Epsilon Phi Chapter

(Editor's Note. The Epsilon Phi will sponsor the 128th Convention of Psi Upsilon. The following history of the Chapter is taken from the Annals of Psi Upsilon 1941. The Editor wrote the story of the Chapters. His story of the Epsilon Phi was based upon "An Informal History of the Epsilon Phi," by T. Miles Gordon '27, with suggestions by Henry P. Douglas, Chi '94.)

McGill University, Montreal, Quebec, founded in 1821, became on March 17, 1928, the home of the Epsilon Phi Chapter of Psi Upsilon, the twenty-eighth in the history of our Fraternity.

The first attempt to obtain a charter for McGill was in 1900. Early in that year a movement for Psi Upsilon was originated. In the Archives of the Fraternity is a petition in the spring of 1901 by a local society called Alpha Phi for a charter of Psi Upsilon. This was strongly endorsed by men prominent in the life of Canada such as Sir Wilfrid Laurier, K.C., M.G., Prime Minister of Canada, the Principal of McGill, members of the faculty, and by members of our Fraternity, including Thomas C. Brainerd, Beta '59, Charles Lyman, Beta '71, Walter Meigs, Beta '98, Henry D. Lawrence, Zeta '73, Cranswick Jost, Xi '62, Goldwin Smith, Chi '45 and W. Whitman Bailey, Sigma '64. The latter wrote:

Let us seek as we have ever sought, the best, but let us not, as we have sometimes done, refuse the best when they come knocking, I repeat, that my hope is that our Fraternity will accept this rare opportunity to establish a chapter at McGill.

This petition was, however, declined by the 1901 Convention in Philadelphia, on the grounds that extension to Canada was not then desirable. For a time no further steps were taken.

On the evening of Monday, November 14, 1904, three McGill undergraduates met at the home of Charles W. Davis '07, 45 McKay Street, Montreal, and founded the Epsilon Phi Fraternity. In the spring of that year F. Montague A. Stafford '07, had proposed to Gordon S. Mundie '06, the formulation of a new fraternity at McGill. There were already seven Greek Letter Societies on the campus (Zeta Psi, Alpha Delta Phi, Delta Upsilon, Kappa Alpha, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Theta Delta Chi, and Phi Delta Theta), but these two students agreed that the existing fraternities were losing sight of the ideals which they considered such organizations should represent and were becoming too much involved with student politics. Stafford and Mundie were convinced that there was a definite place for a new group established upon a basis of character, friendship, and service to McGill. Later Davis was asked to join them, as he was in sincere agreement with their thoughts, and together the three began choosing desirable men.

During the summer Stafford and Davis pledged Dr. Howard L. Bronson of Yale, Ernest W. Sheldon '04, gold medalist in mathematics, John James Ower '05, Ezra B. Rider '07, and George Shanks '04. With this nucleus assured for the opening of the 1904-05 college term, the original three felt that they could proceed with definite organization.

Mundie was appointed temporary chairman and Davis temporary secretary of the meeting on November 14. The proposed constitution having been read and adopted declared the purposes of the Fraternity to be: to promote real and helpful friendships among its members; to strengthen the individual characters of its members; and to exert a strong moral and rational influence on McGill college life. Davis initiated Mundie, who in turn initiated Stafford and Davis.

A second meeting was held one week later when John Ower, J. Allan Stevenson and Ezra B. Rider were admitted to membership; and on November 28, George Shanks, Dr. Howard L. Bronson and Ernest W. Sheldon were initiated, the last two as honorary members.

The renting and furnishing of a house could not be considered, so two furnished flats at 64 McGill College Avenue were secured. Here the Fraternity's first Annual meeting was held with Gordon Mundie in the chair, and with the membership of sixteen (two of these were honorary members and six pledges).

For the next term 1905-06, the Fraternity rented a furnished house at 86 Union Avenue and under the presidency of Ezra Rider devoted much attention to the creation of a ritual, and pondered the question of affiliation with an international fraternity. This possibility was discussed with men from other colleges; and a trip was made to New Haven to interview the members of a Yale fraternity. Finally, however, it was decided to remain local; and this decision was not altered until contact was made with Psi Upsilon twenty years later.

The third year of its existence saw the Fraternity located at its third address—5 Shuter Street—and the next year saw still another move—to 70 McGill College Avenue; but this time the members decided to have their own furniture. For this purpose a loan was floated, the members responding in a most encouraging manner, some at considerable sacrifice to themselves.

In the spring of 1908 there was a definite indication that the organization was becoming firmly established at McGill and was making steady progress. A house at 150 Durocher Street was leased for a term of three years. By this time also, dining room arrangements had been placed on a satisfactory basis.

Finances were, of course, always a problem—partly because the average active membership was small, and the alumni, though intensely loyal, were few in number. From the beginning the ideal had been to have a small body of men closely united, and the utmost caution was observed in picking new members. By careful selection, the Fraternity was strengthened during its early years by members of character who put its aims and ideals into concrete form. They played a part in McGill life out of all proportion to their numbers. Members of Epsilon Phi were on the Students' Council, on class and club executives and editorial boards, in the McGill Y.M.C.A. teams. Murray Brooks '07 was chairman of the committee which created the McGill Students' Council; Stuart Ramsey '08, was one of the first presidents of that Council; both Mundie and Davis were presidents of their classes in their senior years, as were Shanks and George Wilson. In its first ten years the Fraternity had two Rhodes Scholars—Harry T. Logan '08, and Frank Hawkins '08. The group too won many "Big M's." Among its team captains were Stuart Ramsey '08, senior hockey; Dan Gillmore '09, twice leader of senior football; Spurgeon McKenzie '14, senior track; while the feats of Eric Billington '12, upon the gridiron have become part of the athletic tradition of McGill.

There was a decided medical tinge to the pre-war group, many members having distinguished records in medicine.

Though engaged in such diversified activities, the members continued to maintain a strong and close association in their own brotherhood. This, however, was never permitted to become an organization for the advancement to campus office. An old rule of Epsilon Phi that no brother should nominate another to any position on an undergraduate club or team, nor engage in electioneering on his behalf, prevails to this day.

An important step in the development of the Fraternity was taken on April 17, 1909, with the formation of an Alumni Association, which immediately began to raise, through a bond issue, money to reduce the Fraternity's debt. The chairman of the Association's first executive committee was Russell Patterson '08. At their first annual meeting, in May 1910, the Alumni elected as their president, Alex Lindsay '09, who during the 1913-14 term became the Association's treasurer. In the story of Epsilon Phi he is typical of those hard-working, conscientious and unassuming Brothers, upon whose unceasing labors the true strength of a Fraternity is founded.

During the 1911-12 term, the first Epsilon Phi Bulletin was issued by the Alumni. It contained a directory of members and a resume of college and Fraternity activities for the year. Similar bulletins have been issued in succeeding sessions.

Meanwhile the Alumni were aiding the Chapter in its housing and furnishing problems. The final pre-war change of residence was made in 1912—from Durocher Street to 196 Milton Street, on which a two-year lease was secured. Thus during the first ten years of its existence the Fraternity had six homes.

The declaration of War again Germany almost immediately had its effect upon the Fraternity. Throughout the fall term of 1914 the Chapter, on account of enlistments, was steadily decreasing in numbers. The first Epsilon Phi undergraduate to join the colors was Bill Lighthall who sailed as a Royal Canadian Dragoon with the 1st Contingent. Obtaining a commission, he went with the 3d Dorsets to India, Mesopotamia and Macedonia; then joining the Royal Flying Corps, he served in Egypt and Palestine where he won the Distinguished Flying Cross. He was soon followed by Brothers Bearisto and McCaghey. Then Struthers Busby, Spurgeon McKenzie and Wendell McKenzie joined the 6th Field Ambulance; Forbes the 1st McGill Overseas Company; Buchanan and Desbrisay the Engineers.

As graduates turned to a greater service, alumni support necessarily lessened. The alumni president, Stuart Ramsay, resigned in October upon obtaining his commission in the C.A.M.C., he and Shanks sailing with the 1st Canadian General Hospital, to which John Ower was also attached. Billington came East to join the last Universities Company of the Patricias, later receiving a commission in the Royal Engineers. Bill Common '12 sailed with the 1st Contingent as a Corporal of the 14th Royal Montreal Regiment. While serving with them at the front he was captured, and spent three years as a prisoner of war in Germany. Morgan Johnston '15 gained a commission in the artillery. The record of enlistments continued until three-quarters of the Fraternity's membership had entered the service. Grant Lohead '11, doing postgraduate work at Leipzig, had been interned for the duration of the War.

As Epsilon Phi faced the 1915-16 session, steadily decreasing numbers and the uncertainties of the situation led to the relinquishment of the residence at 196 Milton. Furniture was stored for the summer, but in September, after much discussion and consultations with the Alumni still in town, it was decided to obtain a new, but smaller, house. The Fraternity, accordingly, moved to 186 Mance Street.

Then in France, on February 9, 1916, came the first break in a brotherhood which had reached eighty-three members, when Private Archie McLeon '15, of the 24th Battalion, Victoria Rifles of Canada, who had been wounded the previous autumn, was killed in action.

The following August, E. M. Desbrisay '15 made the supreme sacrifice when his plane went down in flames behind the enemy lines.

In the fighting around Ypres, that year Gunner W. P. B. Bearisto '17, of the 21st Canadian Field Artillery, was severely wounded; he died on October 18.

Stuart Forbes '11, then a lieutenant in the Patricias, who had won his commission in the field and gained fame for his invention of a machine gun sight, was wounded that summer—in Lovers' Walk, Sanctuary Wood, where he commanded brigade machine guns and won the Military Cross. This decoration for bravery under fire was also won, in November, by Fred Tees, Captain in the Medical Corps.

Meanwhile at home the Fraternity was carrying on, in spite of steadily increasing difficulties. Rolf Struthers '16, who had returned from the front to finish his medical course before rejoining the army and sailing with the expeditionary force to Siberia, served as president during the fall of 1916. At last it became impossible to maintain a house. Arrangements were made for the relinquishment of the Mance Street residence and the indefinite storage of the furniture. This was the main subject of discussion at the 204th regular meeting of the Fraternity, held on April 21, 1917, with Lionel Oliver '17, presiding. It was the fall of 1919 before the 205th meeting was held; and by then Lionel Oliver's name was on Epsilon Phi's Roll of Honor.

During the assault on Vimy Ridge, May 9, 1917, Lieutenant Spurgeon McKenzie '14, 1st Brigade, Canadian Field Artillery, was killed in action.

In the summer of 1918 Gunner Oliver of the 10th Siege Battery was wounded by shell fire on the road at Vreley. During the ride through the night in the ambulance to the base hospital he tried to cheer his wounded companions and led them in singing "Tipperary"; but when they reached the hospital at dawn on August 22, he was dead.

A month later, on September 21, Lieutenant "Abbie" Shanks '08, 108th Squadron, Royal Air Force, was killed.

Then in London after the Armistice, Lieutenant Cuyler McKenzie '17, 11th Battery, C.G.A., who had been gassed at Armentieres, died of influenza.

During the war Epsilon Phi was represented in almost every branch of the service, and many of the members were singled out for special distinction. Norman McCaghey '12, rose to the command of the 52nd Battalion, New Ontario Regiment, which he had joined as a Lieutenant. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Order (with Bar) as well as the Military Cross. Other winners of the Military Cross were Major Jim Wood '14 of the Engineers; Harry Logan '08, who had gone overseas as a Lieutenant with the 72nd Canadian Seaforths and became a Major in the Machine Gun Corps; Douglas Hyndman '17, a Lieutenant in the R.C.H.A.; and Austin Loy, who was initiated into the Fraternity after the War.

McGill had struggled through the War period with a depleted staff and with a minimum of students; but by the fall of 1919 the campus began to assume its normal appearance, though a new type of undergraduate was now predominant, the returned soldier. Fighting men transformed themselves once more into students, soon to be enrolled again under their old war-time commander, General Sir Arthur Currie, who, in the spring of 1920, was appointed Principal.

In re-establishing themselves, the McGill fraternities underwent struggles similar to those which accompanied their first formation at the University. Epsilon Phi, with a comparatively small alumni body, had a more difficult time than most. A house was rented at 202 Milton Street, and those members who were continuing their college courses renewed their Chapter affiliations. Eight brothers answered the first post-war roll call on October 17, 1919: Doug Hyndman '17, president; Ken Ramsay '20, Tom Wheeler '18, Howard Dawson '18, Stuart Plance '16, W. W. Fowler '19, J. O. Fraser '19, and Bill Lighthall '16.

They faced a critical period. Indeed at times the continued existence of the group seemed doubtful. The unsettled conditions made it impossible to establish immediately a system of regular meetings, and rushing could not be effectively organized. But gradually the little band made progress, aided by the three founders.

A close connection with war-time service lasted long in the Fraternity. Seven presidents during the first six post-war years were veterans: Hyndman, Lighthall, Amaron, Duncan, Mitchell, Eager and Wells. For some time the majority of the undergraduate leaders at McGill were old army men. Among these leaders Epsilon Phi was being increasingly represented. But the remarkable record of Errol Amaron '23 was outstanding. He was initiated in November, 1920, and served as president of the house for the 1921-22 session. He had won the Military Medal overseas and had been twice mentioned in despatches. At McGill he was twice president of the Students' Council, of his class, of the Arts Undergraduates, the Cercle Francais and the S.C.A., as well as being an intercollegiate debater. In athletics he established a record for the number of "Big M's" won, and captained track and basketball.

During his presidency the Chapter membership reached pre-war size, and the most serious phase of reconstruction was passed. Of course, difficulties still remained which had to be faced in the following years. The financial condition of the house, however, was gradually improving. New furnishings were acquired, a bond issue being floated under the direction of Eric Leslie. Two hundred and two Milton Street was the home of the Epsilon Phi for seven years.

The constant demands of the old house for maintenance and repairs taxed the efforts of a succession of hard-working house managers. Epsilon Phi men had always looked forward to the day when they could own a Fraternity house of their own. When the possibility of international affiliation arose in 1925, an active financial campaign under the direction of Monty Stafford, with the assistance of Bill Aird '17, and others raised a substantial amount. A committee consisting of Tees, Gillmore, Forbes and Lighthall, made arrangements for the purchase of the residence at 293 (now 3429) Peel Street, and the Epsilon Phi Realty Company was formed.

On the campus members were occupying positions of importance. Among them were Jamieson, president of the McGill Union; Gordon, the Editor-in-chief of the McGill Daily; Bill James, the Engineers' President; Perry, an intercollegiate tennis player; Clayton Bourne, a swimming champion; and club and class presidents. For them the spring of 1926 seemed to herald the dawn of a new era; the certainty of ownership of their own home; hopes of international affiliation. But the spring was to be darkened by the death of one of the Founders.

Gordon Mundie, who after postgraduate study at Heidelberg, Frankfort, London and Edinburgh, became a leading neurologist in Montreal and director of the Montreal Mental Hygiene Commission, had been stricken by a paralysis which increasingly incapacitated him. The cheery fortitude with which he endured his sufferings won the admiration of all who knew him and proved a source of genuine inspiration. Almost his last service was to act as comptroller of Epsilon Phi and Alumni adviser to the Active Chapter. He died April 7, 1926.

That fall, the Fraternity moved into their new, their own home.

Epsilon Phi's connection with Psi Upsilon began late in 1924, when Percy Douglas, Chi '94, had a conversation with H. F. Walker, an outstanding alumni officer of the McGill Chapter of Zeta Psi. The question of a Psi U Chapter at McGill arose, and Walker mentioned that his brother-in-law, Charles Davis, was a member of a local Fraternity which might prove worthy of consideration. Meetings between Psi U alumni residents in Montreal, Sir Henry Thornton, Tau '94, President of the Canadian National Railways; Percy Douglas, Chi '94; Louis Colwell, Pi '95; Ernest Rossiter, Rho '06; George Wendt, Pi '05; were arranged. At a meeting at the University Club on March 3, 1925, the Psi Upsilon Alumni Association of Montreal was formed, with Chief Justice and ex-President William Howard Taft, Beta '78, who was then in Montreal in connection with arbitration proceedings, as Honorary Chairman; Sir Henry Thornton as Honorary President; and Percy Douglas as Honorary Secretary-Treasurer. The purpose of this association was to sponsor Epsilon Phi's petition to Psi Upsilon, which was first presented by Charles Davis and Gib Norton at the Syracuse Convention in May 1925. The Chapter was fortunate in finding such strong supporters, and the favorable reception which the petition received owed much to the assistance of the Nu Chapter. The petition was presented again at Michigan in 1926, and at Hamilton in 1927.

Henry P. Douglas, Chi '94, writes of these Conventions:

"At last the long awaited week-end of May 7-8-9 arrived and Charles Davis, Brother George Wendt and myself journeyed down to Syracuse. Sir Henry had planned to take us down in his private car but business prevented his going at the last minute. The cordial, friendly welcome we all received at the Pi completely overwhelmed us, everyone so kind and so interested in our petition. Charles Davis and I spoke to the Chapters and our nervousness soon wore off in the warm friendly atmosphere that surrounded us. We were delighted when told our petition had been well received by the Chapters and that their vote was as favorable as could be expected. We all enjoyed our visit, in fact we shall never forget it, and returned to Montreal well pleased indeed. That summer many brothers, young and old, stopped in to look the situation over, and with some of the younger brothers we had some really amusing experiences. At the 1926 Convention with the Phi in April, we presented for the second time our petition and again we were most warmly received by everyone; Sir Henry's arrival at the last minute by special train was the occasion for a great demonstration, and his splendid speech in our favor enthusiastically received. The next Convention at the Psi I was unable to attend but the dependable Charles Davis did his usual fine job and the delegation came back full of Psi U song and spirit, and the vote for Epsilon Phi was more favorable than before."

Then on February 27, 1928, the official and welcome notice was received of ratification by all the Chapters.

On March 17, 1928, Earl D. Babst, Iota-Phi '93, assisted by Walter T. Collins, Iota '03, R. Bourke Corcoran, Omega '15, A. Avery Hallock, Xi '16, Herbert S. Houston, Omega '88, and Edward L. Stevens, Chi '99, installed the new Chapter under its old name and initiated ninety-four members.

Nearly three hundred Psi U's journeyed to Montreal for the ceremonies, all appearing in academic costume.

The Installation was followed by a luncheon at the Mount Royal Hotel, with Dan Gillmore presiding. Congratulatory telegrams by the score were received and read. Splendid presentations from various members of the Council and from various Chapters were made to the Epsilon Phi, which in turn presented a silken Union Jack to our Council, and made appropriate presentations to Percy Douglas and Charles Davis in recognition of their wonderful services. The principal of McGill University, Sir Arthur W. Currie, extended an official welcome. Addresses were delivered by Earl D. Babst, Sir Henry Thornton, who was host that evening to the gathering at a buffet supper and smoker at the Hunt Club,

Herbert S. Houston, and High Montgomery '28, engineering representative on the McGill Students' Council and President of the Chapter. Among the messages read was one from Chief Justice Taft:

"I am greatly gratified that Psi U has taken in the McGill Chapter as well as the Toronto Chapter. It will strengthen the society to have Psi U well established in both of them and will serve to strengthen a union of feeling between Canada and the United States in university atmosphere."

The Epsilon Phi thus became the second Chapter of Psi Upsilon to be placed in the great Dominion to the north. Two hundred and seventy McGill men had added to the luster of Psi Upsilon. Of these two hundred and sixty-three survive.

Albert C. Jacobs, Phi '21—Banquet Speaker

The address at the Convention Banquet will be delivered by Albert C. Jacobs, Phi '21, President Emeritus of Trinity College.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford from which institution he received three law degrees, as a Fellow and Lecturer of Oriel College he taught jurisprudence for three years at that venerable university.

Except for his service in the Navy during World War II, he was a member of the Faculty of Law at Columbia University from 1927 to 1949, serving also from 1947 to 1949 as Provost of the University under General Eisenhower.

During World War II he was a Captain in the Navy serving as the Director of the Dependents Welfare Division of the Bureau of Naval Personnel, for which he received the Legion of Merit.

From November 1, 1949 to March 9, 1953 he was Chancellor of the University of Denver. He then was President of Trinity College until his retirement June 30, 1968.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, of Phi Delta Phi, a Knight Officer in the Order of Merit of the Italian Republic, a member of the Society of the Cincinnati, he has received fifteen honorary degrees from American colleges and universities, including among others six at which there are chapters of our Fraternity: Columbia, Syracuse, Kenyon, Wesleyan, Amherst, and Trinity.

Brother Jacobs has long served Psi Upsilon. A one-time member of the Executive Council, he was from 1937 to 1939 editor of THE DIAMOND, a position to which he returned early this year. He was the author of the section on the Chapters in The Annals of Psi Upsilon published in 1941, in which he followed in the footsteps of his father Albert Poole Jacobs, Phi '73, the author of the famous The Psi Upsilon Epitome (1884).

Brother Jacobs is no stranger to the Banquet Table of our Conventions. Toastmaster at the Convention with the Tau in 1948, and again at the Pi in 1950, he gave the address at the Convention with the Epsilon in 1952, the Xi in 1953, Phi in 1956, the Eta in 1960, and Beta Beta in 1964.

A frequent speaker at the Founders Day Dinner in New York and in Detroit, he served in February of 1949 as Toastmaster at the Installation Banquet of the Epsilon Omega; and in January of 1965 he delivered the address at the Centennial of the Phi.

Psi U Looks Toward Successful '70 Convention

The Epsilon Phi Chapter cordially invites you to attend the 128th International Convention of Psi Upsilon, on September 8 through 11 at the Lake Placid Club, Lake Placid, New York. This Convention promises to be a success both in terms of meaningful legislation and the opportunities for entertainment and fraternal camaraderie which the facilities provide.

Located in the picturesque Adirondacks on the shores of Mirror Lake, the Lake Placid Club provides guests with outstanding recreational opportunities including golf, tennis, swimming, sailing, squash, and riding. The Convention site is easily accessible from the New York and Montreal areas, making it an ideal choice for the sponsorship of our McGill Chapter.

The staff of the Lake Placid Club, under the direction of Howard (Bunky) Baker, Xi '48, has spared no effort in arranging for our comfort and convenience.

The Convention program covers eight meals, three nights' accommodations, and recreational facilities. Costs are based on the American Plan: All meals and a double room for $25 per day (single room $28 per day) with additional charges of 6% sales tax and $3.50 per day gratuity.

Additional days' accommodations and additional meals are available at your own expense. All reservation requests for the Convention will be handled by the Lake Placid Club. Reservation forms are available from the president of each chapter alumni association and from the Fraternity Office.

Highlights of the gala affair include a golf tournament, regional directors' workshop, initiation of our Nu Alpha and Gamma Tau brothers, and the traditional black tie Convention Banquet.

The Epsilon Phi last sponsored the Convention in Montreal in 1961. It is appropriate that this Convention honor one of its host members, Brother Roland B. Winsor, Epsilon Phi '27. Brother Winsor has given exemplary service to both his Canadian Chapter and to the Executive Council. His son, Robert B. Winsor, Epsilon Phi '62, is toastmaster for the Convention Banquet. The banquet speaker is Brother Albert C. Jacobs, Phi '21. Dr. Jacobs is President Emeritus of Trinity College, formerly Secretary of the Annals of Psi Upsilon (1941) and member of the Executive Council, and presently the Editor of THE DIAMOND.

A large number of Psi U undergraduates and alumni have already sent their reservations. It is hoped that each chapter will be represented at the Convention. Committee assignments for accredited delegates to the legislative sessions will be made shortly. The following undergraduate delegates are representing their chapters at the Convention.

Roland Blandford Winsor, Epsilon Phi '27

Brother Winsor, a highly valued member of the Executive Council of our Fraternity, was born in Greenspond, Newfoundland, August 12, 1904. He attended the public schools in Wesleyville, Newfoundland; Mount Allison Academy and Mount Allison University before going to McGill University from which he received in 1927 the degree of Bachelor of Science. June 28, 1934 Brother Winsor married Doris Beck of Winnipeg, Manitoba. They have three children: William, Robert B., Epsilon Phi '62, and Lucy.

Brother Winsor has had a long and highly successful career with Canadian Industries, Ltd. In 1948-1950 he was production manager, Chemicals Division, and for the next two years Assistant General Manager of the Division; Chief Engineer 1953-1954; General Manager, Textile Fibres Division, 1954-1957; in 1958 he became Vice President and Director. In 1968 he was elected senior Vice President retiring in August of 1969.

His business and industrial activities have been numerous. From 1940 to 1941 he served as Construction Manager, Defense Industries, Ltd.; during 1942 and 1943 as manager of Ammunitions Works; and Manager of the Division, 1944-1945. During the year 1945-1946 he was Construction Manager, Chalk River Atomic Energy Project, Defence Industries, Ltd. In 1946-1947 Brother Winsor served as General Manager, Canadian Titanium Pigments, Ltd.

Interviewed at the time of his retirement a year ago, Contact, a publication of Canadian Industries, Ltd., notes: "Stuffed into a chair in Montreal's Boulevard Restaurant, Roland Winsor, the company's retiring senior vice president, seemed a bit uncomfortable. His large hands fumbled with an ash tray; his brown eyes raced over the menu; he seemed to vibrate nervous energy. It's hard to believe that this is a man about to retire. . . . I asked him what he was going to do after he left CIL and as he began to answer I saw that if there was any nervousness it was the fault of the setting and not the man: this is a man to be interviewed while walking across an open field or lounging on the deck of a deep sea fishing boat."

Brother Winsor commented: "I'm not worried about the much-talked-about retirement withdrawal. I'm going to see those places in the world I haven't yet seen. I like to get around and I like to fish. During the next two years I'm going to do both of these: South America, New Zealand, Africa, and lots of fishing. After that I'll consider going back to work, perhaps in CESO (Canadian Executive Service Overseas) or in a similar semi-philanthropic or some other philanthropic job."

Brother Winsor loves to travel and fish. He is keenly interested in photography. The picture shows him holding an eighty-two pound tarpon taken on very light tackle, ten pound test line, in Florida this past winter.

Roland B. Winsor, Epsilon Phi '27

For this he received a citation from the Governor of Florida. It probably will be a 1970 record.

Speaking of the future of CIL, Brother Winsor commented: "The chemical industry in Canada is going to have a pretty tough time of it. Production costs are high because the Canadian chemical markets are limited in size and our climate doesn't make things any easier with respect to capital and operating costs. The answer lies in diversification. CIL is starting to get into wider fields and will continue to do so for growth."

The Contact article concluded: "Winsor butted his cigarette—the sixth he had smoked during lunch—then rushed off to meet his wife at his summer home in the Laurentians. At 65, he did indeed rush; everything about him was vitality, characteristic of that durable breed who have built companies and nations—the kind of man who won't stop just because he has been handed his retirement papers."

Henry B. Poor, Gamma '39

Brother Poor is one of our Fraternity's most illustrious sons, of whom Psi Upsilon is extremely proud.

A native of Passaic, New Jersey, where he was born December 31, 1917, Brother Poor obtained his elementary education at the Passaic Collegiate School. The first three of his high school years were spent in the Montclair Public Schools, his last at Deerfield Academy in beautiful and historic Deerfield. In 1935 he graduated from Deerfield Academy.

At Deerfield Brother Poor was extremely active. He was a member of the cum laude Society, secretary of the Senior Debating Council, on the newspaper editorial staff, a member of the orchestra and band, as well as playing varsity tennis, junior football and junior basketball.

Brother Poor graduated cum laude from Amherst in 1939, majoring in economics. At Amherst he was president of the Student Council, President Scarab, Senior Honorary Society, President of the Gamma Chapter, Vice President and Treasurer of the Christian Association, Manager of the Glee Club as well as Captain of varsity squash, freshman soccer and tennis.

Following his graduation from Amherst, Brother Poor spent a year with the Bankers Trust Company in New York, where he received executive training in successive operational departments.

He then returned to Deerfield Academy where he spent eleven years from 1940-51. He there received excellent training under Dr. Frank L. Boyden, one of the great headmasters of all time.

For the first six years at Deerfield he served as an administrative assistant, instructor and coach. Among his other responsibilities he taught mathematics, primarily algebra and plane geometry, and coached varsity tennis and squash as well as junior football and soccer.

During his final five years at Deerfield Brother Poor was Assistant to the Headmaster, Dr. Frank L. Boyden. In this post he had broad administrative responsibilities which included major counseling with students, disciplinary control, parent relationships, school correspondence, coordinating special occasions, and long-range planning. He continued athletic coaching as well as dining hall and dormitory responsibilities.

In 1951 Brother Poor left Deerfield to become Headmaster of the Fountain Valley School in beautiful Colorado Springs, Colorado. It was there that the Editor was privileged first to know him, as he was at the time Chancellor of the University of Denver. Brother Poor held this post for seven years from 1951 to 1958. At Fountain Valley School he had full administration responsibilities: admissions, student counseling, college guidance, faculty appointments, trustee membership, finances, parent relationships, public relations, alumni activity, fund raising, staff direction, and physical maintenance. He taught public speaking to all classes, as well as coaching varsity tennis and squash.

From 1958-1960 Brother Poor returned to his Alma Mater as Executive Secretary, Committee on Endowment. There he was responsible for establishing and organizing the office for long-range attraction of endowment funds.

In 1960 Brother Poor became Headmaster of Montclair Academy in Montclair, New Jersey, a post he held until 1966. While there he was also in supervisory charge of the director of Brookside School, an elementary counterpart in a separate campus.

At Montclair he introduced a number of innovations in the curriculum such as basic linguistics and minor course enrichment. He oversaw revision of the language, mathematics and science departments. He appointed and indoctrinated an able, young and expanded staff whose salary levels were increased materially while at Montclair. The student body increased from 184 to 310, with greater selectivity based on progressively higher standards. In regard to finances he changed a deficit operation to one which provided a surplus. He participated to a major degree in raising more than $2,300,000, planning new facilities, and constructing the first four units of a six-building complex.

Since 1967 Brother Poor has been Director of Alumni and Public Relations at the Episcopal Academy, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. In this position he is responsible for alumni activities, public relations and fund raising. Under his direction the Annual Giving Program has increased eighty-two per cent.

Brother Poor has throughout his distinguished career been extremely active in civic, community, college, church and fraternity affairs. His accomplishments are far too numerous to list fully.

From 1942-1946 he was Director of Civilian Defense for Deerfield. While at Fountain Valley School he served as a trustee of the Kent School in Denver; as well as Vice President and Director of the Colorado Springs Rotary Club. He later was to be a member of the Amherst and Montclair Rotary Clubs. He has long been a devoted and active member of the Gamma Chapter as well as of Psi Upsilon. He was President, Psi Upsilon of Philadelphia, and is currently a member as well as secretary of the Executive Council.

For the past two years, he has served as General Chairman of the Independence Day Celebration at his home in Bala Cynwyd, Pennsylvania.

June 29, 1940, Brother Poor married Catherine H. Ross. They have four children: Judith H., born in 1942; Thomas M., Gamma '65, born in 1943; Sally R., born in 1947; and Joan W., born in 1948. August 1, 1967 he married Mary Ames Kellar, a teacher at the Agnes Irwin School, Rosemont, Pennsylvania.

Robert B. Winsor, Epsilon Phi '62

Robert B. Winsor, Epsilon Phi '62, is toastmaster for this year's Convention Banquet. Bob has followed in the footsteps of his father, Roland B., not only as a member of Psi Upsilon, but also as a successful businessman and an avid outdoorsman.

Born in Montreal in 1939 and educated in the public schools there, Bob received his Bachelor of Science degree from Mt. Allison University in New Brunswick and a degree in Mechanical Engineering at McGill. Brother Winsor was a member of the Canadian national champion McGill football team in 1960.

His first position was with DuPont from 1962-1964.

He became chief engineer for Napanee Industries, Ltd. of Ontario, and held that position until 1968. Bob is presently Manager of Sales Development for IEC-Holden.

Besides his active affiliation with Psi Upsilon, Brother Winsor is a Director of the McGill Society, a member of the McGill Athletics Board, and co-chairman of the McGill Touchdown Club. He enjoys fishing, skiing, golf, squash, touch football, and basketball, and joins his father as a member of the Lac La Racquette Fishing Club.

Bob resides in suburban Beaconsfield with his wife Sue, daughter Jennifer, five, and son Gregory, two.

First Convention of Psi Upsilon

The first regularly called Convention was held at the Delta October 22, 1841. The following call was published in the New York Tribune: "A Convention of delegates, from the several branches of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity, will be holden on Friday, Oct. 22nd at two o'clock p.m. in the chapel of the University of the City of New York. All members of the Fraternity are respectfully invited to attend. Clarkson N. Potter, Union College; William E. Robinson, Yale University; William P. Breed, N.Y. University; J. M. Phipps, Brown University."

Thirteen were present from the Theta (six graduates and seven undergraduates); fourteen undergraduates from the Delta; five from the Beta (one graduate and four undergraduates); and one undergraduate from the Sigma.

The presiding officer was Joseph W. Gott, Theta '37; the recorder, William H. Wilcox, Delta '43.

"The committee appointed to prepare an order of business for the consideration of the Convention, would respectfully submit the following recommendations: 1.—That measures be taken to prepare a full and complete catalogue of all the members of the Fraternity, from the foundation to the present time. 2.—That branches be established in all colleges of the country, whose reputation is such, as that such branches would add to the respectability of the whole. 3.—That it be the duty of every branch to correspond with each of the others at least twice during each term. 4.—That the Convention consider the propriety of holding an Annual Convention for the purpose of adopting such measures as shall tend to give the society more permanency, and character, and at the same time there be held an anniversary of the society with appropriate literary exercises. This report of the committee was accepted."

The Convention authorized the establishment of the Gamma at Amherst November 16, 1841. "The Convention was invited to supper by the Delta, when for two hours, we enjoyed such a 'flow of soul,' of eloquence and song, as we trust will not be soon forgotten by any one then present."

The Bowdoin College News Service

By JOSEPH D. KAMIN

Director of News Services

(Editor's Note. The Director of News Services was urgently requested to prepare a story on the operation of his office. This was done because of the splendid help which this office has been to THE DIAMOND in providing information concerning members of the Kappa.)

The Bowdoin College News Service is appreciative of the opportunities to bring news of the accomplishments of the College's undergraduates and alumni to the attention of the many thousands of readers of THE DIAMOND and other fraternity magazines. We try to take advantage of those opportunities whenever they occur and we are delighted that editors of THE DIAMOND and similar publications appear to be pleased with our effort.

Effort—that is the key word to whatever success we have had and may continue to have. It does require some extra effort to remember that fraternity magazines and their readers are always interested in the doings of their undergraduate and alumni members. And it does require some extra effort to remember that these magazines are also interested in publishing photographs of fraternity members who make news in one way or another.

Our office keeps an up-to-date card file on each undergraduate. That file includes the name of the undergraduate's fraternity. Whenever we find ourselves writing about a student we refer to his card. And when, for example, we see that the student is a member of Psi Upsilon, we automatically send a copy of that story to THE DIAMOND. To make it easier for magazine editors, we usually identify the student as "a member of Psi Upsilon Fraternity," etc.

The situation is similar when it comes to pictures. When we distribute a photo of the newly elected Captain of one of our athletic teams and that student happens to be a member of Psi Upsilon, we send THE DIAMOND a print. When we distribute a picture of a Bowdoin student who has been awarded a prestigious scholarship and the student happens to be a member of Psi Upsilon, we, of course, send along that picture to THE DIAMOND.

When we learn of an outstanding accomplishment by a Bowdoin alumnus and we distribute a news release about it, extra effort is frequently required to determine the alumnus' fraternity, if any. But that extra effort pays publicity dividends; once we know the fraternity, we know what magazine will be interested in the story and the rest is automatic.

I am personally convinced that many of my colleagues in the college public relations field are not taking full advantage of these kinds of opportunities. I would urge them to give it a try. They will find that the results will be well worth their extra effort.

Joseph D. Kamin

Alumni News

Christian P. Potholm, II, Kappa '62

The following item has been received from the Bowdoin College News Service under the date of July 9, 1970.

"President Roger Howell, Jr., of Bowdoin College today announced the appointment of Dr. Christian P. Potholm, II, of Niantic, Conn., as an Assistant Professor of Government.

"A 1962 magna cum laude Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Bowdoin, Professor Potholm is the author of the book 'Four African Political Systems,' published recently by Prentice-Hall. He has been an Assistant Professor at Vassar College from 1968 until this year and was a member of the faculty of Dartmouth College from 1966 to 1968.

"After graduating from Bowdoin he studied at the Universities of Copenhagen and Stockholm under an award from the American-Scandinavian Foundation. He then entered the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University, where he received his Master of Arts degree in 1964, his Master of Arts in Law and Diplomacy degree the following year, and his Ph.D. in 1967. He held a Fletcher full tuition scholarship in 1964-65 and a Shell Fellowship for foreign research in 1965-66, when he studied in Swaziland. He was also a Woodrow Wilson Fellow.

"Professor Potholm's fields of major academic interest are SubSaharan Africa, Developmental Politics, International Relations and The Intelligence Subculture. He has made extensive speaking tours on these and other topics.

"Dr. Potholm is the author of two books to be published later this year and next year. They are 'Political Systems of SubSaharan Africa' and 'Southern Africa in Perspective,' of which he is the editor. He is currently conducting research for another book, 'Nation Building in Swaziland.' He is also the author of numerous articles published in professional journals and has delivered several scholarly papers.

"A Consultant to Prentice-Hall, Inc., Publishers, and to W. C. Heath, Publishers, Dr. Potholm is a member of the American Association of University Professors, American Political Science Association, New England Political Science Association, New York State Political Science Association and African Studies Association.

"An undergraduate History major at Bowdoin, he was one of four seniors selected to deliver Commencement speeches, and was a straight 'A' student and a James Bowdoin and Travelli Scholar. A two-year letterman in soccer, he is a member of Psi Upsilon Fraternity.

"A native of Hartford, Conn., Professor Potholm prepared for college at New London (Conn.) High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Potholm of Giants Neck, Niantic. He is married to the former Sandra Claire Quinlan of Bloomfield, Conn., and they have a one-year-old son, Erik Dodds."

Philip G. Clifford, Kappa '03

Brother Clifford has retired as an active member of the Bowdoin College Board of Overseers and has been elected to Emeritus standing. President Rogers Howell, Jr., noted his "extraordinarily able service to Bowdoin over many years," and expressed his gratitude for all he had done for Bowdoin.

Brother Clifford's 55 years of membership on the Board of Overseers is the second longest record of service on the Governing Boards in the entire history of Maine's oldest institution of higher learning. It is exceeded only by the 63-year record established by Dr. Isaac Lincoln, who was an Overseer from 1805 to 1868.

A widely known Portland lawyer and a native of that city, Mr. Clifford is a summa cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa member of Bowdoin's Class of 1903. He served as Vice President of the Board of Overseers and as President from 1953 to 1957.

Miner D. Crary, Jr., Gamma '42

Brother Crary has recently been elected President of the Gamma Chapter Corporation.

Born in Warren, Pennsylvania, September 8, 1920, he did his preparatory work at Deerfield Academy. Graduating from Amherst in 1942, serving as a Lieutenant in the United States Naval Reserve 1943-1946, he received his LL.B. from Harvard in 1948.

An attorney, Brother Crary is a partner in the firm of Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle of New York City. He is a member of the City Court Committee and the Trusts and Estates Committee of the Association of the Bar, New York City.

From 1961-1968 he served as a member of the executive committee of the Amherst Alumni Council. He was president of the Board of Education Central School District 2, Huntington, New York, in 1961 and 1962; as well as a trustee of the American University in Cairo.

Brother Crary has recently been elected Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Heckscher Museum, Huntington.

January 23, 1943 he married Mary Chapman of Greenwich, Connecticut. They have five children: Edith Ingham, James George, Laura Margaret, Harriet S., and Miner A.

Gerald E. Bouchaux, Pi '61

The following item has been received from USAF Home Town News Center, Tinker Air Force Base, Oklahoma.

"HONOLULU—U.S. Air Force Captain Gerald E. Bouchaux, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Bouchaux of Hancock, N.Y., has arrived for duty at Hickam AFB, Hawaii.

"Captain Bouchaux is an air operations officer with a unit of the Military Airlift Command which provides global airlift for U.S. military forces.

"The captain, who previously served at McChord AFB, Wash., is a 1957 graduate of Hancock Central High School. He received his B.A. degree in 1961 from Syracuse (N.Y.) University and was commissioned there through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program. He is a member of Psi Upsilon.

"His wife, Ann, is the daughter of Major General W. D. Graham of 420 Poipu Drive, Honolulu."

Raymond K. Dykema, Phi '11

Brother Dykema received the 1969 outstanding Achievement Award from the University of Michigan. A senior partner in the law firm of Dykema, Wheat, Spencer, Goodnow and Trigg, he is an honorary member of the Board of Directors of the Detroit Music Settlement School, a trustee of Hutzel Hospital of Detroit and creator of the Raymond K. Dykema Scholarship Fund at the School of Law of The University of Michigan. Brother Dykema has long been one of the leading members of the bar.

James Shearer, II, Phi '08

A year ago The University of Michigan's Engineering College's Distinguished Alumnus Award went to Brother Shearer for fifty years of loyal, dedicated and constructive service to his Alma Mater.

Now retired Brother Shearer is on the Board of Governors of the Clements Library Association. In the autumn of 1969 he received a certificate of appreciation from the Clements Library Association for significant contributions to benefit its historical scholarship.

In 1967 he was a recipient of the Sesquicentennial Award from his Alma Mater.

William R. Robie, Epsilon Omega '65

The Owlet of the Epsilon Omega Chapter contained the following note:

"Epsilon Omega Corporation Board Member Bill Robie, EO '65, has a new mailing address. Bill, who is also Psi U's Regional Director, has been inducted into the Army. His address: Pvt. William R. Robie, 341-38-0749, 'C' Company, 3rd Bn., 2nd Brigade, Platoon 4, Fort Lewis, Washington 98433.

"Bill's loss will be felt both by the Undergraduate Chapter, and the Psi U National Fraternity organization."

Brother Robie is a member of the Executive Council of Psi Upsilon.

Dow Beekman, Theta '84

(Editor's Note. In sorting I came across the following letter from Brother Dow Beekman, Theta '84, written October 11, 1940.)

My dear Brother:

I write "Brother," for I do not believe a son of Albert P. Jacobs could be other than a Psi Upsilon. As a veteran of 78 years, I strive to obtain pleasure in my old age by thinking of dear friends I knew when life was full of joy. As I keep up my affiliations with the Theta "Mother Chapter," I often recall my companionship with "Albert," and I wondered if he was still living for if such was the case I wanted again to get in association with him.

Therefore on the 3rd of this month I wrote to the University of Michigan asking if he was living, and if not, who were his sons or daughters. Accordingly I received a courteous reply written by Shirley W. Smith, Vice President and Secretary, informing me of your address and stating that you are a Professor of Law at Columbia and I congratulate you upon your distinction and I rejoice that the congeniality of tastes between your beloved father and me is transmitted down the line as in 1886 I became a member of the Bar of New York State, and in 1889 became District Attorney of my County and in 1912 began Service as County Judge and Surrogate of my Schoharie County, and served for three terms of six years each, the last time elected unanimously, the Democratic, Republican and Prohibition parties having all put my name on their tickets. For the last seven years of my service I was also Judge of the Children's Court in my county. When I became 70 years old according to the laws of New York I was compelled to retire and resume private practice. For 8 years I have been President of the Schoharie County Bar Association.

I would like to hear from you as to your career and also please write me how your father passed his time from 1883 to the time of his passing. Prior to 1883 we were in communication partly when he came East and partly by frequent correspondence. With Brother Harry C. Wood, Class of 1883 of the Theta, I founded or "resurrected" the Psi Upsilon DIAMOND under the auspices of the Theta, and in 1884 was the Editor-in-Chief. That brought your father and me in close association and I read the proof of parts of the "Psi Upsilon Epitome"—the best and most extensive and authentic piece of Psi Upsilon literature ever published before or since.

You will find my name in the book. I was a member of the Executive Committee of arrangements in charge of the 50th Anniversary of the Fraternity held with the Theta in 1883 and I am the only surviving member of that Committee—Truly the old adage must be true that “the good die young.”

I worshiped your father as the greatest and most loyal and most devoted member of our Fraternity. He had the spirit of a “Crusader.” He did great work on the Psi Upsilon General Catalogue and in the Book “Greek Letter Societies.”

My son, Douw F. Beekman, is a member of the Theta Class of 1921 and lives in Schenectady. Thus I keep in touch with the Theta and attend many of their meetings. The Theta is doing well and has a beautiful new Chapter House. I wish you could see it. If you are ever in Schenectady please let me know so that I can join you and we will have a delightful visit—for me.

I could go on dictating a letter almost as voluminous as Blackstone’s Commentaries, as my memory goes back to those “Glorious days of youth”; but will now suspend until I hear from you.

P.S. You must have been named in part for your father and in part for your “Uncle Charles.”

Robert M. Hearn, Upsilon '64

Brother Hearn has written recently: “I’m a former recipient of a Psi U grant (and a couple of loans), presently an NDFL Fellow at the University of Hawaii Summer School, studying Thai language; and a Fulbright Scholar to Thailand, where I’ll study the Northern dialect at Chiangmai University, Chiang Mai, Thailand, Thailand’s first matriculated regular student of non-Asian background.”

Gamma Chapter Corporation

Brother John P. Grant, Gamma '28, wrote July 6, 1970: “at the June 7, 1970, meeting of the Gamma Chapter Corporation, my resignation as president was accepted; and Miner D. Crary, Gamma '42, was elected to succeed me. He is a partner in the firm of Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle, whose address is 100 Wall Street, New York, N.Y. 10005.

“Miner has been Clerk (Secretary) of the corporation; and he was succeeded in that post by Charles P. Esty, Gamma '56, who is associated with the Aetna Life and Casualty, 151 Farmington, Hartford, Connecticut 06115.”

Donald S. Smith, Jr., Xi '39

At the recent Annual Meeting of the Xi Corporation, Brother Donald S. Smith, Jr., Xi '39, was elected President of the Xi Corporation to succeed Brother Frederick A. Rager, Jr., Xi '48.

Assistant Editors of The Diamond

July 9, 1970 I wrote the following letter to the Presidents of our several Alumni Associations:

“To make THE DIAMOND of Psi Upsilon the Fraternity magazine which it should be, it is necessary that we receive much more information concerning Psi U’s. Since taking over the editorship of THE DIAMOND a few months ago, I have been deeply disappointed in the lack of information submitted to our office.

“To correct this situation, I hope very much that you will designate an alumnus of your chapter who could be used as part of the editorial staff of THE DIAMOND and who would be responsible for providing the data we so urgently need. After your designation I will, of course, write to the person designated and outline the nature of the duties we hope he will perform.

“Thank you very much for your cooperation in this matter. Your help will mean much to the Fraternity.”

It is hoped sincerely that each alumni president will respond promptly to this request. The response to date has been extremely disappointing.

Undergraduate News

Dan Dever, Phi '71

(Editor's Note: I was particularly impressed with the following article in The Phi Owl for April, 1970.)

As the new president of the active chapter, it pleases me to be able to use this opportunity to communicate with the fraternity at large.

The usual separation that occurs between a member and the house upon graduation has always seemed unfortunate to me. The fraternity association provides such a unique opportunity for continuing benefit and communication between Psi U's of all ages.

Consequently, let me begin by re-issuing an invitation that has always been implicit in our fraternity; that is, to come back to the U of M and visit with us here on campus. The doors are always open and the brothers are more than eager to become acquainted, to share experiences and ideas, and to engage in mutual discovery.

ACTIVE CHAPTER

The Phi is in good condition both physically and in regards to membership. This is not to say that we face no problems, but rather that we possess such enthusiasm, ability, and devotion to surmount any obstacles that I can see before us.

With the initiation of all six of last semester's pledges, the active brotherhood now stands at 45. As the semester end nears I might normally be concerned about loss of numbers due to graduating seniors. However, with only eight of the brothers leaving us and seven new pledges, I feel we will be in fine shape next fall.

The house should easily be filled from the returning sophomores, 25 in number, the present rookies, our junior class, and the new pledges. In fact, several brothers have already made plans to move into the alumni owned apartments behind the house in anticipation of a room shortage in the house proper.

Improvements have brought the house into line with city code requirements, these changes made possible by generous alumni support. Perhaps the most appreciated project has been the repair of the living room ceiling for which all of the brothers are grateful. The good morale evidenced in the room improvement efforts of last term has continued nearly unabated and an aura of activity is continual about the house.

Intramural sports, social activities, and studies have all been reflective of the wide range of interest and diversity in the Phi. Even so, participation on campus has continued to go beyond these areas and several brothers are involved in student organizations and committees—Engineering Honors Council, Student Activities Center, honor societies, the Environmental Teach-in at Michigan. The house scholastic average has risen for the second consecutive semester, up from 2.95 to approximately 3.1 on the four point scale. This ranks well above both the all-fraternity and all-men's averages.

THE CAMPUS AND FRATERNITIES

The University of Michigan and the fraternity system here are involved in a period of dynamic change. As Bob Titley, immediate past-president, reported in the last edition of the "Owl," the college student has taken on a new outlook toward and places new demands on what he perceives as fraternity living.

We seem to face a rather unfair and unfortunate stigmatization and must reveal it for its inaccuracies. It is in response to this new challenge that fraternities, and particularly Psi U, are reaching out to the student body.

One major step in this direction is a survey study to be conducted by Psi U through the market research offices of Brother William Ducker, who volunteered the services of his company, in cooperation with the Interfraternity Council. By determining the exact depth and nature of the students' views on fraternities we should be better able to approach and communicate with potential fraternity men, men who have recently been choosing to remain outside the system.

At the Phi specifically last semester saw a complete review of our pledging program with many needed changes resulting. However, I personally do not believe that we shall stop there. A strong force for dynamic change in the fraternity exists which I feel assures our healthy continuance.

We have not ceased to evaluate ourselves and healthy atmosphere of debate and discussion continues in the house. In addition plans are being made to invite representatives from other chapters to explain and discuss their pledging programs and fraternity philosophies.

In another area of activity, open rushing is being continued and a summer rush program is in the offing. This summer program is being strongly promoted by the Interfraternity Council, and campus wide cooperation could very likely result in a new and viable system of recruitment to replace or supplement formal rush.

With a strong response from the chapter, Psi U should profit immensely from its implementation and the face-to-face contact it provides with incoming freshmen.

All considered I would say that the prospects for the future of the Phi are good. Strong action is being taken at all levels to meet and solve the problems Michigan fraternities have faced recently. We have not been alone in facing severe and sudden changes on campus. The most recent campus disturbances were unwelcome and highly unexpected by most of us.

Strangely enough, the system may even benefit from the rash of radical activism as the mass of students views senseless destruction with disfavor and dismay.

I cannot predict the course of the campus or fraternities in the immediate future, but I do know that we have too much to offer to fade easily from the scene.

William Y. Christie, Jr., Kappa '70;

Wayne C. Sanford, Kappa '70

Twelve graduating Bowdoin College seniors have achieved distinction by receiving "High Honors" in all of their courses during the second semester of the current academic year.

A new system, which went into effect at Bowdoin in 1967 and is unique among institutions of higher education in Maine, abolished the traditional A through E letter grading in favor of a new marking procedure involving only four grades: High Honors, Honors, Pass and Fail.

Wayne C. Sanford, Kappa '70, and

High Honors indicates a performance of outstanding quality, characterized where appropriate by originality in thought as well as by mastery of the subject at the level studied.

Brother Christie has been elected to membership in the Bowdoin Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Brother Sanford of El Paso, Texas, who was the student commander of Bowdoin's R.O.T.C. unit, received the Pershing-Presnell Award from Lt. Col. Ralph B. Osgood, Jr., Director of Military Science. He also won a Superior Cadet Decoration.

Brother Sanford has also been awarded Bowdoin's Noel C. Little Prize in Experimental Physics.

The prize was established in 1968 by Dr. John F. Noxon, III, of Milton, Mass., a Phi Beta Kappa member of Bowdoin's Class of 1950.

The award, presented annually to a graduating senior who has distinguished himself in experimental physics, is named in honor of Noel C. Little of Brunswick, Professor of Physics, Emeritus, and Bowdoin's Josiah Little Professor of Natural Science, Emeritus. Professor Little, former Chairman of the College's Department of Physics and Secretary of Bowdoin's Class of 1917, retired in 1966 as the senior member of the faculty after a distinguished 47-year Bowdoin teaching career.

Benjamin R. Toland, Kappa '71

Brother Toland has been appointed to one of the ten Surdna Foundation Undergraduate Research Fellowships at Bowdoin for the 1970-71 academic year.

The undergraduates, chosen on the basis of their high academic standing, will assume their fellowships in September when they begin their senior year at College.

Bowdoin's Undergraduate Research Fellowship program was begun in 1959. Under terms of the program up to ten fellowships have been awarded annually to highly qualified seniors. In 1968 the program was redesignated the Surdna Foundation Undergraduate Research Fellowship Program in recognition of support from the Surdna Foundation of Yonkers, N.Y. Participants in program are designated "Surdna Fellows."

Under the direction of a Bowdoin faculty member, each Fellow participates in a research project in which the faculty member is independently interested. The program is designed to engage the Fellow directly and responsibly in a serious attempt to extend man's knowledge in his field of interest and competence. The Fellow, as well as the supervising faculty member, is given credit for his contribution to new published material resulting from the research.

Brother Toland, a Psychology major, will study "Error and Latency Scores in Short-Term Memory," under the direction of Professor Alfred H. Fuchs, Chairman of the College's Department of Psychology. Toland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Toland of Guilford, is a graduate of Guilford Senior High School.

Thomas J. Lindblad, Kappa '70

Brother Lindblad has been awarded a graduate scholarship by Bowdoin College to study at Columbia University's School of International Affairs in a program leading to the degree of Master of International Affairs.

H. Rollin Ives, III, Kappa '70

H. Rollins Ives, III, of Portland, Maine, a graduating senior at Bowdoin College, has won the Roliston G. Woodbury Memorial Award.

Based on scholarship, leadership and extracurricular activities, the award was established in 1963 by the Textile Veterans Association of New York to honor the contributions to the textile industry by Mr. Woodbury, a nationally known credit executive and banker. The prize includes a bronze medallion and a $50 U.S. Savings Bond.

Brother Ives, son of Mrs. Howard R. Ives of Portland and the late Dr. Ives, is a graduate of Deerfield Academy. Past President of Psi Upsilon Fraternity, he is President of his Bowdoin Class, and last year was awarded the College's Franklin Delano Roosevelt Cup, presented annually to the underclassman "whose vision, humanity and courage most contribute to making Bowdoin a better College." He was a three-year letterman in soccer and baseball and received varsity letters in football and basketball. He was named to the All-Maine soccer team for three consecutive years and was also selected for the All-New England team.

A Religion major, he has been a Dean's List student and a Dormitory Proctor, one of the chief undergraduate honors at Bowdoin.

Richard D. Barr, Kappa '70

Richard D. Barr of Glen Head, N.Y. was awarded a prize for character and leadership at Bowdoin College's 165th Commencement Saturday. He was presented with the Col. William Henry Owen Premium of $55, given annually to a senior "recognized by his fellows as a humble, earnest and active Christian." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard C. Barr of Upper Brookville, Glen Head. He was a Dormitory Proctor, one of the chief undergraduate honors at Bowdoin. A three-year letterman in varsity soccer and lacrosse, he was named to last year's All-Maine soccer team.

The Owen Premium represents the income of a fund established in 1916 by Dr. Frederick Wooster

Owen in memory of his brother, Col. William Henry Owen, A.M., of Bowdoin's Class of 1851.

Frederick R. Burrage, Kappa '71

Brother Esposito of Portland, Maine and Brother Burrage of Cape Elizabeth, Maine have been awarded Brown Memorial Scholarships. The awards are given annually to the best scholar in each Bowdoin class who graduated from Portland High School after at least one year's attendance there. They are awards from a fund established in 1865 by the Honorable J. B. Brown of Portland in memory of his son, James Olcott Brown, A.M., of the class of 1856.

Miles Coverdale, Jr., Kappa '71;
Jonathan S. Piper, Kappa '72

According to a recent release from the Bowdoin College News Service:

"Eleven underclassmen at Bowdoin College achieved distinction by receiving 'High Honors' in all their courses during the recently completed second semester of the 1969-70 academic year. Bowdoin students receive one of four grades: High Honors, Honors, Pass or Fail. High Honors indicates a performance of outstanding quality, characterized where appropriate by originality in thought as well as by mastery of the subject at the level studied."

Two of the eleven are members of the Kappa: Miles Coverdale, Jr., '71 of Brookville, New York; and Jonathan S. Piper, '72, of Williamstown, Massachusetts.

The Diamond

In the Annals of Psi Upsilon R. Bourke Corcoran, Omega '15, wrote concerning THE DIAMOND.

"It seems probable that many receiving our official magazine, THE DIAMOND, believe it has always existed since 1833, and that its establishment and publication has been an easy matter.

"A study of our Archives reveals a different story, a fascinating one of struggle through the years. . . . It reveals numerous brave attempts by devoted undergraduates and alumni to found a periodical to record the achievements of Psi Upsilon. It is a story of remarkable persistence—even when interrupted by failures. Success finally was achieved. . . .

"Charles Putnam Bacon, Chi '82, then evidently a freshman, as editor and publisher—mailed out the first DIAMOND on January 25, 1878." For forty-two years it had a faltering career—cessation and revival.

"For some years by 1920, the Psi Upsilon Club of Chicago had been a vigorous group of loyal and interested alumni from nearly every chapter. It had survived the war, and its aspirations were to be a helpful factor in supporting every sound policy for the betterment of Psi Upsilon. This organization was conservative but did not believe Psi Upsilon could live on a well-earned reputation without continuing to add to that reputation. Psi Upsilon could not be static. It must be an organization of doing—not just of being. . . ."

"Early in 1920 Brother Emmett L. Murphy, Omicron '07, happened to be in New York on business and, as was his custom, he stopped in at the Psi Upsilon Club of New York where he always found many of his old friends. During this visit he attended one of the club's business meetings. He chided the group, which included several members of the then Executive Council, for not getting behind the oft expressed desire of the Fraternity that THE DIAMOND be revived. A lively debate ensued and presently Brother H. N. Carpenter, Delta '94, rejoined with the remark, 'Brother Murphy, if the Psi U. Club of Chicago is so anxious to have THE DIAMOND revived, why don't they take the responsibility and do it themselves?'

"Everyone knowing Emmett Murphy could predict his reply to such a challenge. He said, 'We will.' Immediately upon his return he called together the Board of Governors of the Psi U. Club of Chicago and by the time of the 1920 Convention a plan was completed and presented to that Convention asking for:

"1. Authority to publish THE DIAMOND officially;

"2. A guarantee by the chapters to underwrite any loss in this endeavor up to $100.00 per chapter, per year (and for this the undergraduate members were to receive a free subscription while still in college);

"3. Permission to establish a subscription rate of $1.00 per year;

"4. Ardent chapter campaign to assist in securing subscriptions from among their own alumni; . . .

"The 1920 Convention duly accepted this proposal of the Chicago Psi U. Club and passed the necessary resolutions to make such action official. Thus THE DIAMOND appeared to be revived. . . .

"Thanks to the Chicago group who undertook this big task, the revived DIAMOND appeared as Vol. VII, Number One, on schedule in November 1920, with Charles F. Grimes, Omega '16, as editor and R. Bourke Corcoran, Omega '15, as business manager, both ably assisted by a group of young alumni consisting of Wesley Behel, Omicron '17, Richard C. Berry, Xi '19, Weaver L. Marston, Tau '18, Alfred L. Roulet, Beta Beta '22, as assistant editors; Marcus L. Baxter, Rho '19, assistant business manager; Warren C. Agry, Zeta '11, advertising manager. Representing the Psi Upsilon Club of Chicago were three supervising editors: Herbert P. Zimmerman, Omega '01, Warren C. Agry, Zeta '11 and R. Bourke Corcoran, Omega '15. . . .

"The first issue of the revived DIAMOND dated November 1920 was well received. . . .

"As weeks, months and years passed, the succeeding issues appeared regularly, always improving in character and appearance. The alumni support was heartening, but to gather all the individual subscriptions and to follow them up for renewals, was a big task—but with the helpful support of the chapters, progress was maintained. . . ."

In Memoriam

Howard Elmo Green, Omega '25

With the death of Howard E. Green, Omega '25, on February 1, 1969, the Fraternity has lost a devoted and distinguished member. Brother of Jay D. Green, Omega '29, and father of Howard E. Green, Jr., Delta Delta '50, he is survived by his wife, the former Eva King, his son and two grandchildren.

"Hank" Green, as he was generally called, served many years both as a member and as chairman of the trustees for the Omega Chapter. His generous and understanding support and guidance were invaluable to the chapter during the depression years of the 1930s and World War II.

The University of Chicago was another of his chief interests. In addition to serving on the Citizens Board since 1957, Brother Green was a member for ten years of the Cabinet of the Alumni Association. After several years as a director of the Alumni Foundation, he was named Chairman in 1956 and 1957.

Howard Elmo Green, Omega '25

Brother Green was recognized nationally as a leader in his profession, mortgage banking. He retired in 1967 as Board Chairman of the Great Lakes Mortgage Corporation which has its headquarters in Chicago. During his thirty-four years with that firm, he found time to act as a director of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America and for three of those years was Treasurer of the Association. His other professional distinctions included the presidency of the Chicago Mortgage Bankers Association and membership in Lambda Alpha, international honorary fraternity of land economists.

In Chicago and the suburb of Winnetka, his civic interests covered a broad range of activity, principally in the fields of housing and planning. He was Chairman of the Winnetka Zoning Commission and Zoning Appeals Board and a member of the Winnetka Planning Commission. In his home community, he was also on the Board of the Community Chest, Chairman of the non-partisan Caucus Committee, and a Trustee of the Winnetka Congregational Church. For two years, 1957-1959, he was President of the Metropolitan Housing and Planning Council of Chicago, a non-profit, citizens group responsible for many improvements in the physical and environmental character of the Chicago area. He was also a member for several years of the Chicago Crime Commission.

Brother Green was a member of the University Club of Chicago, the Indian Hill Club, Executives' Club of Chicago, and Rotary.

Arthur Edward Wyman, Zeta '11

Brother Wyman died January 15, 1969 at the age of eighty. His was an interesting as well as varied career. For two years beginning in 1914 he directed musical shows. From 1916 to 1921 he taught mathematics in Honolulu. He then became Field Director of the American Red Cross, first in Hawaii, then in the Philippines for two years, and China for four years. Back in this country he did theatrical work for three years, followed by ten years as associate professor at the University of Hawaii, and six years of directing entertainment for the Army. Then, moving to Florida, he became a partner in a poultry farm, which was very successful until a stroke curtailed his activities, and he turned once more to coaching theatricals. When he could no longer drive his car, he was forced finally to retire.

Brother Wyman never married. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Ethel W. Stetson, of Gainesville, Florida.

Donald Crandon Miller, Phi '09

Brother Miller, who lived in Evanston, Illinois, was born March 16, 1887. He died June 7, 1970. His father, Humphreys H. C. Miller, Phi 1868, was a transfer from the Theta. His son, George H. Miller, Phi '41, is now Professor of History at Ripon College in Wisconsin.

Brother Miller was always active in the affairs of his Alma Mater. As an undergraduate, he was elected to Michigamua, the Friars and to Sphinx, and was a member of the 1909 lit baseball team. He was a member of the Clements Library Associates, as well as a life member of the Alumni Association.

On graduation he joined the Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, and retired in 1952 as a Vice President. He was a former director of the State Bank and Trust Company of Evanston.

John G. Ruggles, Delta Delta '34

Brother Ruggles of Dallas, Pennsylvania, died March 19, 1970, at the age of fifty-eight.

Born July 2, 1911 in Kingston, he attended Harry Hillman Academy and was a graduate of Wyoming Seminary in 1930. He studied at Williams College where he was a member of the Delta Delta.

Brother Ruggles was President of Ruggles Lumber Company, Luzerne, which was founded in 1890 by the Ruggles family.

He was active in numerous civic affairs: a trustee of Wyoming Seminary and past president of its Alumni Association; member of the First United Methodist Church of Kingston as well as a trustee. He was active in the Wyoming Valley Chapter, American Red Cross, serving on its board and was campaign chairman in 1950. Brother Ruggles was a director of Wyoming Valley Motor Club and a member of Westmoreland Club as well as active in the Nesbitt Memorial Hospital building fund campaign.

He was a member of Kingston Lodge 395, F&AM Caldwell Consistory, Bloomsburg, and Irem Temple; a former trustee of Wilkes-Barre Day School.

Surviving are his widow, Jane Cady, and three sons.
