foundation—dedicated to financing college educations for young persons who need such assistance.

Last year the Brandenburg Foundation sponsored ten students at the University of Wisconsin, each of them on a four-year scholarship. Brother Brandenburg has also been responsible for the attendance at Wisconsin of a number of students from foreign countries. Young men from Sweden, Denmark, Norway, and West Germany have been initiated into the Rho as a result.

Frederick S. "Heggie" Brandenburg, Rho '09

A leader in Madison social and civic life, Brother Brandenburg is President of the Democrat Printing Company, Executive Vice-President and Treasurer of the Fosberg Paper Box Company. He is Chairman of the Board of the Vilas Park Zoological Society, a capacity in which he has served for more than thirty years. For two years he was Chairman of the Community Union—later the Community Chest and the United Givers Fund. He has served as President of the Rotary Club and as Governor of Rotary District 210.

Although Brother Brandenburg turned over active Chapter advisership to younger Rho alumni in the Madison area in 1949, he has never relinquished his devotion and loyalty to the Chapter. In the recent drive for House funds he was, as usual, the most generous contributor and spared no effort to assist in obtaining other contributions.

CHICAGO FOUNDERS' DAY BANQUET

Emphasizing the growing importance of scholarship as a fraternity responsibility, Alfred H. "Doc" Morton, Omicron '19, was the annual Founders' Day Banquet speaker before the Psi Upsilon Club of Chicago at the University Club (November 21). About 130 brothers heard the new president of the Alumni Association of Psi Upsilon term the nearly 300 Psi Upsilon's who graduate yearly "our greatest asset."

Flanking Brother Morton at the speakers' table were (left to right) Brothers William S. Gray, Omega '50, retiring president of the club; Harold J. Nutting, chairman of the board, (Phi '24) and Jackson W. Smart (Phi '20). Brother Smart presented a resolution honoring our late Brother Thomas I. Underwood, Phi '20, prominent Chicago civic and cultural leader, and a vital figure in the affairs of the Psi Upsilon Club of Chicago for nearly four decades. A gold-lettered, leather bound copy of the resolution paying tribute to her late husband is being presented to Mrs. Underwood.

Report of New York Metropolitan Association and Founders' Day Dinner

NEW YORK'S first six-hundred, and ever growing brigade of Psi U's, assembled in part at four lively luncheons during 1957 in the month of February, April, June and September, during which both local and national news was discussed while the younger members brought us closer to our Chapters.

Culminating the Psi U social season was the Founders' Day dinner (see picture center spread) held this year as close to the actual founding date as possible, being Monday, November 25th. Brother Earl D. Babst, Iota-Phi '93 spoke (see speech page 5) inspiringly on the early years of Psi Upsilon, followed by Rusty Callow, Theta Theta '16 covering the growth on the West coast, and Ed Gundy, Nu '25 describing Psi U in Canada, yours truly being prevailed upon to complete the anthology. Doc Morton, Omicron '19, President of the Alumni Association doubled as Toastmaster and ran the short annual association meeting. Ben Burton, Chi '21, President of the Council spoke briefly on behalf of that august body, and John Ellis Large, Beta Beta '28, Rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest gave the Invocation and Benediction.

During the year the members had their Board of Governors investigating various locations where facilities for a Psi Upsilon Club could be obtained. Considerable interest in this project was indicated in a questionnaire proposing to share the Zeta Psi Club at 39 East 39th Street near Grand Central Station. This will be one of the projects to be continued in hopes that we may have eventually a home in New York not only for the nearby Brothers but a focus for Psi U's visiting New York from out of town.

The New York Metropolitan Association being the territorial host to both the Council and the Board of Governors looks forward in 1958 to working again with these Brothers in furthering Psi Upsilon activity and interest.

occupied with a variety of mining activities, which took him to many Western States, including Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, and Nevada. He followed his profession in Central America, the Yukon and Alaska, spent more than two years at California mines, and then went to Europe to inspect various mining properties.

Brother Turner was for nine years the President of our Executive Council; he is a life-member of Council. He also was Chairman of National Interfraternity Conference, embodying about 65 National fraternities with a combined membership of over one and a half million.

Frederick S. "Heggie" Brandenburg

Now his health prevents him from being as active as he would like to be in Rho matters.

The Psi Upsilon Annual Convention held with the Rho Chapter in 1955 was marked by the presentation of a testimonial to Brother Brandenburg in appreciation of his unflinching devotion to Psi

Upsilon and the Rho. Such recognition is almost necessarily merely a token. When a Chapter produces a Psi Upsilon with the loyalty and love for the Fraternity that "Heggie" Brandenburg has demonstrated, there is no tribute worthy of that Brother's service to Psi Upsilon.

N.Y. 1957 FOUNDERS' DAY SPEECH

By EARL D. BABST, Iota-Phi '93

Nature planted fraternal feelings in the hearts of all of us. Those feelings have brought us together tonight. In action, those feelings provide the traditions and ideals of our beloved Psi Upsilon, of whose history we are attempting this brief review.

Bring men together, of any age or at any place, and they divide naturally into groups. They respond often to what may be in current discussion. The colleges always had and always will have such groups, but the success of the fraternity movement, however, out-distanced all others in the college field.

Union College was the birthplace of the fraternity movement. It had 300 students at the time and was second in size in the Country. The total enrollment of the Country was less than that of some of our present universities.

Kappa Alpha, founded at Union in 1825, was influenced by Phi Beta Kappa, even to the adoption of a key as its badge. Sigma Phi and Delta Phi soon followed, and Sigma Phi's extension to Hamilton was a spark in the organization there of Alpha Delta Phi. Psi Upsilon, founded as we all know at Union on November 24, 1833, followed "The Triad" in selecting two Greek letters for its name.

All the photographs in our Archives of the seven founders were taken in their later years. Tonight we should think of them as undergraduates. We also should remember that they soon took the pioneer step of initiating pledges from all the classes.

All the seven founders completed their college course, and three were elected to Phi Beta Kappa. In the first twenty years, 70 of our 201 initiates, or about one-third, were elected to Phi Beta Kappa. To quote from Brother Jacobs' chapter on the Theta in The Annals, the founders were "men of ability, of foresight and energy, bred of the sturdy New England and New York stock, they were well qualified to found a new order."

It may be a surprise for me to admit that I knew, during my Ann Arbor and Detroit years, four Brothers of the early Theta—Samuel Goodale, '36, Elisha Taylor, '37, Clement Davison, '38, and John M. Wheeler, '41. Goodale was a much beloved Founder, Taylor and Davison were neighbors and distinguished citizens of Detroit, and Wheeler was Treasurer of the University of Michigan.

In that formative period, there was the secret pledge, the ritual and the badge, all contributing to what has become our ideals and traditions, by which our course has been so successfully steered. All generations, especially our undergraduate roll, well may ponder the college and alumni distinctions of those early initiates of the Theta, and also the evidence in our many Catalogues and Directories, of our power to carry on through the years that rich inheritance.

The formative period was followed by twenty-five years of expansion, in which Psi Upsilon held itself within the strong colleges of the East, with complete freedom of action in the Chapters. This expansion included a total of ten Chapters; Delta, Beta, Sigma, Gamma, Zeta, Lambda, Kappa, Psi, Xi, and Upsilon. In that same period, seventeen Conventions were held, six Catalogues and three Song Books were published.

Notwithstanding this rapid expansion, Psi Upsilon continued, as it has ever since, as an undergraduate organization. The early establishment of the Annual Convention, and the traditional return of the Alumni, gave sustaining strength to the Chapters.

We are indebted to Willard Fiske for a stimulating glimpse of that early period. "The literary exercises," he wrote, "were maintained with laudable energy and strictness, and were of such a character that the members of that period still recur to them with pride. In the selection of candidates, scholarship was regarded as well as good fellowship, while the attributes especially sought for were manly frankness and sincerity of purpose, without which there can be no true friendship—no veritable brotherhood.”

With an accepted tradition that the college came first, no matter if frowning, it is easy to understand the active interest of our alumni in support of the colleges. Psi Upsilon was first to hold a convention, to publish a song book, to issue a catalogue, to found a magazine, to build a chapter house for the residence of its members and, in Jacob's Epitome, “the first to give an intelligible and thorough account of itself for the public and its own members.” First in so many fields, it also provided early rallying power for alumni loyalty at our leading colleges and in their alumni centers.

With the increase in the roll of Chapters, and in general projects, the Chapters at the close of this period took steps in Convention to provide for a “Committee on Miscellaneous Business,” which later led to the formation of “The Executive Council.” For a detailed account of this contribution, turn again to The Annals and to Brother Stevens' Chapter.

In conclusion of this brief summary of our first twenty-five years, it may be well to remember that there was education before there were colleges and universities. Education, then and now, consists of the older generations throwing back the torch of life. The Founders and their associates, “the heroes of our legendary days,” and the hundreds and thousands who came after them, laid on our altars the affection and advice of older brothers. Their devotion also created the tradition of alumni support, which we see so happily demonstrated tonight in our alumni associations. This unity of undergraduate authority and alumni co-operation is a precious bond of brotherhood. Our younger and older members are one family bound together by traditional ties which always find fraternal expression in the glance of the eye and the grasp of the hand.

Undergraduate representatives of the four neighboring chapters, the Rho, Omicron, Epsilon Omega and Omega gave detailed reports of chapter activities and plans. In addition, a special report was given by Brother James F. Ramsey, Epsilon Omega '51, on the situation at Northwestern University, where the chapter is faced with deciding whether to remain in and improve its present quarters, or to acquire a new house being erected by the university.

The Dan Brown Trophy, annually presented to the chapter with the highest percentage of Chicago area members attending, was again won by the Theta. Elliot G. Dodge, Theta '37, accepted the cup from Dan H. Brown, Omega '16, who also had the honor of introducing the guest speaker, “Doc” Morton, an old friend.

New officers of the Psi Upsilon Club of Chicago, elected for 1957-8, are James F. Cooke, Omicron '43, president; Kenneth W. Bellile, Rho, '39, vice president; Aubrey O. Cookman, Jr., Omicron '35, secretary, and P. B. “Bud” Palmer, Omega '35, treasurer.

WELCOME TO THE NATIONAL CONVENTION OF THE PSI UPSILON FRATERNITY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1957

[The Editors of THE DIAMOND are happy to have the privilege of publishing, in response to numerous requests, Dr. McEwen's fine address of welcome to our 115th Convention held with the Psi Chapter at Hamilton College last fall.]

Hamilton College is glad indeed to have as our guests the delegates to the National Convention of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity. This is a college for men. It is a small college if not tiny. The present enrollment is just under 650 and we expect to add only about 100 more students in the years just ahead. It is an old college. Samuel Kirkland came out here from New England before the Revolution to work as a missionary among the Oneidas. Very soon after the Revolution, he went down to the seaboard to secure public interest and support in a plan for the education of the Indians. He talked with George Washington and secured his approval. He interested Alexander Hamilton in the project. Mr. Hamilton agreed to serve as a trustee. And so the school was chartered in 1793 as the Hamilton-Oneida Academy. The Indians didn't take very well to the combination of the classical languages and agriculture which formed the staple commodity of Mr. Kirkland's views of education and within a decade it had become a school for white youngsters. It was chartered as a college by the Board of Regents in 1812. There is no clear record that Alexander Hamilton ever attended a meeting of the Board of Trustees, if indeed that Board met, during the years of the Academy. There is no record that Mr. Hamilton ever visited the institution. But in this bicentennial year of the anniversary of Mr. Hamilton's birth, the College named for him is proud indeed to have a part.

Hamilton might also be described as a fraternity college, by which we mean that the fraternities have been established on the campus for a century and a quarter, that one of the national fraternities was founded here, and that for long years the great majority of our students have belonged to fraternities. Some fraternity men may question whether such an institution is the best soil for the growth of the fraternal system. "How," they ask, "Can our chapter secure the cream of a student body?" The answer is that they can't, that each fraternity represents a fair cross-section of the College, and that all this is justified by our firm belief that the College did a pretty good job of selecting students in the first place. It follows that the College's point of view is that any Hamilton man is good fraternity material and that we take a dim view of discrimination on the part of a fraternity on the basis of race or creed.

A college president as speaker to a fraternity gathering of this kind suffers from an occupational hazard. As a college president, he is suspect of being anti-fraternity. I happen to believe in the fraternity system at least for an institution like Hamilton. If fraternities did not exist here, we should want to organize the life of our students in groups of about the same size and for many of the same purposes. I sometimes wonder, however, whether the fraternity system in which I believe so strongly is an idealized version of the Greek-letter fraternity, whether fraternities today, in their actual functioning, correspond to my view of them.

A bit of history may be in order. The principal use of the word in our language, other than to describe the organizations, is doubtless in the motto of the French Revolution, "Liberty, Equality and Fraternity." It is interesting that that very violent revolution, centering as it did on a pronouncement of the rights of individual men regardless of class or caste, should have added fraternity to liberty and equality. Obviously, in so doing they recognized that anarchy is not enough, that a free individual must in some real sense feel responsible for his neighbor, that he needs both liberty and support and guidance.

The college fraternity system was clearly founded on such ideas. These ideas found formal expression in a ritual which was meaningful and significant to the members who participated in it. The ritual was borrowed from Christianity, perhaps by way of the Masonic order. But these same ideas found operating and functional expression in the life of the college fraternity. It was and should be a brotherhood of men with a common concern for each other, interested in the welfare of each member, consciously and unconsciously bringing to play on each member the ideas and ideals of the group. And since the college fraternity is in a college, it can be assumed that the ideas and ideals which are of interest to the fraternity are related to those of college students—that the fraternity is concerned to assist each of its members to be a better student and to grow into a whole man intellectually as well as otherwise.

The situation of the American college at the time the fraternity system arose offered a fertile field for such organizations. Let's face it. Colleges typically at that time consisted of classrooms, professors, and a library. There were no organized extracurricular activities. Many colleges made no provision for the housing of their students or their natural interest in eating regularly. The colleges very commonly gave no instruction in public speaking, parliamentary procedure, relatively little training in experience in writing. The fraternity system quickly moved into all of these voids. Its houses were not only home for their men, places where they ate and slept. They were also centers of educational activity. Fraternity meetings provided practice in speech and included literary exercises in which the writing of members of the fraternity was read and criticized. The fraternity functioned as a tutoring service, the stronger student helping the weaker one with his studies. The colleges had not yet thought of personnel services or counselling programs in any organized fashion. The fraternities did a lot of it. I meet many Hamilton men who graduated from thirty-five to fifty years ago who will tell me with tears in their eyes of the influence that "their senior" had on them in their first years in college. It was obviously the practice here for a senior to take a freshman within the fraternity under his wing. That influence was doubtless pernicious occasionally, but on balance it worked out very well indeed. There was clearly a concern in the fraternity for the growth of a whole man.

In the intervening years, college programs have expanded into many of the areas which were aching voids when fraternities first came into existence. The extra-curricular activity program of a college today is a wonderful thing to behold and it is planned for the whole college by a group of students representing the whole college with the help of faculty people who are themselves interested. Counselling and guidance are now regarded as a proper part of the college's concern for the growth of the student.

In these same intervening years, it seems to me that the fraternities have taken a narrowing view of their whole function within a college. On some campuses they are charged with justification of being anti-intellectual or completely neutral so far as their support of the main purpose of the existence of the college. And it seems to me that if you hear criticism today of the national fraternity system, and I am sure you do, that criticism may be based on the loss in the fraternity system of the real sense of purpose and function which it once had. To put it bluntly, if the president, and deans, and professors, and alumni, and trustees of a college came to the conclusion that the fraternities on a particular campus had become merely eating and drinking clubs, the reaction of that college would doubtless be to say "Boys, we can do it better."

It is my hope that the college fraternity at Hamilton and elsewhere can and will justify its existence as an adjunct and associate of the college in the total education of young men. Its task, in that direction, is to rediscover the meaning of fraternity as an idea and ideal within the changed and changing patterns of campus life. I hope that you will all have a good time at Hamilton and will have a very successful convention.

SOME HIGHLIGHTS FROM ADDRESS AT INITIATION BANQUET OF DELTA DELTA CHAPTER

ALFRED H. MORTON, Omicron '19

We are here tonight not only to welcome into our enduring bonds of brotherhood these twenty fine young men—but also because we are proud of our membership in Psi Upsilon and of the close ties which bind us together through life. Our bonds were not conceived or designed for only the undergraduate years—but are intended to endure until the “sands of life are run.”

Membership in Psi Upsilon not only brings to us manifold blessing—but as its quid pro quo—carries with it corresponding responsibilities. We get out what we put in.

Not the least of these responsibilities is to develop the qualities and characteristics of leadership. Few organizations can look back through such a long unbroken corridor of time—124 years—and find it lighted by the brilliant achievements of so many wearers of our badge of brotherhood. These men demonstrated outstanding qualities of leadership in all fields of human endeavor.

Our brothers have always stood for the highest standards of moral, intellectual and social excellence.

Intellectual excellence is not only measured in terms of Phi Beta Kappa, Tau Beta Pi and Sigma Xi keys—as rewarding and satisfying as these achievements are. It means also the development of intellectual interests and pursuits.

High scholarship and its achievement is no longer derided or scoffed at. It has come to be respected as an accomplishment of the highest order.

Psi Upsilon was conceived so soundly and built so strongly that it has withstood the test of time and has stood firmly through wars and depressions and through widely varying economic conditions and changing social orders.

THETA

Union College

ETHELBERT NEVIN, II, Associate Editor

This fall the following men pledged the Theta: Bradford Hayward Arthur, '61, Watertown, N.Y.; John Munro Butler, '61, Ridgewood, N.J.; John Dadeo, '60, Schenectady, N.Y.; Guenther Grimm, Vienna, Austria; John Alden Hall, '61, Summit, N.J.; Edmund Everisto Jacobitti, '61, Maywood, N.J.; Werner Heideman, '59, Ridgewood, N.J.; and Robert Viets, '61, of Hartford, Conn. Pledge Grimm, a native of Austria, is at Union College for the year under the Higher Education for Lasting Peace Program. He has proved to be a welcome addition to the House and we regret that he will only be here for one year.

Just before Thanksgiving Vacation the Theta initiated Brian Edward Bednarz, '60, of Freeport, L.I. A transfer from Notre Dame, Brother Bednarz pledged the House last February.

The fall term Officers were: John H. Kenyon, President; Sheldon P. French, First Vice-President; Richard T. Steinbrenner, Second Vice-President; Richard E. Sayers, Recording Secretary. Brothers Yannes and Nevin kept track of the House literary activities. The elections held just prior to this writing for the Spring Term Officers yielded the following results: Sheldon P. French, President; John R. Ingamells, First Vice-President; Richard T. Steinbrenner, Second Vice-President; Edward F. Lazar, Recording Secretary.

The Theta had a substantial number of Brothers playing varsity sports this fall. Pledge Grimm, Brothers McLane, Penny, Vanneck, and Steinbrenner played Varsity soccer, and Brothers Evans, Sayers, and Larkin were on the Varsity football squad.

During the fall term the Theta has been standing knee deep in the usual College social activities, and the Fall Weekend was probably one of the finest the House has experienced in several years.

Brother England, formerly of the Class of '59, paid the House a visit not long ago. He is spending part of the winter working on charter boats in the West Indies and expects to return to Union either next semester or next fall.

DELTA

New York University

HENRY P. WOZNIAK, JR., Associate Editor

For some time before the beginning of the fall semester, the Delta was the site of incessant activity due to the many improvements carried out through the generosity of the alumni. The main floor of the Chapter House was completely redecorated. The living room, dining room, and foyer were painted, new venetian blinds installed, and draw draperies hung by a decorator. The eventful donation of a hi-fi by Dr. Orrin Sage Wightman, '95, added the missing touch to the living room. The steward's department, which is now being run at peak efficiency by Anthony J. Brance, Delta '60, benefited tremendously, the kitchen having been completely refurbished to make easier the tremendous burdens placed on this department. All this, combined with the efforts of all the Brothers in the pre-school clean-up, makes the Delta the outstanding Chapter House on campus.

The overwhelming generosity of the Brothers also enabled us to carry out an extremely vigorous rushing program, which resulted in the pledging of nine prospective Psi U's, all engineering students. Next semester, it will be our object to rush more Arts students, which we hope will result in bringing about the diversity that is so essential to a true brotherhood.

A highly successful rushing party was the beginning of another semester of successful social events planned by Robert F. Brodell, Delta '58, Social Chairman. An extremely interesting Winter Week-end, including a sleigh-ride in Connecticut, which will highlight the social season, is now in the making.

Under the leadership of Edward W. D. Holcomb, Delta '60, Athletic Chairman, Psi Upsilon has offered serious competition to the other fraternities on campus. Although the Delta ranked second in football this season, we are determined to cop the basketball trophy this winter. Even if the Chapter doesn't always rank first, the Brothers are nevertheless extremely active in sports activities, placing the benefits of good sportsmanship and fair play above winning first place.

Chapter officers during the past semester have been Daniel E. Cassidy, President; Dennis C. Hawley, Vice-President; Robert F. X. Joyce, Recording Secretary; Terence J. Connors, Treasurer; and Michael F. Beirne and Steve T. Cocotis, Corresponding Secretaries.

In its present physical condition, and with the presence of Brothers whose interest in Psi Upsilon goes beyond mere superficial actions, the Delta will remain active at New York University for a long time to come, and will always continue to carry on the traditions in which it has been steeped for the past one hundred and twenty years.

SIGMA

Brown University

CHARLES D'ARCY FOX, Associate Editor

The Chapter has been doing well this year, coming in second in its football league and now is starting off on the basketball season. On Friday, the 6 of December, there was a mid-term initiation with a dinner following, at which Brother Rockwell spoke. The following men were initiated: Elisha Dyer, Jr., Long Island, N.Y.; Clark Douglas Sampson, Dayton, Ohio; Robert Sturgis Ingersoll III, Penllyn, Pa.; John Drake Ross, Boston, Mass.; William Watt Smith, Great Neck, N.Y.; Peter V. V. Magee, Catskill, N.Y.

The first semester officers are Stephen H. Gushee, President, with Kevit R. Cook, Richard W. Miller, and Henry O. Johnston as Vice-Presidents. E. H. LeZotte is Recording Secretary; C. D'Arcy Fox, Corresponding Secretary.

Coming up is the Chapter's annual alumni cocktail party, with a dance to follow.

It is with sorrow that the Sigma notes the death of Brother David Fentress Ott of the class of 1956.

GAMMA

Amherst College

HUBERT CROWLEY, Associate Editor

Taking a cue from the extensive painting job done on the exterior of the House over the summer, many of the Brothers of the Gamma returned to College early to repaint their bedrooms and studies. The House, although in a state of confusion for the first few weeks, was in good condition for the first home football weekend.

Much of the interest and energy expended by the Brothers throughout the early fall was channelled into orienting one of the finest pledge delegations on campus. The pledge period, which included the usual lineups, table-waiting at Smith, banquet, sings and some of the more meaningful rites of the Chapter, was climaxed by the initiation ceremony and banquet. Several Alumni braved the epidemic of Asian flu on campus to return Wesleyan Weekend to extend their congratulations to the new Brothers.

The following members of the class of 1960 were initiated: Julius Cadden Allen, Norwich, Conn.; William Anthony Alonso, Santurce, Puerto Rico; John Roosevelt Boettiger, Lafayette, N.Y.; Robert Barkley Calkins, Creve Coeur, Mo.; John Mark Deutch, Washington, D.C.; Samuel Roby Hanford, Rochester, N.Y.; Arthur McLean Hildreth, Rockville, Md.; Charles Howard Holland, Wellesley, Mass.; Peter Vincent Inskeep, Plainfield, N.J.; Robert Allen Jewett, Springfield, N.J.; James Stanley Johnson, Jr., Altadena, Calif.; Miles Alexander Kulukundis, Greenwich, Conn.; Ward Bevins Lewis, Jr., Minneapolis, Minn.; James Robert Miller, Great Neck, N.Y.; John Wallace Wendler, North Tonawanda, N.Y.; Nicholas William George Wilder, Rochester, N.Y.; Richard Henry Wynn, Roslyn, N.Y.

Several of the initiates, notably Brothers Deutch, Miller, and Calkins, made significant contributions to the House intramural football team, which was organized by Brother Andy Sinauer.

The fortunes of the team led by stars, Lee Harbach, Phil Kelley, Skip Fitcher, Chris Horton, Fred Greenman and Barry Maurer, closely paralleled those of the Amherst varsity. The House came through the season with a perfect record, winning the College championship, only to be stopped by the Williams Chi Psi's in the Shaving Cream Bowl, the morning of the Amherst-Williams classic.

The varsity football team was assisted in its admirable record by Gammies Dave Stephens, Sam Chase and Pete Inskeep. Brother Stephens was particularly outstanding as a first-string end.

The social activities of the House were highlighted by the Homecoming Weekend at which time the traditional Amherst-Wesleyan rivalry was somewhat abated over Martinis and Manhattans.

The acquisition of a juke box has added a great deal to the atmosphere of the Saturday night groups, although there was considerable controversy over the selection of records between the various popular music factions. The dispute, however, was successfully mediated by the House officers.

At the fall election of House officers Brother John Lagomarcino was elected President to succeed Brother Stephens. Brother Lagomarcino from Burlington, Iowa is a member of the Executive Committee of the House Management Committee and sings in the "DQ," well-known College singing group. Brothers Martin Gross, Hubert Crowley and Peter Inskeep were elected Vice-Presidents. Brothers Sam Brown and Ken Palmer were elected Secretary and Treasurer respectively.

The Brothers of the Gamma are looking forward to continued success under the new leadership.

ZETA Dartmouth College

PAUL J. DUFFY, Associate Editor

The spring semester of the 1956-57 school year proved to be one of varied achievements for the Zeta Chapter.

Perhaps the most gratifying to the Brothers was the success of the Alumni Weekend held late in the semester. Upwards of twenty men, representing classes ranging from 1905 to 1954 arrived, bringing with them blue skies and an abundance of sun. The weekend's activities started with a characteristically dignified bang on Friday night with a cocktail party. This was followed later that evening with movies of the 1956 football season, narrated and interpreted by the Zeta Chapter's contributions to the '56 All Ivy League team, Bob Adelizzi and Monte Pascoe. Immediately after the movies, a small dance was held to the harmonious melodies of one of Northern New England's most outstanding bands, the name of which momentarily escapes this writer.

The following afternoon, all journeyed to

Zeta Brothers, Alumni and wives at Alumni Weekend Picnic

Quechee Gorge, one of Vermont's scenic wonders, for a day of gambolling in a wooded glen. Activities of the day included a softball game, accompanied by kegs, a combination which in some cases brought disaster to unpracticed digestive tracts. The game ended with a minimum of heart attacks and all adjourned to the charcoal grill for great quantities of charred food of a very mysterious but palatable nature.

Later, as the sun dipped down behind the quiet hills of Vermont, all found their way back to the House, tired but optimistic, knowing from long experience the night would bring forth even greater delights. As indeed it did, in the form of yet another outstanding Northern New England band, the name of which also escapes this most forgetful writer.

On Sunday morning, there was a milk punch party and shortly thereafter the bulk of the alumni departed, possibly a little the worse for wear, but pleased, we are certain, with the success of the Alumni Weekend, an activity we all hope to establish as a permanent annual event.

The happy rigors of the Alumni Weekend over, the Brothers began incredibly grueling preparations for the impending bicycle race with the Beta House. Three weeks later a toughened 40-man Psi U team, admirably led off by President Pierson, ground their way 120 miles to Northampton, home of Smith College and finish line for the historic race. Outstanding performances were turned in by Brothers Vroundgos, Myers and Konheim, the last-named being the proud owner of unquestionably the most powerful legs in the school. Due to some minor slip-up, the Beta team eked out a victory by a tight margin of about 20 laps.

A week or so later, the powerful Psi U softball team fought its way to the Inter-Fraternity League finals. The Beta team, opposing us in yet another championship contest, took an early lead, but by the last of the ninth the score was even, 2 to 2. With two out and none on, Psi U's own Sultan of Swat, Bud Konheim, sent a long drive into deep center field. Capitalizing on his great speed, Bud churned around the bases on those aforementioned piston-like legs and slid into home with the winning run. The team then went on to win the next day in the school championship, defeating the dormitory champions with home runs by Brothers Parsons and Coulter. Milo Slosberg, ace pitcher for the Greater Boston Park League champions, was credited with the win. Much of the success of the season was due to the pitching of Dave Metz, the fine hitting of Don Adley, Russ Hjeape and the deft, graceful fielding of manager-shortstop, Bob Adelizzi, the only infielder in the league with a muscle-bound throwing arm.

This fall, the Zeta Chapter took in 27 pledges, filling the space left by a large graduating class. The Brothers without exception, are extremely pleased with the new pledges. In fact, if we may cast modesty to the winds, we think we took in the best pledge class on the campus. The pledges are: Christie McLellan, Portland, Ore.; Frank M. Burnap, Pelham, N.Y.; John O. Milligan, Seattle, Wash.; David E. Hodson, Glen Ridge, N.J.; Samuel H. French, Jr., Wynnewood, Pa.; J. Thomas Van Winkle, San Francisco, Calif.; Robert M. Phillips, Montclair, N.J.; John R. Prior, Huntington, L.I., N.Y.; Charles F. Raber, Grand Rapids, Mich.; D. Barry Gibson, Havertown, Pa.; Charles F. Weingartner, Franklin Sq., N.Y.; Richard C. Griggs, Westfield, N.J.; Frederick T. Graybeal, W. Hartford, Conn.; Thomas Strong, Hanover, N.H.; Peter A. Holland, Weston, Mass.; Duncan T. Knapp, Kensington, Conn.; J. Stephen Carrol, Gainesville, Tenn.; Peter Easter, Lake Forest, Ill.; Alex Brusino, Bay Village, Ohio; Roderick T. Isaacson, Salt Lake City, Utah; Bruce Ducker, Neponsit, L.I., N.Y.; Douglas B. Hamilton, Greenfield, Mass.; Andrew H. Nighswander, Laconia, N.H.; William N. Adel, Kansas City, Mo.; Dudley R. Smith, New Canaan, Conn.; Thomas C. Kirby, Gaden City, L.I., N.Y.; Reynolds E. Moulton, Cape Elizabeth, Me.

LAMBDA

Columbia University

PETER LARSEN
Associate Editor

Under the leadership of its new officers: Phil Dugan, President; Art Solar, Vice-President; Don Festa, Treasurer; Bob Galbraith, Secretary; the Lambda is engaged in a full fall program.

The Chapter is proud to announce the pledging of ten men in the Fall class: Arthur Spring, Tuckahoe, N.Y. of the class of '59; Larry Boyd, Nutley, N.J., Thomas Raup, Jersey Shore, Pa., Ronald Previ, N.Y., N.Y., of the class of '60; and Charles Blessing, East Lansdowne, Pa., Edward Fischer, Hackensack, N.J., Alan Kennish, Chester, Pa., Carl Klotz, Clifton, N.J., Richard Presutti, Ossining, N.Y.; Frank Zmorzenski, Jamaica, L.I., of the class of '61. Spring is Co-editor of the Freshman Handbook and active on the campus radio station—WKCR. Boyd and Raup are varsity crew men. Previ is a standout on the varsity swimming team. Fischer dives for the freshman swimming team and Blessing, Kennish, and Klotz are out for freshman crew. Zmorzenski performs for the football team, and Presutti is trying his hand at wrestling.

The Fraternity House underwent some renovations and was painted early in September. Some of the many bookshelves, installed by the previous owner of the house, Professor Henry Steele Commager, were removed. The social rooms were done in light blue and white—the school colors.

Socially, the Lambda has had many successful parties, ranging from our semi-annual Shipwreck Party to the Homecoming Cocktail Party. The Homecoming Party is the highlight of the fall semester at the Lambda. This year in addition to alumni, we were joined by Brothers from the Eta and the Delta. Social events planned for the future include a joint party with the Delta and a Christmas Yule Log Party.

The Lambda happily announces the creation of a new house post—the Psi U Snooper. The Snooper's job is to gather choice tidbits of information about the Brothers and entertain the Chapter after meetings by divulging the information. Brother Justin Spring has been unanimously elected as the first Lambda Snooper. The prerequisite for the post is the ability to snoop and present evidence humorously. The Brothers have a rebuttal period, of course.

As usual the campus activities of the Brothers are many and varied this semester. Ken Stern has been elected Business Manager, and Art Solar Production Manager of the campus newspaper, The Columbia Daily Spectator. Frank Gatti is the manager of the wrestling team. Brothers Ranhofer, Galbraith and Spring are being heavily counted on for a good swimming team performance. Brothers Chang and Larsen just completed a successful lightweight football season. The House is proud to announce the selection of Brother Dugan to the Eastern Intercollegiate Water Polo League All Star Team. The Lambda finished fourth (of 19 fraternities on campus) in the Alpha League of the Intramural Touch Football competition.

The Brothers would like to take this opportunity to thank Brother Murray Eskenazi, '56, who made a scroll which will be presented to Brother Hartley Dodge on behalf of the Lambda, in gratitude for Mr. Dodge's help in obtaining our new Fraternity House.

KAPPA

Bowdoin College

PETER B.
HETHERINGTON
Associate Editor

The Kappa men returned in mid-September to find the Chapter in good financial and physical shape. Brother F. Webster Browne, '25, was instrumental in seeing that the sorely needed furnace was installed during the summer months and that other necessities were purchased for the House. We are indeed grateful to all contributing alumni.

Brothers Bird and Christie, Rushing co-Chairmen, are to be congratulated for the fine job they did during the fall rushing period. The following men were initiated Friday night of Homecoming week-end. A. Dwight Baldwin, Wellesley, Mass.; David W. Belka, Andover, Mass.; Malcolm W. Brown, Dexter, Me.; David M. Carlisle, Bangor, Me.; William A. Chase, Portsmouth, R.I.; William A. Christmas, Waban, Mass.; Cary W. Cooper, Camden, Me.; Lyman A. Cousens III, Cape Elizabeth, Me.; Charles S. Cushman, Swampscott, Mass.; George R. Del Prete, Framingham, Mass.; Peter A. Hanson, Weston, Mass.; Richard E. Leeman, South Portland, Me.; Donald F. Prince, Framingham, Mass.; Charles E. Prinn, Rumford, Me.; John W. Reynolds, Hartford, Conn.; Goran Stockenstrom, Sala, Sweden; Peter W. Travis, Holden, Mass.; Donald O. Worthen, Camden, Me. We were pleased to see the good turnout of alumni for the initiation and hope that even more will take advantage of a return to the Kappa in the future.

House officers for the fall semester are as follows: President, C. William Cooke III; Vice-President, Peter L. Rockaway, Secretary, Donald A. Perkins; Treasurer, Richard A. Boone.

Academically, the Kappa maintains its position in the middle of the fraternity academic ratings, but hopes to rise in the near future. However, several of the Brothers are on the Dean's list including Brothers Blomfelt, Ashe, Teeling, Long, Belforti, and Leach.

The men of the Kappa continue to display their versatility and leadership on the campus. Brother Belforti, Captain of the football team, was elected to the All-Maine squad along with Brother Stover; and Al Merritt was awarded Honorable Mention. Brothers Waters, Captain-elect of next year's team, Hawkins, and Pollock also saw action on the gridiron. Brother Stover, who is Captain of the basketball team this year, as well as Hitchcock, Sawyer, Brown and Simonds will see service this year under the tutelage of the new coach and former Boston Celtic, Bob Donham. Brothers Dunn, Whiting, Hunter, and Hawkins are all on the ice this year with the hockey team. Congratulations go to Brother Whiting who was selected as goalie on the All Eastern Independent College team at the end of last year's season. Brother Butchman is a member of the fall track team and Brother Dyer represents the House on the sailing team. In the skiing department, Brothers Christie and Long will soon be on the slopes for the college. Incidentally, Brother Long is recognized as the state of Maine slalom champion from the events of last year.

In other college activities, the Kappa is also well represented. Several of the Brothers are singing with the Glee Club and Brother Bennett was selected as a Meddiebempster. Brother Christie continues with his "Mad Hour" on WBOR. Brothers Perkins and Graham are members of Masque and Gown, and the former distinguished himself as an excellent actor in his most recent performance in "Tea and Sympathy" here at the college. Also, Brothers Perkins and Dyer are on the staff of the college newspaper. Brother Waters was recently elected President of his class, and Brother Teeling, Secretary-Treasurer. Brother Smith represents the House on the debating team, which has done well this year.

Under the competent leadership of our social chairman, Brother Olson, the Kappa has succeeded in having many good parties this fall during the football season. Plans are now in progress for a Christmas party for the local youngsters. Newly initiated Brother Prince was unanimously elected as Santa Claus for the event.

All in all, the Kappa looks to a very prosperous year and hopes to see many alumni and other Brothers during the big Winter and Spring week-ends.

Best wishes to Brother Anderson, whose wife, Betsy, gave birth to a son, Peter Douglas, on November 5th.

PSI Hamilton College

NEAL A. BROWN, Associate Editor

The fall semester has been an active one for the Brothers of the Psi, both within the House and on the campus. Between frisky games in the Great Hall, luncheon announcements on behalf of the waiters, the arrival on the scene of Stern Blix, and the failure of capitalism, Brother Driscoll has been able to maintain order.

Following the Convention, the Brothers of the Psi took a one week rest, and then returned for rushing. Their efforts resulted in the pledging of: John E. Becker, Waterloo, N.Y.; Barry M. Berkeley, Utica, N.Y.; Richard W. Hurley, Jr., Granford, N.J.; Douglas G. Kirkpatrick, Port Washington, N.Y.; John G. Rawls, Darien, Conn.; Richard M. Ready, St. Albans, Vt.; R. Lockwood DeWitt III, Rensselaer, N.Y.; William B. Ripley, Arlington, Mass.; Robert C. Sanderson, Huntington Station, N.Y.; Philip L. Schmidt, Katonah, N.Y.; and, Bruce L. Taylor, Darien, Conn. Under the guiding hand of Junior Officer

Sykes, the Pledge Brothers are being molded.

Fall athletics were favored with the presence of many Psi U's. Brother O'Brien, co-captain and Little All American halfback, Brothers Murphy, Finegan, Charvala, White, Roe, Romans, Easton, and Pledge Brothers Ripley and Sanderson helped the Hamilton football team achieve a 5-2 record. The season ended with a victory over Union, our traditional rival. Brothers Patton and Button stopped running just long enough to receive congratulations as members of Hamilton's undefeated cross-country team.

Realizing that attendance at an isolated men's college tends to induce ennui, the Psi endeavored to have an active social program. Athletes, scholars and just plain Brothers all took time out during the first week of October to welcome various professors and their wives to Psi U's annual faculty cocktail party. Under the leadership of Brother Kunichika, the party was a success. Ten days later, with the help of Brother George who bravely substituted for our ailing Social Chairman, Brother Hastings, Fall House Party was held. It was also a success.

Three other parties were held during the semester. These included Thanksgiving dinner for local alumni, Christmas party, and Homecoming Weekend. Several recent graduates were welcomed on Homecoming Weekend, and it was unfortunate that more alumni were unable to return.

Nearly every campus activity has at least one Psi U within its ranks. Brothers Driscoll, Caldwell and Alofs are members of the Student Senate. Brother Romans is the sophomore member of the Honor Court, and appeared in the Charlatan's fall production. Several Brothers are members of the newspaper's staff, and many belong to the International Relations Club, including Brother Easton, the President, and Brother Magzis, the Secretary. This list is a portion of the House's representation in campus organizations.

With Brother Magzis at the helm, the intramural volleyball and football teams reached the play-offs, and then decided to let some of the other houses win some games. Although the teams were handicapped by a newly kindled desire to win, a good time was enjoyed by all.

Winter athletics show a predominance of Psi U's on the basketball team. Led by co-captain Driscoll, Brothers O'Brien, Alofs, Turnbull and DiGiulian, the basketball team should have a good season. In the first meet of the year, co-captain Hopkins led the swimming team to its first victory in years. Pledge Brothers Kirkpatrick and DeWitt are on the J.V. basketball team, and Pledge Brother Ripley is out for the hockey team.

Despite their participation in these activities, the Brothers will welcome the opportunity to take time out to greet any who may be in the area.

Xi Wesleyan University

RALPH M. FEAVER
Associate Editor

Upon returning to Wesleyan early this September the Brothers of the Xi found their work cut out for them. Rushing has always been a challenge; but this fall the challenge was sounded more strongly than ever, for it was felt to be imperative to equal or surpass the excellence of the previous year's fine delegation. When rushing was completed we found that we had indeed met the challenge, leading the campus in popularity and pledging a delegation of the seventeen freshmen of our preference. The newly pledged and soon to be initiated Psi U's are: Terry Foster Allen, Springfield, Mass.; Robert David Bailey, St. Thomas, Virgin Islands; John Edwin Brown III, Columbus, Ohio; Daniel Robert Elliott, Jr., University Heights, Ohio; Robert Fisk Folley, New Hartford, N.Y.; Wayne Beaman Glazier, Storrs, Conn.; Joseph Leon Harrison, Upper Montclair, N.J.; John Kwang-Han Hsu, Keuka Park, N.Y.; Robert Jaunich, Norristown, Pa.; Louis Symon Larrey, Jr., Westwood, Mass.; Howard Randall Morgan, Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Michael Willard O'Kieffe, Kenilworth, Illinois; John Coolidge Richards, Schenectady, N.Y.; John Walter Ridley, Jr., Greenlawn, N.Y.; Quentin Charles Roberts, Jr., Winchester, Mass.; Russel Wright Robertson, Glens Falls, N.Y.; Clayton Leigh Travis, Tenafly, N.J.

Our new pledge class has shown an active interest in both House and campus activities. Pledges Morgan, Ridley, Elliot, and O'Kieffe have been working for the newspaper; Pledges Hsu and Roberts are members of the Glee Club; and Pledge Morgan is singing in the Choral Society. The freshman football team was aided to an undefeated season by the efforts of Pledges Richards, Allen and Ridley, while Pledges Elliot, O'Kieffe, Hsu and Bailey played freshman soccer. In addition, the pledge class collaborated to win the Alumni Weekend effigy contest with their entry of a twenty-five foot high Playboy rabbit disdainfully holding a Williams player at arm's length. Unfortunately this masterpiece later went up in smoke but not until the trophy had been secured. The pledges have shown their mettle and by the time this article is read we hope that they will have all made their averages and been initiated.

The Chapter's officers for the fall have been James Olsen, President; Richard Tompkins, Senior Vice-President; John Lambert, Junior Vice-President; and Sophomore Vice-President, James Corrodi. The Recording Secretary has been Edward Fiske; Corresponding Secretary Ralph Feaver, and Old Mortality, Mussina Feaver. This year's Rushing Chairman was Owen Tabor; and Pledgemasters were James Corrodi and Jerry Johnston.

Socially speaking, the fall season has been more than amply active. During the course of the football season each home game was made a festive occasion by the social committee under the direction of Fred Banfield, '58. The party season was begun formally on October 5 when Parents' Weekend saw the Xi play host to many families of its members for cocktails, dinner, and dancing. Two weeks later, on October 19, Psi U entertained the newly pledged Class of 1961 with a Pledge Dance weekend. Journeying northward to Amherst on the following weekend, the Xi was entertained by the Brothers of the Gamma. The social season was wound up with three party weekends for the Swarthmore, Williams and Trinity games. On Williams Weekend our Xi alumni turned out with families some two hundred strong, making the entire weekend one to be long remembered. Coming so soon upon the fine Alumni Weekend, fall house parties on November 15, 16, and 17 could have been anticlimactic. As it was, Trinity Weekend turned out to be a fitting climax to a socially rewarding fall. The three days of parties were highlighted by the Xi's traditional pajama party and a Sunday afternoon jazz concert featuring Cozy Cole, just returned from the London Palladium, in a drum battle with Hermie Dressler.

On November 26, most of the Wesleyan faculty and their wives were feted by the Xi at our traditional faculty cocktail party. Needless to say, we had a fine send-off for our Thanksgiving vacation, thanks to Don Ramsay, chairman of this event.

Members of the House have been engaged with fine results in diverse activities around the campus. Last spring Jim Killough, '57, Don Zimmerman, '57, Powell Johns, '60, and Tom Arndt, '60, combined their efforts to secure first place for Psi U in the Interfraternity Debate. Tom Young and Harry Lerch, both '59, played on the baseball squad, Young starting as catcher; while Ben Chadwick, '58, and Carl Van Etten, '58, helped bolster the track and golf teams respectively. In addition, Owen Tabor, '59, and Fred Houck, '58, comprise half of the Jibbers, Wesleyan's singing quartet. Last year's pledge class was also active in spring sports; Bill Graburn, running on the freshman track team, and Bill Walker playing on the freshman baseball team and leading the team in batting. Jeff Folley played Freshman golf.

Athletics were not the only field in which Psi U's have excelled this year. Senior Gary Iseminger was elected to Phi Beta Kappa; senior Charlie Danzoll is managing editor of the college newspaper; and Bob Woodford, a junior, is doing a fine job for the debating team. In addition, Brothers Arndt, Fiske, Johnston, Lerch, Feaver, Walker, and Dietrich are serving on the staff of the newspaper.

Musically speaking, Psi U is also well represented, with eight members of the Glee Club, four members of the Choral Society, and two members of the choir. Carl Van Etten, '58, captained the Xi interfraternity football team to a second place finish this fall. All in all it has been an active fall for the Brothers of the Xi.

UPSILON University of Rochester

N. J. PLYTER
Associate Editor

1958 marks the one-hundredth year of brotherhood for the Upsilon Chapter. Our Centennial Celebration on February 15th will be the highlight of the year's activities. Brother Frederick Parker is working closely with the Alumni Chairman, John F. Bush, Jr., Upsilon '22, to make our hundredth year one long to be remembered. Friday evening the Chapter will be host to the other fraternities on campus for a gala 100th year birthday open house. Saturday evening, following the initiation of our new men, cocktails will be served at the Chapter House. Then the Brethren, alumni, and distinguished guests will adjourn to our long awaited centennial banquet. If this schedule sounds attractive, drop in and join us. To help us celebrate our Centennial is the "Spirit of '58," one of the very finest pledge classes in our history and far the best on campus: Pete Arras, Batavia, N.Y.; Al Baker, Caledonia, N.Y.; Dick Carlson, Moores-town, N.J.; Dick Crowell, Dunkirk, N.Y.; Don Haeefe, Rochester, N.Y.; Gary Hartman, Vestal, N.Y.; Dick Hopkins, McGraw, N.Y.; Carl Hunter, Corfu, N.Y.; Ev Keech, Westfield, N.Y.; Al Lesure, Rochester, N.Y.; Bob Manzi, Greenville, N.Y.; Stu Miller, Seneca Falls, N.Y.; Ken McNair, Rochester, N.Y.; George Nebel, Elmont, N.Y.; Dave Pederson, North Chili, N.Y.; Bob Pfitzenmaier, Canisteo, N.Y.; Dave Publow, Lewiston, N.Y.; Stuart Symonds, Caledonia, N.Y.; and Ned Topping, Akron, Ohio.

House officers for the fall term of 1957-58 include Richard Wedemeyer as House President. Dick is also Battalion Commander of the NROTC Unit, Treasurer of his class, and President of Stagers, the U. of R. Dramatic Society. Frederick Parker is our First Vice-President and Gene Mascoli Second Vice-President. Phil McPherson, Rushing Chairman, is directly responsible for our fine pledge class. His efforts over the summer produced one of the best rushing pamphlets ever seen on this campus.

As usual Psi U Brethren dominated the football team which had a fine winning season this fall with five of the starting eleven. Tom Forbes and Tim Schum spirited the U. of R. soccer team to an undefeated season against a formidable list of opponents. Intramural athletics have occupied many a Brother's fall afternoon. Placing in football, cross-country, and most likely, basketball and squash (the season isn't over yet), Psi U ranks high on the quadrangle and is a strong contender for the Intramural Cup.

With the enthusiastic program carried out by our Public Relations Chairman, Tom Forbes, the Brothers have enjoyed dinner visits from many outstanding campus and civic personalities. Several weeks ago the President of the University, Dr. de Kiewiet, and Mrs. de Kiewiet visited the House for dinner and a discussion session, the first such visit they have ever made to a fraternity. Needless to say, it was the most interesting evening of the term.

Last year at this same time, the House was recovering from the disastrous fire which swept the third floor. Since then, not only have those rooms been redecorated, but the downstairs repainted and refurnished. Since four ambitious sophomores remodeled Frostbite, our "attic," into living quarters for their remain-years at the U. of R., the Chapter House has never been in better shape.

The social season has been an overwhelming success. Fall Weekend saw Dottie Weber of Delmar, N.Y., a Psi U girl, crowned Campus Queen in an all-fraternity competition. Dottie rode a majestic Psi U float in a pre-game celebration amid the cheers of the entire campus. A Hallowe'en party in a nearby cemetery was one of our best parties of the season. And, of course, our annual Christmas party for orphans was a tremendous success, with Santa convincingly chubby and very jolly from an excess of Christmas egg-nog! We offer a cordial invitation to all the Brothers to visit us and share our enthusiasm.

IOTA Kenyon College

GEORGE J. GRELLA, Associate Editor

The Iota began its 98th year at Kenyon College with a burst of glory: the Fraternity had moved up three places in academic standing and last year's freshmen attained an average higher than any other group on the Hill.

Under the leadership of President John Anderson the Iota girded its collective loins for the onslaught on the social and academic year of 1957-58. Assisting Cap'n Andy in the responsibilities of leadership were First Vice-President Robert Palmer, Second Vice-President D. Calhoun Jones, Recording Secretary George Grella, Corresponding Secretary Charles Woodward, and Treasurer Allen Frost.

The most immediate goal of the Chapter was rushing. Our Rushing Chairman Bob Palmer and David Stridsberg were instrumental in gaining twelve pledges for the Iota. They are John Baker of Erie, Pa.; Robert De-pree of Louisville, Ky.; Michael Grella of Hempstead, N.Y.; Robert Knott of New York City; David Laing of Wichita, Kan.; Sterling Louthan of Short Hills, N.J.; David McKeller of Westport, Conn.; Lawrence Migliore of Westbury, N.Y.; Robert Murdock of Vermilion, Ohio; Eugene Rizzo of Bronx, N.Y.; Patterson Travis of Cleveland, Ohio; Peter Miller of Cincinnati, Ohio; and Robert Clawson of Fairfield, Conn.

Duncan Muir of Cincinnati and James Rambeau of Northville, Michigan have completed Hell Week and will be initiated soon. Both Jim and Duncan deplored their original fraternities to become Psi Us.

We sadly miss Brothers Hartong and Shearer who fell afoul of academic work and are now basking in (let us hope) sunnier climes. Brother Shearer, however, keeps the chapter under constant telephone surveillance from Denver and is still working on the mystery of the missing charcoal burners.

Edward Farr of Bellport, New York, will become a Psi U when the waiting period for depledging is up. The Lizard suns himself on the seedy sandstone of North Leonard.

Although not much is given to sweaty pursuits, the members of the Iota give a good accounting of themselves on the playing fields. David Adams, who is also President of the Student Assembly of Kenyon College, is the captain of the soccer team. Dan Ray and John Templeton head, respectively, the swimming and tennis teams. In the spring Bob Palmer will be back at midfield for the Midwest Championship-winning Kenyon lacrosse team, and Al Frost will be back pitching for the Kenyon baseball squad. We have three soccer-playing pledges: Sterling Louthan, Larry Migliore, and Pete Travis. Neophyte Duncan Muir is a tennis player of some note and there are even reports of a Lizard scuttling around the lacrosse field.

We succeeded in presenting our alumni with one of the best Homecoming Weekends in years. This year there is a marked improvement in relations between the active Chapter and the alumni, thanks to diligent efforts on the part of both.

The grandest social event of the fall season at Kenyon is Fall Dance Weekend. After the whole debacle was over, Psi U was capable of holding up its somewhat swollen head with the memory of one of the best dance weekends ever.

At Thanksgiving time the Chapter (or a reasonable representation of it) invaded New York City. Most had the time of their lives, especially those who attended the party at 139 Christopher Street.

The Iota will miss sorely the ever-cheerful and helpful guidance of D. Calhoun Jones and David Morgan, who are graduating in January. Boobie and Zonar have always been a source of inspiration to their juniors in the bonds and their memory will never die.

We of the Iota are looking forward to another semester with great hopes. We shall endeavor to maintain the high standards of Psi Upsilon at Kenyon and we hope to be honored by being host to the National Convention in 1960, the date of the centenary of the Iota Chapter.

PHI University of Michigan

JOHN FAIRBAIRN, Associate Editor

The Phi greeted the year with several additions. Along with a house director came a new porter and cook, new officers and five initiates.

A new and pleasantly efficient face is being seen these days at the Chapter House. Mrs. Maye McAlpine, recently appointed by the Phi Alumni Board, has assumed her duties as resident director (perhaps a more apt term than that of "housemother").

Phi Pledge Class

Mrs. McAlpine, Strathroy, Ontario, Canada, will serve in a supervisory capacity in the operation of the Chapter House, with special emphasis in the boarding department and dining room operation. In addition to these duties and those normally associated with the role of a "housemother," Mrs. McAlpine will fill the role formerly assigned to the Ann Arbor Trust Company in the handling of undergraduate expenditures and bookkeeping, etc.

Initiated at the beginning of the semester were: Tony Morse, Grosse Pointe, Mich.; Dean Davis, Detroit, Mich.; Leigh Melvin, Gary, Ind.; John Fairbairn, Birmingham, Mich.; and Bob Balfrey, Grosse Pointe, Mich.

During the summer Fred Sheldon and John Neff, our fine Rushing co-Chairmen, were kept busy contacting alumni and prospective pledges. The fine tradition of success in the rushing period has been carried on once more in the Phi.

At the end of the rushing period fourteen fine men composed the pledge class of the Phi. Seated: Bent Yort, Hinsdale, Ill.; Tye Totte, Grosse Pointe; Tony Barnard, Saginaw; Tom McKeown, Kenilworth, Ill.; Rick Lenz, Jackson; Doug Spence, Saginaw; and Dick Henderson, Birmingham. Standing: Mike Callahan, Detroit; Jim Russell, Laurel, Miss.; Chuck Channing, Dover, Mass.; Jim Jerome, Saginaw; Dick LaBotz, East Grand Rapids; John Scherer, Grosse Pointe; Bo Van Peenan, Kalamazoo.

The University of Michigan student body is proud of the cheerleading squad. These men are noted for their tumbling, juggling, and other antics at football games. The Phi numbers two of them in its fold (See accompanying cut).

Cheer Leaders Dana Larson, Phi '58 (bottom), and Terry Dierdorff, Phi '59.

Dana has been a member of the cheerleader squad for three years and has been the captain for the past season. As a member of the gymnastic squad for three years, Dana recorded the best time for the rope climb event here at Michigan. Terry has been a cheerleader for two years, has done a fine job, and no doubt will continue with excellence next year.

Terry was also social chairman. Congratulations go to him for one of the finest social seasons the Phi has ever had. So many great parties were held that it would be impossible to describe all of them. The Phi continued its good relations with other fraternities on the campus in many ways. Dances were held with Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Phi, and two with the Dekes; a party with the D.U.'s and numerous smaller affairs. One of the highlights of the season so far was a stag party held with Delta Kappa Epsilon to which each House brought a Siamese Fighting Fish. Near the end of the party the fish met for the battle. The Phi fish being victorious, the Dekes had to pay for the party. We are looking forward now to our Pledge Formal, which will feature a Game Banquet of duck, wild rice and all the trimmings.

All in all, the Phi is experiencing one of the finest years in its long and glorious history.

OMEGA University of Chicago

KEN GREEN, Associate Editor

It looks as if another golden year has dawned on the Omega. John Davey has replaced Herb West, who unfortunately couldn't return, as President. John, who has an unquenchable thirst for power, has also retained his position as Vice-President. Other officers include Mike "Ask me another" Robinson, as Rushing Chairman, Edward "Duck" Davis, as Pledgemaster, good ol' Ivan Carlson as Recording Secretary, and yours truly as Corresponding Secretary. Wendell Marumoto is Treasurer.

We're glad to say that most of last year's pledges made it into the House, and that they have been replaced by what appears to be a group of top men. Included in the autumn pledge class are Nick DeMerrell, Carl Kirnbauer, Bob Rosenbacher, Bud Perschke, Dave Dec, John Cotton, Gary Augustine, and the ever-popular Connie Burcke.

"Three sports over, three trophies won," is the word in the intramural department: touch-ball, ping-pong, and after two years of having to be satisfied with second place, swimming. Looks as though we'll have more to add to this list before the year's over, too.

Thanks to the efforts of Al "I Refuse To Do Any More Work" Newman, and others, last Friday saw a rollicking good party. Plans are afoot for more of the same next quarter. Naturally, our annual "Hard Times Party" was the usual smashing success.

In eighteen months, we hope the Omega will be having its very own Convention, and we've been trying to improve our one sore point, the House, to get ready for the occasion. This summer our heating system was replaced by steam from the university; Dan Cosgrove, our hard working House Manager has been busy repairing all sorts of things, and plans are under way for a big fund-raising affair in February. More about this later.

Speaking of Conventions, the brightest note of the '57 Convention was the awarding of the Psi U Scholarship Cup to the Omega. We're really proud of it, and hope to see it around much more often.

Incidentally, we'd like to see our alums more often too; stop in if you happen to be in town. There's always a newspaper lying around, and we have the only nickle coke on the south side. And if you're lucky, you might even catch a glimpse of some of the fellows on their way across the street to the gym. Seriously though, do stop in.

PI Syracuse University

WARREN D.
KINSMAN, JR.
Associate Editor

Our arrival at the Pi for the fall semester found all but two of us returning. We did so well academically last semester that all of us are anxiously waiting for the University to publish its all Fraternity rating. In hopes of not letting down this semester, we have a compulsory study hall for all Brothers and pledges who are deficient at mid-semesters. This meets three nights a week for three hours each night. Quiet hours are also strictly enforced.

During the first two weeks of our arrival, we were busily sharpening the House up for rushing. Our first project was to wash down the outside of the House to get rid of the dust collected since its painting a year ago.

Robert W. Johnson, President, Pi Chapter

Upon finishing, the paint job looked as though it were applied yesterday. Our second project was to paint the ceiling and stain the woodwork in the living room, and our final project was to paint the dining room. Thanks to the cooperation of all the Brothers and pledges we finished these tasks prior to rushing. The House sparkled inside and out which, no doubt, made quite an impression on the rushees.

Under Rushing Chairman Deve Jeffery, who, incidentally, is to be commended for an outstanding job, we pledged twenty-seven men, one of the largest pledge classes of the Pi in a good many years. We feel that quality reigns in each of these men: Frederick Edward Ackerman, Canastota, N.Y.; Lew Finch Allyn, Skaneateles, N.Y.; Lionel Edward Bond, Arden, N.Y.; James Reiley Carroll, Oil City, Pa. Stanley Hamilton Cornwall, Paris, Me.; George Conrad Cook, Rockville Center, N.Y.; Peter Martin Donald, Valley Stream, N.Y.; John Durston Emerick, Fayetteville, N.Y.; Edward John Forbes, III, Syracuse, N.Y.; Thomas de-Magnin Gilburg, Chappaqua, N.Y.; Leo Duane Goddard, Homer, N.Y.; James David Graham, Woodbridge, N.J.; Cornelius Charles Hayes, Jr., Syracuse, N.Y.; Michael David Herr, Syracuse, N.Y.; Albert Freeman Hills, Fayetteville, N.Y.; Roger Henry Kennett, Shrewsbury, England; Kenneth Charles MacKenzie, Snyder, N.Y.; Joseph John Matisak, Eckley, Pa.; George Frederick Meister, Philadelphia, Pa.; Howard Robert Meyer, Valley Stream, N.Y.; Millard Arthur Mott, Jr., Cato, N.Y.; Charles Walter Snyder, III, Philadelphia, Pa.; Walter Richardson Spofford, Jr., Fayetteville, N.Y.; Donald Francis Sprague, Jr., Gouverneur, N.Y.; W. Scott Steggall, Jr., Syracuse, N.Y.; Pieter Lighthall Verbeck, Syracuse, N.Y.; John Barry Zelesnik, Syracuse, N.Y.

Following rushing, we plunged into Hell Week, which ended Colgate Weekend. The following eight men were initiated: John Lucius Ames, '59; James Kenyon Angell, '60; John Kennedy Brynes, '60; Dudley Dohring Few, '60; Chales Owen Glenn, '60; Ernest Frederick Hoeldtke, '60; Fredric Bernard Shoninger, '60; Gary Braden Stranges, '60. The alumni turnout for the Colgate-Initiation Banquet was very encouraging. Following the dinner we were entertained by Toastmaster Brother Bob Leberman, '54, who did a top notch last minute fill in job. The main speaker for the evening, Brother Thomas H. Dyer, '34 gave one of the most impressive after dinner speeches we have ever heard.

On the athletic side things are looking pretty good. Brother Sid Young was a member of the varsity football team, and two of our pledges, Tom Gilburg and George Meister were on the freshman squad. Gilburg is one of the best punters to hit Syracuse in a long time. Watch for his name on the varsity next year. We also have four of our pledges out for the wrestling team: Howard Meyer, Joe Matisak, Pete Donald, and George Cook. All look like tough men to tangle with. We are also taking an active part in intramural sports.

We have some very important additions to the House this year in a complete new set of dinnerware and a new set of draperies, given to us by the Psi Upsilon Mothers' Club. To them we extend a big vote of thanks and appreciation. Brother Dick Evleth donated a new set of silverware, which, alongside of our new dinnerware, surely helps to brighten up the dining room.

We are now preparing for our Christmas formal and Christmas party for underprivileged children to be held the following day. The traditional pine boughs will cover the ceiling for the formal and the next day Brother Tony Price shall play the part of the Santa as he distributes presents to the youngsters who are expected to invade the Chapter House. These two events, followed by our annual Christmas Caroling tour of the hospitals and the campus, will climax the fall semester.

In concluding, I would like to mention a word about the spirit of the House. Led by President Bob Johnson and Vice-Presidents Earl McNulty, Paul Hutchins, and John Schantz, a new spirit of enthusiasm has swept over us, and has shown up in our outstanding accomplishments of this year.

If any Brother ever plans to be in the Syracuse area, a cordial welcome will be extended from all of us at 101 College Place.

CHI Cornell University

JOHN A. CROCKETT, Associate Editor

At the time of this writing, the Brothers of the Chi are, we hope, locked in their rooms studying for the oncoming round of exams prior to the Christmas vacation. The emphasis this fall, between social engagements, has been on studies in an attempt to bring up the House standing in that field. Only time will tell!

With the football team playing five home games this fall, we at the Chi have had more than our share of excitement. On the Syracuse weekend we had one of our best parties as the Brothers from the Pi gathered for a post-game open house and cocktail party. All of the best-loved songs were sung as many old friendships were revived and new ones were formed. I don't mean to linger on the social side of the program, but I would like to explain about a party that we had recently that we hope may develop into an annual affair. As Cornell is now having a strict deferred rushing program, the upperclassmen have a difficult time getting to know freshmen. We here at the Chi devised a round-about way to spread the name of Psi Upsilon to the freshmen. On a Sunday afternoon each Brother had a date with a beautiful freshman coed for a cocktail party here at the House. We were entertained by the Cayuga Waiters of which brother Van Campbell is a member and the function was a tremendous success. Its actual value will be told when rushing starts at the beginning of the second term.

This fall the Brothers of the Chi have been quite active on the hill. Each weekend Cornellians were thrilled by the athletic prowess of Brother John Wabster on the football field. It was unfortunate that Brother Walt Buckley was unable to play more due to injuries early the season. In intramural football, the House team got as far as the quarter finals before being beaten.

Brothers Chick Robinson and Larry Pearson have decided to forego basketball this season in favor of social drinking and an occasional game of squash. However, the varsity basketball team will still be well represented, having Brothers Lou Jordan, John Furlong, and Bill Sullivan. The sport having by far the greatest House representation is the crew which includes Brothers Jim Coleman, Bob Knowles, Jeff Dando, Mike Echier, Chuck Brown, Bruce Miller, and Jay Hooker.

Our House President this term is Lawrence D. Pearson. The other House officers are: Charles D. Robinson, Vice-President; Robert Dunn, Recording Secretary; John A. Crockett, Corresponding Secretary; Lawrence T. Brown, Treasurer; William B. Osgood, House Manager; and Robert Grieves, Social Chairman.

In closing, the brothers of the Chi would like to extend an invitation to all Brothers who might happen to be in this vicinity.—Drop in any time and stay as long as you please. We'll be glad to have you!

BETA BETA Trinity College

PETER STICKNEY ANDERSON, Associate Editor

With the Fall semester rapidly drawing to a close, The Beta Beta finds itself looking back on a most successful term. We are particularly proud to announce the pledging and initiation of thirteen men. They are: Roland Throop Bergh, Cedarhurst, L.I., N.Y.; Carlington Clark, Jr., Columbia, S.C.; John Doyle Flynn, Jr., Barrington, R.I.; Thomas Scandrett Grubbs, II, Pittsburgh, Pa.; William John Huffer, Paris, France; William Croft Jennings, Columbia, S.C.; Murray Hayward Morse, Jr., Westport, Conn.; George Hayden Raynor, Jr., Washington, D.C.; Bruce McFarland Rockwell, Grosse Pointe, Mich.; Curtis Merrill Scribner, Portland, Me.; and Robert Nelson Spahr, Rosemont, Pa.; from the class of 1960; and Fredrick Evelyn Gignoux, III and Charles Vansant Esler from the class of 1959. The initiation was held on Friday evening November 22, 1957 at the Chapter House. At that time many of the alumni returned for the festivities and a fine time was had by all.

In the athletic field three of the Brothers, Bergh, Jennings, and Scribner, were awarded varsity soccer letters. The squash racquets team under the able captaincy of Brother Moran, and including Brothers Kenefick, Jennings, Morse, and Spahr on the ladder, is looking forward to a most successful season. In the intramural field the Psi U athletic machine took a second in their league in touch football and a first in tennis. The winter intramural schedule has been set and the Brothers are looking forward to much active competition and a chance to better last year's third, in the race for the all-intra-mural cup.

During "help week" the pledges did a lot of repainting of the rooms and woodwork around the House. With the help of Brother Eichacker, '33, two more of the basement rooms were pine paneled.

The Trinity Corinthian Yacht Club, which of late seems to be controlled by the Beta Beta, under the leadership of Commodore Brother Hall and Brother Williams (the Vice President of the Executive Council of the New England Intercollegiate Sailing Association), has just been named one of the New England representatives to the McMillan Cup regatta to be held on the Chesapeake this spring.

The finances of the House are in fine shape and it is heartening to know that all of the departments are solvent and making money. It is hoped that soon there will be enough in the treasury to finish the paneling in the basement. The eating club has announced the intended purchase of a dishwasher, which will cut down on waiter expenses in the kitchen.

The Chapter was saddened to hear of the recent death of Elizabeth Mather, the wife of the late Brother William G. Mather and one of Trinity's greatest benefactors.

The eight men who graduated from the Chapter last June have been making great successes of themselves. The roll includes one in the Foreign Service, two in Law School, one in Army Intelligence, one in Navy O.C.S., one in banking and one in business.

All in all it has been a most successful term at 81 Vernon Street and the Brothers are looking forward to an even better second semester.

ETA Lehigh University

JOHN M. MIMNAUGH
Associate Editor

Another semester of progress was capped with Chapter elections on December 10 as the Eta prepared to shoulder another final exam period, and improve upon our scholastic ranking of 15th among Lehigh's 30 fraternities. Twenty-six Brothers and pledges now live in the House, filling it to comfortable capacity. Because eight seniors will graduate in June, we anticipate a large pledge class when the annual rushing period begins in April for the class of '61. Any assistance from alumni in the form of recommendations of Lehigh freshmen will be most helpful.

Elected to offices for the spring semester were: Alex VanRensselaer, president; Pete Bach, vice-president; Miff Bunting, pledge-master; Bill Tomlinson, House manager; Charles Hutchinson, steward; Pete Thyrrre, secretary; Jack Foote, treasurer; Bach and Bill Rodgers, corresponding secretaries and Dick Jenks, keeper of the files.

A highly successful Lafayette (alumni) weekend was held November 23 when nearly fifty grads returned to the Chapter for annual festivities and to watch Lehigh trounce our traditional rival Lafayette, 26-13, to capture the Lambert Cup. At a meeting of the Goodale Literary Association that morning, alumni discussed plans for physical improvement of the Chapter House and other matters.

Six new Brothers were initiated this fall. They are: Charles P. Hutchinson, Trenton, N.J.; John M. Costello, Elmira, N.Y.; William D. Hawes, Baltimore, Md.; Richard A. Jenkins, Baltimore, Md.; Peter G. Thyrrre, Old Greenwich, Conn. and William C. Thomlinson, Wynnwood, Pa.

House improvements affected since our last report include a new refrigerator (40 cubic foot), repainting of the trim on the exterior of the House, construction of a new bar and the translation of the old "game room" into an old-English setting. The cook's apartment has been refinished and our new cook, Mrs. Peck, and her husband live there now.

Five delegates from the Eta attended the Convention at the Psi in September and report they enjoyed a most interesting and enlightening visit.

An increasing number of Brothers are engaging in extra-curricular activities on the campus. Among them, Alex Bay won another letter from varsity soccer, Brother Foote, another letter for running with the cross country team in an undefeated season, Brother Jenkins, for tennis last spring. Many other Brothers participated in minor sports and in the intramural athletic program.

Brother Mimnaugh served as Editor of the Brown and White and on Arcadia this past semester, Brothers Campbell and Bunting as team captains for the class gift fund drive and Brothers VanRensselaer and Sprague on the Brown Key Society. Brother Rodgers was publicity chairman for the Campus Chest drive. Brother Bruce Simons has submitted his paintings for the McLean award.

The Chapter is in the process of re-building its activities program through a system by which the upperclassmen advise the underclassmen in selecting proper activities.

The Chapter officers wish to thank all alumni who have devoted their time and effort over the past semester to work with the active Chapter in solving the problems which we faced and enjoying many of the good times we had this fall and look forward to having during the spring semester.

TAU University of Pennsylvania

RICHARD M. GIBSON
Associate Editor

Activity around the Tau this fall has been far from lacking. The highlight of the social activities centering around the football season was a "Roaring Twenties" party Yale weekend. Flapper costumes and other conservative modes of dress were in abundance, lending to the atmosphere created by the music of the Speakeasy Six.

The fall social season was topped off by the annual Christmas party. Dinner and dancing were augmented by such Yuletide customs as trimming a Christmas tree and distributing gifts to the seniors. All the Brothers thought the affair to be entirely successful.

This semester's officers are: Edward Genetti, president; James Heerin, vice-president; Grant Evans, treasurer; and George Sharp, secretary.

Co-Rushing Chairman this year are Brothers William Anderson and Jerry Kavanaugh, who both have been quite busy preparing for formal rushing in early February. Any information from alumni concerning possible rushes would be greatly appreciated by the House.

The Tau is operating at capacity; the rooms are all in excellent shape (a little plant life has enhanced several) as is the rest of the House, due chiefly to the efforts of House Chairman, Paul Veeder.

Capital improvement expenditures include the purchase of a new stove, the value of which is appreciated no more by our cook, Inez, than by the Brothers.

Several months ago a corporation was established within the House, the assets of said corporation being one hearse (and the accompanying insurance policy). The black beauty, which has a capacity of fifteen persons (dead or alive), has been used quite successfully for such jaunts as the one to the Princeton game in October. The machine is a 1939 La Salle, driven a legitimate 21,000 miles; it is no less beautiful than the accompanying pictures indicate.

Having completed a successful inter-fraternity touch football season, the Brothers are looking forward to an even better year in the I-F basketball league. While the House squad does lack height, its floor play should make up for the deficit; and after a little practice, it should be hard to beat.

A real asset to the House this semester has been a foreign exchange student from Manchester, England, David Davies. Sponsored by the I-F Council, Dave is living in the House during the first semester, also eating his breakfasts and lunches here. His personality and mind serve as an inspiration to all the Brothers.

Our activities around campus this year are many and varied. Three brothers are fighting for berths on the varsity crew, Jack Hunter, Carl Helwig, and Court Chapman. Jack is also healing for our annual, The Record, along with Jerry Kavanaugh. Bill Wood is varsity soccer manager, and an active campus politician, along with Jim Heerin, Joe McMahon, president of Undergraduate Council and Chairman of the Houston Hall Board, and Court Chapman, I-F representative. Bob Kern was a varsity football manager during the season, and George Sharpe is very active in the Newman Club, heading several major committees.

Tau Hearse!

MU University of Minnesota

TED STEPHENS
Associate Editor

The Mu is richer by twenty pledges as the result of fall rushing. The new pledges are: John C. Adams, Duluth, Minn.; William C. Bagwill, Edina, Minn.; Stephen C. Britts, Eveleth, Minn.; Michael E. Brown, Edina, Minn.; Stephen G. Chamberlin, Minneapolis, Minn.; William F. Crouch, Minneapolis, Minn.; James R. Fillbrandt, New Ulm, Minn.; Herschel B. Fryberger, Duluth, Minn.; Henry P. Heersema, Menlo Park, Calif.; John C. Lambin, Excelsior, Minn.; Peter H. May, Edina, Minn.; Charles K. Myers, Elmhurst, Ill.; James M. Neville, Edina, Minn.; William Porter, Edina, Minn.; David Rouzer, Edina, Minn.; William F. Sharpe, Edina, Minn.; Louis A. Shumway, Milaca, Minn.; Walter Sirene, Edina, Minn.; Wells J. Wright, Minneapolis, Minn.; John Stratte, Pine City, Minn.

A special vote of confidence must be given to our alumni for the many recommendations given to the Chapter concerning promising men. We hope that the alumni will continue to give us their invaluable help in our future rushing programs.

The fall quarter saw the coming in of a new ruling class with the enthusiastic fall elections. After the smoke rose we gained Jack Forrest as president, Dean Akins as vice-president, Steve Webster as assistant vice-president, Ben Parks as secretary, Bob McCrea and Bill Larson as social chairmen, Ted Stephens as corresponding secretary, Howie Benidt as treasurer, and a new holder of the House worries, Kevin Curry as House manager.

The outgoing president Lou Harris received a standing ovation for his efforts. The occasion was only marred by his surprising statement that he intends to graduate at the end of the quarter. A moment of silence was observed contemplating our loss after so many years.

The fall social season has been one of the best in recent years. With an unusual number of our usual outstanding house parties and a riotous homecoming celebration our Social Chairman, Bill Larson, is the man of the hour. The fall season is not yet over as there still remains the annual kiddie party for a group of orphans from a local center and in a less respectable vein, the after finals party. The Chapter feels that the kiddie party will be a complete success as it has been in past years and already there is a lively competition for the starring role of St. Nick among the more rotund brothers.

A new social innovation of having prominent alumni speak at occasional Monday night dinners was begun this quarter and has met with great Chapter approval.

In the area of athletics, the Mu is represented in all fields and made the division finals in football before being defeated. Basketball is still under way and the House looks forward to the winning of the swimming trophy for the third year in a row. One large trophy does grace the hallowed case, but seems a little out of place as it is the first

HOMEcoming AT THE MU

1. Signing the Mu's guest register are Phil Lewis, Mu '44, and Jerry Ryan, Mu '44. 2. Brother C. A. Lang, '06, listens to Ned Pierson, '00, while others eat on. 3. Listening to tales of the Mu of 1888 as told by Albert Graber, Mu '88, are (left to right) Jerry Carson, Mu '58, Graber, James Rubb, Jr., Rho '36. Brother Graber was the oldest alumni present. 4. Left to right: Dick Moses, '53; Warren Maul, '46, President of Psi Upsilon of Minnesota; and E. H. Pierson, '00. 5. Brothers of Psi U from St. Paul are (left to right) Oliver Crosby, Mu '33, his son Fred Crosby, Mu '60 (missing is Fred Crosby, Sr., '11), Bruce Sanborn, Mu '06, and Howie Benidt, Mu '59. 6. Relating memories of undergraduate days at the Mu are (left to right) Bernie Jones, Mu '24, F. Warren Ruplin, Xi '34, Ramsey Parker, Mu '27, and James Addy, Mu '32. 7. Two very active alumni discussing who pays the tab for the evening are A. L. Goodman, Mu '11, and R. L. Brooks, Mu '12. David Sherman, Mu '58, is receiving the fare while Warren E. prize for the homecoming House decorations this year. The Chapter hopes that this may be the start of a new field of endeavor.

The field of House notables gains in quality with George Kline as basketball captain, Perry Gehring starring at end on the football team, and Jack Forrest as a large cog in the workings of the Inter-Fraternity Council.

Our special gratitude goes to Brother Ray Beim for his gift of a baby grand piano. It was a badly needed addition to the House and is being put to good use by the Brothers. Sincere thanks.

A new project is under way at the House in the forming of a House library. We would like any alumni who have books they would care to see included in such a library to send them to the House in care of Ted Stephens. A book-plate noting the name of the donor will be placed in each volume.

The Mu sends hearty greeting to the rest of the Chapters and hopes they will have very successful terms for the rest of the year.

EPSILON University of California

CHARLES JENKINS
Associate Editor

With just a little over a half of a semester gone by, the Epsilon Chapter at the University of California has had a very busy life. Our first activity of the year was rushing, which is held during the first week of registration in September. Again, as in the last three years, we were extremely successful. We pledged ten boys out of twelve bids which were offered. Our new pledges are as follows: Edwin Allan Stoney, South Pasadena; Milton David Kelly, Arcadia; Craig Alan Campbell, King City; Richard Sidney Cochran, Piedmont; Daniel Baxter Jenkins, Piedmont; John Darrell Kerckhoff, San Marino; James Lewis McDonald, San Marino; Peter Michael, San Marino; Cyril Parkinson Turner, San Marino; Robert Lee Wolcott, Piedmont.

Socially, this semester has been very successful and enjoyable under the leadership of our Social Chairman, Bruce Baker. Some of the highlights have been our Overnight at Rickey's Rancho San Rafael, where we danced around an outdoor swimming pool to the tunes of a terrific band. Next came the U.S.C.-California Post-Game Party which was an immense success and bolstered by many of our Brothers from the Theta Epsilon Chapter. For the first time in several years we had a Roaring Twenties Party after the Cal-Stanford Football game, which was played at Stanford this year. This party will long be remembered for its novel, green punch, appropriately named Dyer's Punch after Brothers John Dewey and Ken Myers, the President and House Manager respectively, and the nostalgic Dixie Land Band.

Early in November the Epsilon Chapter had its annual Founders' Day Banquet at the Olympic Club in San Francisco. Two of the highlights of this banquet were: the moment of silence in which we acknowledged the death of our beloved and respected Brother Talcott Williamson, '08, who died last Spring at his home in Oakland, California; and the very enjoyable Keynote given by Brother "Pappy" Becker.

Athletically, the Epsilon Chapter has been very well represented. Brothers Ron Currie and Pat Newell both lettered on the Cal Varsity football team, and we are especially proud of Pat Newell for winning the most the "Most Improved Lineman Award." Three Brothers, Don Bishop, Claude Hutchison, and Joe Neil, rowed on the varsity crew shell this fall. Roger Price has run some terrific cross-country races this fall and beaten some of the nation's best runners. As this report goes to press, Brothers Bob Angell, Bill Schneiders, John Normanly, Roger Price, Jay Howard, Gary Wood, and Tom Clark are trying to get in shape for track this next spring. In the water our Chapter is well represented in both water polo and swimming by Ed and Bill Carlson, Dick Duane, and Lou Wycoff.

In Intramural Sports we have made considerable progress in football, basketball, bowling, volleyball, and golf.

Academically, it is still too early to make any promises about grades; however, every member of the Chapter is striving to keep up our fine House academic standing. If rising electricity bills are any barometer of conscientious studying, we ought to be on top scholastic-wise.

We have just elected new House officers which are as follows: President, Duane Kirkpatrick; Vice-President, Harry Hathaway; House Manager, Bill Clark; Secretary, Charles Jenkins; Social Chairman, Chris Ey; Freshman Work Boss, Bruce Baker; Rushing Chairman, Jay Howard.

As Christmas draws near we are eagerly looking forward to our Annual Christmas Party for underprivileged children.

This semester has been very profitable for the Chapter socially, academically, and athletically. We only hope that the spring will be as successful. To all the Brothers of our Chapter and all the Chapters we of the Epsilon Chapter wish you a very Merry Christmas and a fraternally rewarding New Year.

OMICRON University of Illinois

GEORGE W. PEASE
Associate Editor

This fall was a good one for the Omicron—not an exceptional semester but a good one. We did not win a prize for anything nor will we be first scholastically. The Omicron has however, fulfilled the obligations of a social fraternity: a complete social calendar (one of the fullest on campus), good representation in student activities with appropriate stress on grades.

Biggest news of the semester was the Chapter's job in conducting the most successful rush in Omicron history. Under the direction of Brother John Bergstrom, twenty-seven men were pledged by November 1. Following a plan of personal contact and extensive mailing, the Chapter had one hundred and thirty-three boys come through the House during formal rush week in September. Eighteen boys were pledged at this time with nine more being added during informal rush. This class plus two Brothers returning from previous classes brought the House roster up to fifty-six men. This is especially gratifying in that up to the completion of our addition last spring, the physical plant could accommodate only forty-five men.

With the pledging of such a large class—the average class is about twenty—the Chapter did not sacrifice quality for quantity. We are rightfully proud of these men and feel that they will live up to the traditions of Psi Upsilon at Illinois.

The Omicron Pledge Class of 1961: Jon R.

Anfinsen, Sheridan, Engineering; Thomas R. Dearden, Collinsville, Engineering; David K. Dinsmore, Knoxville, LAS, pre-law; Brack Duker, Champaign, Commerce; Walter Ford, Berkely, Commerce; Kent G. Fry, Blue Island, Engineering; Dave A. Gantt, Freeport, LAS; Peter A. Hansen, Chicago, Engineering; John B. Horn, St. Louis, pre-medicine; Richard B. Johnson, Rockford, FAA; Ransie W. Kesl, North Riverside, Commerce; Carl J. Midland, Chicago, Agriculture; Gregory Miller, Peoria, Engineering; Edward O'Donnel, Chicago, Engineering; Bryon J. Olson, Skokie, Engineering; Charles A. Scurlock, Pasadena, California, Engineering; Robert R. Pfeiffer, Peoria, pre-vet; Jay D. Siegrist, San Jose, Agriculture; Nils A. Soneson, Park Forest, Engineering; James H. Stein, Jr., Auburn, Engineering; James M. Thomas, Glen Ellyn, LAS; Edward H. Thompson, Maywood, Commerce; Bruce M. Weber, Quincy, FAA; Gary B. Western, Ottawa, Engineering; Robert W. Yakel, Alton, FAA; Roland Eugene Yeast, Atlanta, Engineering; James E. Zinser, Chillicothe, Commerce.

The Omicron's class is the seventh largest in the fifty-seven house Illinois Greek system. The Chapter is also very grateful to the Alumni Association for their kind financial aid and rush party cooperation.

Other chapters and friends are by this time familiar with the Omicron physical plant and the new addition to it. We are however, extremely proud of it and its acceptance as the best interior on campus. So, once again, a tip to the beanie to our Alums for the beautiful new furniture received this summer via Brother Kroehler.

Socially, we feel we are tops this semester on the basis of House activity and personal dating. Twelve dessert exchanges with sororities, five dances—four in the House and one at a local ballroom—a sorority-paired Christmas party plus many informal gatherings and beverage blasts and numerous little socializing activities have made the semester highly enjoyable for the Brothers.

A new idea this year, and a very successful one, was our overnight winter formal. The girls, fifty-five strong took over the House from three o'clock Saturday until two-thirty on Sunday afternoon. The dance featured a cocktail hour at six; formal dinner at the Chapter House at seven; the dance from nine to twelve; and a serenade at one o'clock. The next day saw a formal breakfast at ten and a sweetheart dinner at twelve-thirty.

The pledge class has had a like number of exchanges in addition to pep rally pairings and supporting the winning candidate for Junior Intrafraternity Ball Queen. The House is at present engaged in practical politics looking towards Spring Carnival pairings. Brother George Pease was in charge of the Chapter's social program this semester.

Four new Brothers were initiated into the bonds as the fall semester opened. They are Rommel J. Gruenberg, LAS, Brooklyn, N.Y.; C. Joseph Bush, LAS, River Grove, Ill.; John N. Faust, Engineering, Skokie, Ill., and John R. Henbest, Commerce, Rockford, Ill.

The Omicron has been pleased to see many Brothers from other Chapters during the course of this fall's football schedule. We hope the boys from Minnesota, Michigan, and Northwestern enjoyed their brief visits with us. We certainly enjoyed our all too brief visit to Madison and the Rho.

If present plans materialize, next semester should be one of the Chapter's best in recent years. We want to be tops at Illinois and are going to be just that.

Brothers Jim Mueller and S. J. Hauck were named to the roll of the top one hundred seniors on campus this year.

DELTA DELTA Williams College

JIM RAYHILL
Associate Editor

The initiation of twenty new Brothers on December 7 was the highlight of an active fall for the Delta Delta.

Alfred H. Morton, Omicron '19, was the main speaker at the Initiation Banquet. Also present at the banquet were Jerome W. Brush, Jr., Delta Delta '39; William B. Falconer, Delta Delta '49, and the fathers of two new Brothers William L. Tierney, Delta Delta '28, and Frank J. Goodwin, Delta Delta '30.

The twenty new Brothers, all members of the class of 1960 are Al Bailey, Jamestown, N.Y.; Bill Baker, Yarmouth Port, Mass.; Pete Beckwith, Rutherford, N.J.; Jay Doolittle, Albany N.Y.; Ken Gillett, Scarsdale, N.Y.; Jerry Goodwin, North Plainfield, N.J.; Clay Honbo, Honolulu, Hawaii; Ned Houst, Akron, Ohio; Jack Lytle, Buffalo, N.Y.; Dave McCulloch, Westfield, N.J.; Wally Matt, Utica, N.Y.; Bill Paul, Yonkers, N.Y.; Eric Peterson, Cleveland Heights, Ohio; John Phillips, Rochester, N.Y.; Geoffrey Seymour, Gates Mills, Ohio; Don Sheldon, Sandusky, Ohio; Kev Tierney, Greenwich, Conn.; Ken Vogt, Cincinnati, Ohio; Tom Watterson, Cleveland, Ohio, and Dave Zurn, Erie, Pa. Serving as co-heads of their delegation are Pete Beckwith and John Phillips.

When the Brothers returned to Williamstown this fall for rushing, there was a great deal of enthusiasm and unity. This all resulted in the fine class which the House pledged. Spurred on by Brother John Purvis, '58, Rushing Chairman, the House got one of the best classes on campus.

The Brothers have continued in their widespread participation in extracurricular activities. Brother Frost, '58, president of the Chapter, played varsity soccer and is currently on the varsity hockey team. He has also been active on the college Social Council.

On the varsity football team the House was represented by Brother Kev Tierney, '60. Brother Geoffrey Seymour, '60, was a manager for the unbeaten eleven. The House is well represented on winter athletic teams. Brother Jack Lytle, '60, is on the varsity hockey team. Brothers Jack Creden, '58, Pete Culman, '59, and Eric Peterson, '60, are on the varsity swimming team.

On the varsity wrestling team are Brothers John Evans, '58, Pete Carney, '58, Dick Constant, '59, and Wally Matt, '60. Serving as managers for the varsity basketball team are Brothers Art Werthmann, '58, Ty Smith, '59, and Al Bailey, '60. On the varsity squash team is Pete Beckwith, '60.

The Record, the college newspaper, claims its share of Brothers. On the Business Board are Brother Pete Carney, '58, Advertising Manager; Pete Levin, '58, Subscription Manager, and Bill Baker, '60. On the Editorial Board of the Record are Brothers Jim Rayhill, '59, and Wally Matt, '60.

Working on the Purple Cow, the college humor magazine are Brother Tom Watterson, '60, Associate Editor; Howie Abbott, Cartoonist, and Jerry Goodwin, '60. Brother Abbott is Secretary-Treasurer of WMS, the college radio station, and also co-head of the station.

On the Student Activities Council are Brothers Ray Montgomery, '58, Howie Abbott, '58, Steve Webb, '59, and Jim Wallace, '59. Brother Spence Jones, '58, is an officer in the college marching band and also plays trombone with "Phinney's Favorite Five." Brother John Halsey, '59, plays the piano for the Dixieland Group. Brother Bill Paul, '60, Newly initiated Brothers of the Delta Delta, Class of 1960.

plays for the "Purple Knights."

Serving as President of the Newman Club and of the Young Republicans is Brother Joe Young, '58. Brother Pete French, '58, as well as being on the varsity golf team, is on the Board of Directors of the Williamstown Boys' Club. In the Williams Glee Club are Brothers Ray Montgomery, '58, Brad Smith, '59, Don Sheldon, '60, and Bill Paul, '60.

On the academic side of college life the Chapter went up three places on the fraternity scholastic rating. Brother Art Werthmann, '58, was elected to Junior Phi Beta Kappa. And Brothers Bill Benedict, John Binney, Jim Rayhill, and Jim Wallace were selected for Sophomore Honors.

Serving as officers of the Chapter until the February elections are Steve Frost, President; Joe Young, First Vice-President; Spence Jones, Second Vice-President; John Palmer, Recording Secretary; Jim Rayhill, Corresponding Secretary, and Steve Machand, Treasurer.

The social part of the semester was highlighted by fall House party and Alumni Weekend. About 300 guests came to the Chapter House on that weekend for the Amherst-Williams game. The undergraduates, alumni and parents enjoyed themselves immensely.

On December 18, the Brothers entertained the Williamstown Boys' Club at the annual Christmas party at the Chapter House.

At the end of the first semester, the House found itself numbered among the best houses on campus. In athletic, extracurricular, and academic fields, the Chapter was among the top fraternities.

EPSILON PHI McGill University

CHARLES W. ABBOTT-SMITH, Associate Editor

The first weeks following Registration Day found Epsilon Phi in the hustle and bustle of the annual "face-lifting" of the House in preparation for rush-week here at McGill, and thanks to the coordinating efforts of Brother Doug Maule, and the persistence of the rest of the Brothers, the Chapter House was put in fair shape. The ensuing rushing program under the capable direction of Brothers Jerry Neilson and John Kaye proved to be very successful. It included as well as the regular lunches and suppers, Casino Night, Beer and Oyster Stag, Western Party, Rock 'n Roll Party (Brothers Mike and Frank Dodman, Joe Puddicombe, and bidee Mike Bennett, who is now a Brother, played appropriate music) and a Barn Dance.

The pledge class of fifteen consisted of: James Boake, Robert Dorken, Graham Duff, Richard Duke, Howard Fritz, Fred Kalau, Frank Nyeste, Robert Reynolds, and Stewart Sutcliffe, all from Montreal; Joan Marcotte from Preville; Michael Bennett and Hugh Jenny from Oakville, Ontario; Richard Kilil from Cornwall, Ontario; John MacDonald from Toronto, Ontario, and Edward Scott from London, England. With excellent representation from the alumni, the bestowing of final initiatory rights took place at the Banquet Hall, Windsor Station, November 22, and was followed by the traditional and entertaining Punch Bowl Ceremony in the Chapter House.

The Mothers' Auxiliary working behind the scenes has done a great deal to improve the Chapter House. They have donated nine new blankets, a vacuum cleaner, three tri-lite lamps and some draperies, all of which are very much appreciated. They also shared the responsibilities with the active Chapter in the Parents' Cocktail Party.

Psi Upsilon is again participating actively in intercollegiate athletics. Brother Bill Bonney was a prominent player on the McGill Badminton team. Brother Rich Bowie represented the university on the golf fairways and is now playing intermediate hockey along with Brother Pete Budge. Brother John Kaye played intercollegiate rigger again, and Brother Rod Roy was an outstanding forward on the championship water polo team. Brother John Rolland went to Toronto with the university track team where he ran the 120 high hurdles and 220 low hurdles. McGill placed second to Toronto in the meet. Elected to the Intercollegiate All-Star Football Team was Brother Johnny Bennett who played an outstanding season. John, who is graduating this year, is considering playing pro ball for a year before returning for graduate studies. Brother Jim Grant, who is well known on the campus for his prowess in intercollegiate football and hockey, had an unfortunate accident and had to undergo a second operation on his bad knee and it is doubtful whether he will play sports for the remainder of the year. Brothers Bob Land, Mike Dodman, and Rich Bowie were cheerleaders again this year for the football team.

Epsilon Phi played Interfraternity football, and is running the I.F. swimming meet as is the custom for the last year champions. We plan to enter the I.F. hockey and squash tournaments as enthusiastically as past years, and looking forward to the annual Zeta Psi-Psi Upsilon ski bash.

Honour came to Psi Upsilon through the University's recognition of several Brothers. Brother John Rolland is now a member of the Phi Epsilon Alpha Engineering Honour Society for scholastic proficiency, as he led his class in second year engineering. Brother Don Ferrier is now President-elect of the Scarlet Key Society and Brother John Kaye is Vice-President. Don Harterre was appointed Vice-Chairman of McGill Winter Carnival, Don Ferrier, Chairman of Promotions, and Don Budge and Kent Clegg, co-chairmen of Forum Night.

A moonlit late October evening was the time and the courtyard of a fine Westmount home the setting, for an event the Kappa Alpha Theta girls' Fraternity and ourselves will not forget for a long time—it was the Psi U's serenading the Theta belles and some rushees at their rushing party, and finer vocal efforts have seldom, if ever, been heard! (The Thetas, we hear, did very well in rushing!)

The pledges showed promising initiative in their decorations for the Pledge Dance which was held just after rushing, and their efforts were well rewarded by the enjoyable time everybody had. Athletics Night was followed by a pleasant semi-closed get together at the House. Extensive preparations are being made for the forthcoming Christmas Formal, and the entertainment committee, headed by punch maker Jerry Neilson, has lots of new ideas. The office of Santa Claus is still being disputed. Something brand new in the way of parties was had on December 9. We invited another boys' fraternity and two girls' fraternities over to the House, and the affair was a thorough success. We enjoyed parties at two other girls' fraternities, and had some TV football stags that were very popular.

The active Chapter regrets that twelve of the senior Brothers will be assuming inactive status this Christmas and not long after will be welcomed into the stronger and very active Epsilon Phi Alumni Association. The Active Chapter will dearly miss their presence and wishes them every success in their final exams and in whatever they may undertake in future years.

ZETA ZETA

University of British Columbia

ROBERT EADES, Associate Editor

On November 15 we held our annual Founders' Day Banquet. The turnout was the largest ever, with over 120 alumni, actives and pledges. After a superb dinner of roast turkey (plus trimmings), the election of officers for the 1957-58 term took place. Brother Cameron Aird is now our Alumni President with Brother Nichols as Vice-President. Another important event of the evening was the burning of our House's last mortgage. With the old House now paid for and improvements ensuing rapidly I would like to extend our hospitality to all Brothers from Quebec to California—any time, but make it soon before we burn it down and build a new one!

Our fall pledges are thirteen in number: Mike Brown, Ray Bryant, Terry Farmer, Bob Food, Fred Green, Al Groves, Bruce Hoadley, Henry Lum, Doug Munro, Kim Nichols, Ken Sotvedt, Jim Will and Jim Wong. A very active group of boys in all sports and many executive positions on our U.B.C. campus.

We recently had an excellent lecture and question session on American Investments in Canada with Bill Wright in the chair and Colonel Brown (investment dealer of Odium Brown Investments) as guest speaker. The interest shown in this meeting if continued through the season will increase greatly the attendance of both alumni and actives at our literary meetings.

Another event which the pledges held was our yearly Pledge Party—"a real ball." The cocktail party was held at Kim Nichol's house with Ken Sotvedt serving the punch. From there we proceeded to the Southlands Riding Club—in the country—where we danced to an excellent orchestra and the entertainment was, where it should have been, "out of this world."

Of special interest to many of the alumni is that Zeta Zeta now has three generations, prominent members of our ivied halls—Colonel A. M. Brown, William T. Brown and Pledge Michael J. Brown.

EPSILON NU Michigan State University

DAVID L. ROGERS

An enthusiastic group of Psi Upsilon's opened the fall term in a Chapter House shiny with new paint both inside and out. A year that bids fair to be very successful started with the activation of four excellent men, they are: Walter B. Archer, Birmingham; John Slagle, Battle Creek; Fred Shaver, East Lansing, and Richard Smith, Buchanan.

The social season began with the Social Chairmanship in the capable hands of Brother Bill Wilson. The Chapter was treated to a round of fine parties highlighted by the Homecoming Weekend buffet and the visit of numerous alumni.

Brother Wilson also led the Epsilon Nu to a fine football season. We lost only one game, that being to the eventual finalist. The bowling squad, headed by Brother Ed Reuling, also had a good record. Don Tischbien, our Athletic Chairman, was a sterling member of both squads and the Chapter has high hopes that he will lead us to a basketball title.

The Brothers have been entertained all fall by stories brought back from the Psi Convention by our delegates and other Brothers who made the trip. The delegates from the Epsilon Nu were Frank Caravette and Dick Maher, others who made the junket to Clinton, N.Y., were: Brothers Hans Schuler, Bernie Lattner, and Stan Eigelberner.

The House has been graced recently by the return from the Armed Forces of Brothers Steve Ivkovich, Harlan Marshall, and Phil Bissaillon. We welcome the "Old Timers" back into the fold.

Our fall term officers were: Bernie Lattner, President; Frank Caravette, Vice-President; Brad Gourdie, Secretary; Norm August, Treasurer, and Stan Eigelberner, House Manager.

Under the inspired leadership of Brother Caravette, our rushing program took on a new look and the fall rush brought us many excellent pledges. They are: Todd Reuling, East Lansing; Frank Girardin, Grosse Pointe; Mike Dinan, Detroit; Malcolm Smith, Glenview, Ill.; Dick Carlson, Birmingham; Tom Smith, Grand Rapids; Bruce Gilmore, Grand Rapids; Ed Lyons, Detroit; Joe Daniels, Birmingham; Rich Mielock, Grosse Pointe; Tom Madden, Lansing; Joe Boyer, Buchanan; John Kedis, Grand Rapids; Larry Thiede, Grosse Pointe; Dick Irwin, Grand Rapids, and Mike Doyle, Birmingham.

Since the last issue of THE DIAMOND, the halls of the Epsilon Nu have been saddened by the death of Mrs. Melita Alexander, our Housemother for the past nine years.

Our annual Christmas party for the underprivileged children of the Lansing area was held with Brother "Cuddy" Shaver presiding as Santa. Brother Dick Maher was chairman and the event was enjoyed both by the Brothers and the kids.

The Chapter is eagerly awaiting the start of winter term with many activities on the agenda. The new Social Chairman, Brother Ivkovich, has planned a Winter Formal, and details are being worked out now to make it a tremendous success. Our annual Ski-Weekend, also in the planning stages, is being eagerly anticipated.

Officers for winter term have been elected and they are: Phil Bissaillon, President; Dick Maher, Vice-President; Bob Labbe, Secretary; Hans Schuler, Treasurer; Al Fuhrmann, House Manager, and Steve Ivkovich, Social Chairman.

Leaving us via marriage bonds was Brother Brad Banks who was married to Miss Pat McClymont and Brother Kieth Kennedy whose bride was Miss Virginia Bradway. Their absence is greatly felt here at 810 West Grand River.

Romance is everywhere at the Epsilon Nu as rings are taking the place of Psi Upsilon pins. Engaged Brothers are: Jerry Thick to campus activities: Brother Caravette is Executive Secretary of the IFC, Pledge Reuling is Vice-President of the Freshman Class and Brother Dave Beard has been recently appointed as head of the Circulation Department of the campus newspaper.

Miss Judy Hart, Tom Evert to Miss Susan Anderson, and Dick Maher to Miss Karen Johnson.

Brother Sigurd Erikson and his wife, Carol, recently announced the birth of a baby boy whom they named Erik.

The House would like to extend an invitation to any of the Chapters to visit us any time they are in the East Lansing vicinity. Alumni are always welcome.

EPSILON OMEGA Northwestern University

DONALD J. RYDNECKI, Associate Editor

Major emphasis at the Epsilon Omega during the present time is centered on a building program. This building program was officially given the "go-ahead" last November 21, when the Psi Upsilon Club of Chicago met at the University Club for the annual Founders' Day Banquet. Called the Thomas I. Underwood Fund Raising campaign, it is designed to raise the money for a new Chapter House. We have high hopes of obtaining a new House to be ready for occupancy in the fall of 1959. Initial impetus was given the campaign when Brother Alfred H. Morton, Omicron '19, President of the National Alumni Association and guest speaker at the banquet, endorsed the fund-raising program.

This past quarter saw our Chapter take second place in Intramural football, losing the league championship in a thrilling 6-0 game. The decisive touchdown was scored by Zeta Psi early in the game and despite Psi Upsilon's gallant defense and brilliant passing attempts, we were unable to meet the opposition. The up-and-coming basketball season promises to be even more successful than football, with most of last year's squad returning.

Scholarship, meanwhile is continuing to rise at the Epsilon Omega. The Chapter vaulted from a dismal 27th out of 28th ranking among the fraternities for 1955-56 to a rollicking 5th place last Spring Quarter and an overall 7th place for the year 1956-57. Despite a heavy social calendar in the past quarter, it appears as if the scholastic average will maintain its high ranking.

The Chapter is under the guidance of an-

THETA EPSILON University of Southern California

LARRY KIRKPATRICK, Associate Editor

This year finds the Theta Epsilon confronted by disappointing obstacles. The Chapter was placed on social and rushing probation, due to the perpetual University ban on campus drinking, until February of 1958; consequently we have no fall semester pledges, and any organized party life is severely restricted. The Brothers in the House have, nevertheless, retained a high spirit, and eagerly await their delivery from social bondage.

Brother Charles Patterson, a senior in the School of Commerce, was elected fall semester President. Other new officers are: Shannon Trower, Vice-President; Bruce MacCaul, Treasurer; Larry Kirkpatrick, Corresponding Secretary; Richard Grippi, Recording Secretary, and Tom Rubbert, House Manager. Brother Rubbert has proved himself a tyrant in regard to House improvement projects, but the results have been gratifying. Also, Brother Jack Bradshaw accepted the challenging position of spring Rushing Chairman.

Last summer we lost four Brothers to the Army: Roger Sherman, who had graduated with a marketing major, Dick Clark, Dale Hull, and Clark Wescott. The latter three will rejoin us in February. Four other Brothers joined the ranks of married men: Richard O'Melveny, Fleet Nuttall, Mike Allison, and Tony Francis.

The Theta Epsilon earned its best record in many years by scholastically ranking fifth out of 33 fraternities on campus, with a 2.49 grade average.

Brother Karl Schwerdtfeger, senior architecture student, gained city-wide fame when the pictorial section of the Los Angeles Examiner featured the 1700-square-foot contemporary home he had designed for his parents. Due to this recognition, Karl has received many direct compliments from leading Southern California architects. In addition to this, Karl won a $495 scholarship last year for his work on the ultra-modern Geodesic Dome.

Activity wise, four Brothers have made their mark: Bruce Blinn was elected SC yell king, Jack Bradshaw and Gene Brooks were elected to Trojan Squires, an honorary service organization, and Shannon Trower found himself on the Junior Class Council.

Brother O. D. Keep, Delta Delta '25, editor of Fortnight magazine, has proved most generous in initiating a positive building fund for the Theta Epsilon Chapter. He is selling preferred stock of Fortnight magazine to the active Chapters and alumni associations of Psi Upsilon. For each share bought, he will contribute a corresponding number of shares to the Theta Epsilon Building Fund. The success of this financial plan might well prove to be what is needed for us to evacuate our rustic dwelling on 2636 Portland Street and procure a more suitable building.

N.Y. 1957 Founders' Day Speech

Our heritage has been vastly enriched by the solid precepts laid down by our founding members and cleaved to by their successors. Precepts which stress loyalty and integrity in our relations with each other. Principles which emphasize loyalty to country and to college—as well as devotion to Psi Upsilon—and in that order of importance.

It behooves us all to clearly recognize and actively practice the essential qualities and fundamental virtues which made this country great—courage—self-reliance—a willingness to dare and to experiment—the exercise of individual initiative in seizing the unlimited opportunities which exist on every hand—supreme confidence in an ability to overcome all obstacles—an all abiding faith in the future and in moral and spiritual values—a willingness to accept responsibility. Of these ingredients are leaders made. There reposes in every Psi U a potential for leadership. This potential must be nurtured and developed in every way possible that we may provide our share of leadership so gravely needed. More so now than ever before. Of these qualities and by these efforts will come the leaders of tomorrow.

There must be active participation in the interests and activities of the college, of the chapter and of the community. By so doing and by reflecting great credit upon them all the seeds of these important characteristics will take root and grow strong and fine.

When we become concerned about our responsibility to our chapter and to our fraternity—to our college—to communities—to the nation we cherish—and to the ideals we revere and stand for—then we will begin to achieve the unity which is our goal.
