New York Metropolitan Founders' Day Dinner

The annual New York Metropolitan Founders' Day Dinner was held November 13, 1973, at the Chemists' Club, 52 East 41st Street, New York City. It means a great deal to Psi Upsilon that these dinners have been revived.

Tribute to Albert C. Jacobs, Phi '21

Brother Alfred H. Morton, Omicron '19, Master of Ceremonies, the Fraternity's first Administrative Director, a former member of the Executive Council, one-time President of the Alumni Association, former Vice President of the New York Metropolitan Association, presented a beautifully lettered tribute to Brother Albert C. Jacobs, Phi '21, the fourteenth and retiring President of Council. This tribute is here set forth. It was signed by Brother Robert W. Morey, Pi '20, the fifteenth President of the Executive Council.

The Executive Council of The Psi Upsilon Fraternity pays sincere tribute to Dr. Albert Charles Jacobs, Phi 1921.

You are a distinguished representative of a family counting three generations of sons in Psi U. Editor of The Annals of Psi Upsilon updating The Epitome written by your father, Editor of THE DIAMOND of Psi Upsilon, member of the Executive Council of Psi Upsilon 1948-1950, 1953-1962, 1971 to present, Director and Secretary of the Phi Alumni Association and the Psi Upsilon Foundation, Administrative Vice President and fourteenth President of the Executive Council 1971-1973, a stellar leader during a period of campus unrest; you first displayed capacity for achievement, the hallmark of your career, by graduating with honors and a Phi Beta Kappa Key from the University of Michigan in 1921.

Rhodes Scholar from Michigan at Oxford University, Oriel College, Bachelor of Arts in Jurisprudence, First Class Honors, Bachelor of Civil Law, Master of Arts; member of Lincoln's Inn; qualified for the English Bar; Lecturer in Jurisprudence and first full-time American Fellow of an Oxford College; Columbia University Professor, Administrator, Provost and Assistant to President Dwight D. Eisenhower; President of Trinity College for over fifteen years, and now President Emeritus and Trustee Emeritus; recipient of fifteen honorary degrees; high in the Councils of the Episcopal Church; service in both World Wars; director of various business and banking corporations; you somehow have also found time to devote many hours in promoting the welfare of our beloved Fraternity.

You are esteemed and respected by generations of alumni and active Brothers and we take this occasion to recognize your many achievements. With gratitude for your devoted service to Psi U and admiration for your warm personality, we extend to you our heartfelt fraternal wishes for many more years of service to mankind.

Presented to you on November 13, 1973 in the 140th year of the Fraternity.

"Until the sands of life are run
"We'll sing to thee, Psi Upsilon."

Brother Robert W. Morey, Pi '20, the newly elected President of Council, then presented Brother Jacobs a gift from the Executive Council. It was a beautiful sterling silver cigarette box from Tiffany's on which was engraved the following inscription.

Address by Albert C. Jacobs, Phi '21

Brother Toastmaster, Brothers of the Executive Council, and Brothers and Ladies in Psi Upsilon. It is a real joy to be with you this evening.

Tonight Psi Upsilon completes seven score years of fraternal life "unmatched in song and story." As our Fraternity enters upon its fifteenth decade, I greet you from the heart. We are highly honored by your presence at this Founders' Day Dinner.

The Fraternity is deeply grateful to the Brothers who have with such great effectiveness and fraternal dedication planned and arranged this fine dinner. Among others I pay signal tribute to J. Russell McShane, Delta '32; John A. Fogarty, Jr., Tau '56; Don G. Piper, Pi '57; and George H. Rathman, Epsilon '63. Brothers, the Fraternity is deeply in your debt.

I am thrilled that these Metropolitan Founders' Day dinners have been revived. They mean much to our Fraternity. I had the honor to be the speaker at the one in 1954 and again in 1958, which celebrated Psi Upsilon's 125th anniversary.

I am happy, Brothers, that in the twilight of my career, following retirement as President of Trinity College and return to my youthful home in Ann Arbor, I was given the cherished opportunity to serve Psi Upsilon. The office of the Executive Council happily had just moved there. I was selected solely because no one else was available, I fully realize, to several important posts in our Fraternity. I mention: Editor of THE DIAMOND; chief administrative officer; chairman of the Grants Committee of The Psi Upsilon Foundation, Inc.; and later President of the Executive Council. It has been a signal honor and a rare privilege to hold these positions which have meant a very great deal to me. I have endeavored to the best of my ability effectively to execute the trust so graciously imposed in me.

All of these positions, Brothers, I have relinquished today. I am through completely with the duties previously entrusted to me. I turn them over to far more competent Brothers, and I wish them Godspeed and success.

Mine, I fully realize, has been a holding job, without the finances and the staff to do more. At my age it could be nothing else. When I took over, fraternities were at an extremely low ebb. I have tried to hold the fort. I am thrilled to note that the trend in regard to fraternities recently has been dramatically reversed.

Until March 6, 1972, I had no help in the office except for a highly competent and dedicated secretary with some occasional part-time stenographic assistance. At that time Brother Henry B. Poor, Gamma '39, was employed by the Executive Council as a salaried staff member. He has rendered extremely valuable service. A second salaried staff member authorized by the Executive Council in May has not been hired because we have not had the money to pay his salary.

New York Metropolitan Founders' Day Dinner

I am delighted also that dinners of this kind are being held with increasing frequency elsewhere.

Brothers, at this, the last time I will address a Psi Upsilon gathering—I have done so far too often in the past—perhaps you will permit me briefly to reminisce in a random way.

At the outset I say that I am extremely proud to be a Psi U; proud that I have been privileged to wear our diamond badge for two score and sixteen years. Psi Upsilon has played a significant role in my life and in that of my family.

Brothers, and I say this humbly, I think that we have made some progress in recent years.

Since early 1970 I have been Editor of THE DIAMOND, a position for which I had no training nor experience, other than that I held a similar post from 1937 to 1939. I hope sincerely that my successor as Editor will receive greater and more effective support. The Editor urgently needs news items and stories. He cannot create them himself.

I am happy to report that I have had the great privilege of installing three fine new chapters at outstanding institutions of higher learning: the Nu Alpha at Washington and Lee University, November 6, 1970; the Gamma Tau at the Georgia Institute of Technology, December 19, 1970; and the Chi Delta at Duke University, March 30, 1973. Three splendid jewels have been added to the diadem of Psi Upsilon. In spite of its age our Fraternity still has vigor and vitality. In the years ahead Psi Upsilon must with care and discernment add other chapters at first-class institutions of higher learning.

Editor's Note: The Editor is deeply indebted to Brother Donald G. Piper, Pi '57, Staff Photographer, Burlington Industries, Inc., for the pictures of the Founders' Day Dinner.

I hope further that real effort will be made to reactivate the Rho and the Epsilon Phi as well as to strengthen the Epsilon and the Nu. These are priority items.

It is indeed gratifying that during the past two years all of our undergraduate chapters have been visited officially by the President and/or the Secretary, the first time that this has occurred in some years. During 1971-1972 I personally visited seventeen chapters and in 1972-1973 nineteen. I am indeed grateful to the members of Council who kindly joined us in some of these visitations. They have been extremely important, essential as well as beneficial. I hope sincerely that they will be continued in the years ahead.

During my regime I am happy to note, because I had something to do with it, that the Constitution has been amended to provide for three undergraduate members of Council for one-year terms with voting privileges. Psi Upsilon must continue to recognize that its primary responsibility is to our undergraduate Brothers.

The Constitution has been further amended to return to annual instead of biennial conventions, as well as to continue annual Regional Conferences.

It was my privilege to preside at the 129th and the 130th Conventions held with the Phi and the Gamma respectively. The Regional Conferences have proved to be extremely valuable and must be continued.

I am happy that the Constitution of Psi Upsilon has been updated to remove obsolete parts as well as to take care of the many amendments adopted in recent years. Much credit goes to Brother William R. Robie, Epsilon Omega '66, and to his committee for this important endeavor.

I am pleased to report that on October 10, 1972, the United States Patent Office registered the badge of our Fraternity as its collective membership mark; and that on May 23, 1973, the Patent Office registered Psi Upsilon as the collective membership name of our Fraternity. For this we are deeply indebted to Brother John A. Fogarty, Jr., Tau '56, of the New York law firm of Kenyon & Kenyon, Reilly, Carr & Chapin. He has recently been elected to the Executive Council.

In the words of our beloved seventh President and a cherished friend, the late Earl D. Babst, Iota-Phi '93, serving Psi Upsilon has been "a labor of love." In the twilight of my career it has been a rare privilege to do so and to endeavor in some small way to repay the Fraternity for all that it has done for my family and for me.

Brothers, my fervent prayer is that you will get out of Psi Upsilon what it has been my cherished privilege to receive—endearing lifelong friendships and the signal opportunity to serve our most priceless possession, our youth. But the finest things in life come dearly. One must give in order to receive. Psi Upsilon will mean to you what you put into it, no more and no less.

I have many happy recollections of my long membership in Psi Upsilon. I recall my first Convention in 1920 while a junior at the Phi held with the Tau; the installation of the Nu Chapter at Toronto in 1920; the Conventions at the Tau in 1948 and at the Pi in 1950 when I was privileged to serve as Master of Ceremonies at the Banquet. It was my honor to deliver the address at the following Convention Banquets—Epsilon, 1952; Xi, 1953; Phi, 1956; Eta, 1960; Beta Beta, 1964; Epsilon Phi, 1970. I recall in 1941 writing for The Annals the history of our several chapters. I hope sincerely that someone will carry on this work, started by my father, Albert P. Jacobs, Phi 1873, author of the hallowed Psi Upsilon Epitome.

I am thrilled that the Lambda at Columbia where I served for so many years has been revived. I conducted the initiation March 28, 1973. I was deeply touched when the Beta Beta in October of 1972 made me an honorary member. This meant a great deal to me. I have what I believe is a unique distinction—the only Brother elected to the Executive Council on three different occasions. The first was in 1948 while Provost of Columbia University. I had to resign in 1950 because I had gone to Denver as Chancellor of the University and could not attend meetings. I was re-elected in 1953 after I had become President of Trinity College. I found it necessary to resign in 1962 due to the heavy pressure of college duties. I was elected once more in 1971 when I became President of the Executive Council. Incidentally, I was elected President before my reelection as a member of Council.

Effectively to carry forward its responsibilities the Executive Council must have far greater financial support. The Fraternity must have increased salaried staff. I am deeply concerned about the decline in the payment of alumni dues which are direly needed.

Furthermore, Brothers, it is imperative that the members of the Council assume increased responsibility in regard to the affairs of Psi Upsilon. We have a very small paid staff.

I hope sincerely that The Psi Upsilon Foundation, Inc., will through an active campaign add materially to its resources so that it may help more of our graduates.

Brothers, I have confidence in the future of our beloved Fraternity. I say this provided we have sufficient Brothers who care enough about Psi Upsilon to accept the responsibilities connected therewith.

At this, my swan song, I pay heartfelt tribute to those who have worked with such dedication in the Council office, to the members of Council and the other Brothers who have done so much to further Psi Upsilon. I am exceedingly grateful.

I wish my successor, my warm friend, Robert W. Morey, Pi '20, all success and Godspeed as the fifteenth President of the Executive Council. Psi Upsilon does not have a more devoted, a more dedicated Brother. I heartily congratulate the Fraternity upon his election.

"Until the sands of life are run,
"We'll sing to thee, Psi Upsilon."

*Introduction of
Robert W. Morey, Pi '20
By Jerome M. Brush, Jr.
Delta Delta '39*

We have been particularly fortunate to have had as the fourteenth President of the Executive Council of Psi Upsilon such an outstanding and well-known an educator as Brother Jacobs.

Our next President has had a distinguished business career in investment securities and banking and has been prominent in the activities of his alma mater.

Raised in Pittsburgh and graduated from the Shadyside Academy there, he went to college, where his course was briefly interrupted by a stint in the United States Navy.

Following his graduation he entered the investment securities business in Cleveland, where he became Manager of the Cleveland Office of the old Guaranty Company of New York, before the days of the SEC, when banks were all prominent in this business.

Moving to New York in 1938 with the Guaranty Trust Company, now the Morgan Guaranty Trust Company, he served as Vice President in its Banking Department until his retirement in 1963. Since then he has been a Consultant to the Witco Chemical Company.

He has served his alma mater, Syracuse University, in numerous capacities; President of both the Cleveland and New York Metropolitan alumni associations; member of the Administrative Board of Athletics; New York Metropolitan Chairman of the Building and Development Fund, National Chairman of the Annual Alumni Fund for two years. He has also served as a Trustee of the University and in 1964 was awarded the Annual Alumni Award, the highest honor which Syracuse bestows upon an alumnus.

Currently, he is Treasurer of Christ Church in his hometown of Short Hills, New Jersey, and a member of the Executive Committee of the Japan International Christian University Foundation. This is in addition to the service he renders Norwich University as a Trustee and as Chairman of its Finance Committee, which University awarded him an honorary Doctor of Laws degree in 1969.

Since his election to the Executive Council in 1967 he has served as Vice President. He has given much time and substance to promoting the improvement of our Fraternity. He has exhibited a great concern for the continuing welfare of our chapters and for the future of the Fraternity, and has done his best to head it in the direction of expansion. As its President and chief executive officer he will continue his positive and constructive efforts, and I am sure that you all, as good Psi U's, will render him whatever assistance he may require and request during his tenure of office.

Brothers, it is with the greatest of pleasure that I introduce to you the fifteenth president of the Executive Council of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity, Robert W. Morey, Pi '20.

Address of Robert W. Morey, Pi '20

Brother Toastmaster, Brother Jacobs, Brothers of the Executive Council, and Brothers of Psi Upsilon. This is the 140th year of our Fraternity. We are here tonight to pay tribute to this organization that has served us so well throughout its long existence. I'm indeed thankful to be with you and have the opportunity to tell you how much I appreciate your confidence in electing me to serve as your leader for the coming year. To the very best of my ability I will endeavor to carry on the work of my distinguished predecessors: Benjamin Burton, Chi '21; Robert W. Parsons, Xi '22; Jerome W. Brush, Jr., Delta Delta '39, and Albert C. Jacobs, Phi '21. These Brothers have brought Psi Upsilon through a most difficult period of confrontation and campus unrest. For me it will be an exacting challenge.

I have been in contact with college men and women since my daughter Louise entered Syracuse University in 1947. As an Alumni Trustee of Syracuse for six years, as Trustee of Norwich University since 1954, and a member of the Executive Council for the past six years, I have had an excellent opportunity to observe and work with college students. These young people may have been misled at times, but don't sell them short. They are extremely bright, dedicated to fair play and much better informed than many of our older Brothers were when in college. From a personal standpoint the Presidency of the Executive Council will widen my association with these splendid young citizens whom I admire and love.

Thank you again for this opportunity.

Since becoming a member of the Executive Council I have often wondered what bond in Psi Upsilon is strong enough to bring together active Brothers and alumni alike from many chapters to gatherings such as this. What ties inspire alumni Brothers to give thousands of dollars and endless time to erect and maintain beautiful chapter houses in which undergraduate Psi U's may live in comfort and, yes, in luxury? What benefits has Psi U given to alumni to persuade them to give over hundreds of thousands of dollars to the Psi Upsilon Foundation, for the purpose of helping undergraduate Psi U's to defray college expenses? Psi Upsilon was founded as our Constitution so states "To promote the highest moral, intellectual and social excellence" in its members. These goals are broad with an appeal to the very best instincts of all Brothers. However, I feel that there must be some more definite and practical characteristic of the Fraternity that fosters the love and respect we all feel toward it. The songs we sing continually refer to our lodge rooms where fellowship reigns and where Brothers feel the group support so necessary to young men.

When the evening's sable mantle,
Gemed with many a shining star,
Shuts the glory of the sunset from our sight,
We will cross the silent campus,
and together wend afar
To our bower decked in beauty ever bright.

Or

We're all birds of a feather,
We're always found together,
And naught can come to sever
Our hearts so true.

Our songs continually hint at the satisfaction our young Brothers receive from group association and its concern for the individual. Our seven founders must have had the same feeling when they jointly subscribed a formal agreement, for according to The Annals, edited by our esteemed Brother Albert C. Jacobs, the resolution grew directly out of a literary society and class contest, in which these seven had stood shoulder to shoulder until their efforts ended in victory.

In my own experience I believe that the one lasting impression of my undergraduate life in Psi Upsilon was the encouragement and the direction the chapter gave to all Brothers to develop their talents, known and unknown, by becoming involved in every aspect of campus life. To many freshmen this group concern for individuals replaces their home surroundings. The encouragement to use individual resources uncovers latent talents never known beforehand. Having experienced this group union for four years our Brothers graduate with eagerness to compete and determination to attain distinction in their chosen paths of adult life.

"Some are Pulpiteering with a fame that will endure,
Some are doin' Doctoring equipped to kill or cure;
Legal lights and Business Knights and Thespiani sure,
Bright fame and ducats araking."

In relation to this I would like to address a few words to our present active upper-class Brothers and Chapter Presidents. With this wonderful heritage, how much attention do you really give your incoming pledgemen? Have you as Chapter President ever had a conversation with one of your freshman delegation regarding his individual ambitions, talents, and resources of leadership? How many upper-class Brothers have ever encouraged a pledgee to spread his wings and enter into campus competition? Psi U's have always been doers and it is your duty to lead your undergraduate Brothers into a full college life. You will find that the results will be amazing and the whole tone of your chapter will improve. If any of our Chapter Presidents have some doubts concerning the fraternal atmosphere in their chapter they might try this antidote.

For the last twenty-five years college fraternities have been in a state of flux. Some faculty members have taken a dim view of the scholastic attainments of members of these organizations. Many students have refused to join, claiming that the Greek letter societies are undemocratic. Several fraternities have been forced to merge and even some of the oldest fraternities have had many chapters become inactive. Psi Upsilon has not come through this period unscathed. We have lost six chapters, one over 100 years old. We have been fortunate in establishing three new chapters giving the Fraternity a net loss of three. In the last several years, however, we have seen signs that the downward trend has levelled and in some places an upward trend has commenced. One practical reason for this change is the student disenchantment with high-rise dormitories where hundreds of students are assembled under one roof. Such living conditions foster human loneliness in the midst of large numbers. It has become apparent that students are placing more emphasis on living in small groups, a circumstance most compatible with Psi Upsilon traditions. I firmly believe that happier days are ahead for Psi Upsilon with its group concern for each individual. We will surprise ourselves if we all turn to with increased support for our beloved Fraternity. Let us leave our Hall tonight resolved to give our active Brothers the same stimulus we received, so that Psi Upsilon undergraduates of today will realize the advantage of group responsibility toward each Brother on his way to becoming a successful senior citizen.

"Many are her glories, noble old Fraternity,
Wide her fame and proud her name in college history,
True to all she taught us, ever loyally will we Still keep her honors amaking."

The President welcomed the new members of the Executive Council who had been elected at the 130th Convention: John A. Fogarty, Jr., Tau '56, three-year term; Charles S. P. Hodge, Gamma '68, two-year term; Wolcott A. Hokanson, Jr., Kappa '50, three-year term; Richard D. Sherwood, Upsilon '56, four-year term; Donald S. Smith, Jr., Xi '39, five-year term; Gardner H. McLean, Psi '74, Northeastern Region; Robert E. Ward, Epsilon Omega '75, Western Region.

The President welcomed the alumni and undergraduate guests introduced by the Secretary, including the Fraternity's first Administrative Director, a former member of the Executive Council, a one-time President of the Alumni Association, former Vice President of The Psi Upsilon Foundation, Inc., and former President of the New York Metropolitan Association, Brother Alfred H. Morton, Omicron '19. He was the Master of Ceremonies at the Banquet that evening. Two alumni of the Rho and one from the Theta were recognized, as well as undergraduate representatives from the Psi and Eta. During the meeting an alumnus of the Epsilon Nu and two undergraduates from the Tau joined those present.

The President gave a brief report. He noted that the expense for binding Volumes LI through LIX of THE DIAMOND so that copies would be available for each chapter could be around $600.

He thanked the members of the Executive Council for the trust imposed in him. He affirmed that as of this date he was relinquishing the various responsibilities that had been imposed in him: President of the Executive Council; Administrative Director of the Fraternity; Editor of THE DIAMOND; and Chairman of the Grants Committee of The Psi Upsilon Foundation, Inc. He expressed his warm appreciation for what the members of Council had done.

Brother Jerome W. Brush, Jr., Delta Delta '39, in the absence of Robert W. Parsons, Xi '22, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, reported. Brother A. Durston Dodge, Theta '44, a former member of the Executive Council and a one-time President of the Psi Upsilon Alumni Association of Western New York, was elected a member of Council for a term of one year, expiring with the Convention of 1974.

On the recommendation of the Nominating Committee the following officers were elected for 1973-1974: Robert W. Morey, Pi '20, President; Roland B. Winsor, Epsilon Phi '27, Vice President; John W. White, Jr., Chi '28, Vice President; Gardner A. Callanen, Jr., Psi '29, Vice President; Joseph B. Hall, Epsilon Omega '52, Vice President; Henry B. Poor, Gamma '39, Secretary; A. Durston Dodge, Theta '44, Treasurer.

Brother Morey expressed his appreciation over the confidence placed in him. He identified the two greatest challenges in the years ahead to be: (1) Balancing the operating budget of the Executive Council; and (2) Reestablishing Psi Upsilon as a national fraternity.

There was considerable discussion concerning financial consideration for West Coast Representation. This matter was finally tabled.

Following lengthy discussion, it was agreed that the President of the Executive Council and the Administrative Director be authorized to make their own selection of an Editor and Associate Editor of THE DIAMOND.

It was further agreed that the officers of the Executive Council constitute a special committee to reconsider the location of the Fraternity Office. It had been moved from New York City to Ann Arbor in early 1969.

Council voted that the Psi Upsilon Fellowship program be launched immediately and that all other resolutions adopted at the 130th Convention be implemented without delay.

Council voted to reinstall the Psi Upsilon Award for Academic Excellence; that for 1972-1973 the silver trophy be awarded to the Chi Delta Chapter and that it be retained for the balance of the current academic year; and further that the Gamma, Mu, and Epsilon Omega be commended for academic distinction.

The Secretary reported that six chapters had paid $2,490 in assessments outstanding subsequent to the report of October 1, 1973. As of the date of this meeting, 88 percent of all chapter taxes and DIAMOND subscriptions for 1970-1971 have been paid; 83 percent for 1971-1972, and 88 percent for 1972-1973. The Secretary reported further that eighteen of the twenty-seven active chapters had paid in full all financial obligations to the Fraternity; that nine chapters had an indebtedness still outstanding of $8,640 for the three years, compared with twelve chapters owing $11,380 for two years at this time last year. Seven of these nine chapters made some payment in 1973.

There was considerable discussion concerning the indebtedness of the Chi which amounts to $3,365.

It was agreed that the undergraduate members of the Executive Council be canvassed regarding preferred dates and locations for the next series of Regional Conferences.

It was voted that the By-Laws requiring a quorum of twelve members for all meetings of the Executive Council be amended to require a quorum of twelve members for the annual meeting and the regular meeting held in conjunction with the annual Convention and a quorum of eight members for all other meetings of the Executive Council.

It was further agreed that the recommendations to revise the By-Laws of the Executive Council proposed by Brother William R. Robie, Epsilon Omega '66, be adopted in toto.

In regard to the unfortunate damage on the final night of the 130th

Convention at Amherst, it was agreed that the Secretary of the Executive Council be authorized to take whatever steps he deems appropriate toward restoration for the articles lost and expenses incurred at the 130th Convention.

The decision to hold the 131st Convention in 1974 with the Iota Chapter at Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio, has been communicated to the alumni and the undergraduates of the Iota. It has been received with enthusiasm. Dates during the third week in August have been cleared, but negotiations with the College are underway for dates during the fourth week in August, with a slim chance of their availability.

Reports were made concerning fall rushing at the Lambda, Iota, Phi, Zeta Zeta, Gamma Tau, Chi Delta, Delta, Upsilon, Eta, Psi, Epsilon Omega, Nu Alpha, Xi, Tau, Epsilon

Nu, and the Kappa Chapters. Broadly speaking these reports were extremely encouraging.

The Secretary presented special reports concerning the Sigma, Nu, Theta Theta, Rho, and Epsilon Chapters.

It was agreed that the next regular meeting of the Executive Council be held with the Gamma Tau at the Georgia Institute of Technology February 7, 1974.

The Rho Chapter

Highly encouraging word has been received concerning the famous Rho Chapter at the University of Wisconsin. Installed March 27, 1896, the Rho was a brilliant jewel in the diadem of Psi Upsilon. Brother J. Richard Hammett, III, Rho '65, Vice President, Rho Alumni Association, has reported. He wrote December 14, 1973.

"For the past several months, the Rho Chapter alumni have been busy paving the way for a renewed chapter at the University of Wisconsin. On October 13, a meeting was held at the home of Brother Richard W. (Judge) Bardwell, Jr., Rho '37, in Madison, Wisconsin, prior to the Wisconsin-Ohio State football game. Nineteen Brothers from the class of 1929 to that of 1970 were present, including Brother Henry B. Poor, Gamma '39, as a representative of the Executive Council. Considerable discussion was fostered concerning student interest in reactivating the Psi U Chapter at the University of Wisconsin. Brothers W. Jay Tompkins, Rho '36, and J. Richard Hammett, III, Rho '65, met in Milwaukee with one interested group of underclassmen, while Brother Poor met with another group in Madison. Both of these meetings were evaluated in depth, with Brother Poor providing the necessary guidance. It was unanimously decided to continue alumni support and monitor the undergraduate activity. Following the meeting, festivities were resumed, and great quantities of Wisconsin beer and cheese were consumed in anticipation of Wisconsin's strong showing against the Rose Bowl contender."

Brother Hammett wrote again January 8, 1974. "On December 29, 1973, the seventy-seventh annual meeting of the Psi Upsilon Alumni Association of Milwaukee was held at the University Club in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. This year's meeting was of particular importance since it marked the seventy-fifth year of existence for the University Club in Milwaukee. Prior to that, the original first two yearly meetings for the Rho were held in the Phister Hotel in Milwaukee.

"Hosting the meeting was Brother William G. Callow, Rho '43, with twenty-six Brothers in attendance from all over the United States. A special award was presented to Brother Nelson S. Trottmann, Rho '14, for being the oldest alumni representative. Brother Trottmann, who came to the meeting from San Francisco, almost took home a second award, only to be outdone by Brother Carlson, Rho '41, who came all the way from the State of Oregon. Special mention was also given to Brothers David L. Kinnamon, Rho '63, and John W. Lucas, Rho '64, who were both honored as being fifth generation Psi U's.

"General discussion was held concerning the future development for the Rho Chapter at the University of Wisconsin, with special attention directed at the current activity on the campus for the rejuvenation of the chapter. Prior to closing the meeting, Brother Keehn E. Yeager, Rho '35, was nominated as the Rho Chapter's 'Man of the Year.' Thereafter, annual elections were held and again Brother Tompkins was elected President. To complete the election for the forthcoming year, Brother Callow was elected President pro tem; Brother Brown, Treasurer; and Brother Robert B. Breese, Rho '51, Secretary."

University Liggett School, Grosse Pointe Woods, Michigan, and Psi Upsilon

The University Liggett School, formerly Grosse Pointe University School in Grosse Pointe Woods, Michigan, has in recent years provided Psi Upsilon with many fine members at three chapters. University Liggett is a private, coeducational preparatory school which graduates fifty to eighty each year.

Brother Craig B. Dickson, Phi '73, was a 1969 graduate of Grosse Pointe University School. The year 1970 was a banner one at the School. Brothers Garrett C. Burke, Phi '74; George C. Finkenstaedt, Beta Beta '74; James B. Perry, Phi '74; Charles Upton Shreve, IV, Beta Beta '74, were all classmates, teammates and "partners in crime" throughout high school. Brothers Burke and Shreve soon became presidents of their chapters.

The 1971 University Liggett graduation brought three more fine members to Psi Upsilon. John Bocaccio, Phi '75, joined Brothers Burke and Perry at the Phi, while Mike Getz, Beta Beta '75, entered the bonds at Trinity. Janet Keydel, Kappa '75, was also a 1971 University Liggett graduate and is one of the first female Psi U's. William Dance, Phi '76, continued the trend when he graduated from the school in 1972 and has recently returned to the Phi after a semester off.

Thus, there are nine Psi U's at three chapters out of four graduating classes of the University Liggett School. And Brothers Frederick Snake Robinson, Beta Beta '74, and Edgar Waterman Hamilton, Phi '74, attended the school until their eighth grade years when they went to boarding school. Brother Robinson is now the President of the Beta Beta following Brother Shreve.

Psi Upsilon from the heart wishes this fine relationship with the University Liggett School to continue.

Rexford S. Blazer, Omicron '28

Brother Blazer died January 2, 1974, at the age of sixty-seven. With his death the oil industry lost one of its outstanding leaders and Psi Upsilon one of the Fraternity's most illustrious sons. He was a highly valued member of the Executive Council whose counsel was widely sought and whose judgement highly respected.

Brother Blazer was born September 1, 1907, in Aledo, Illinois. His early education included graduation from Kemper Military School, Boonville, Missouri.

For nearly forty-five years Brother Blazer played an extremely active role in the oil industry.

He entered the sales division of Allied Oil Company, Cleveland, Ohio, immediately following his graduation from the University of Illinois with a bachelor's degree in Economics in 1928. In 1938 he became Vice President of Allied, having previously attained positions as Assistant Sales Manager and Sales Manager, and was elected to the Presidency of Allied in 1948. Following the merger of Allied Oil Company with Ashland Oil, he became a Director of the parent company and was advanced to the position of President of Ashland Oil in 1951. In 1957 he was elected Chairman of the Board, a post he held until January, 1972, when he assumed the Chairmanship of the Board's Executive Committee. Since reaching retirement age on September 30, 1972, Brother Blazer continued as an Ashland Oil Consultant and senior member of the Board of Directors.

Brother Blazer has been active in many industry groups. He served as a Vice President for Transportation of the American Petroleum Institute in 1969-1971, and served as a member of the API Board of Directors and its Executive Committee from 1957 through 1972. He also served as Chairman of the Safety Committee and for many years as a member of the Asphalt Committee of the API Board.

Brother Blazer was a former member of the National Petroleum Council, a former Primary Director of the Asphalt Institute, and director of the Kentucky Oil & Gas Association. He served as a member of the Board of Governors and as President of the Twenty-five-Year Club of the Petroleum Industry. Brother Blazer served for more than five years as the API Board's representative on the Executive Committee of the Highway Federation for Safety and Mobility and served as the Federation's Chairman of the Executive Committee in 1970-1971. He was a Past President of the Cleveland Petroleum Club.

Brother Blazer was also a Past President of the National Petroleum Association; a former Vice President and member of the Executive Committee of the Western Petroleum Refiners Association; formerly Director, Treasurer and member of the Finance and Executive Committees of the National Petroleum Refiners Association.

More than any other individual, Brother Blazer led the planning and negotiating that resulted in the successful merger of the National Petroleum Association with the Western Petroleum Refiners Association in 1961. Moreover, during his chairmanship of the Executive Committee of the Highway Users Federation for Safety and Mobility, he effected a significant reorganization of the staff's executive group, thereby adding to the effectiveness of the organization's programs.

A participant in community and state activities, Brother Blazer was a Past President of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, a former member of the Board of Directors of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, a past member of the Eastern Kentucky Regional Planning Commission, a director of Spindletop Research, Inc., and a director of The Third National Bank of Ashland. He was a member of the Advisory Committees of Ohio Valley Improvement Association and National Waterways Conference.

Brother Blazer served as Trustee of the Kentucky Independent College Foundation 1952-1964; he was a Trustee and past Regent of The University of the South at Sewanee, Tennessee. Brother Blazer was a member of the Board of Directors of the University of Illinois Foundation and of the University of Illinois Presidents Club; also, served as Trustee of the University of Illinois YMCA. He was recipient of the University of Illinois Alumni Achievement Award and received the honorary degree of Doctor of Science from Pikeville College in 1969. In 1973 he received an honorary Doctorate in Business from Morehead State University. He was a member of the Executive Committee of the University of Kentucky Development Council. He was a Vice President and member of the Executive Council of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity and past Chairman of the Board of Governors Omicron Chapter; a Rotarian; a Kentucky Colonel; a Vestryman and Senior Warden of the Calvary Episcopal Church of Ashland, and served as a member of the Executive Council of the Episcopal Diocese of Lexington (Kentucky).

Brother Blazer is survived by his widow, Lucile Thornton Scott, and three children: a daughter, Mary Linda Blazer, residing in New York; a son, Richard M., enrolled in advanced studies at Arizona State University; and a son, Rexford, Jr., attending St. Stephen's Episcopal School at Austin, Texas. Also, two stepsons: Dan W. Scott, III, with Ashland Oil, Inc., in Cincinnati, and W. Thornton Scott, attending University of Kentucky Law School.

Out of consideration to his warm friend, the fifteenth President of the Executive Council, Robert W. Morey, Pi '20, Albert C. Jacobs, Phi '21, has agreed to edit this issue of THE DIAMOND. The new administration must find a replacement for him in the editing of subsequent issues.

Another Milestone in Wesleyan and Psi Upsilon History

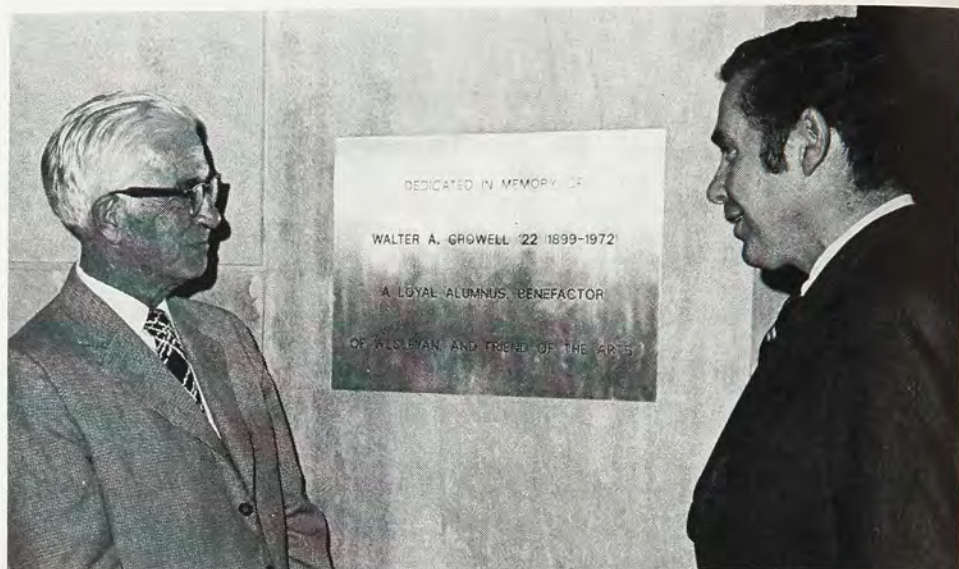

By Harold G. ("Red") Travis, Xi '20

October 26, 1973, the Walter A. Crowell Memorial Concert Hall, part of the new eleven-building Creative Art Center at Wesleyan University was dedicated. Participating in the dedication was the classmate of the benefactor, Walter A. Crowell, Xi '22, Judge Alexander Paris Robertson, Xi '22, of Glens Falls, New York, and Colin G. Campbell, Chi '57, the President of Wesleyan University. The plaque reads:

DEDICATED IN MEMORY OF
WALTER A. CROWELL '22,
1899-1972
A LOYAL ALUMNUS,
BENEFACTOR OF WESLEYAN, AND FRIEND OF THE ARTS

Brother Crowell's extremely generous bequest of over two million dollars reflected more than anything else his oft-expressed admiration and gratitude to that host of Xi men—professors, trustees and alumni—who for over a century and a third have contributed so much to Wesleyan. A faithful attendant at initiations and reunions, he was heard often to extol the inspiring teachings and examples of Caleb T. Winchester, Xi '69; Oscar Kuhns, Xi '85; the thrilling songs contributed to the college and the Fraternity by Calvin S. Harrington, Xi '52; and his son, Karl P. Harrington, Xi '82; the vigorous faith of Bishop Herbert Welch, Xi '87, Methodist Episcopal Bishop and President of Ohio Wesleyan University; and the benefactions of more than forty trustees living and dead.

To Brother Crowell, "Jock," as he was dubbed at his initiation into Chique Chaque, the Xi's Eating Club, the spirit of Psi Upsilon was the heart and soul of the college. In his delegation were two Brothers, Alexander P. ("Al") Robertson and Robert W. ("Bob") Parsons who exemplified the best of Psi Upsilon. "Al's" father, Danny Robertson, Xi '78, often came back to regale the chapter with memories of the early Xi with C. Everett Bacon, Xi '13; E. Sheppard Gordy, Xi '85; and Gerald P. Kynett, Xi '18. With three Xi sons and a Xi son-in-law it was extremely appropriate that Brother "Al" should represent his delegation and the Xi at this important dedication.

A special word should be included about another member of Brother Crowell's delegation who was unable to attend the dedication ceremony, Robert W. Parsons, Xi '22. The former outstanding President of the Executive Council of Psi Upsilon as well as a life trustee of the Xi, "Bob" kept in intimate touch steadily through the years with Brother Crowell as they worked tirelessly for Wesleyan and the Xi in fund-raising and other roles. "Jock" Crowell, as do so many of us, counted it a rare and real blessing to be a member of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity, and more than most of us, he gave steadily and wholesomely of himself to Wesleyan and to Psi Upsilon. We, the college, the chapter, and our noble old Fraternity are all better because of him.

From the President's Desk

When one Psi U signs a letter to another Psi U his signature is generally preceded by "Yours in the Bonds" or more intimately, "From the Heart." Why all this sentiment between men from different colleges whom we do not know personally or with whom some say they have no apparent interest? Of course, to the self-centered individual the answer is that such expressions of sentiment are meaningless, but are they? Let's see what we Brothers in Psi U have in common.

In the early days, our Fraternity spread to other colleges from Union College because undergraduates of those days admired and wished to emulate the conceptions of our founders—mutual help, activity, sociability and brotherly stimulation to accomplishment. Later the expansion became more formal but with the same objectives. Colleges were carefully selected for installation of new chapters. Seventy-four years were to pass before the Fraternity spread from coast to coast. By that time we had indeed become "All birds of a feather." Individual contact is not necessary to inspire confidence and trust between Brothers from different chapters.

I sometimes wonder what inspires statements of "no interest" in anyone except the men in our own house or "no other college really counts except our own campus." The actual facts of life dictate, however, that after our formal education ends, men from all colleges across this great land will compete with you in making a living and the majority are well educated and fully capable of taking care of themselves.

For these reasons, during postgraduate days it's always stimulating and refreshing to meet another Psi U who has been taught in a Psi U chapter to be helpful and considerate toward a Brother.

So let's get with it, men. This band of Brothers can hold the key to much happiness in the future if you but recognize and take advantage of its possibilities. Let's delve more into its history, learn a few beautifully written songs of yesteryear, and become more acquainted with the chapter role. I have visited many chapters and find the unanimous desire of our undergraduate Brothers as well as alumni to assist any Brother in pursuing an honorable and dedicated goal.

To the clasped hands we'll rally
Be we kings or row a galley
And then pass through the valley
To the tune of old Psi U.

Nobody Asked Me, But

I do think that it is the privilege of one so venerable as myself to indulge in the joys of going back through so many years and thinking of all of the people with whom I have come in contact and of how many of these had valuable effects on my life. In one such reverie I was thinking of the many men in political, legal, judicial, and communal life that it had been my privilege to know and to try to trace just what legacy was mine for these many and varied associations.

To these must be added the many Brothers in Psi Upsilon with whom I fraternized and whom I met during my long years of association with that noblest of Greek Letter Societies. As I looked back over the years these were many and great. These were people whom I have been, and always will be, proud to consider Brothers.

One such young man comes to mind. I did not know him in his younger days. I did not know him when he entered one of our prestigious universities and was immediately attracted to the chapter of Psi Upsilon on that university's campus. I did not know him when he graduated with honors and, due to his excellent scholarship, became a Rhodes Scholar. Not did I know him when he spent the three-year experience in England pursuing an exact knowledge of the law. I did not yet know him when he returned to America and began a distinguished career as a teacher and administrator in several institutions of learning in these United States. However, I did come to know of him as he advanced to a professorship in one of the leading law schools of our country, and later became the right hand of the most distinguished president of that university. I read about his activities as the head of several schools of higher learning and finally got to know him when he came East to head one of the truly respected smaller colleges of our Eastern Seaboard. When he retired from the presidency of that institution of learning, he looked forward to the sweet moments which are part of being able to dictate your doings every hour of the day.

Still later I discovered that this great Psi U was willing to give up his retirement at a time when his Fraternity needed his leadership so badly. Without a thought he came back into the active world and contributed most mightily to the continuing growth of Psi Upsilon.

To many who read this it is quite evident about whom this is being written. To the many, who may not know or do not recognize the clues, I am referring to Al Jacobs, Phi '21. It might be more respectful to refer to him as Dr. Albert C. Jacobs, but this, I know, would be anathema to him who was so much a part of Psi Upsilon that he wanted to reach out to every member as a Brother and not as anything else, even though he could have commanded that respect and attention.

It seems fitting then that I, for myself and all of us who have had the high privilege of working with him or even shaking his hand or listening to what he had to say, to say to him now that he has returned once again to his own private life, "May the good Lord bless and keep you. May the light which you have spread on the scene of Psi Upsilon be ever bright and may you, your most gracious and lovely life companion, and all of yours prosper in the love which you bestowed upon us and for which we are the better persons."

As it is always, Al, farewell but never "goodbye."

THE ANCIENT OWL

Goals and Purposes of Psi Upsilon

By Robert W. Morey, Pi '20

Every organization to be thoroughly modern must periodically reexamine the goals and objectives for which it is formed. To approach a reexamination at this time it would be well to reread Article I, Section 3 of our Constitution which states the objectives of this Fraternity for which we stand united:

"1) to make a significant contribution to the colleges and universities with which its undergraduates and alumni members are associated, to the communities in which its members reside, and to the great countries of the United States of America and Canada,

"2) to promote the adoption of significant life goals by its members, together with plans for their fulfillment,

"3) the promotion of the highest moral, intellectual, and social excellence and educational standards in all its members and

"4) the union of all its members in the firm and enduring friendship and true brotherhood for life."

These objectives are as pertinent today as they were in 1833.

While I cannot find that the Fraternity was founded essentially for scholarship, it may be well to remember that four of our seven founders graduated with honors and a Phi Beta Kappa key, and five of the seven went on to take graduate degrees in the arts, law, and medicine. In 1833 a college degree was a privilege. In 1974, with the intense personal competition of today, a college degree is most imperative if one wishes to open the doors of opportunity. In fulfilling the objectives laid down by our founders, scholarship should be the first goal of the Fraternity, indeed the first goal of any fraternity, for a fraternity that does not recognize and encourage the growing desire of today's undergraduate for intellectual achievement fails in its purpose. Much of the faculty antagonism towards fraternities would disappear if these organizations would promote good scholarship among its members.

The second goal is connected with the association of members within the Fraternity in order to fulfill the objectives of the Fraternity.

The Hon. Clarkson Nott Potter, Theta 1842, has spoken of the beginning of our Fraternity during the autumn of 1833 as follows:

"Toward the close of a summer day a young man was looking out of an upper window. Just then another student entered and the two friends fell to talking of the beauty of the scenery and the college and college affairs. Presently, two others joined them and their conversation turned upon the need there was for a new society. At last as it grew dark, the visitors arose to leave. It had been fully decided that these young men would endeavor to establish a new fraternity. 'Good night, thine, cordially' said the visitors as they departed. 'Good night, thine, always,' responded to each the other one who remained. It was thus, as I have heard, that our Fraternity was first suggested. It was to the casual parting that we owe the four-sided rhomboidal badge with its clasped hands. By these four men and their three associates the society was founded."

This casual meeting of four of our founders was not quite as spontaneous as indicated by Dr. Potter. All seven of the founders were at the time members of The Delphian Institute, one of three literary societies on the Union campus. These societies were dominated by the three Greek-letter fraternities already in existence and our seven founders had just come through a strenuous political contest which through their mutual efforts had ended in victory. Professor Willard Fiske, Psi 1851, our brilliant historian, described this contest as follows:

"The arbitrary action of the Greek-letter societies already existent, especially in reference to the literary associations or 'halls' as they were styled, had aroused a great deal of indignant sentiment in college circles, and notably in the lower classes. Seven independent and spirited members of those classes resolved to counteract the tendencies of the old secret societies by the formation of a new one, which should be broader and more liberal in its constitution and action. This resolution grew directly out of a literary society and class contest, in which these seven had stood shoulder to shoulder until their efforts ended in victory.

"After this successful struggle they jointly subscribed a formal agreement, pledging themselves to unite in an association which should be conducted for the common weal. This 'Pledge,' as it was subsequently termed, bears the date of November 24, 1833, Founders' Day."

The original founders associated themselves together so they could more easily accomplish as a group the objectives incorporated in our Constitution. This goal might be termed good group participation. The possibilities of group accomplishment were well learned by the founders and have been passed down through the generations. This goal should be reinforced by the reading, at least twice each year in the meetings of the chapters, of Article VII, Section 2, Paragraph 5 of our Constitution, a beautifully written welcome to initiates into the Fraternity.

The third goal is associated with number one of the objectives of the Fraternity:

"... to make a significant contribution to the colleges and universities with which its undergraduate and alumni members are associated, to the communities in which its members reside, and to the great countries of the United States of America and Canada."

We might call it good citizenship. Psi Upsilon chapter members always contribute to the activities of the college with which they are associated, and in many cases to the cities and towns where the colleges are located. This should also be one of the most active goals of the Fraternity followed by each chapter with intense enthusiasm, and with interchange of ideas between the chapters.

The fourth goal is the assimilation and training of leaders. While fellowship is one of our most cherished traditions, we cannot place all of our emphasis on this attractive phase of our Fraternity. It has always been the duty and desire of the active chapters throughout our history to attract and initiate men who have the characteristics and are willing to assume the responsibility of leadership. Our undergraduates should be urged by their Brothers to compete for all the honors a university or college can bestow. This selectivity can be referred to as the "Tone" of the brotherhood and is cited in our song "Psi U. Lineage" as "Tone and tone alone will place you in the lead."

Psi U encouragement and training for leadership is one of the master keys to success, both for undergraduates and alumni. This emphasis on leadership was responsible for the early expansion of the Fraternity and was first put to a test during the "War between the States" when the Federal and Confederate Armies contained twenty-eight Generals who wore Psi U pins. There were six Civil War Generals from one delegation of the Alpha Chapter at Harvard University, three on the Northern side and three on the Southern side. Since then,

Psi U Brothers have penetrated and obtained distinction in every walk of life including two United States Presidents.

It will necessitate much thought and organization on the part of our active members to implement these goals, but with such an outstanding heritage and the cooperation and encouragement of our alumni it can be done. Once again, to one of our grand old songs—

"Many are her honors noble old Fraternity.

Wide her fame and proud her name in college history.

True to all she taught us, ever loyally will we

Still keep her honors amaking."

C. Everett Bacon, Xi '13—The All-American Psi U

By Harold G. ("Red") Travis, Xi '20

Without any difficulty one could write an entire book on the life of Ev Bacon, the illustrious son of Clarence Everett Bacon, Xi '78, and brother of Roger W. Bacon, Xi '10. The fact that he was born in Middletown adds lustre to his story of fame and glory in many fields.

As an undergraduate he was not only a four-letter man in three sports—football, baseball and tennis, he was mentioned for All-American quarterback by many coaches and experts including Walter Camp. In his freshman year with Brother Winfred B. Holton, Jr., Xi '10, and again in his senior year with Brother J. Atherton ("Fiji") Richards, Xi '15, he won the New England Intercollegiate Tennis Double Championship at Longwood.

The picture that accompanies this article shows him kicking with his left foot. Wesleyan's Memorial Chapel is in the background. In baseball he pitched with his right hand and still recalls playing tennis singles and doubles against Williams in the morning and pitching nine innings against Amherst in the afternoon. Meanwhile as a balance he sang in the Glee Club for four years, and even today no "Sing" is complete without his thrilling baritone.

In his day golf was not as yet an intercollegiate sport. He tried the game for the first time in 1920 and within four years gave up tennis and won the Montclair, New Jersey, Golf Championship. To this day he shoots his age or better and has been several times the United States Seniors Champion. He will undoubtedly be the first centenarian thirteen years hence to shoot a score under 90! The August 10 issue of Golf World describes his best round of the past summer as follows: "Football Hall of Fame includes C. Everett Bacon, eighty-three this month, hasn't lost his competitive zeal since his days when he was captain of the Wesleyan grid squad. He recently aced the 178-yard fourth hole at Maidstone Club, East Hampton, New York, with a choked five wood, en route to 38-38-76."

Since college Ev has devoted himself to the investment business, since 1923 a partner in Spencer Trask Company. His business affiliations and community interests have been distinguished and worthwhile. Among these are: President, Treasurer and Director of Broadway Realty Company; Vice President and Director of Towne Securities Corporation; Vice President and Director of Mexican Northern Railroad; Director of Fresno; Vice President and Secretary of Colorado Flourspar Corporation; President of the Montclair YMCA from 1925 through 1936; President of Monclair's Community Chest 1935-1947; member of the Executive Committee of the New York State Chamber of Commerce; and Vestryman in the Episcopal Church.

In the educational world he has been on the Board of his Alma Mater and of four black colleges in the South. With his charming wife, Ramona, he is regularly to be found on Wesleyan's campus for initiations, reunions, board meetings, football games, and other events. No wonder he was given Wesleyan's Distinguished Alumnus Award and is known by all of us in the Xi as "The All-American Psi U."

Psi Upsilon on the West Coast—An Extensive Trip

*By Robert W. Morey, Pi '20
President of the Executive Council*

[Editor's Note: Psi Upsilon is deeply indebted to the new President of the Executive Council for the trip that he made to key places on the West Coast during late November and early December, 1973. A report of this trip is here included.]

*Stanford University,
November 26, 1973*

Called on Norman W. Rogers, the Assistant Dean of Student Affairs. Dean Rogers is a graduate of Bowdoin College and knows Psi Upsilon well. During the last ten years the number of fraternities at Stanford has declined from twenty-four to eleven, with two additional mixed societies. One of the last to go was Chi Psi, and Dean Rogers advised that Delta Kappa Epsilon currently is having a rough time. He said that the administration is not unfriendly to fraternities, but he feels that administrative assistance should be directed first toward the reestablishment of the chapters that have become inactive. I did not receive a very positive impression of Stanford, either of the campus or of the chapter houses still there. I suggest that there may be more appropriate institutions to cultivate in California at the present time.

*University of California at Davis,
November 28, 1973*

This institution, renowned as one of the best agricultural colleges in the country, has been expanded to a university with 12,000 undergraduates and 2,500 graduate students. It is fast becoming one of the top choice state universities in California.

I called on Lynn L. Marchand, Independent Living Group Coordinator and Dean of Students. Mr. Marchand said that the administration recently sponsored by invitation the admission of three sororities: Alpha Phi, Delta Delta Delta, and Phi Mu. From now on, however, this sponsorship will be discontinued, and all new chapters must be established by the fraternities and sororities. The last fraternity to be admitted is Chi Phi, which invested $100,000 in a house with a large mortgage. There are no local societies now at the University. This institution is well worth our attention over the long pull.

*University of California at Berkeley,
November 27, 1973*

I had luncheon with Brothers William (Rick) F. Cronk, III '65, Gilman B. Haynes, Jr. '45, and Harold (Hal) F. Keenan '49, at the Bohemian Club. There now are only three undergraduate Brothers still at Berkeley: James P. Hammond '74, the son of a Los Angeles Psi U, David A. Haynes '74, the son of Gilman Haynes, and Christopher J. Nelle '74. These three are fine young men, and I am sure they will work, but they must be led by some strong alumnus and must have the support of the alumni.

There are about 1,200 Psi U's in California, mostly from the Epsilon Chapter. The breakdown is about 600 in Los Angeles and 450 in San Francisco. The San Francisco alumni do want the chapter reestablished. The attitude of the Los Angeles alumni is not fully known, but it is assumed to be favorable. All alumni have been most cordial.

*San Francisco Founders' Day Dinner,
November 29, 1973*

This revived event was held at the St. Francis Yacht Club and was both well and enthusiastically attended by about seventy-five alumni. Before the dinner I was invited for cocktails to the home of Brother Gilman B. Haynes, Jr., the Senior Vice President of Wells Fargo Bank. All alumni seemed to want to help reestablish the Epsilon but seemed hazy as to how it should be done. Money is not the major obstacle. I suggested that the Epsilon follow the Delta's example, renting a furnished apartment or hotel suite, in order to give the Brothers a headquarters for rushing. This seemed to appeal to all at the dinner, and a paper was passed around the room inviting those in attendance to designate whether they would donate time or money.

*University of California at Berkeley,
December 5, 1973*

I had luncheon today with Brothers Cronk and Haynes. Both were encouraged by the response to the paper which had been passed around among those in attendance at the Founders' Day Dinner. Forty-one indicated that they would donate time, and twenty-one offered financial support toward reestablishing the Epsilon Chapter. Both Brothers Cronk and Haynes felt that a strong young alumnus must be found to lead the campaign. Several alumni will be approached in the near future. It was felt that the apartment where all three active Psi U's live would be large enough for rushing with the help of alumni. Rushing expenses will be met by alumni. This arrangement should not continue for more than six months.

*Vancouver Founders' Day Dinner,
November 30, 1973*

I was met at the airport by Brother Rex J. McLennan '74, Zeta Zeta Chapter's President, and another undergraduate Brother and was taken on a tour of the campus of the University of British Columbia. There are 28,000 students enrolled. The Zeta Zeta has a fine house, with twelve active Brothers and six pledges. The house is attractive, holds twenty-six men, and is full, with Brothers and eight nonmembers. The chapter is operating in the black, and the atmosphere is good.

During the dinner a campaign for $10,000 was inaugurated, the fund to be spent in returning the house to tiptop condition. The alumni hold $30,000 in first mortgage bonds due in 1979. This will not present any problem. Aside from this, there is no indebtedness, but there is another problem more serious in nature. The house is built on leased land owned by the Dominion Government. The lease must be renegotiated in about three years and, due to the increased value of the land, may present some problems. The alumni, however, do not expect that the Government will be unreasonable since there is a shortage of housing. The fifty-five Brothers present were extremely cordial. Robert (Bob) L. Hawkins '62, a member of the Executive Council, offered to assist us on the West Coast.

*University of Washington,
December 3, 1973*

I arrived in Seattle and was greeted by S. Bradley Hunt '75, President of the Theta Theta, a fine young man.

Later met William E. Acomb, Jr. '69, Alumni President, who took me out to the Theta Theta House for dinner and a chapter meeting. This chapter has had some difficulties this year. There has been dissension in the house, and Robert M. Byrd '75, the Chapter President, resigned. Due to a rumor that the house would be closed, many Brothers started to move out. At this point the alumni entered the picture. Represented by Brother Acomb, every undergraduate was personally interviewed, with the result that all, beside the President, agreed to remain. The alumni assured the chapter that the house would not be closed this year. The active chapter pays $1,200 per month to the alumni, which does not meet all expenses, but the difference is being met by the alumni. The situation will be reviewed again in June. The break-even point now is thirty-five, and currently there are thirty-two in the House. All non-members have been asked to leave. The alumni have insisted that the traditional ritual at chapter meetings be reinstated, and this has met with the approval of the active Brothers. There are now twenty-seven active members and six pledges. There was to be a Christmas party on December 12, attended by many alumni with their wives and by all chapter members. Brother Acomb will have to raise additional funds to maintain the house in good condition. He has agreed to work with Brother Hawkins of the Zeta Zeta to accomplish this. Several years ago it was necessary to mortgage the house for $30,000 to pay off debentures owed to alumni.

I believe the Theta Theta will return to strong condition, due to alumni and active chapter support. The undergraduates at both the Zeta Zeta and the Theta Theta have no pledge pins or badges. I have ordered pledge pins for both chapters. Alpha Tau Omega, next door to the Theta Theta, is closing.

University of Puget Sound,
December 4, 1973

Through the courtesy of Brother Peter K. Wallerich, Theta Theta '53, a Trustee of the University of Puget Sound, I met Dr. Phillip M. Phibbs, the President and formerly Executive Vice President of Wellesley College. Brother Wallerich told me that, during their search for a new president last year, the University received 500 applications. The University of Puget Sound has 4,600 students, is private, and has a most attractive and spotless campus. Its endowment amounts to about $10,000,000. I later met Mr. Ray Payne, the Assistant Dean of Students. He advised that there now are six fraternities represented on the campus, including Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Phi Epsilon. All fraternity houses are owned and maintained by the University, with each chapter responsible only for furnishing its house. If a house becomes less than 90 percent filled, the occupying fraternity is obliged to move. Dean Payne told us that there may be a small house, owned by the University, vacant next year and asked that we send him information about Psi Upsilon. Alpha Tau Omega also is trying to become established there. I have checked this institution with all three Pacific Coast chapters, and all are enthusiastic about starting a chapter here. Brother Henry B. Poor has sent Dean Payne the requested information.

*University of California at
Los Angeles,* December 10, 1973

I called on Bruce L. Barbee, the Assistant Dean of Students. Dean Barbee is not a fraternity man, but seemed very friendly to the fraternity picture. During the last ten years the number of fraternities has declined from twenty-eight to nineteen. This year has seen a marked resurgence, however, with 400 freshmen pledging fraternities. Dean Barbee indicated that there is room for several additional chapters at UCLA. Last year a local organization was formed and asked Dean Barbee for recommendations of national fraternities. The only fraternity that had sent him full information was Alpha Tau Omega. He recommended this, and Alpha Tau Omega now has a chapter. He asked me to send him information on Psi Upsilon for his files and will advise us of any opportunities. I asked Henry Poor to write him.

Los Angeles, December 11, 1973

I had luncheon with Brother C. Wallace Hammond, Epsilon '45, father of James P. Hammond '74, one of the three Epsilon undergraduates still at Berkeley. Brother Hammond agreed that the first order of business is the reestablishment of the Epsilon Chapter at Berkeley. He said that, during the last few years before the chapter house was sold, pledges were taken and initiated in order to keep the house open. Many of the members felt little loyalty to Psi Upsilon and the house discipline deteriorated. The few members who were loyal, including his son, became discouraged. Brother Hammond affirmed that he would be glad to help and that he was sure his son would do his part.

Oddly enough Brother Hammond commented that he would favor reestablishing our Theta Epsilon Chapter at the University of Southern California before trying to enter the University of California at Irvine. The image of Southern California apparently has improved over the past ten years. Brother Hammond stated that, during the student troubles of the late 1960's, UCLA was badly disrupted, but that Southern California remained quiet. He feels that Southern California is now a conservative, well-administered institution, entirely worthy of a chapter of Psi Upsilon and one that would receive active Los Angeles alumni support.

University of California at Irvine,
December 11, 1973

I drove to the University of California at Irvine and called on Vice Chancellor Robert Lawrence. Mr. Lawrence advised that fraternities were permitted to enter Irvine, in spite of three negative votes by students based upon a legal decision by the California Supreme Court. The decision stipulated that, if fraternities existed on any University of California campus, they must be permitted on all campuses of the University. This year three fraternities—Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Chi—were invited to form on the campus, principally because all had chapters nearby in Los Angeles which could aid in forming and training the new chapters at Irvine. This policy has proved to be satisfactory. Chi Psi also was admitted because they were already active in a sub rosa manner. I suggested that Psi Upsilon depends more upon active alumni for the above responsibilities, which seemed to satisfy him. He said that Psi Upsilon would be considered and asked that we send him full information. This will be done.

The Irvine campus is beautiful, built in a circle within a cow pasture. There are about 4,000 students, with only 20 percent living on campus. Many students rent cottages or apartments at Balboa Island, a summer resort nearby. Land has been reserved for fraternity and sorority houses in the future, but nothing will be done in this regard for several years.

I later visited with Chancellor Daniel G. Aldrich, Jr., who graduated from the University of Rhode Island. Brother Cronk, the Epsilon Alumni President, arranged these appointments and knows Chancellor Aldrich personally. Chancellor Aldrich was cordial and talked at some length about the problems of starting a fraternity system. I believe we have a fair chance of having a chapter here if we wish one.

Undergraduate News

Theta

Brother George R. Stanwick '74, has submitted the following report:

On October 19, the Cinema 7 Theatre in Latham hosted the world premiere of the film The Way We Were, starring Barbra Streisand and Robert Redford. The Union campus was a backdrop for the shooting of flashback scenes in the movie. Brothers Tom Flynn '70, George Stanwick '74, and Mike Varno '73, were among several hundred extras recruited for the filming which took place in late 1972.

Though Brothers Stanwick and Varno remain anonymous in the crowds, Brother Flynn appears briefly in a critical classroom scene. The Psi U flagpole on the Union campus plays yet another silent, functional role during a political rally and the commemorative statue of Chester A. Arthur (Theta 1848) is the stolid, unwitting medium for one of Redford's puckish pranks. The 1973 Union Book exhibits a personal inspection of the shooting of The Way We Were by Editor-in-Chief John Ludwig '73.

The Theta harbors more than a coterie of cinematic parvenus, however. Brother Brownell Bailey '75, spent the term abroad studying in France. The year 1973 marks the fourth consecutive year that a member of the Theta has been a member of the Union group in Rennes.

Brother Brant Bottum '75, spent late summer and early fall as a member of a faculty-student expedition in marine biology on the Isle of Shoals off the coast of Maine.

As members of Gatesmen, Brother Bucky Rulon-Miller '74, and Dave Sanderson '76, conducted tours of the grounds and interviewed applicants to the college. This past term, the Theta hosted many prospective Union students who came to visit the campus.

On the playing fields, sophomore Brothers Tim Fitzgerald, Miles Hiron, Tom Richardson, Dave Sanderson, and pledge Al Ritchie sparked the drive of Union's varsity soccer squad this season. Although the team was not able to sustain its initial fire over the entire season, the young squad will undoubtedly apply its resolve and experience next year.

In touch football, Doug Warner '74, tossed Baltimore bullets for big yardage on the intramural gridiron, leading the Theta to the college finals. Wiry Psi U, however, lost the championship game to the behemoth Chi Psi in a hotly contested outing for the second year running.

The rushing season was a mediocre one in general for fraternities at Union this fall; Psi U was no exception. Rush chairman Tim Fitzgerald '76, and his ecliptic cohort Geordie French '75, are redoubling and re-directing their efforts to sponsor a successful winter term rush.

The social events of the rush season were not atypical, having been marked with the usual restrained revelry. Homecoming was well attended by alumni of recent years, and by many faculty members, friends, and parents as well.

The booking of a verdant blues band by social chairman John Means '75, was the social windfall of the term. Since their debut at Psi U, the nameless group (surreptitiously known as Jim Corwin '76 and the Blue Flames) has performed at several other gatherings at Union and elsewhere. Treasurer Dave Barrett '74, was apparently so impressed with their first appearance that he signed the group for a performance next term. Rumor has it that Dave is secretly trimming his saxophone reed in preparation for an appearance with the group in the winter.

Delta

Brother David W. Kuntz, Delta '74, Vice President, has submitted the following report:

Since the last issue of THE DIAMOND, a great deal has happened to the Delta. In the past few weeks, we have seen our ranks doubled by the addition of five new Brothers, another memorable Yule Log pass into history, and the rapid approach of final exams for all.

Rushing, and the pledge program that followed, has to be the brightest facet of the star which has shone upon the Delta. The undergraduate response to the presence of the Delta at Washington Square has exceeded our greatest expectations. In September, ten undergraduates were pledged, of whom five were initiated on November 26, and two will have been initiated on December 19. The new Brothers initiated on November 26 are: John Hooley '74, Louis Menyhart '75, Jeffery Steinburg '75, Edward Freeman '76, and Glenn Carbough '77. Initiated on December 19 were Jeffery Baum '76, and Hans Berglund '77. Although seven more than doubles the membership and brings our number to twelve, we are looking to an even more prosperous spring rush. With six seniors in the house, we are committed to leave the Delta with the strongest possible base for future growth. It is with this in mind that we are embarking on one of the most intensive rushes in recent years. Brothers Kuntz and Menyhart hope to try many innovative ideas to attract new Brothers to the Delta. It is worthy to note that Brothers George Wilson '62, and Terry Connors '58, have offered their assistance in this rush, assistance which is greatly appreciated.

Last December 3 the Delta held its traditional Yule Log, its annual celebration of Christmas and of the memory of one of the most devoted sons of the Delta, Erik Wallin '97. The evening started in Suite 16G with a cocktail hour where new Brothers met old, and many friendships were renewed in the relaxed atmosphere of the suite. Then the Brothers moved downstairs to resume the celebration over dinner, cocktails, and the notable speeches of Brother Frank Howley '25, and others who knew Brother Wallin, and so were able to recreate the air that Brother Wallin brought about when talking of Christmas in Sweden. In all, it was most enjoyable for all who attended.

Finally, we at the Delta are seeing the rapid close of our fall semester. It was a semester that saw Brothers Dennis Kintz '74, David Kuntz '74, and Gary Vanderwald '74, lead the Violet cross-country to its fine season. Also on that team were neophytes Glenn Carbough '77, and Ed Freeman '76. These five Brothers form the base for the indoor track team that will debut in January with the Millrose Games in Madison Square Garden. Also enjoying very prosperous seasons are Brothers John Hootey '74, and Mike Kissane '74. John is a diver and a consistent scorer for the Violets. Mike, despite his heavy academic schedule, finds time to compete with some success in the breaststroke and the freestyle events for the Violets.

Academic standards for the Delta have always been high, and this year is no exception. The house boasts the best grade point average of all the fraternities on the campus. The Delta is also active in student affairs, including in the brotherhood the Vice President and the Treasurer of the Student Policy Board.

Looking back on the progress, we at the Delta can have nothing but success in our future and are looking forward to the coming semester and coming years with optimism and anticipation.

Gamma

Brother Peter C. Canfield, Gamma '76, has submitted the following report:

After hosting the latest Psi U national convention, the Gamma has turned its focus back to local affairs.

Twenty new initiates reflect the diversity of background and interest that has characterized the chapter in the past. The October ceremony and banquet, attended by Executive Council Secretary Henry B. Poor, put the Gamma's total membership figure in the sixties.

Academic achievement continues to be a strong house interest and tradition. A majority of the year's seniors are at work on honors theses, and almost all have plans for future graduate study. Last year Brothers Douglas Koch, John Schuck, and David Downes were elected to the Phi Beta Kappa Society. Many more graduated with honors.

Gamma members contribute substantially to Amherst athletics. Last year Psi U was represented in all but one intercollegiate sport. Returning to the swim team will be All-Americans Robert Skovgaard and Jesse de la Rama. Skovgaard and Mark Hall, another Psi U, will co-captain the team.

Participation in intramurals is also high. The chapter football team posted a better than average record this fall and two house teams have been organized for the winter basketball tourney.

A number of Brothers participate in non-athletic campus activities. A traditionally strong area of interest is the glee club. Other individuals are involved in running the student government, organizing film series, etc.

In recent elections, Archon Chris Holt passed the gavel to Junior Mark Hall.

At the Gamma Initiation October 25, 1973, the following became Brothers of our Fraternity: Charles Kimball Bergman, Bruce Fraser Brodigan, Craig Martin Buchsbaum, Peter Crane Canfield, Christopher Sanborn Clarke, Stephen Joseph Craig, Mark Evan Ellis, Edward Campbell Floyd, James Jay Fulmer, James Carr

Gamble, III, Mark Nissen Greene, Frank Wilson Griffin, David Lawrence Holmes, William Joseph Kayatta, Jr., James Brantley Kingman, Edward Hao-Mang Koo, Richard Alan-son Leland, Jr., George MacGovern, Jr., Kent Allen Mason, and Marc Joseph Meister.

Zeta

Brother Richard F. Spellman, Jr., Zeta '74, Associate Editor of THE DIAMOND, has submitted the following report:

The Zeta Chapter of Psi U at Dartmouth College has really been active all fall. Aside from actually winning a few intramural football games, thanks to the Mo Brothers, a few senior members of the house deserve special recognition.

Underclassmen Sandy Tierney, John Elliot, and Ted Scheu, along with Senior Commodore Dunc Todd pushed the Dartmouth Sailing Team to a first-place victory at the Macmillan Cup held at the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland. James Miller, the House Treasurer, has done much to further the interests of black and Indian students at the Zeta Chapter. Dick Cates, one of our well-known skiers, acts as the coordinator of social relations between the house and the women on campus.

At the annual house banquet, during which the College Proctor John O'Connor was made an honorary Brother, Buff Davis, our leader, was awarded the Chris Gates Memorial Preppy Award for outstanding showmanship and good spirit. Among the other awards given out were the following: Trip Heard was awarded the Rose Mary Woods Memorial Badge for the most original set of books for the summer social fund. Richard Thirlby, a chemistry major, was awarded the Senior Sympathy Award for his study on the emission of noxious gases. Rick is also Captain of the Ski Team. Peter Edson received the John Grossman Memorial Evasion Award for his efforts to hide in the attic and work on his senior Mellowship. And, finally, Dick Spellman, the secretary of this devilish organization, was awarded the Dick Spellman Trophy for being an all-around great guy, the first time in the history of Psi U that such an event has occurred. As can be seen, the spirit at the old U lodge is fantastic!

Getting down to the more serious side now, there really have been some other notable achievements this past fall. Budge Gierke, a member of the Dartmouth Mountaineering Club, voyaged to Salt Lake City to mount some of the more formidable preci-pices in the area. He resides in the Zebra room in the house; so named for the painted stripes on the ceiling. Rick Bettes found himself a position on the Dartmouth Rugby team. Rick also skates for the Rugby team, on a crew that calls themselves the Storm Kings. Jeff Scott has decided to write an honors thesis in history, but the noise from the toob room below may yet prevent him from doing so. Bob Fletcher has busied himself with a computer project all fall that measures how many times a person can walk between the computer center and the House before he realizes he doesn't know how to turn the computer on. At least he knows how to ski. Tim Miner has swept the floor all fall with the assistance of Dutch Kuckhann and Doug Richmond. Dutch is also on the crew team while Tim Miner is another skier. Dutch is working for the Department of Transportation this winter. Unfortunately for Dutch, Vail does not have any roads!

Finally, Ken Stowe and Steve Murphy have decided to break out of their shells and make some noise this winter; they are clamoring for more snow. And as a last note, Albert Sidney hung up his jock this winter; I guess this is an indication that it is finally too cold in Hanover, New Hampshire, for some athletic events.

From the Zeta Chapter, we want all to know that there is at least one Fraternity that is still alive and kicking. Perhaps with a little more enthusiasm and a lot of snow, our hearts and grades will make it through the winter!

Lambda

Brother John P. Harrington, Lambda '74, has submitted the following:

Perhaps the Lambda Chapter deserves special attention in these days when many seem eager to read the post mortem of American fraternities. Besides the widespread apathy toward fraternities we have all encountered, Lambda must renew its roots in a city whose unparalleled entertainment value has always detracted from the Fraternity's appeal, and on a campus whose permanent fraternities have been few and far between. Lambda's present and continued existence is a product of coming to grips with the changes in American universities and colleges, and the subsequent adjustment of the fraternity system that these changes demand. This problem of adjustment is by no means peculiar only to Lambda, it is simply more immediate to us.

Thanks to the continued efforts of all present members, pledges, and especially to Brothers Murray L. Eskenazi, Lambda '56, and Robert W. Morey, Pi '20, the single most pressing problem has been remedied. The chapter house, which had fallen into nearly complete dilapidation from years of neglect, now shows the effect of gallons of fresh paint, weeks of scrubbing, and mechanical overhauls. There was still a scent of wet paint in the air when the crowd arrived for Lambda's first major social event in years, the Homecoming Party. Long-lost Brothers were teeming from the now sparkling woodwork, University bigwig representation included President William McGill, Dean of Students Harry S. Coleman, and Dean of Student Affairs Philip Benson, pledging prospects multiplied, and the affair was undoubtedly the most successful on campus.

While the hard core of the house will be lost to graduation this year, the possibilities for the future look brighter all the time. Lambda, despite being in New York City and Columbia University, has recovered from its coma and is feeling better all the time.

Kappa

Brother Peter J. Pizzi, Kappa '75, President, has submitted the following report:

Much is going on at the Kappa during these last few weeks before the Christmas break. Due to the energy crisis, Bowdoin will have exams before Christmas, instead of after as planned. Thus we will begin our vacation on December 22 and will not return to school until January 29. This past week has been quite hectic with an Urchin Party on Monday for the local school children, an alumni dinner for the Kappa's Board of Directors on Wednesday, and our Christmas Party for the house today, Friday.

Since you last received communication from us we have had an election with a new slate of officers. They are: President, Peter Joseph Pizzi '75; Vice President, Robert H. Turner '74; Treasurer, Robert R. Kilroy '76; Secretary, Dan Shaporo '75; Social Chairman, Donald W. McIntyre '76; Corresponding Secretary, Catherine Steiner '76.

Psi

Brother Ernest M. Found, Jr., '74, has written the following report:

The 1973-1974 academic year finds the Psi Chapter in a traditional active state. Psi Brothers have continued to distinguish themselves in several avenues of campus life and the chapter maintains its leadership among fraternities on the Hill. Hamilton is plagued by a diminishing interest in fraternal life, a seemingly universal dilemma to all present-day college campuses. In light of this fact, and due to a comparatively smaller membership than previous years, 1973-1974 will be an all important year for the strong survival of Psi.

Although the newly initiated sophomore delegation is small, the house is honored and happy that each has joined and become an active Psi U. The new initiates are: Scott Atwater,

The Zeta Chapter of Psi Upsilon

Fayetteville, New York; Brian Gelber, Scotia, New York; Marty I. Guy, Binghamton, New York; Thomas Greenwood, Dewitt, New York; Erik Hansen, Beaver Falls, New York; Owen Kratz, Latham, New York; Donald B. Reynolds, Berkeley Heights, New Jersey; Barry S. Seltzer, Eastchester, New York; and Andrew P. Zasada, Windsor, Connecticut.

To increase the membership, rushing must be a total house effort and function as the center of house activities. At the time of this writing, rushing is proceeding with great success and organization, and we have hopes that it will continue to do so.

Both Thursday night rushing parties and "truck rolls" are beginning to gain traditional status and are an integral social and rushing function. Fall house parties, Parents' Weekend, and Homecoming all passed by with happy memories.

It is with deepest regret and bereavement that we report the death of Mrs. Mary Gardner who served as cook and "mother away from home" for the past ten years. "Mrs. G" was as much a part of the Psi as any Brother and her passing is heavily felt in the hearts of all who knew her.

As the year progresses and the fraternity memories increase, the pressure on a successful rush is felt by all. In closing, the Psi extends an invitation for all alumni and Brothers to drop by when in the vicinity and share some time with us.

Upsilon

David R. Moller '75, Corresponding Secretary, has submitted the following report:

The Upsilon has maintained its position as the strongest and largest fraternity at the University of Rochester. The thirty-eight active members serve the campus as leaders in many varsity sports, intramurals, social activities, and also in academics. More than one-half the Brothers were on the Dean's List last semester and it appears that these high academic standards will be maintained this fall.

The house is in fine shape aided by several work projects in which the Brothers and new pledges all contributed their efforts. The house has purchased a new television set. The new set was financed through a work project initiated, organized, and operated by House Manager John B. Brown. The work project involved changing and cleaning the air conditioner filters in the Goler House, which is a staff resident apartment building owned and operated by the University of Rochester. The Brothers were asked to contribute approximately four hours of their time to the project. Upon completion of the project, which included working on over four hundred air conditioners, the new television set was presented to the House on September 28, 1973. Future plans include the purchase from the same firm of a new rotational antenna to replace the broken antenna which is now on the roof.

Many of the Brothers of the Upsilon have shown their talents this fall in varsity sports and intramural teams. Steve Hoffman, a junior from Lewiston, New York, was the leading ground gainer this fall for the varsity football team, the Yellowjackets. Steve was elected co-captain for the upcoming season, and also was voted Most Valuable Back for the second straight year. Averaging 4.3 yards a carry and twenty yards on kickoff returns, Steve was named Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference Division II Back of the Week with a 196-yard effort for the last game. Sophomore Ed Elze had several outstanding defensive performances during the season highlighted by a superb effort against a tough Lehigh team, for which Ed was named defensive player. Phil Kellogg had an offensive guard's dream-come-true when he scored a touchdown after picking up a loose football. Sophomores Gary Pudup and Jim Korinek also saw varsity action. Dan Dailey was a starting cornerback before an injured foot hobbled him for most of the season. Later Dan contracted mononucleosis which permanently ended his participation for this year.

Veteran Craig Evans, nicknamed "Porky," was the starting goalie for this year's 7-2-3 soccer team. Craig sparkled on defense as he recorded two shutouts and had 1.2 goals against game average. When Craig was not tending goal, Steve Goldsmith, another Upsilon Brother, substituted ably.

Rounding out fall varsity sports action, Dave Moller and Tom McMeekin ran well for a strong 6-3 cross-country team. Moller went on to become an All-American Selection Division II for his performance at the NCAA Championship.

The basketball season has started and the Upsilon is very well represented in the teams. Senior Fran Moulin, a defensive standout, contributed ten points in the opening victory against Cornell. Sophomores Brad Townsend and Bob Vavrina also saw action, and both added several baskets for the winning campaign. The Junior Varsity team has Brother Mike Brown and pledges John Cates, Jack Herlan, Bob Healey, and Brooks Chandler.

The intramural sports season this fall was characterized by high enthusiasm and quality play with most of the house participating. In football both the A-team and B-team made the finals. This year volleyball has made a serious dent in intracampus competition and the games show a heavy turnout.

As one can see the Brothers of the Upsilon have many diversified interests and talents. It is a tribute to the fellowship in this house that all members can join together and help each other achieve such high goals and standards. But the Upsilon has not succeeded by itself. This house is served by a hardcore group of dedicated alumni from the Rochester area whose assistance has been invaluable. Our success is certainly shared by these alumni as well. On the second Thursday of each month about ten alumni join the Brothers for dinner after which everyone adjourns to the living room for a joint meeting. Because of these meetings closer contact and communication has been established between the Brothers and alumni. At one of these meetings it was suggested that every week an alumnus could give a short talk about his undergraduate training and how it directly or indirectly related to the jobs he has held since entering the business world. Already Brother Richard Rice, Upsilon '65, and Brother Dave Gosling, Upsilon '63, have talked about their experiences to the Brothers. This is only one way our alumni have been serving our house. Brother Frank Dowd, Upsilon '46, is coming to dinner to talk with the Brothers in the house. Brother Dowd serves as Director of Housing and Food Service at the University of Rochester. The Brothers of the Upsilon hope that more area alumni will become actively involved with the Upsilon Chapter. It is a sure thing that we will benefit and the alumni can discover the fellowship and enthusiasm that continue here at the Upsilon.

Elections were held recently with the following results: President, Mick Zybala, '74; Vice President, Fran Moulin, '74; 2nd Vice President, Dan Dailey, '75; Treasurer, Tom McMeekin, '75; House Manager, John B. Brown, '75; Recording Secretary, Stu Tapper, '76; Corresponding Secretary, Dave Moller, '75; Rushing Chairman, Lionel Hodgson, '76, and Brad Townsend, '76; Pledge Father, Paul Kane, '75; Social Chairman, Mitch Reichman, '76; Steward, John Hayes, '75; Coach, Joe Merlino, '74; and Librarian, Pete Klipfel, '76.

On behalf of all the Brothers of the Upsilon, I would like to extend best wishes and continued success to all the Brothers of Psi Upsilon in this upcoming year.

David R. Moller, Upsilon '75

Brother Moller broke into the ranks of the All-Americans on November 10, 1973, by placing tenth in the Division II NCAA Cross-Country Championships at Wheaton, Illinois. The top twenty-five runners in each of the NCAA's three divisions are recognized as All-American selections, and Brother Moller is the first University of Rochester runner to gain the honor.

At the NCAA meet, Brother Moller, a junior from Wenham, Massachusetts, covered the five-mile course in 24:30, averaging better than five minutes a mile. He went out with the pack, and came past the mile mark in 55th place. Gaining ground steadily, he moved to eleventh place by the four-mile mark, and kicked the last half-mile to take tenth place in a field of over 200 runners from all over the country.

Two days later, competing in the twelfth annual Intercollegiate American Amateur Athletic Association championships at New York City's Van Cortland Park, Brother Moller ran a strong sixth place for four and one-half miles before a strained back muscle hobbled him. He did, however, finish fifteenth and qualified for the All-IC4A honor with a time of 25:46 over the tough five-mile course.

Brother Moller's victories this season also include his second straight New York State Track and Field Association Cross-Country title. In easily outdistancing over 200 runners from upstate New York, Brother Moller became the third runner ever to win the title for two consecutive years.

On the University's home course in Genesee Valley Park, he proved himself as the fastest undergraduate ever to run the course with a time of 22:17.

In addition to his track endeavors, he is a Dean's List student majoring in Statistics and Biology. He also teaches a non-credit night course in American Sign Language used by the deaf. Last year, as a sophomore, he pledged the Upsilon and was recipient of the Psi U Academic Award for scholastic achievement among the pledges. He is currently living in the chapter house and is also serving the house as Corresponding Secretary.

Iota

Brother Anthony C. Wood, Iota '76, has submitted the following report:

This academic year has seen a general renaissance of the Iota in more ways than one. Our rush was one of the most successful in recent years with nine pledges as of this writing. Not only is the number of pledges larger than those of the last years, but the quality has remained at the level and caliber that has made each of us proud to be a Brother in the bonds of Psi Upsilon. The pledges are: Steele R. Chadwell, James E. Gardner, Thomas Lehrecke, Graham K. Loving, III, Michael S. Lynch, Jack Markowitz, Scott McGinnis, Christopher J. Rie, and Richard W. Moore. All, save pledge Lehrecke who is a sophomore, are freshmen.

On the intramural field of honor the Iota is laying the foundations for a Psi Upsilon dynasty on the track, on the field, and on the floor. On the football field, the Iota carried the pigskin into recently untrodden territory—the end zone. The season started out with high hopes and when several touchdowns occurred in the first several games, the Brothers knew that the elusive goal—to win a game—was within their grasp. On October 8, 1973, in the last game of the season, the Iota defeated their opposition for the first win in at least seven years.

The euphoria of this victory has bolstered the spirits; success in other sports has been a by-product. The badminton team of Brothers Mark Wickliffe Lowery '74, and Frederick Bill Gahagan '74, became the interfraternity champions—an honor that the chapter has been struggling to acquire for years. The bowling team has also been a surprise this year with a hard core of five men giving their all. Much of the credit for the sudden turn around in sports rests with two Brothers. First, last year's coach who laid the groundwork for this year's success, Brother Steve Block '75, and the new Coach, Brother Thomas Ehret Utescher '75. Brother Utescher's own love of sports and personal strength have been the needed inspiration to push the Brothers on to victory. At this time he is planning the softball training schedule along with his other duties.

This time of year is very hectic at Kenyon. The Brothers are working hard, keeping up the academic excellence of the Fraternity. At the end of this long period of work gleams the light of the Wassail Party—The Party of the Year at Kenyon. The Social Chairpersons have already started the preparations and this will surely be the highlight of Brother Dick Smith's '74, and Social Chairperson Kim Stapleton's '74, careers as the social leaders of the Iota, which is saying a lot. During our busy days the Brothers enjoy our meetings, where we can relax and get together surrounded by the symbols that represent the force that has brought us all together—Psi Upsilon.

Phi

Brother Sydney L. Terry, Jr., '75, has submitted the following report:

The Phi has an active membership of more than forty, not including the pledges recently initiated, with twenty-eight members living in the house at this time. The strong pledge class for this first term raises the likelihood of a record year for new members, since the second semester rush has traditionally been our strong suit. Numbers, of course, are not the top priority at the Phi. Psi Upsilon is generally considered one of the top fraternities on the Michigan campus for its quality as well as its size.

Brothers of other chapters as well as Phi alumni may be interested in the Phi's social sphere. Recently Kappa Kappa Gamma has unofficially become our "sister sorority," participating in numerous social activities with the Brothers of the Phi, both collectively and individually. The social atmosphere is perhaps better attuned to academic pursuits than some other chapters, past and present, as the house grade point of 3.36 will attest, but a reputation for a good social schedule is still one of the most frequently mentioned reasons for rushing Psi Upsilon at Michigan.

Any discussion of credit for the success of the Phi would be incomplete, however, without mentioning the alumni. The chapter house has retained all of its appeal with the guiding hand of the Phi Alumni Corporation. The house itself remains clearly the most important reason for our success. Our alumni just as clearly are responsible for the good condition of the house. Of course, as with all old houses, renovations have to be made continually in order to maintain it. Fortunately we still have our porter Leroy to keep things in order. As a matter of fact, the Brothers gave Leroy a surprise birthday dinner this year which was a great success.

Perhaps our greatest difficulty at this time is the refusal of the University to grant parking spaces which are clearly available. This situation forces the Brothers to rent spaces from a local construction company that plans eventually to build over the lot. It has already begun raising prices. We speculate that it plans slowly to price the spaces out of the range of our ability to pay. The Phi would be exceedingly grateful to anyone who might exert some influence on the University in their behalf.

The Phi has recently elected new officers. They are: Garrett C. Burke '74, President; Timothy E. Black '75, Vice President; Sydney L. Terry, Jr., '75, Treasurer-Elect; Harold R. Hansen '76, Steward; Richard O'Neill '75, Corresponding Secretary; Jeffrey T. Neilson '76, Recording Secretary. Peter Kostishak '74, will remain Athletic Chairman, while Brian E. Bezrutch '75, is the new Academic Chairman. James B. Perry '74, will fill the newly created position of Alumni Representative.

Members of the Phi have recently visited other chapters. Brothers Boccaccio and Terry thank the Beta Beta for its unlimited hospitality. Thanks also go to the Epsilon Omega for its warm hospitality and brotherhood tendered to the Brothers of the Phi at the recent Convention: Perry, Burke and Krauss. It is hoped that our ties with the Northwestern chapter will become as solid as those with the Beta Beta. They are both strong chapters with fine facilities and many similarities to each other as well as to the Phi. We anxiously await their future visit to Michigan when we may return some of their hospitality.

Phi Initiation

The winter initiation was held at the Phi, January 7, 1974. It was conducted by Albert C. Jacobs, Phi '21.

Omega

Brother Lee Margerum, Omega '74, Treasurer, has submitted the following report:

The fall academic quarter at the Omega has been a time of improvement and dedication, both in terms of our physical facilities and our spirit here at the University of Chicago. During a fall meeting between the Brothers and the Trustees, at which Trustees' President Charles Werner and Brothers Vidas and Spurgeon reported on the success of the National Convention, definitive plans were laid for a large scale fund-raising drive to commence in January, 1974. All the Brothers are dedicated to this task, and the results of our efforts will be used to maintain and insure the physical integrity and aged dignity of our fine chapter house. We need the support of all members of the Omega, wherever they may be. Offers of aid, in any form, should be directed to Trustees' President Werner or Chapter President Ken Slemko in care of the chapter house in Chicago.

In sports, the Omegamen continue to make significant contributions to campus athletics. The Chicago Maroons have completed another successful season on the gridiron with no less than five members of the Omega. Brother Jack LeVan was elected Team Captain for the 1974 football season. Three, and possibly four, Brothers will be varsity wrestlers this season. It will be difficult for them to better their remarkable achievements of last year. Results of the past quarter's intramural events are incomplete at this writing, but because we have won several events, we expect to be at the top for the final tally.

Pledging activities have been in high gear since October. The efforts of Brother Tremmel and the uncompromising dedication of the new Rush Chairman, Curt Spiller, bode for much success in our efforts. We hope this year's rush will be as large as last year's, but it must be noted that we could scarcely hope to pledge any of greater pedantic diligence. Last year's pledges now in the house have raised our grade point average such that Psi Upsilon is the scholastic leader at the University of Chicago.

House life in general has improved due to the efforts of a dynamic Steward, Brother Mark Harmon. In these times of rising costs in food and labor, Mark has augmented the quality and quantity of food, hired a superb chef, and decreased overall commissary costs. (All this has the Brothers wondering why all the stray cats and dogs in the neighborhood have disappeared.) The House Manager has made contributions on two fronts. First, his knowledge has enabled him to perform repairs otherwise requiring the skills of costly service personnel. And second, because we share the national concern for energy conservation, he has redoubled his efforts to keep windows and doors in repair, and to insure that all facets of our steam system operate at peak efficiency. We have also turned down our thermostats in line with President Nixon's request to all Americans. We are saving house money, conserving national energy, and improving the condition of our house.

When this issue of THE DIAMOND comes out, our message will be belated, but, we wish to extend our best wishes for the coming year to Brother Dan H. Brown '16, who is "Mr. Omega" to those of us here at the University of Chicago.

Our outgoing President, David Rudis, wishes to add that we are, as usual, fulfilling the Omega tradition of academic excellence and athletic prowess.

Initiates of the Phi

Pi

Brother Douglas T. Newhouse, Pi '76, has submitted the following report:

The fall semester here at Syracuse is now quickly drawing to a close, and as one looks back at the time spent here so far this year, the Pi Chapter is found to be strong and still growing. The house itself is filled to capacity, with twenty-nine of thirty-five active Brothers living in, and a good number of active alumni in the area.

In the month of November, 1973, the Pi initiated the pledges for the fall semester. The initiates were: Henry Alban Hurst, III, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; William Yurkowski, Yonkers, New York; Hugh Kelly, Amsterdam, New York; and Paul DelToro, East Northport, New York, all from the Class of '77.

Socially, with the return of Henry Wildhack, II '75, our new social chairman, the Pi has been very active on campus. We have had many different types of parties under Hank, such as: a band concert on the steps of the house after the first home football game, a barn dance, and a haunted house on Halloween. Right now plans are being made for the Snowball, our winter formal, late in February.

In sports, the intramural chairman, Charlie "The Tuna" Figueroa '76, acted as coach of our football this year and we ended up second with a 3-1 record. We are now looking ahead to basketball next semester. In intercollegiate sports, the Pi is also very active. Track has three Pi boys shown on the roster: James D. Williams '74, Robert J. Halbig '75, and Albie Hurst. Basketball is really going places this year in Syracuse, and the freshman team has Brother Hugh Kelly. The forestry basketball team is also going strong with Matt Kirchoff '75, and Ron Bressette '75, shooting away. The ski team here is not too active due to a lack of snow, but once there's a crust of it, Dale Sheets '76, will be there on top. Finally, football, with Brother Williams adding his talents to the team in Swartzwalder's final season.

On December 1, 1973, the house had a Christmas party for underprivileged children from the Syracuse area. Brother Chip Frame '75, was in charge of this function, and it proved to be enjoyable for the kids and the brotherhood as well.

As a final note, the house would like to thank the officers for this semester: President, James F. Snyder '74; First Vice President, Richard W. Chapin '74; Second Vice President, Bob Halbig; Third Vice President, Van J. Stultz; and Steward, Walt Cestoni, for a job well done.

Chi

The Chi Diamond for December, 1973, contains the following story:

Last year marked a "milestone" in Psi U intramural athletic history. The Chi captured that elusive "All-Sports Trophy," symbolic of athletic supremacy here at Cornell. It had been nearly thirty years since the last championship.

We captured fraternity championships in football, wrestling, basketball, track, and field.

This year we look for a possible repeat of last year's accomplishment. Although we were hit hard by graduation, a fine crop of sophomores looks promising.

Eta

Brother Amidee T. Haviland, III '75, has submitted the following report:

The Eta Chapter, this past semester, has been performing well in all departments of responsibility. At the start of the semester, twelve pledges were initiated into the brotherhood, increasing our total undergraduate membership to thirty-seven. Our rushing chairman has been working to increase that total. As of Christmas, sixteen pre-bids had already been given out and eight have accepted. Due to these fine results, there's a possibility of not needing a post-rush season this year, something that has not happened for quite awhile.

The financial picture continues to be good, and again showing a surplus in the treasury. Next semester, the house plans to make some home improvements with the use of this surplus. The improvements consist of acquiring new carpet and furniture for the living room and refinishing the bar.

Our social program was also exceptional. It included a canoe trip on the Delaware River, Parents' Weekend, Lafayette Weekend, and ended with a Christmas party for underprivileged children in the community.

Prior to the end of the fall semester, elections were held. The following were elected as the spring semester officers: President, Ken Miller '75; Vice President, Joseph McAdams '74; Social Chairman, Harry Loyle '75; Steward, Bradford Smith '75; Rushing Chairman, John Vitillo '75; Pledge Master, Michael Wheaton '75; Recording Secretary, James Os-lislo '75; and Corresponding Secretary, Karl Brotzman '75. All are expected to do a fine job.

In our last report, it was stated that the house had a new faculty advisor. Mrs. Debora Dwyer, twenty-six, has already shown that the choice was a good one and she will continue to be a great asset to the Eta in the future. An article about Debbie will be in the next issue of THE DIAMOND.

The disease of marriage has taken the Eta's undergraduates and recent alumni by storm. We are proud to acknowledge the marriages of Brother Schuenzle '73, to Miss Catherin Geraty on October 20, 1973; Brother Hannan '71, to Miss Barbara Kenney on December 1, 1973; Brother Dugan '74, to Miss Linda Roth on December 28, 1973; and Brother Housel '76, will marry Miss Marie Montgomery in the summer of 1974. The Eta Chapter wishes each couple much success and much happiness in the years to come.

Omicron

Brother Gene S. Gurley, Omicron '76, has submitted the following report:

The Omicron got off to a roaring start both academically and non-academically this year. Everyone is working hard and diligently, putting forward their utmost to make this 1973-1974 academic year the best ever. The Brothers started out the year by taking the Orange Division Championship in football. This fantastic team was led by Brother Scott Jones '74, and came out with an 8-0 record. In other intramural sports, the Brothers made the playoffs in water polo, volleyball, and soccer and did very well in many other sports. We are proud to announce that Doug Gill '77, a pledge, took the 126-lb. Division IM Wrestling Championship. He pinned his man in 15 seconds in the final round to take the title.

The pledge class did an outstanding job of organizing and putting on the pledge dance held on November 16. We also had a Halloween Party with our Little Sisters on October 30. The weekend of December 8 was the time for our Winter Formal and Christmas Party. The Christmas Party was highlighted by an appearance of Santa Claus portrayed by John Haas '77, a pledge, who passed out presents to all the dates of the Brothers.

Many repair projects are being worked on or have been completed recently. The latest project was the replacement of our boiler and remodeling of the '28 Room. The Brothers would like to thank Brother John R. Parker '28, and Brother Rex S. Blazer

'28, for jointly remodeling the '28 Room. The Brothers surely appreciate the heat provided by the new boiler.

The Officers for next semester are: Thomas Scott Jones '74, President; William Keating '75, First Vice President; David Slack '75, Second Vice President; Stephen Jelmsch '75, Treasurer; Paul Orton '75, Secretary. These officers are enthusiastic and fired up to go. It promises to be a good semester.

John L. Talbott, Theta Theta '74

In the autumn Brother Talbott wrote Brother Poor:

I am happy to tell you that the Theta Theta has regained its feet. Our local alumni have assumed leadership of the chapter temporarily. S. Bradley Hunt '75, was appointed House Chairman until such time that the alumni feel an election of a president is warranted. I (John L. Talbott '74) am Vice Chairman; F. Nathan Thomas '74, First Vice President; Kelly J. Cullen '75, House Works Chairman; and Gary A. Gertula '76, Treasurer. Tate Mason '69, Roger Hunt '72, and several others were the alumni who helped reorganize the house. They conducted interviews with every member of the house as well as pledges and some inactives. They also wrote a list of rules, duties, and policies that will be followed. They also appointed officers. Last Tuesday night we went over all the policies and the active chapter accepted them wholeheartedly.

I am confident in saying that this is the thing that will help to turn the Theta Theta back on the upward swing. This is the leadership that we have needed. . . . I would like you to know how much these alums have done. They spent countless hours putting together a workable program and three solid eight-hour nights conducting interviews. And at the chapter meeting . . . they presented the house with a new stereo to replace the one stolen, bought with their own money. I don't need to say how much we appreciate their efforts.

Zeta Zeta

Brother Bruce F. Wright '74, Associate Editor of THE DIAMOND, has prepared the following report:

At the recent Founders' Day banquet, attended by Brother Robert W. Morey, Pi '20, the alumni were pleased to learn that the active chapter here is gaining strength and that fraternities, in general, on the U.B.C. campus are making a comeback. This should be heartening news to the International because there is a possibility that we will be the only active Canadian chapter left. However, we still have only about half the house filled with members and the house requires considerable renovations. The Brothers have laboured much towards these renovations but are unable to do all that is required.

The Zeta Zeta has been active in intramurals this year and the hockey team is in first place, undefeated.

Although the chapter has held numerous social events this fall, the highlight this term was the retrieval of the famous Zeta Zeta owls from the bowels of the Theta Theta Chapter's house in Seattle. Unfortunately they have been borrowed once again. . . . Oh, well!

Epsilon Nu

Brother Michael R. Burgess, Epsilon Nu '74, Associate Editor of THE DIAMOND, has reported as follows:

The Epsilon Nu Chapter at Michigan State has enjoyed another fine term. The term has been a success in many ways. One of the highpoints of the term was our annual Homecoming Weekend organized by the biggest member of the house, Brother Jack "Kodiac" Gardner. Brother Gardner's efforts resulted in attracting a large number of alumni to Epsilon Nu for the first time in many years. The result was a strengthening of the ties between the alumni and undergraduates.

Another important aspect of this term was our football team, which was led by Brother Dan Boisture, III, '76. Our team was successful enough to win three straight and make it to the semifinals.

The house was also proud to be involved indirectly in collegiate sports. This fall the house was proud to have two of its members play soccer for Michigan State. Brother Mike Kinney '76, and Brother Phil Smith '76, performed well throughout the season for State.

This fall our chapter pledged four men who are welcome new Brothers. The new actives are: Brother Dennis Privette '75, Brother Timothy Shipmen '77, Brother Judsen Bradford '77, and Brother Steven Garchow '77.

Epsilon Nu would not have enjoyed such a fine initial term without the direction and efforts of our new officers. They are Brother Jim Vranich '74, President; Brother Frank Sharp '74, Vice President; Brother Steve Banghart '74, Treasurer; Brother Dave Morris '75, Secretary; and Brother Tim Ojczyk '74, House Manager.

Epsilon Nu looks forward to the remainder of the year. Among our goals is the enlargement of our pledge classes and the desire to increase the number of alumni returning to our chapter.

We would like to extend an invitation to all Brothers to stop by and visit Epsilon Nu if they are in the East Lansing area. There is always plenty of company and a spare bed. On behalf of the undergraduates of Epsilon Nu I wish you a successful year.

Epsilon Omega

Brothers Peter M. Shumway '75, and Donald J. DeSanto '75, have submitted the following report:

For the third year in a row the Epsilon Omega has pledged over twenty fine young men. Under their President Steve Kahn, the twenty-two pledges have shown their strong spirit and brotherhood. During Northwestern's Homecoming Week they designed and organized the building of our house float together with the sorority Kappa Kappa Gamma. And just recently, the pledges put on the annual Christmas Party, complete with decorations, gifts for the Brothers, and their most successful punch. Following the Christmas vacation, they will face "Help Week." Early in January we hope to report twenty-two new initiates.

Northwestern's Homecoming Weekend (November 2, 3) brought many local alums to the campus for the Minnesota football game. The game was followed by a cocktail hour and a dinner at the chapter house. Although Northwestern was upset at the game (52-46), the post-game activities were extremely successful with over 200 guests attending.

Chapter elections were held two weeks ago with many offices changing hands. The results were as follows: John Weigel, President (re-elected to a second term); Don DeSanto, First Vice President; Scott George, Second Vice President; Al Pratt, Treasurer; Tom Reed, Secretary; John Krivicich, House Manager; Paul Potvin, Rush Chairman; John Papillion and Warren Beeh, Social Chairmen; Al Schefflow, IM Chairman; and Denny Bain, Steward.

The Epsilon Omega social calendar this quarter provided both the pledges and the Brothers a pleasant diversion from the rigorous academic pressure. The calendar included a movie party, a stage party, two band parties and the annual Pledge Formal. The Brothers also had a pleasant visit from a few of the Brothers of the Phi during the weekend of the Formal. The social activities were climaxed with the Christmas party.

This year is the Epsilon Omega's Twenty-Fifth Anniversary. A gala celebration is planned for Tuesday night, February 26, 1974, at the Cathedral Hall of the University Club of Chicago. This is the exact spot where the Epsilon Omega was chartered on February 26, 1949. We want a very large turnout for the event and urge every alum, from as many chapters as possible, to join us. For more information contact John Weigel at 620 Lincoln Street, Evanston, Illinois 60201.

As the Epsilon Omega heads into finals week, we are working hard preparing for exams. Winter, however, promises many great home activities and another successful quarter both academically and socially.

Nu Alpha

After putting in a lot of work on the house, which this year included a complete repainting, we at the Nu Alpha were rewarded with a fairly successful rush. The pledges for regular rush include: Rick Ballou, New Haven, Connecticut; Bob Chiaviello, Rutherford, New Jersey; Mark Sunkel, Dundalk, Maryland; John Keefe, Milford, Connecticut; Bill Edminsten, Arlington, Virginia; Sam Steves, San Antonio, Texas; John Jackley, Newport, Rhode Island; Charles Kulp, Roanoke, Virginia; Bob Wilson, Akron, Ohio; Richard Bagby, Danville, Virginia; Doug Dewing, Portsmouth, Virginia; Bob Ford, Newtopia, West Virginia; Norman Chan, Hong Kong.

We also have a number of possibilities during deferred rush. Some of the pledge activities so far this year included the annual pledge-active football game, which was won for the first time in the chapter's history by the pledges, and the scavenger hunt in which the pledges stole the Keg and thus forced the actives to hunt all over Lexington for it.

Socially this past term has been one of the best in the history of the house. Some of the more unusual things we did included a crab feast and a semi-formal Christmas party. For the crab feast Brother John Syvertsen, the house President, flew his plane up to Baltimore in the morning, purchased two bushels of crabs right at the docks, and flew back the same afternoon for the feast that night. Many of the Brothers had never eaten fresh cooked whole crabs before, so it proved to be a rather interesting meal to say the least. The Christmas Party, instead of a band, featured a specially recorded three-hour tape program by Brother Skip Silverlight, who is Operations Director of the campus radio. This program features a great variety of current music, and some extremely funny remarks about the Brothers and some of their dates. All in all it has been a great term.

Gamma Tau

The Gamma Tau Chapter is looking forward to hosting a meeting of the Executive Council on February 7, the first time our chapter has ever had the honor. This meeting is to be the highlight of our busiest quarter in chapter history.

After a successful fall quarter rush, the Gamma Tau initiated five new Psi U's on January 12. Dan Dlugosz '77, of Exeter, New Hampshire; Mike Polston '77 of Forest Park, Georgia; Eric Stuenkel '76, of Rome, Georgia; Chip VanLeigh '77, of Kensington, Georgia; and Timothy Zukas '77, of Utica, New York, joined the brotherhood.

Chapter activity stepped up to its fastest pace ever in the fall, and a peak of some forty Brothers and guests crowded into our unimposing chapter house for a Homecoming dinner on November 3 after the Tech-Duke game.

The Gamma Tau, for the first time, had as many as ten of its own alumni this fall, and we enjoyed considerable alumni support from our 1972 and 1973 graduates, both financial and moral.

Our present chapter house on State Street must be replaced by September 1, 1974, and as of press time, negotiations had not yet begun on the proposed sublease from Alpha Epsilon Pi. However, Tech's fraternity advisor, Jerry Gallups, was advising us that an offer from the AEPi's was to come in the near future.

Presently the Gamma Tau has sixteen active Brothers, including four freshmen, five sophomores, three juniors, three seniors, and a graduate student. About twelve of these Brothers will be eligible to live in the house next fall. Thus we need another strong rush in the winter and spring quarters to be able to fill our allotment of twenty beds in the old AEPi facility, if we are able to move there in the fall.

Fortunately, we are able to rush year round since Georgia Tech scuttled the formal rush system in 1970. Our winter and spring rush programs are being conducted less formally than fall rush, and we expect a big boost in rushing if and when we receive definite word on the AEPi proposal.

Once our housing question is settled, the Gamma Tau will be in excellent condition.

William C. Bost, Chi Delta '74

Brother Bost, one of the charter members of our Fraternity at Duke University and a lifelong resident of Pinehurst, North Carolina, plans to be a candidate for his state's House of Representatives. Brother Bost, who has been extremely active in academic and extracurricular affairs at his alma mater has stated:

"In coming to this decision, over the past few months I have consulted with several civic and political leaders in Moore County and across the state. From these conversations, I have become encouraged in my efforts to seek this office.

"In my campaign, I hope to stress the issues of public education and health care. My concern for these issues comes from my summer work with the American Nurses Association's Governmental Relations Office in Washington, D.C., the North Carolina Department of Public Education in Raleigh, and four years with the North Carolina Student Legislature.

"This campaign to many might be an impossible dream, but one of the themes of my campaign will be, 'The Possible Dream,' for North Carolina and for myself. If I am to have this opportunity, I need your support and help. To make my efforts possible, I hope that you will be able to donate financially as much as you can afford. I promise you hard work and integrity in my campaign activities."

Carlyle F. Barnes, Xi '48

Brother Barnes is Chairman of the Board of Associated Spring Corporation, Bristol, Connecticut. Of him Brother Harold G. ("Red") Travis, Xi '20, writes that he "had to miss December's initiation because of a meeting in London. Though he flew over the day before and came back two days later, he couldn't quite fit the initiation into his schedule. He travels at such a pace day after day for, in addition to his heavy responsibilities at Associated Spring, he sits on the boards of United Bank and Trust Company, Travelers Insurance Company, and Stanadyne, Inc. Brother Barnes is equally active in the community being Chairman of Bristol Hospital, Inc., Chairman of the United Fund, Bristol's Fire Commissioner, Chairman of the Board at McDuffie School for Girls in Springfield, Massachusetts, and a trustee of many other civic organizations."

When President of the Xi Corporation in 1945 and 1946, Brother Harold G. ("Red") Travis, Xi '20, appointed Brother Hall as Secretary. "Rib," like the brook, babbles on forever for he has been truly a faithful Psi U Brother in the finest and fullest sense of the word.

James M. Osborn, Xi '28

Brother Osborn continues to add prestige and stature to Yale's Department of English. His latest publication from the Yale University Press is a biography, Young Sidney 1572-1577. He attended the dedication of the Brother Walter A. Crowell Memorial Concert Hall in Wesleyan's Creative Arts Center (described elsewhere in this issue). He feels as do so many others that Brother Robert W. Parsons, Xi '22, former President of the Executive Council, deserves great credit for having influenced the magnificent gift. Last June Brother Osborn was the commencement speaker at McGill University. He helped to install the Epsilon Phi Chapter of Psi Upsilon there in 1928.

Philip B. Russell, Xi '65

Brother Russell graduated from Wesleyan with the highest honors and membership in both Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi. He received his Ph.D. at Stanford University two summers ago. He spent a one-year postdoctoral Tradition runs high, for the wife of Brother Travis, Pat, is also the daughter of a Xi man. Thus Brother Bob has a father, a father-in-law, three uncles, five cousins, and a son all as his Brothers in the Xi.

Harold G. ("Red") Travis, Xi '20

Brother Travis has written, "All hail to the officers and trustees of the Xi Corporation, this year headed by U. Hayden Brockway, III, Xi '43; and to the undergraduate chapter en masse—all of whom, despite ice storms, blizzards, power failures, and every other sort of challenge, are keeping the altar fires brightly glowing at Wesleyan. 'Once a Psi U, always a Psi U,' has been more than a catchword or slogan to these stalwarts whom we salute and glorify."

Brother Wessels was commissioned in the Regular Army during World War I, in which he served on the Italian Front as Aide to the General commanding that operation.

In 1944 in Burma Brother Wessels was awarded the Silver Star by Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stillwell. The citation read:

"BRIGADIER GENERAL THEODORE F. WESSELS, Army of the United States, for gallantry in action at Myitkyina during North Burma operations.

"On July 26, 1944, Brig. Gen. Wessels personally accompanied and attacked and observed the operations which resulted in the penetration of the final enemy positions defending the city of Myitkyina. During this time he was constantly exposed to enemy small arms and mortar fire. His fine example of courage under heavy fire served as an encouragement to his Chinese officers and men in the attack and reflected great credit on the Armed Forces of the United States."

This story and the accompanying picture have been very kindly provided by Brother Archibald W. Walker, Beta Beta '14.

Omicron

Brother Clark Brubaker, Omicron '32, has submitted the following interesting story:

This is the season to be grateful for all of our blessings and for the associations with extra special people over the years. I am most grateful for having known Roy E. Taylor, Omicron '07, who introduced me to Psi Upsilon when I was still in Bloomington High School. Roy had a Baird's Manual at his disposal and showed us the achievements of our Fraternity as well as those of other fraternities. He was the first of many enthusiastic Psi U's that I would meet in my adult life. His son, Roy, Jr., Omicron '32, was a member of the same pledge class at Illinois and later on we both worked for State Farm Insurance Companies, Roy, Jr. being the first CLU in our company's history. He still represents us in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Then there was the submarine Squalus that went down off Portsmouth, New Hampshire, in the late thirties and while watching a Pathe News Report at our local cinema, I was delighted to see Ensign John C. Nichols, Omicron '32, emerge from the rescue bell as the first survivor of that disaster. Later on in 1946, I was able to renew our friendship on the Island of Guam where Commander Nichols had brought his submarine, the S.S. Silversides, for overhaul.

In 1935 or 1936 another incident added to my wonderful world of Psi U. With a friend (a Beta), we took off for the lovely State of Wisconsin in June. We headed for the ever-beautiful campus of the University of Wisconsin. We went to the Psi U House and immediately were welcomed as long-lost Brothers! One man in particular, Malcolm Beardmore, Rho '28 (known as Mac), was House Manager and had just finished law school. He took over and even though we had not planned on it, we stayed for two of the most interesting weeks ever. Such friendships could never be possible without the bonds of Psi U! I felt a personal loss when the Rho closed its portals.

Then in 1965, a friend of long standing, John Randolph Parker, Omicron '28, rekindled my enthusiasm for our Fraternity. For a number of years, another classmate, Lyman Emrich, Omicron '32 (Phi Beta Kappa, Rhodes Scholar, Editor of the Illio), had carried on the alumni work singlehandedly. He lived in Chicago and still was able, somehow, to get a new roof on the house and faced and solved many other crises that arose in Champaign. Through Brother Parker's concern, we attempted to give Lyman some additional alums to help. Here, again, it was a distinct privilege to meet and work with such fine young men as Jim Archer, Omicron '57, Steve Sward, Omicron '63, who succeeded Lyman as President of the Omicron Alumni, and the hardest working one of all is our unsung hero, Joe Miller, Omicron '59. Joe works for the University of Illinois and has been our most loyal Brother. For example, we just had our boiler give out before Thanksgiving and Joe was the one who took the problem in tow and arranged for a new ($6,000 plus) boiler. All of us are grateful for the mild weather that stayed with us over a two-to-three-week period when we were without heat. The day the new boiler was fired up was the first wintry day we had! You can see why we are counting our blessings at this season of the year!

We are also most grateful for Rex Blazer, Omicron '28, and his love for our Fraternity. As Chairman of the Executive Committee of Ashland Oil and Refining Company, he could solve our energy crisis just like he has solved some of our Fraternity problems at Illinois. He and John Parker have given so much of their time and resources that a separate chapter could be written on them, alone. And there is our fine Brother, Fred Nichols, Omicron '29 (John's older brother), who has taken time from his busy schedule at the Tribune Company to host one of our alumni meetings, speak at our 1972 national convention, and donate a memorial fund in memory of Elwood Deacon Godman, Omicron '29.

And I'm grateful for renewed friendships with Robert S. McCormick, Omicron '22, who served on our Board of Governors for a number of years. He is always sending names of prospective rushees to the chapter. And Ollie Brown, Omicron '25, who has attended most of our meetings, and another unsung hero, Lawrence R. ("Bud") Hatch, Omicron '34, who looked after the chapter all by himself for so many years. Bud also lives in Champaign and has spent many hours on legal and other problems for us. And Willis Brown, Omicron '31, from Scottsdale, Arizona (formerly of Bloomington, Illinois, and Minneapolis, Minnesota), who lives within two blocks of John Weed Beal, Omicron '30.

There are many more experiences that could be mentioned and many more names that should be. Let me wind it up this way by saying that the Omicron is alive and well and enthusiastic. This is mainly due to the fine summer rushing efforts of Bill King in '72, and Scott Jones in '73. Were it not for these younger Brothers' dedication and hard work, we would be having some lean years. I'm most grateful for our National Fraternity and the time and devotion that men like Dr. Albert C. Jacobs, Phi '21, have given since our Fraternity was founded. We feel that all chapters should be proud to belong to a group that has produced two Presidents of the United States, two of the finest football coaches ever (A. A. Stagg, Beta '88, and Charles B. (Bud) Wilkinson, Mu '37), and on and on throughout our glorious past. It is also nice to know that our badge is the first diamond-shaped insignia in the fraternity world and has been emulated more than any other. It's also a great tribute to know that we had the first songbook and the first fraternity magazine, too! Yes, I'd guess that we also had the first owl!

The past is merely prologue. Our future is assured and one of the finest recent steps is the establishment of new chapters south of the Mason-Dixon line. Yes, we shall expand and we must in order to share all of our treasures with others yet to come.

The Omicron strongly feels that a Diamond is forever. . . .

J. Aubrey Sutton, Xi '15

With the death on August 17, 1973, of Brother J. Aubrey Sutton, Xi '15, Psi Upsilon is reminded that he was the youngest of four brothers, sons of the illustrious William Henry Sutton, Xi 1857, all of whom followed him to Wesleyan and into the hallowed portals of the Xi of our Fraternity. They were Dr. Howard A. Sutton, Xi '95; Isaac C. Sutton, Xi '00; H. Craig Sutton, Xi '07; and the aforesaid J. Aubrey Sutton, Xi '15. While Brother Sutton's son, William Aubrey Sutton, '46, M.D., followed the family to Wesleyan, he joined Sigma Chi. The latter's cousin, James Anderson Sutton, Xi '35, now a lawyer in Philadelphia and son of the late Isaac C. Sutton, Xi '00, had earlier, however, kept intact "the chain whose diamond clasp gleams bright above each heart." He also fathered the fourth generation representative of the family, Richard Anderson Sutton, Xi '71, now of the Music Department of the University of Hawaii in Honolulu. Thus, for over 100 years the name of Sutton has meant much to the Brothers of the Xi.

Theobald Forstall, Eta '16

Brother Forstall died August 7, 1973, at the age of seventy-nine. About his brother, Walter Clark Forstall, Sigma '22, wrote:

"Theo had an outstanding career in the outdoor show business. For many years he was Treasurer of Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey Circus and also served in that capacity with the former John Robinson Circus and with Cole Bros.-Clyde Beatty, both large enterprises. He was known and respected throughout the business and had literally hundreds of friends nationwide. After retiring he could not stand the inactivity and went out again every spring."

Brother Theobald Forstall was the son of Brother Alfred E. Forstall, Eta '83, who at one time served on his Alma Mater's Board of Trustees; and the nephew of Brother Walton Forstall, Eta '91. There are eleven Forstalls in the University alumni register, a real Lehigh family, too many to mention by name.

His roommate for three years, Brother Harold E. White, Eta '16, has written:

"Theo's friends were nationwide. When we had our farm at Nixon, Pennsylvania, our neighbors were Charley Spark's folks who sold out to the Ringling Brothers. Further down the road lived John Ringling North, III, with his mother, former wife of Henry Ringling North and the only living descendant of this famous family. They were all friends of Theo's."

During his senior year Brother Forstall was President of the Eta Chapter.

Brother White has written further in the Lehigh Alumni Bulletin:

"Clyde Beatty was a resident of Ventura, California, as were two other circus old-timers, retired—all Theo's friends.

"Theo often said in college that he earned his way through college by walking over 5,000 miles in a circle going backwards, taking fares on the merry-go-round.

"As to the scope of Theo's work, I remember sitting with him in his office in the Madison Square Garden while he made out a check for over $93,000 as the Garden's share for a week of the circus, in the days when a dollar was in good standing. We have lost a wonderful and very interesting classmate."

Brother Forstall is survived by his widow, Peggy, the former Erma Marshall; and his brother, Clark.

Seymour Hadaway, Eta '14

Brother Hadaway died July 24, 1973, at the age of eighty-one. A na-

A veteran of World War I, he served in France as a Captain in the U.S. Army. He was a member of the University Club and the Middlebury Congregational Church. Brother Hadaway is survived by his widow, Ruth Swan; a son; and four grandchildren.

Frank W. Gray, Rho '22

Brother Gray was particularly talented in the field of writing and after graduation from the University of Wisconsin contributed to the Milwaukee Journal as a foreign correspondent. His life was devoted primarily to advertising, but his writings were prominent in many national periodicals. Brother Gray retired from active life around 1960, moving to Sun City, California. He is survived by his widow, Ruth.

Psi Upsilon on the West Coast

Los Angeles, December 12, 1973

I talked on the telephone with Brother Dale M. Kellogg, Epsilon '35, who is retired and living in Newport Beach. I met Brother Kellogg at the San Francisco Founders' Day dinner. He stressed the point that our first job in California must be to reestablish the Epsilon Chapter. He also agreed with Brother Hammond that he would prefer to reestablish our Southern California Chapter before entering either UCLA or Irvine, and for the same reasons. He believes there is one more undergraduate member at Berkeley, making four in all, and suggested that the Fraternity office poll the senior delegations of all chapters to ascertain whether any Psi U's are planning to enter Berkeley, for graduate work. I have arranged to have five pledge buttons sent to Berkeley as an initial incentive.

Conclusion

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who were so hospitable and so helpful, both in assisting with my itinerary and in making it possible for me to see the appropriate individuals in each city and on each campus.

It is deeply regretted that the February 7, 1974 meeting of the Executive Council originally planned to be held with the Gamma Tau Chapter at the Georgia Institute of Technology had to be shifted to the University Club in New York City. It is sincerely hoped that a meeting with the Gamma Tau will be held in the near future.

The new officers of the Tau Chapter are: President, James I. Swinden '76; Vice-President, Morris C. Hancock '74; Treasurer, Michael T. Provost '75; Secretary, William C. S. Remsen '76.

Samuel L. Rosenberry, Rho '23

Brother Rosenberry was a member of the Board of Governors of the Alumni Association from April, 1942, to September, 1946, serving as President 1940-1942. He was a member of the Executive Council from June, 1942, to October, 1953.

The following concerning Brother Rosenberry has been written by W. Rice Brewster.

Sam Rosenberry was a recognized expert in the field of securities laws and the business of stock brokerage. For many years, he was counsel to the New York Stock Exchange. An outstanding lawyer, his advice was eagerly sought not only by laymen but by other lawyers as well. A most conscientious worker, he never complained of the demands made upon his time; but rather welcomed and was stimulated by the challenge of difficult problems. His pleasant, agreeable manners, notwithstanding his earnest advocacy of his client's cause, won him the respect and admiration of his strongest opponents.

The law came naturally to Sam, for his father was for many years Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin. Sam was born in Wausau, Wisconsin, April 24, 1903. Starting his college career at the University of Wisconsin, he later transferred to Yale, from which he graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1924. He graduated from Harvard Law School cum laude in 1928 and was admitted to the Bar of the State of New York in June of 1929. A member of the Association for over forty-one years, he was always an active member of various of its Committees, including the Admissions Committee, the Executive Committee, the Nominating Committee, the Grievance Committee (serving as Chairman thereof from 1955 to 1958) and from 1962 to 1966 he served on the Committee on Securities Regulation.

Originally associated with the firm of Masten & Nichols, he became a member of the firm of Milbank, Tweed, Hope & Webb on January 1, 1937, continuing as a partner in its successor firms to the date of his death. He was a member of various clubs, including the Down Town Association, the University Club and the Union Club.

After a protracted illness, he died at his summer home in Chatham, Massachusetts on August 13, 1973. He is survived by his wife Cicely Louise Kershaw (to whom he had been married on October 7, 1932) and a daughter, Nancy Winslow Hoit and two grandchildren.

A man of great integrity, he set the highest standards for himself and his profession, yet he will long be remembered for his human qualities. His warmth, his friendliness, his modesty and his contagious sense of humor will not be forgotten by those with whom he associated.
